Accident Firemen Douse Jaguar Fire

Members of the Accident Fire Company were called about 9:40 last night to the scene of a car fire at the entrance to Bear Creek Road from Route 219.

Firemen were notified by Curt Patton, an area resident who has no home phone and who drove to town to turn in the alarm.

Firemen doused the fire on a green Jaguar with West Virginia license plates, but the fire had nearly totally destroyed the car.

Members of the police branches in the county are running a stolen car check on the vehicle, since there was no driver to be seen and the car had been parked at the edge of the road and evidently abandoned. No confirmation had been received by the law enforcement departments by press time this morning.

Linda Bernard One of 14 Award Winners In Writing In Maryland

Linda Bernard, a senior at Southern High School, has been cited by the National Council of Teachers of English for outstanding performance in writing, based on an essay submitted to the contest last year. This contest is held annually beginning in January. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bernard, Swanton.

Over 7,000 students were nominated. Each submitted a sample of his best writing and an impromptu essay to be evaluated by state judging teams of both high school and college English teachers. The approximately 850 winners selected each year represent high schools in the United States, District of Columbia, and American schools abroad. Linda is one of fourteen winners in the state of Maryland.

The Council recommends the award winners, now seniors, for college scholarships in 1975, should they need such assistance. Names of the students are sent to admission officers and English department chairmen at U.S. two-year and four-year universities and colleges. In addition, certificates of commendation from NCTE were sent to the English Department of Southern and to Linda.

Linda attended North Glade school until the sixth grade when she entered Dennett Road. She is now a member of the Sand Flat Assembly of God church and has been a member of the North Glade 4-H Club for 10 years. At Southern Linda is a member of the National Honor Society, Health Careers Club, and is treasurer of the German Club. As a member of the senior band she plays the alto-saxophone.

Linda says, "Since seventh grade I have written many essays concerning classroom assignments. I feel the thing that has helped me the most is the concern shown by teachers to teach students the proper and correct form in writing essays. I have found that you only need to follow the form and add your beliefs and several examples. I enjoy writing, it's my way of expressing myself!"

She also states, "I feel entering the contest was a very exciting experience that I'll never forget. I never dreamed of being one of the award winners from Maryland. I am proud to represent Southern and I feel that not only is it an award for my efforts — but an award for the entire school. I'm thrilled to have won. I guess my personal dreams for '75 actually came true."

The word skate is derived from the Dutch "schaats", which means an animal's shankbone. The substance of the first skates was bone, and did elevate the wearer above the ground. The bone was split and drilled holes were made at either one or both ends through which the thongs could be tied. The rounded side of the bone was used as the skating surface. Skating began as a necessity when nomadic tribes in Asia needed a way to travel quickly over frozen surfaces.

24 Teams Compete In Fall Fun Free For All

PARTICIPATE IN BABY MARATHON — Kim Bowman and Rob Whitfield, of the Del Boring team participate in the baby marathon at the Fun Free For All at Garrett Community College last Sunday afternoon.

Almost anything went, as the saying goes, at the "Fall Fun Free For All" held in Garrett Community College gym Sunday afternoon where several hundred spectators watched 24 teams compete in rounds of fun events for the benefit of the Special Olympics program.

There were skate board, wagon, and tricycle relays, bubble gum chewing and marshmallow eating contests, chalkboard games of mental acuity, a honeymoon race complete with suitcases and clothing, and even a contest jello eating with popsicle sticks. When it was all over, a team sponsored by the A and A Construction Company and captained by Keith McLaughlin had won first prize. Second place winner was the Dennett Road School team captained by Les McDaniel, and third place was won by Buddy Fauber's team sponsored by the Ben Franklin Store.

Each team consisted of 3 men and 3 women, with many of the activities calling for couple participation. The competition was divided into preliminary, semi-final, and final rounds. Greatest representation came from Northern High School which entered seven teams in the Free For All.

Master of Ceremonies was Jim Sassak of WMSG, with the help of Jim Matthews, audio-visual coordinator of the college, on the public address system.

It was all sponsored by the Student Government Association of the college under the leadership of President Bob Crone. Student Chairman was Linda Haley, with Doug Stanton, Diane Barry, and Rick Skeweris as committee chairmen. Mrs. Joan Crawford was faculty advisor.

The Free For All was held to help defray the cost of sending the participants in the Garrett County Special Olympics on to the Maryland State Special Olympics at Towson College.

Courage Of Local Girl Told In "National Enquirer"

Linda Sue (Susie) Shreve, eight-year-old daughter of Ervin and Vonda Shreve, Table Rock, was featured in the November 4 edition of the "National Enquirer" in the section labeled "Tales of True Courage."

As related by Mrs. Shreve in a letter to the paper, Susie tried to climb out of bed one day last February and collapsed on the floor, a victim of neuroblastoma, a cancer. From February until March 27, Susie was a patient at West Virginia Medical Center, Morgantown, and came home in a wheelchair and wearing a back brace. The cancer affected her spinal cord, and doctors had to remove part of her spine.

Now, nine months later, she is improved to the point where a back brace is no longer necessary, and later this month will be fitted with braces for her legs. She has regained 15 of the 20 pounds she had lost.

When she came home from the hospital, she was able to move only her hands and arms. Now she is regaining control of her toes and can even move her legs.

A third grader, Susie is keeping up with schoolwork with the aid of a home teacher who comes six hours a week. Writing is one of her favorite pastimes but her writing is limited since she must endure occasional spasms which affect her from the waist down.

She also loves art, reading and weaving potholders. But her biggest goal, as told by Mrs. Shreve, is making others happy. Even in the hospital, she gave her gifts and money to others she felt were less fortunate.

A member, with her parents, of Sunnyside Chapel, Susie was the youngest member of the church group which visits the sick and aged in nursing homes and state hospitals. She is able to go to church only when the drugs she must take allow her to endure the trip.

Mrs. Shreve wrote that "her courage and faith are truly astonishing. I broke down in tears when she told me, 'Mommy, if I can't walk on earth, then at least I'll be able to walk in heaven.' "

March of Dimes Plans Formulated

Plans for the year's fund raising drive for the March of Dimes is underway, it was announced by Mrs. Verna Harvey, president of the Garrett County chapter.

Campaign chairman, D. Lester White, outlined the 1976 campaign at a March of Dimes chapter meeting on Friday, October 31. Planned, but not yet scheduled, are a Mothers' March kickoff dinner in December to precede the Mothers' March in late January. Mrs. Carma White will be this year's chairman. Coffee week in area restaurants will begin January 12.

A walk-a-thon and bike-a-thon are scheduled for May, tentatively chaired by Nancy Perando and Mrs. Louise Martin, respectively. Other events are in the planning stage. Mr. White indicated "This year's campaign looks like the best ever for our local chapter."

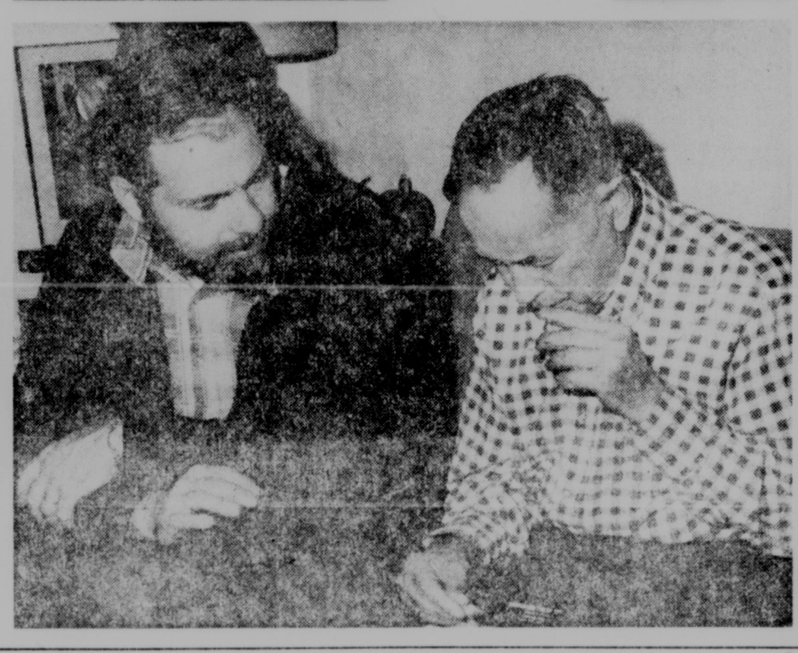
A HALLOWEEN TREAT IS ALWAYS BETTER THAN A TRICK...



There are few feelings better than one a person gets from helping someone less fortunate. For handicapped adults, however, this feeling is all too rare.

Last Thursday, the handicapped adults from the Activities Center in Oakland, sponsored by the Garrett County Community Action Agency, took Halloween party preparations to the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing home dining room and shared their specially-prepared treats with the patients there.

The 21 handicapped adults had been working diligently on the preparations for several days, making jack o'lanterns and a life-size cornhusk scarecrow as well as iced and decorated cupcakes. "Punch" also was a feature.

The staff was allowed to help with the preparations, all six instructors and three instructional aides who work with the participants from 9 til 2:30 daily, teaching them skills needed in day to day living; two bus drivers, one cook and two kitchen helpers, and a secretary. The Activities Center opened in June with 12 participants, and has a growth potential to 40 participants. Mrs. Peggy DiSimone coordinated the party at Cuppett-Weeks.

For possibly the first time in their lives, the handicapped had their chance to help someone less fortunate. And they enjoyed that feeling to the hilt...

Kentucky Man Hospitalized After Mishap

A Kentucky man was hospitalized following a one-car mishap at Gorman last Wednesday night. Several other one-vehicle accidents and hit-and-run mishaps were noted.

Kenneth Ray Edwards, Herndon, Ky., was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital about midnight last Wednesday and released Saturday. He was taken to the hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad following the accident at the entrance to the bridge on U.S. 50 at Md. 560. He was eastbound, descending the steep grade on Rt. 50 when he lost control. He failed to negotiate the sharp right turn, crossed the road and struck the guard rail. Tfc. Ronald Lewis investigated.

There was another accident at the same location three days earlier. Elaine M. Jewell, Ridgeley, W. Va., was eastbound about 4:20 p.m. Thomas W. Dadisman, Philippi, W. Va., and Clyde D. Wright, Shinnston, W. Va., in a small van, were headed west at the intersection of Md. 560. Elaine Jewell slid across the center line and sideswiped the other vehicles.

One person was injured in a two-car mixup at L street and Baltimore Ave. in Mt. Lake Park last Friday evening. Bruce W. Burrell, Mt. Lake Park, was headed north on L street. Gladys D. Welch, also of Mt. Lake Park, traveling west on Baltimore avenue, failed to grant the right-of-way to Burrell on a through highway. Gladys Welch was crossing a hard surface roadway from a gravel surface road and was charged by Tfc. C. H. Hinnant with failing to grant the right-of-way to traffic on a hard surfaced road.

The unattended car of Larry A. Gauntz, Meyersdale, Pa., was parked on the north shoulder of Hare Hollow road about a mile and a half west of New Germany road the afternoon of October 25. When Gauntz returned to his car he discovered that it had been sideswipped by an unknown vehicle. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore investigated.

An unattended vehicle of the Grantsville Foodland was parked in a private drive about 50 feet off U.S. 40 the evening of October 22. The vehicle was struck by an unknown vehicle which failed to stop. The unidentified vehicle left some red paint on the parked vehicle. Tpr. J. E. Foley investigated.

Janet E. Harvey, Swanton, was southbound on the Kitzmiller road shortly before midnight October 25. An unknown vehicle northbound, crossed the centerline of the road, sideswiped the Harvey car and fled the area. Tfc. E. J. Uphole investigated.

Stephen T. Meanallen, Laurel, was driving south on Md. 495 just north of the New Germany road about 2:30 a.m. last Tuesday. As he was rounding a slight curve, he met an unidentified vehicle which had failed to keep to the right side of the road. Meanallen swerved to the left, went over an embankment and overturned. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile charge Meanallen with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

Robert L. Rubenstein, Davis, W. Va., was traveling north on U.S. 219 just north of the Blue Ribbon road late the evening of the same day and struck a cow of David C. Swartzentruber, crossing the road. Tfc. L. R. Rosage made no charges.

The car of Francis Halpin, Whitehouse, Fla., was involved in a wreck on U.S. 219 about a mile south of U.S. 50 last Wednesday. The unidentified operator lost control of the vehicle which went off the left side of the road and struck a pole. The operator fled the area after the collision. This could have been a stolen car. The owner of the car could not be contacted.

The owner of the car could not be contacted.

Glen A. Swayne, Bloomington, struck an auto motor laying in the road just past midnight October 24. He was traveling west on Md. 135 just south of the Savage River road when he hit the motor with the undercarriage of his car. Tfc. Hinnant investigated.

Washington Report

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Warns that 'Crime Does Pay'

"Americans are becoming painfully aware of the fact that crime does pay," contended Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr., (R-Md.). Beall, in a speech delivered before the Second Annual Six Town Community Congress of the Neighborhood Unity Project in Mt. Rainier, November 1. He said that criminals are taking advantage of the failure of the judicial and penal systems to adequately isolate convicted felons from society.

Beall says it is time to stop worrying about the criminal in society and "start worrying about the millions of innocent men, women and children, young and old, who are so vulnerable to the criminal element let loose on our communities. We must also increase our concern over the incredible hardships forced on victims and their families following crimes. Innocent victims must be protected from fear and harassment and they must be compensated for their losses. Fortunately, Maryland has passed legislation to provide financial compensation to victims. Federal action is also needed, however, to insure the establishment of a victim compensation fund."

Beall says that one of the largest battles in the war against crime is to get the repeat offender off the streets. "Nearly two-thirds of all crimes committed in the country are committed by so-called 'repeaters'," says Beall, "and up to 35 percent of all persons awaiting trial are likely to be arrested for a second offense while out on bail. Overcrowded jails and the philosophy of many judges that jails have a bad influence on convicted felons have resulted in far too little time there. In too many cases the convicted felon comes away with the distinct, and I believe correct impression, that crime does pay."

Part of the answer, argues Beall, is in requiring mandatory sentences for violent crimes and other crimes involving the use of firearms or other deadly weapons. "Mandatory sentences should be coupled with the requirement that if the convicted defendant has been previously convicted of the same violent crime, that person should be denied the chance for probation and should be required to serve a greater portion of his sentence before being eligible for parole. We must get the repeat offender away from his innocent victims."

The Maryland Senator says that there is merit to the argument that criminals must be isolated from society and punished for crime. "This is not to say we should abandon efforts to rehabilitate," says Beall. "I think we must continue those efforts, but in light of the meager successes we've had towards this goal it is time that we concentrate on protecting society and deterring others from causing us harm. Stiffer mandatory sentences, especially for violent crimes, I believe would be one strong step towards accomplishing our goal."

Education Is Theme Of AAUW Meeting

"Education: Where Do We Go From Here?" will be the theme of the November 11 meeting of the Garrett Branch of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. George Hanst, of Monte Vista Road, will host the group at her home, with a coffee social at 6:30 p.m. The program will begin at 7:00 and will be followed by an executive board meeting at 8:30.

Mrs. Herbert Lambert, topic chairman for "The 21st Century: Deciding Now," will outline the contents of the Rosenberg Report from the Governor's Commission of Education.

On December 9, AAUW will sponsor a panel discussion on the Rosenberg Report at 7:30 p.m. in the Southern High School Library. Participating on the panel will be various local and state administrators of education who will present their views on the Rosenberg Report. This meeting will be open to the public. Citizens interested in the future governance and structure of education in the state of Maryland should plan to attend, it was stated.

Former Residents Observe Silver Wedding Event

Mr. Bernard and the former Norma Brenneman were married October 28, 1950, in the First Assembly of God Church in Westernport. They are the parents of Crystal Lynn, at home.

The former Garrett County residents are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brenneman and Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Bernard of Swanton.

Sermonette

"The just shall live by faith" (Romans 1:17) This passage is one of those found by Martin Luther which changed his life and began the Protestant Reformation. To Luther it said that we are made right with God not by doing but by believing — not by our performing for God, but by accepting His performing for us . . . not by works but by faith.

But there is more to this small phrase. There is the implication that we are not only saved by faith but that we are called to live by faith. And living by faith calls us into the dimension of "risk." We don't know what the future holds, but we know Who holds the future. Abraham risked everything to follow God's leading him to a new land. Elijah staked his life on God's answering his prayer on Mt. Carmel. John the Baptist risked capital punishment when he pointed out Herod's sin. The Apostles risked imprisonment and even death when they preached the Gospel against the will of Rome. Martin Luther risked excommunication, banishment and even death when he took his stand against the will of the church and state of his day.

What are we willing to "risk" today for the sake of our faith in Christ? Our farmers take a risk each time they buy seed and plant a field, or each time they buy a steer at an auction. Our truckers take a risk each time they head out on the open road. We take a risk when we entrust our investments in an insurance plan, a bank, or in stocks and bonds — or when we enter into a new business venture.

What are we willing to risk for our faith? Are we willing to stand for what we believe when the will of the majority is against us? Are we willing to trust one another in a day when so much suspicion prevails? Are we willing to obey God rather than man? Are we willing to risk our reputations as we extend love to a neighbor who is unloved by so many others?

What is God calling you to risk today?

When you take that risk, and only then, are you ready to "live by faith."

Fred Illick, Pastor
Zion Lutheran Church
Accident, Maryland

Center Street P.T.A. Told Of Redistricting

Lloyd Robertson and Dr. Jerome Ryscavage presented the proposed plans for redistricting school zones at the Monday evening meeting of Center Street P.T.A. Mr. Robertson handed around drawings of the proposals so that the more than 100 parents present could visualize the proposed changes.

The redistricting would affect Dennett Road and Broadford Elementary as well as Southern Middle and Southern High School.

Classrooms which won parties for efforts in the P.T.A. membership drive were Mrs. Pat Bray, first; Mrs. Paula Mattingly and Mrs. Rebecca Sanders, tie for second; and Mikal McCartney, third.

Wayne Johnson, principal at Center Street and Oak Street Schools, noted that a blueprint of the Broadford School is available for parental inspection at Center Street. Mrs. Sandy Flanagan, president, conducted the business session.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jean Spencer and Mrs. Naomi Wolf.

Board Opposes Setup Changes In Governing Colleges

After the Garrett Community College Board of Trustees reviewed the report of the Governor's Study commission on structure and governance of education in Maryland, the trustees indicated that they were opposed to the major recommendations in the report because community colleges would likely lose their local identity and local control.

The report calls for sweeping changes in the organizational structure and governance of Maryland's public colleges and universities.

The board indicated the authority and responsibility currently exercised by local boards of trustees would be shifted to a state board of higher education.

The Garrett Community College trustees also pointed out that the proposed new structure would create another state-level bureaucratic structure in higher education.

In submitting its analysis of the report to Senator Edward Mason and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, the Board recommended that the existing structure of higher education be maintained and strengthened.

Animated Dog And Jaycees Go On Hospital Trip

"Gus", the animated dog, and two members of the Oakland Jaycees traveled to Hagerstown last Thursday, October 30, for a visit to the hospital there. The invitation was issued by the Greater Hagerstown Jaycees.

Gus is a protege of Southern Garrett Jaycees, travels to numerous hospitals, the latest visit being to Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Sunday night. At the Washington Memorial Hospital he worked and waggled his way through the pediatric ward with the help of the Hagerstown Jaycees where a Halloween party was in progress. Gus then disappeared and was found on the fourth floor in the maternity ward.

Gus and his companion continued through the rest of the hospital and were interviewed by WHAG-TV. Gus was asked why he would travel 186 miles to see children and other shut-ins. His companion answered with another question: "Have you ever spent any time in a hospital? Do you know that this is the most lonely and undesirable place to be? Gus likes to cheer up people."

Gus is becoming a well-known figure in the Maryland Jaycees, being sworn in by the Maryland Jaycee president, Jim Hubbard, at the region I meeting held at the Algonquin Motor Inn, September 27. Gus and his fellow Jaycees visit the Garrett County Memorial Hospital twice a month. He is usually accompanied by two of the Jaycee members, Bruce Hall and Bill Ridgell.

PUPPET SHOW

Someone else is pulling the strings. Someone else is speaking behind the scenes. Someone else is making the audience laugh, or even cry a little.

By any chance, does that remind you of yourself? Do you sometimes feel that you are a puppet, not a person? That someone else is putting words in your mouth, calling your plays?

Well, the Church won't stand you on your own two feet and cut the strings. But it will help you find the right kind of scissors . . . to get a new perspective, to reassess life, and yourself . . . to be your own person.

Who, after all, wants to be the star of a Punch and Judy show?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

Lesson for November 9, 1975

Background Scripture: Genesis 28:10-22; 32:1--33:4
Devotional Reading: Galatians 1:10-17

Dreams were very important in the life of Israel and his family.

Two dreams had changed Israel's life: the mysterious dream of a heavenly ladder as he fled the wrath of his brother, Esau, and the strange nocturnal wrestling with a heavenly messenger from God himself. Because of his dreams, crafty Jacob had become Israel, God's chosen heir to the covenant.

Rev. Althouse

"I had a dream..."

Joseph, his second youngest son, also was a dreamer. The only difference was that Joseph's dreams got him into serious trouble and almost cost him his life.

Of course there was a troubled household. Israel had two wives, Rachel and Leah, and two concubines. That alone was reason for jealousy and tension. Furthermore, Israel had children by the two wives and the two concubines and the competition between the four women was reflected in the twelve children. Such a household was bound to arouse suspicion of favoritism and in Israel's house it was more than just a "suspicion."

Rachel, to begin with, was his favorite wife and Joseph, his son by Rachel, was his favorite son. What's more, the favoritism showed, particularly in Israel's gift to Joseph of a beautiful multicolored coat.

So Joseph was his father's favorite and there is the suggestion that perhaps he was a bit of a "spoiled brat"! The problem was not just with his dreams, but with the way he related to his brothers. What he said and did was almost guaranteed to provoke their jealous resentment.

One did not have to be a mental giant to interpret his dreams: both of them rather clearly indicated that Joseph saw himself as greatly superior to his brothers. The brothers understandably interpreted the dreams to indicate that Joseph thought that he was in a class apart.

"Here comes this dreamer..."

Actually, however, the dreams were precognitive in nature: they foretold something that was to come to pass in the future. They represented not just Joseph's inflated self-image, but a situation that was actually to occur in the years ahead: his brothers would eventually bow to him many years later!

But to the brothers the dreams spoke, not of the future, but of the present and they bitterly determined to do away with this "spoiled brat"! Thus, we see the natural consequence that often follows from the presence of pride and prejudice side by side: violence!

Still, there was more at work than just pride and prejudice—there was also God's providence. For as the seething brothers plotted to kill him, Reuben, the oldest of the brothers, was moved by God to intervene so that Joseph's life could be saved. The brothers intended Joseph's death, but God intended for him to survive and live to do important things for him.

Even in the jealousy-ridden, hate-infested home of Israel, there was an opportunity for the grace of God to thwart the evil of man and bring good out of a bad situation. God salvaged victory out of the seeming defeat of Joseph at Dothan. From that defeat there came an ultimate victory for God and his will.

So, despite pride and prejudice in Israel's household, God's providence prevailed.

Insurance FACTS

Social insurance is a relatively new thing in the United States, and is particularly a product of the last thirty years. Workmen's compensation insurance appeared in the twenties, but the real impetus toward extensive social insurance came in the 1930's, with the Social Security Act. Reason for this insurance? The experts say that the economy of the United States changed during this time from agricultural to urban. The individual could no longer depend on family surroundings during hard times, but more and more often needed to turn to government and society to help him through hard times.

DANGEROUS GUESSING

One great cause of serious home accidents is trying to guess the contents of an unlabled container. Potent drugs are easily mistaken for simple home remedies.

Do as we pharmacists do. We leave nothing to chance. The contents of any unlabled bottle are immediately destroyed. The least doubt about potency and the medicine is discarded. We will not gamble with anyone's health.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

There are three basic types of telescopes: the refractor, the reflector and the catadioptric. Each type offers its own special features. The only criteria to really judge the value of a telescope is its use which produces a happy astronomy enthusiast.

Insulate your home. Stop wasting natural gas and money.

Only one of the three little pigs was very smart. He made sure his home was snug. And so should you.

If you have less than six inches of insulation on the floor of your attic, you're losing heat. It will rise into the attic and sneak out through the ventilation port under your roof. Your furnace will work to replace that escaping heat. And that's a waste of money. Insulation is easy to install. An afternoon in your attic can save you a bundle.

Check your windows for leaks. Carefully move a lighted candle around the window frame. A slight draft will disturb the flame and tell you you're losing heat, and money, right out the window. Caulk leaking windows. Put weather-stripping on all exterior doors, the attic door, and the door to an attached garage. In short, button up your home snugly.

Even if you can afford to waste money, none of us can afford to waste precious natural gas. It's in short supply. The gas we save at home is needed to keep industry going. And as industry goes, so goes employment.

That helps keep the wolf from the door.

Tony Artis scored three touchdowns and gained all but 55 yards of Northern High's total offense to lead the Huskies to a 28-2 victory over Turkeyfoot last Saturday at Confluence, Pa.

Artis scored on runs of 78, 43, and 51 yards while piling up 231 yards on 17 carries. The victory snapped a two-game skid by the Huskies who will take a 5-3 record into Friday's season finals against Southern High Rams at Accident.

Northern dominated the game, the defensive unit holding the Gobblers to only 34 yards for the day. The Husky secondary picked off four Turkeyfoot passes while Bobby Thomas blocked a punt and then flopped on it in the end zone for the fourth and final Huskie score.

Northern had seven first downs to 4 for Turkeyfoot, completed four of 15 pass attempts compared to 6 of 17 for Turkeyfoot. Northern also had one pass intercepted.

Our Third Governor

Annapolis is a great Eastern town, for so much of it has remained intact that we see a living history there, in buildings and landscapes. But two restored features, the house and gardens of William Paca (pay cash), will add to the aura of Old Annapolis. William Paca gave more to Maryland than exemplary gardens, for he was another member of the Forensic Club of Annapolis who later signed our national document of freedom.

Paca was the signer who became our governor. How proud he must have been, to invite the itinerant Congress to meet at Annapolis! We are aware that this is why our State House was the scene of both Washington's resignation of his commission and the end of the Revolutionary War, the ratification of the Treaty of Paris.

The Paca family descended from those whose name had been Peaker. William's beginnnings, in 1740, were in Harford County, near Abingdon, and he ended near Queenstown, in Queen Anne's County. Wye Plantation, all 1400 acres of it, is today the home of superior Angus cattle and the experimentation pertaining to them. Arthur A. Houghton, Jr., owns the plantation, but the residence of Paca could not be restored because of its age and condition; however, it was redone to suit a colonial environment.

William was educated first in his own country, at Philadelphia College (University of Pennsylvania), graduated in 1759, and then studied at Middle Temple, London, with both institutions changing him into a capable barrister. His civic interest led to membership on a committee to authorize the creation of the new county, Harford. He also gave again to Annapolis his work as a supervisor when the new State House was built, and we wonder if he dreamed that he would occupy it later.

He succeeded Samuel Chase in the House of Delegates in 1767 and stood up for opposition to the royal government in the state legislature from 1771 to '74. Like his contemporaries, Paca was caught up in the cry for freedom. Being in the Sons of Liberty and the Committee of Correspondence whetted his patriotism, or perhaps patriotism whetted his interest in joining those groups. Since the Stamp Act and the Boston Tea Party, Annapolis and the western counties had joined in the call to a meeting "to effect such association as will be best to secure American liberty," and so off to Philadelphia and the Continental Congress went Paca. As a delegate he continuously tried to answer the opposition of the Maryland delegates to separation from England. Finally, in June, 1776, the home state convention agreed to no longer restrict their delegates' votes, and the group decided for a full independence. Like Johnson, he was obliged to return to Maryland for a time to assist in framing our first state constitution.

Paca had acquired property and likewise married into property, as his wife was Mary Lloyd Chew. She did not survive him, and he was twice more married. His wife Anne died in 1780, so he sold the house at Annapolis before it was completed. "Wye Hall" became his home.

Under the new constitution, Paca became a state senator, which he remained until 1778. He then was appointed Chief Justice of the Superior Court and later was Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals. In 1782 he became the third governor of Maryland, and was unanimously elected for the 1784-5 term. Following that, he served in the state representation from Harford County. As delegate, he acted and promoted the welfare of returning soldiers and the procurement of funds for Washington College. In 1789, Washington appointed him a U.S. (district) court judge, so he remained publicly active until his death ten years later.

We must honor the four gentlemen from Maryland who affixed their signatures to the freedom document of Jefferson and Franklin, for if we of today attempted a similar expose' of misrule, along with our affirmations that new rights should be granted, we could expect, as they must have, to be termed traitors and to be ostracized by many who at the time felt that asking for such privilege was both dangerous and unreasonable.

A little memory sentence will help you to remember their names: "Paca Chased Carroll with a Stone."

Sad to say, our western Marylanders had no native son at the Continental Congress. But we were out there, freely chasing Indians, finding bears, and making a frontier with our own kind of liberty.

——— Tamarack

Promenaders Plan Mixer Night

The Mt. Top Promenaders, local square dance club, is planning a mixer night at the Dennett Road school gymnasium on Monday, November 10, from 8 to 11 o'clock. Purpose is to get married couples of all ages interested in joining a new class.

The club was formed in March, 1970, with the help of Mrs. Shirley Ramsey, teacher at Dennett Road school at the time, and Gerald and Helen Glotfelty, McHenry. The club meets every second and fourth Monday of the month at the school. At present there are some 30 active members.

Other activities during the year include an all-day picnic for members and families, covered dish suppers, Halloween costume dance, anniversary dinner and dance, Christmas dinner and dance, the Autumn Glory Festival dance. Some 86 couples representing clubs from several states, and 91 spectators participated in the latter event.

Caller for the club is Al Schwinabart, Elk Garden, who has been with the club since it was formed. He also calls at Somerset and Cumberland.

Distilled Spirits Tax Received

The distribution was $61,205 greater than for the same period last year, an increase of 5.08 percent. Baltimore city received the largest share, $283,974.50, with Prince George's county next and Baltimore county third.

Statistics on Garrett county showed 11,125 gallons delivered, with distribution at 50 cents per gallon amounting to $5,562.50, an increase of 17.08 percent.

Timber Harvest Program Held October 22

The county's first Timber Harvesting program field day was held October 22 at Garrett Community College auditorium and at the training site at the Bittinger 4-H Center.

The Timber Harvesting program is one of several sponsored by the Community Service Division of the College and is funded by CETA. Nine trainees involved in the program were recruited by the Employment Security office in Oakland. Instructors were Pete Augustine and John Forman, Jr.

The program was designed to provide training in timber harvesting and through this training, develop good conservation practices. Assisting in coordinating, planning and evaluating the program were Paul Mateer, of the state forestry service, and William Scherer, of Westvaco.

The program began with a coffee session in the college auditorium at 9:30. Paul Mateer, moderator, introduced Dr. Alfred O'Connell, president of the college. Others addressing the group were Wayne Hamilton, president of the county commissioners; William Scherer, Westvaco representative; and Lowell Bender, director of Community Services.

A forestry over-view film was shown before the group adjourned to the training site. A buckwheat cakes and sausage lunch was prepared and served by members of the Bittinger Community Center Ladies Auxiliary, at the community center, following the visit to the training site.

Special guests present included Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, James A. PROCLAIMS PIONEER DAY IN STATE — Proclaiming November 3 as Association Pioneer Day in Maryland, Governor Mandel congratulates J. W. Seitz, left, president of the Maryland Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America, and J. X. Gunzelman, the chapter's chairman of Association Pioneer Day.

In tribute to Telephone Pioneers of America for their "vital contributions to the progress of man" and their worthwhile community service activities, Governor Marvin Mandel has proclaimed November 3 as Association Pioneer Day in Maryland.

The Governor presented the proclamation yesterday to J. W. Seitz, president of the Pioneers' Maryland Chapter, and J. X. Gunzelman, chapter chairman of Association Pioneer Day.

Members throughout the United States and Canada are celebrating the anniversary of the first Pioneer meeting, which took place November 2, 1911.

The first Telephone Pioneers were literally the people whose experience dated back to Alexander Graham Bell days. Underlying the association's activities practically from the very beginning has been the principle of service to others.

Today's Pioneers still have a strong feeling for the history and traditions of the business. To become a member, an employee must have been in the telephone industry for 20 years or more.

While enjoying the social side of their organization, the Pioneers are also dedicated to numerous community services. For example: They repair talking books for the blind, provide hearing aids for the deaf, entertain hospital patients and build talking dogs to aid in training handicapped children. For many of their projects, Pioneers can apply the same kind of technical skills they've used on the job as telephone people.

The organization has grown from 700 members in 1911 to over 400,000 today. In the Maryland Chapter alone there are close to 6,000 members, including both active and retired C&P, Western Electric, Bell Laboratories, and AT&T employees.

Balloons Released Monday

Approximately 40 balloons were released in downtown Oakland Monday afternoon as part of the local observance of Association Pioneer Day in Maryland.

Attached to each balloon was a small card, postpaid to the Maryland Chapter Pioneer office in Baltimore. Finders are asked to fill in the name of their town, state and the date, and mail the cards. The Pioneers will then respond to a worthwhile charity on behalf of finders' communities.

Taking part in the balloon ascensions locally were Taft Oursler, former line foreman in Oakland and a retired life member; Joan Raynovich, Ethel Ridder, and Vane Iden, active Pioneer members; and Al Meyer, Oakland business manager and potential Pioneer member.

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks expecially to the Oakland Merchants for all their donations.

Try a Facial at Home
The Main Ingredients: Soap and Water

Salon facials are such a luxury, but there's no reason why it can't become a daily at-home routine, suggests Mrs. Freda S. Denison, Ext. Agent, Home Economics.

A facial serves a two-fold purpose: cleansing skin and invigorating facial muscles. And, there is little expense to speak of — a bowlful of hot water and a favorite soap is all that's needed.

Drape a bath towel or makeup cape over the shoulders. Pin back the hair. Work up a rich lather of soapsuds on the fingertips to begin. Here's how:

Place fingertips together at the chin and gently but firmly stroke upward toward each cheekbone with a sweeping movement. This eases the tension of mouth and cheek muscles. Always use upward strokes because downward strokes work against muscles and tissues, encouraging sagging lines.

Next, dip fingers in suds again and stroke from the bridge of the nose outward and upward toward the temples.

Stroke upward from the top of the nose to the hairline, using firm but gentle pressure. This helps ease away tiny frown lines. The stimulus of massage combines with the hot water and suds to open pores and eliminate imbedded waste oils and soil. Be careful near the eyes. "Butterfly" pat around this delicate area with fingertips.

Use a stroking motion on forehead starting between the eyes and sweeping up and over in an arc-like motion. Let the lather set on the face and concentrate on the neckline. This gives the complexion a mild astringent action.

Take a palmful of suds and stroke upward from the base of the neck to opposite side of the chin; repeat the process for the other side.

While the soapsuds are still setting, take a towel wrung out in water as hot as you can stand and place it over your face for a few moments — the heat will help cleanse oily skin and flush away blackheads and whiteheads.

Use a clean washcloth and warm water to whisk off suds — be sure to use the same upward strokes removing suds. Pat the cloth around the eye area. A good splashing with cold water closes pores and leaves the skin sparkling clean and radiantly alive.

Gas Company Plans Messages For Customers

To encourage energy conservation, Columbia Gas will print special messages on bills sent to residential and small, non-curtailed commercial customers this winter, including a notice advising customers who use more gas this year than they did during the same period last year.

The notice which will begin appearing on customer bills about mid-November, will say: "Current Usage Is Greater Than Same Period Last Year. Please Conserve."

William C. Deems, manager in the Oakland area, said customers whose usage is not greater than last year will also receive a conservation message on their bills. It will read: "Save Gas. Save Jobs. Please Turn Your Thermostat Down to 67 Degrees."

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me

How do you feel about federal aid for New York City?

I am against any such aid. Congress should persuade New York to balance its budget rather than finance it in the red with federal loan guarantees. I cannot help but feel that temporary emergency help would turn into a permanent subsidy, and worse, that it would remove the opportunity for New York to put its finances in order. The City's problems lie with excessive public subsidies and mismanagement and temporary federal help pending a balancing of the budget will only aid the bondholders and not the city. In short, Congress should balance its own budget and not pass on another tax burden to the rest of the Nation.

What percent of Soviet grain imports have come from the United States this year?

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates Soviet Union total world grain purchases to date at 25 million tons, of which 11.5 million tons have come from the United States.

Did you vote against increasing the national debt to $597 billion?

Yes. It seems to me that one way we can curb spending is to stop expanding the U. S. public debt.

Has the increase in U. S. energy consumption generally followed our increase in population?

No. The increases in U. S. energy consumption are much more rapid than the growth of population. For example, between 1960 and 1968, the U. S. population increased by 11 percent while energy consumption rose 38 percent in the transportation sector, 45 percent for residential uses and 52 percent for commercial purposes.

What does our government spend on welfare programs each year?

According to HEW, the total public spending for major welfare programs reached $22.6 billion in fiscal 1975, a 20 percent increase over the previous year.

Can you tell me if Congress has increased the ceilings on federally insured loans for the purchase of mobile homes?

Two weeks ago the House passed legislation allowing the FHA to insure loans up to $12,500 for regular mobile homes and $20,000 for double-width homes.

Is skiing allowed in all of our National Parks?

Citizens interested in winter activities in the National Park System should write Consumer Information, Department 64, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. The "Winter Activities" book tells about parks that offer opportunities for cross-country ski tours, downhill skiing, ice skating, ice fishing and ice boating as well as those with overnight facilities.

Call for Leadership

By Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, Jr.

We have much to be proud of as a Nation as we move into our Bicentennial. We are strong, we are at least relatively well off, and the aftermath of Watergate allows us to assert that we are capable of self-correction.

But there also is the negative side. We do not seem to sense a purpose or direction to our national life. There has been a failure of leadership for which all of us in public life must take some responsibility. Throughout the Nation, there is a call for leadership that must be—but is not being—met. In particular, we must articulate the tough issues of our day in ways that can translate into public dialogue.

I believe the political parties have singularly failed, both internally and in competition with each other, to raise and define many of the crucial issues facing us. They have failed on the issues of crime, jobs, welfare reform, tax reform, race relations, health, and bureaucratic management. The greatest failure of our political parties is the failure to improve the significance of human life.

The failure of our political parties has been accompanied by a rise in the number of persons who register as Independents. Being an Independent today may not so much reflect apathy as a disgust with the alternatives.

Not only are most Independents disaffected with our political parties, but millions of Americans are only nominally registered as Republicans and Democrats. For them, the parties are nothing more than flags of convenience.

I would warn both parties that there will be a major political realignment in 1976 if they do not respond now to the basic concerns of this country. I have been to the streets of Maryland's cities and towns and the people couldn't care less what party you belong to.

If the political parties are to survive, they must become more than election vehicles.

In the last analysis, they must begin to do what is right, to provide for the full development of the potential of every American.

If our parties do not respond, there are precedents for what must happen. Republicans and Democrats, like Whigs and Federalists, will pass into history as others emerge to speak to modern man.

With leadership, we can work together, dream together, and achieve together to make a better land.

Zimmerman-Roy Vows Said Oct. 4

Wedding vows were exchanged by Deborah Ann Roy and George Walter Zimmerman on Saturday, October 4. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Poland in Crellin Assembly of God church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reland Roy, Fingerboard road, Oakland, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Zimmerman, Crellin.

Clifford DeWitt, organist, accompanied Mrs. Janice Beasley, Ontario, Canada, who sang "The Wedding Prayer," and "Walk Hand in Hand." Miss Judy Sharpe, Akron, O., trumpet soloist, played "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Janice Beasley on the organ. Both Miss Sharpe and Mrs. Beasley were college classmates of the bride.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a floor length gown of white satin accented by a Chantilly lace yoke and overlay adorned with seed perals. The chapel length veil, edged with scalloped Chantilly lace fell from a small headpiece adorned with lace appliques and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white fugi mums and eucalyptus.

Maid of honor was Reva Roy, sister of the bride. Her full length gown of gold velveteen matched that of the bride. She carried an arm bouquet of oats tied together by gold ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Donna Watt, sister of the bride, Export, Pa.; Teresa Roy, sister of the bride, Oakland; and Janet Zimmerman, sister of the groom, Oakland. Their gowns matched that of the maid of honor and were of different fall colors, green, rust, brown, red and gold. Each girl wore a circle of gold pompons in their hair and carried arm bouquets of oats.

David Snyder, Eglon, W. Va., was best man. Ushers were Roger Kitzmiller, Jim Zimmerman, Dallas Smith and Jerry Zimmerman. Ring bearer was Scott Harsh.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church social room. Mrs. Donna Zimmerman, sister-in-law of the groom, was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Florence Friend, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Linda Sines, cousin of the bride, cut and served the cake which was baked by Mrs. Friend. Miss Kathy Ridder served the punch and Mrs. Kay Baker served coffee. Miss Sandy Beeghly registered gifts.

The bride is employed as a teacher in the Oak Park headstart. The groom is employed by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Wildlife administration.

Rams Overcome Keyser 22 to 7

The Keyser Tornadoes' hope to give their coach, Tack Clark, a victory in his final game, was dashed by a powerful Southern High running attack which brought the Rams a 22 to 7 victory last Friday night at Keyser.

The Potomac Valley conference PVC clash brought the Rams their sixth win in a row and upped their season record to 7-2.

Keyser held Southern scoreless in the first half and went ahead 7 to 0 in the second quarter. The Keyser TD came on a one-yard plunge by Dave Neil who also booted the extra point.

In the third period Southern began to march and a 52-yard drive ended with Rick Welch going over from four yards out with 4:25 left in the quarter. Kevin Liller then vaulted the Rams ahead when he went in from the one-yard line.

In the final quarter Southern started to burn and covered 96 yards in four plays with Liller climaxing the drive with a 49-yard touchdown run.

Liller also carried over the conversion following Welch's score and hit Allen Rohrbaugh with a two-point pass to end the evening's scoring.

Including a 44-yard run from scrimmage Welch led the Rams with 180 yards on 44 attempts. Kevin Liller had 14 rushes for 104 yards and Keyser standout Danny Zais carried 19 times for 51 yards. Keyser is now 4-6 on the season.

Southern had 16 first downs to 10 for Keyser, completed two of 5 passes compared to 8 of 22 for Keyser. Southern had one pass intercepted but intercepted two of Keyser's tosses. The Rams had a total offense of 366 yards compared to 152 for Keyser.

Southern's final game this Friday will be against the Northern Huskies at Accident.

Top Americanism . . .

Top flight Americanism and patriotism always flow freely from American Legion pig roast speakers and this year was certainly no exception.

The belief that America must always deal from a position of strength was emphasized last Friday evening by Joe L. Matthews, former national commander of the American Legion from Texas. In explaining "Detente" as the easing of tensions he said it doesn't mean that America can now disarm, because the "Only thing they understand is strength."

How right he is! While we reiterate that we don't believe communists lurk around every corner, there are plenty of them on the loose, and some may be in strategic places, yet they can be overcome if we maintain our strength. Communism is contrary to our way of life and until a change takes place Communists will always be our antagonists, if not our active enemies.

Mr. Matthews paid tribute to veterans of World War I who organized and built up the ideals of the American Legion. Thirteen of them were on hand at last Friday's dinner.

He stressed that the American Legion had a vital role to maintain so that this country can always deal from strength. That means that this dealing from strength should not be left just to the American Legion but to the citizens of this country as well.

Official Opening Of New Highway Set for Today

The official opening for the new section of the freeway, route 48, was set for this morning at 11 o'clock at the Garrett County-West Virginia border near Bruceton, W. Va.

Sections of the freeway from Keyser Ridge and Friendsville were opened at 9:30 so those planning to attend the ceremonies from this area could drive directly to the site.

Governors of both states and other dignitaries were expected to be in attendance. Northern and Southern High school bands were planning to participate.

To Continue Building

High construction was continuing on the freeway in this county as long as the moderate weather continues, according to officials.

John D. Bushby, district engineer for the State Highway administration, said all subcontractors on the freeway between the Finzel road interchange and U.S. 219 at Keyser Ridge, are completing work.

The 20-mile stretch of freeway is being paved and the slopes off the highway are being seeded. Grass is blown onto the slopes and covered with oil and straw to provide a cover while seeds germinate. 44 Turkeys Are Killed In Garrett

A spokesman for the Department of Natural Resource's Wildlife Administration states that Maryland has completed the 1975 Fall Turkey Season with an official kill of 183 birds. There were 121 birds reported harvested in Allegany County, 44 in Garrett and 18 in Washington. This compares with a total kill of 188 in 1974.

Two major changes in the 1975 Fall Turkey Season were closing of that portion of Washington County east of Hancock and a shift in opening the season from November 1 to October 4.

The biggest effect on the kill probably resulted from the early opening. Woods visability was in favor of the turkeys because of heavy leaf cover.

The local hospital used 35 pints of blood during October. She also noted that Mrs. Loree (Mary) McRobie had resigned from the local Red Cross chapter due to health reasons. She had volunteered her services to the program for five years, keeping the donor records and mailing first time donor cards. She is being succeeded by Mrs. Norman (Sara) Wine.

Columbia Gas Cuts Revised

Columbia Gas of Maryland had revised previous curtailment notices for 14 industrial and two commercial customers for the five-month winter period beginning November 1.

The action giving more gas to some was taken by the company for the customers in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties as a result of an order on October 31 by the Maryland Public Service Commission.

These industrial and commercial customers are now subject to a 70 percent curtailment of their gas allocation on those applications where installed alternate fuel facilities can be used.

Previously the company announced that these customers would have to have a 100 percent curtailment during the period and they would have to go on alternate fuel.

The firms affected by the order are Harbison-Walker Refractories, Jennings; Bausch and Lomb, Inc., Oakland; works 7 of PPG Industries, Inc., Kaiser Refractories, Zihlman; Amcelle Plant of Celanese Fibers Co., and Mt. Savage Refractories Company. The large commercial customer in the area is Sacred Heart

Other industrial and commercial customers who do not have an alternate fuel capability would not be subject to curtailment at this time.

This affects several customers which had been placed under a 40 percent curtailment, all in Allegany and Washington counties.

"Weather conditions in our service area, changes in our gas supply picture and the amount of gas conserved by our customers will determine whether any future adjustment in this curtailment level becomes necessary," says William C. Deems, manager for Columbia in the Oakland area, "or whether customers not having an alternate fuel capability would be subject to curtailment of their requirements in the future."

GUEST SPEAKER Joe L. Matthews, past commander of the American Legion, emphasized U.S. military strength as necessary to retain our position in the world at the annual membership pig roast held Friday evening at Proctor Kildow Post 71, Oakland. His brief but emphatic talk was soundly applauded by the nearly 280 members and guests present as he enumerated the benefits brought about by the Legion organization and listed future goals for the group.

Boy Hurt In Farm Mishap

David E. McKenzie, 15-year old Finzel road youth, was in "very guarded" condition at Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland where he was admitted last Thursday morning with multiple injuries sustained when he was caught in an auger being used to unload corn on his parents' farm.

The youth was admitted to the hospital at 11 a.m., after being taken there in the ambulance of the Northern Rescue Sqaud.

It was reported the youth was injured while he was helping his father and a neighbor, Blaine Layman, unload the corn from a wagon onto an elevator into a corn crib located near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McKenzie.

The youth crawled up into the wagon and was caught in the auger which was being operated by a farm tractor.

Joe L. Matthews, past National Commander of the American Legion, asked that the U.S. remain militarily strong during his address at the 44th annual membership pig roast held Friday evening at Proctor Kildow Post 71 in Oakland.

Approximately 280 members and guests were present for the meal served by the Legion auxiliary members after the invocation was given by Rev. John Grant, department chaplain for Maryland and pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, Deer Park.

Randall Kahl, commander and historian for the Oakland Post, welcomed the members and guests. Tom Thayer was the undaunted master of ceremonies and introduced special guests including DeCorsey Bolden, delegate to the Maryland General Assembly; Dayton Alexander, district commander, and Earl Wolfe, Garrett county commander, Maryland Department Executive Committee men; past department commander Dave Wade and Bill Edie, Post 13, 40 & 8.

Brief remarks were made by Charles St. Clair, Glen Burnie. The speaker was introduced by Robert E. L. Eaton, past National Commander, who noted Mr. Matthew's lifetime service, not only to the American Legion, but also to civic and boy scouting activities.

In his address, Mr. Matthews said that the strength of the American Legion lies in its local posts, and paid a tribute to the veterans of World War I who built the Legion organization and turned it over to the present generation.

He brought out that it was the American Legion which forced congressional action to see that veterans were taken care of, action which culminated in the formation of the Veterans' Administration.

Not content with this success, the Legion helped instigate child welfare programs for all U.S. children, and developed Americanism and National Security programs to see that the U.S. remained militarily strong.

He hopes to see the Legion organization always active in rehabilitation programs, children's welfare Americanism, and last but not necessarily least, the baseball program.

Noting that his definition of detente is "an easing of tension," he went on to say that men must not feel that an easing of tension between the U.S. and Russia and the U.S.

and China means we can now disarm. "They are not our friends even though they may not at present be our active enemies. They are our antagonists and the only thing they understand is strength."

"We must not do all the giving, they all the taking," he concluded. "America must always deal from a position of strength." He feels the American Legion has a very vital role to maintain so that we deal always from "strength, strength, strength."

Lonnie Marsh, executive committee member and chairman of the membership dinner, spoke briefly. One of the two remaining mortgages on the local post was burned in a brief ceremony, and Paul W. Hoye, Legion Home manager, promised that the final mortgage would be burned by March 1976.

In his closing remarks, Randall Kahl noted that last year the post was a four-star post with 684 members, an all-time high. A total of 540 members had been listed by Friday night, with 700 needed to maintain a four-star standing.

Rev. William Carlson, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Accident, gave the benediction.

Persons who are to receive 30-yr. membership pins were named and included Joseph Hinebaugh, Harry King, Harold Kempher, Jr., and Herman Poling. Other membership pins will go to Harry Friend and Robert Kirkham, 20 years; Don Colaw, 25 years; Aza Lewis, 45 consecutive years.

Visitors from other posts were recognized, with Oliver Watkins, past department commander, Stanley King, Taneytown Post 120; and Clarence Bacon, Post 110, past department commander, receiving special recognition. Thirteen World War I veterans were present, three of whom have attended all 44 membership dinners.

Other guest were from Cumberland, Dundalk, Aberdeen, Greenbelt, Blue Ridge, Accident and Kitzmiller posts. James Leak, VFW commander, Prentice Watson, a WWI veteran from Terra Alta, Sheriff John Evans, Jr. and George Hanst, editor of The Republican newspaper, also were recognized.

After receiving a drink and a no-thanks to the sale, the couple left in a white car. Mrs. Wicklegren then spent the night with a nephew, and did not discover that her billfold and money were missing until the following morning.

Mrs. Wicklegren told the investigating officer that a third person must have been involved, since her purse was in a bedroom and the couple remained in the kitchen with her the entire time they were in the house.

She described the man as about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, rather heavy, with sandy hair and sideburns.

Some Hospital Employes Seek Union Recognition

Some employes of Garrett County Memorial hospital have requested the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes to represent them at the bargaining table.

Ernest B. Crofoot, director, and Will Stoll, field representative formally asked for creation of the hospital union yesterday morning.

The request was made to Merritt H. Feather, administrator of the hospital Irvin Feld, chairman of the hospital board of directors, had no comment. The request for a union followed union efforts over the past few days. One hospital board member termed the move a "shock," saying that the board was not aware that hospital employes were requesting union representation.

The union head said that employes were generally unhappy with working conditions at the hospital.

One Cyclist Is Hospitalized, Others Injured

A cyclist was hospitalized, another was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital and others were injured following recent accidents.

Harland Eugene Kitzmiller, Star Route 2, Oakland, was hospitalized two days after he was thrown from his motorcycle at the intersection of Swanton Hill road and Md. 135 about 8 p.m. November 2. He was headed south on Swanton Hill road and attempted to enter Rt. 135 by the wrong exit strip at speed too great for conditions. The cycle went off of Rt. 135, struck an embankment and overturned, throwing Kitzmiller from it. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant investigated.

Lidia E. Abarca, Washington, D. C., a passenger in a car driven by Sergio R. Bustamanta, Silver Spring, was treated and released from the hospital following an accident in the Altamont area last Friday evening. The vehicle struck a reflector post, crossed the road, struck an embankment and overturned. The car was called a total loss in the accident investigated by Tfc. C. H. Hinnant.

An accident late last Thursday caused injury to the driver of one car of a two-car wreck on old 135 at Oak Park. Elizabeth M. Stalnaker, S. Second street, Oakland, was slightly injured when she failed to maintain control of her vehicle which went off the side of the road and struck the parked vehicle of Donald R. Evans, Thomas, W. Va. Deadline Set For Opportunity Grants Here

The deadline for applying for Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG) is March 15, 1976, according to an announcement by J. W. Janssen, Dean of Students, Garrett Community College, McHenry. Persons who are now enrolled, or those who plan to enroll for the Spring Semester, and have not yet applied, should do so immediately, he said.

The BEOG program of HEW's Office of Education awards grants to students registered for 6 or more college credit hours. The grants range from $200 - $1400 as determined by a HEW formula applied to students resources. Basically students with family annual incomes of less than $12,000 should be eligible for awards. Students who initiated college work prior to April 1, 1973, are not eligible. Janssen added that there are now 56 full-time and part-time GCC students now receiving BEOGs.

To apply for a Basic Grant, students fill out an "Application for Determination of Basic Grant Eligibility." Applications are available from high school counselors, college financial aid officers, public libraries or by writing: Basic Grants, P.O. Box 84, Washington, D. C. 20044.

Four to six weeks after submitting an application, students are informed of their eligibility. Since the amount of the grant depends on both financial need and the cost at the school, students must take this notification to the financial aid office at the school which they plan to attend to find out the amount of the award.

Student Revives Unconscious Girl

A 17-year old junior at Annapolis Senior High School recently revived a fellow student who had collapsed in a school hallway and apparently stopped breathing twice.

William Hough, who has taken the state of Maryland emergency medical technician course and plans to be a doctor, gave the girl, Valerie Jones, mouth to mouth resuscitation after noticing she had stopped breathing after what he described as a seisure.

Miss Jones, 16, a sophomore, was taken by a rescue squad to Anne Arundel General Hospital where she underwent tests and was then released. Doctors were unable to determine why she collapsed.

Hough was formerly a resident of Deep Creek Lake and had been a member of the Southern Rescue Squad when he resided here. He is still a member of the Western Maryland ski patrol, and is a son of William and Barbara Hough, of 11 Randall Court, Annapolis. Hough at present is a member of the National Ski Patrol and the West Annapolis rescue squad. He moved to Annapolis this year from Deep Creek Lake.

Before using the resuscitation method Hough said he looked for vital signs. He couldn't hear any breathing and couldn't feel her breath on his cheek. He revived her once, and while he was checking her pulse and eyes, she stopped again, and he again gave mouth to mouth resuscitation.

The girl was back in school the following day and apparently entirely recovered.

Southern Defeats Northern 40-8

Erupting for four touchdowns in the second period after a scoreless first quarter, Southern High school added two more in the third period to roll to an easy 40 to 8 victory over Northern High school in their annual county battle last Friday night at Accident.

Coach Jim Miers' Rams, keeping alive an outside shot at the district class "B" title concluded their regular season with an 8-2 record. The Huskies of Jack Lear finished with a 5-4 mark. Lear is retiring after fifteen years at Northern High school.

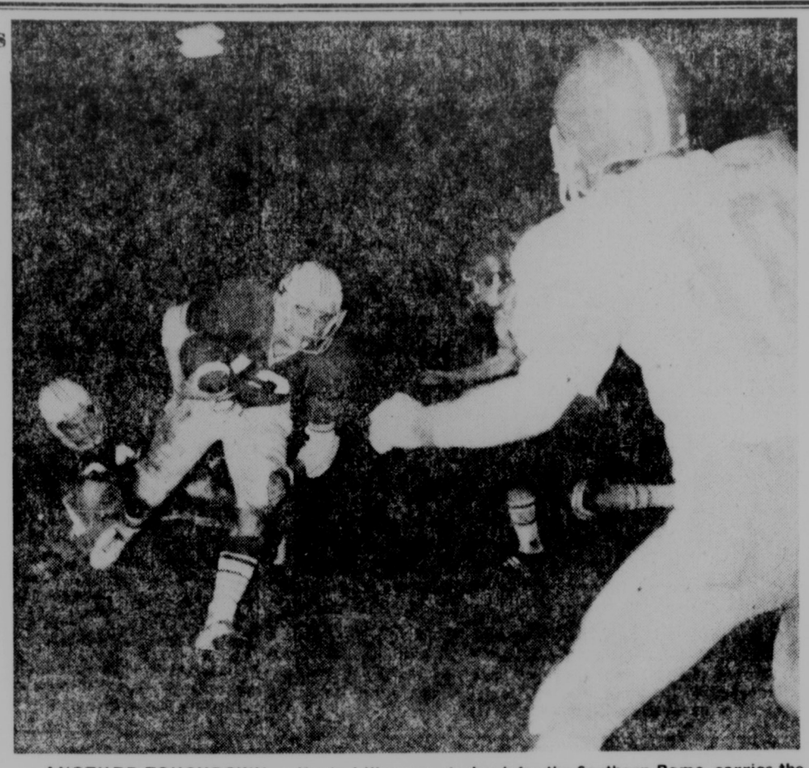
John Rodeheaver scored two six pointers for Southern, two of them on long runs from scrimmage. He tallied on runs of 37 and 67 yards, once in the second period and again in the third.

Ted Raynovich drew first blood for the Rams early in the second period when he caught a pass from Kevin Liller. Rodeheaver then scored his first touchdown and Liller threw his second touchdown pass of the game, a 23-yard heave to Alan Rohrbaugh.

Rodeheaver tallied again in the second quarter before Rick Welch made a TD on an eight-yard run in the third. Liller then scored on a seven-yard run.

Northern tallied in the third period when Kurt Lear found Dave Bender on a 25-yard scoring play.

Southern had the edge in the first downs, 10 to 7. Both teams completed six of 24 passes, the Rams for 83 yards, the Huskies for 55. Southern had total offense of 400 yards while the Huskies had 216 yards.



ANOTHER TOUCHDOWN — Kevin Liller, quarterback for the Southern Rams, carries the ball over the goal line for another touchdown in last Friday night's encounter with Northern High Huskies which the Rams won 40 to 8, on the latter's gridiron at Accident.

Legion Auxiliary Members Deserve Three Cheers For Pig Roast

Not as picturesque as a complete roast pig with an apple in his mouth, but every bit as delicious, the meat was taken to Miller's Sanitary Market for slicing and arrived back at the Legion in this form, to be kept hot until serving time.

Stovewatchers, once they got over the initial shock of a photographer in their kitchen, kept things from boiling, sticking or generally ruining their flavors.

All the wonder products advertised on T.V. could not make these dishwashing chores as easy as one, two, three, especially since the pots and pans are giant sized.

Just what does it take to feed approximately 280 ravenous men, such as the type found at the annual American Legion pig roast?

Besides the actual groceries, it appears that strong constitutions, strong backs and dedication to the job at hand, however tedious, are necessary.

The 20 or so women of the auxiliary who helped prepare and serve the meal deserve more than an occasional word of praise. Days of preparation, roasting the 20 fresh hams, peeling onions, last but most definitely not least, doing the mountains of dishes, are kitchen chores magnified many times by the task of feeding 280.

Groceries consumed amounted to about 20 packages of celery, six of carrots, 40 dozen rolls, 20 pounds of butter, one peck of onions, 12 gallons of kraut, ten gallons of beans, 20 loaves of bread ends, a couple hundred pounds of potatoes and of course, the 300 or more pounds of meat.

And all the time the women are opening cans, peeling, scraping, stirring, seasoning, serving, and cleaning up, they know that ahead looms the most distasteful chore of all, cleaning all those pots and pans, most of them the size of witches' cauldrons.

For all their time and effort which year after year contributes to the success of the pig roast, it would seem the women need more than to overhear an occasional "Man, am I full" as a thank you.

Clouds of steam kept the kitchen a little too warm for comfort as all the foods were ladled into serving trays prior to being placed in bowls for the tables. None of the women who waited on the tables appeared to have just come from a steam room, however.

Peeling a peck of onions over a period of several hours caused no visible tears for this auxiliary member, drafted for the job since everyone else was occupied with other pre-dinner duties.

Seasoning the baked beans just right took efforts of two or more during the evening. Stirring gallons of food at one time took plenty of muscle effort, too.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Hanst:

You are to be commended for the excellent editorial that appeared in the November 6, 1975, edition of The Republican. Your boldness and courage to face the issue surrounding the UNICEF Campaign in our community needs to be applauded. I for one am grateful to you for speaking out.

Not only was there a good deal of money raised for an excellent cause, but there was also an ecumenical spirit demonstrated through the cooperation of the youth of many of our Churches in Oakland. That spirit of cooperation seems to be growing and deepening and involving more and more people within the community. For that fact alone we need to be grateful and search out more areas of concern which will involve the Churches' participation in a unified effort.

How pathetic it is to witness today those whose religion is a load to be borne, imposing restrictions that make life a burden. Jesus condemned the Pharisees, religious though they were, for their rules and regulations. Jesus came that men might be set free and that men might carry that message of freedom to others. Through efforts such as the UNICEF Campaign, perhaps others will know and experience that freedom in their own lives.

Sincerely,
Manning L. Smith

Letter to the Editor .....

It pains me seriously that your paper has taken a stand in favor of UNICEF especially in light of the known fact that UNICEF is a blood child of the United Nations, which many people know is a communist run organization.

The national speaker at the recent American Legion dinner was very clear in pointing out that the communists in Russia and the communists in China are not our friends.

It is important to note that money which goes to the communists actually is given to the governments and it never reaches the children. It therefore follows that money given to the communists in essence supports the efforts of the communists to oppress and dominate more countries of the world.

If it sounds as if I am against communism that is correct. I am in the same position as the 300 veterans who clapped the other night when the speaker stated that we were not friends of communist China and communist Russia. He pointed out that our national security was at stake and therefore our freedom as Americans is also at stake.

Sincerely,
Thomas E. Doyle

Editor's Note:

Being in favor of feeding hungry children, doesn't indicate in any way that I favor communism. Note today's editorial comment. Can you prove that the money never reaches the children? I believe that it does. Only part of Mr. Doyle's letter to the editor is reprinted, as he overran our limitation of 200 words or less for most letters to the editor, and what was deleted concerned last Friday speaker at the pig roast, which we agreed with wholeheartedly.

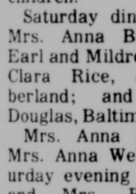
SPORTS Go-Round



by Larrie Weaver

Devised by a clergyman, basketball, according to authorities is the only major competitive sport which began on American soil. All other so-called new games were adaptations of established sports. Basketball presented something completely original — it was deliberately created as an American game. It was first played at the Young Men's Christian Association in Springfield, Massachusetts, in early December of 1891.

State Police List Criminal Complaints

Larceny, assault and battery, and destruction of property were among criminal complaints listed in the records of the Maryland State Police at Oakland last week.

Several windows of the summer cottage of Donald L. Holmes, Silver Spring, were broken, sometime between October 12 and 25. The property is located on Md. 495 near Grantsville. The three windows were valued at $40. Also damaged was a 1964 Ford parked in front of the cottage to the extent of $100. Tpr. J. E. Foley investigated.

An unknown white male suspect with long dark sideburns, about 5'-11" tall struck Lewis C. Sparks of Vienna, Va., with his fist several times in the face, for no apparent reason. The assault and battery occurred in the lobby of the National Hotel, Grantsville, October 25. Sparks escaped and fled to his room until morning. Sparks said he never saw the suspect before. Tpr. Foley investigated this one also.

A shotgun was removed from an unlocked pick-up of Charles B. Garlitz, Salisbury, Pa. parked on Old Frostburg road October 25. While Garlitz was in the woods he saw a car pull up to his truck a short time, then leave. When he returned to his pick-up he discovered the gun gone. From the woods, Garlitz could not indentify the car. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile investigated.

A CB radio valued at $135 was removed from the car of Richard L. Sharpless, Rt. 560, Loch Lynn, parked on a Tavern parking lot on Long Stretch, U.S. 40, about midnight October 25. A witness said he noted three white males break the antenna from the car and were also inside it. They left in an orange or red van but no other information was obtained. Tfc. G. A. Berkbile investigated.

One or more persons attempted to remove a radiator from a front end loader parked at a sand pile of the SHA on old 219 about a half mile south of Oakland sometime between the evening of October 17 and the morning of the 23rd. The radiator hose was cut and antifreeze was lost with a total loss of $20. No clews were found. The loader was parked at a location where it could not be seen. Tfc. Ronald Friend investigated.

The storage shed near the summer cottage of Robert J. Kidenow, Frostburg, was broken into and entered between the afternoon of October 15 and 18. Stolen were a circuit breaker, $80; three rolls of copper wire, $80, and a double burner portable electric stove, $25. A hasp was pried off the door, according to the report of Tfc. Berkebile. There were no clues.

A transformer of the Potomac Edison Co. on old Rt. 135 in Bloomington was shot out the morning of October 22. Rifle shots destroyed the object. Three boys were noted standing near the transformer while it was being repaired, then disappeared. A neighbor said men and boys are often seen in the area with firearms. She said her electricity went off at the time the transformer was shot. Tfc. D. E. Tharp investigated.

Travelers checks in amt. of $500 were stolen from the top file drawer of the junk yard office of Bruce P. Gipe, Swanton, located on Md. 495 about .3 miles east of Md. 135, sometime the afternoon of October 29. Gipe had left the office to go to Oakland for parts and when he returned found the checks gone. Other employees were out of the office at the time assisting customers get parts from junked cars. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant investigated. The checks could not be located.

Ten bags of cement valued at $30 and 40 cement blocks valued at $13.50 were taken from a house construction site on Otto lane near New Germany road sometime between October 28 and 30. The property belongs to Guy Eugene Platter of Springs, Pa. The unoccupied property was entered from Otto lane, a dirt road, and some type of truck was used to remove the items. The nearest neighbor is a half mile away. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated.

Urged To Be Wary of Phone Solicitors

In recent weeks merchants and businesses of the area have been receiving a number of telephone calls from high pressure out-of-town solicitors offering goods, services and advertising space.

While telephone soliciting is perfectly legal, and while those firms investigated are apparently legitimate, the reader would be well advised to thoroughly question all telephone salesmen who are not known to him or her personally.

If in doubt about any aspect of such a call, notify the law enforcement authorities at once, citizens are advised.

Is Outstanding Vo-Ag Teacher

At the recent state vocational Agriculture Teachers meeting in Baltimore, Haroid G. Loughrie, Vocational Agriculture teacher at Northern High School was selected as the "Outstanding Vo-Ag Teacher of 1975". Mr. Loughrie was presented with a plaque sponsored by the Maryland Council of Farmer Cooperatives, Inc.

Mr. Loughrie was selected for this award by a group of fellow teachers, superintendents, and teacher educators. The award was based on the fact that Mr. Loughrie is the only teacher who sponsors two FFA Chapters in a single teacher department. During his nine years at Northern, student projects have shown continual growth by opportunities provided on the school farm in an expanded crop and livestock program.

Accepting the award Mr. Loughrie said he wished to express his personal appreciation to the administration and faculty, "a group of the finest students in Maryland, parents, adults, and businesses, who have improved the FFA and Vo-Ag program by their cooperation, assistance and support."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a qiana A-line gown with long sleeves and trimmed with lace. The lace covered bodice featured a V-neckline and the skirt fell into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a Juliet style cap covered with lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white spider mums.

Maid of honor was Nancy Lee Frazee, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Kathy Harshberger, Friendsville, and Becky Jones of Winchester, Virginia. Karen Dromey, sorority sister of the bride played the nuptial music and accompanied Pam Workman as she sang "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Randy Myers served as best man. Ushers were Eddie and Terry Anderson, brothers of the bridegroom.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Northern High School and a 1975 graduate of the Shennandoah School of Nursing, Winchester, Virginia. Mrs. Anderson is employed as a registered nurse at the Winchester Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Hauger was driving south. A tractor trailer operated by Eugene Pritts, Oakland, collided when he decided not to pass a slow moving vehicle and applied his brakes, skidding out of control, according to police. Members of the Southern Rescue Squad answered the call and the Oakland firemen were called to wash gasoline from the roadway.

Mahoney-Graham Vows Said Nov. 1

Wedding vows were exchanged by Chris Ann Graham and Jerry David Mahoney, on Saturday, November 1. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Lawrence Sherwood, pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist church, Oakland.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a full length gown of poly-satapeau and Chantilly lace, high neckline, full Bishop sleeves, with a chapel train of lace. Her bridal illusion veil was attached to a framer edged with crochet lace motifs. She carried a cascade of white and yellow roses with wheat.

Maid of honor was Debra Brady, Kitzmiller. She wore a full length hooded dress of dark green Qiana, trimmed with ostrich feather. Dannette Angle, Oakland, was bridemaid. She wore a matching dress and they both carried cascades of rust and yellow daisies with wheat.

Bruce Clinton, of Kearneysville, W. Va., was best man. Ushers were Charles Graham, brother of the bride, and Mark Angle, of Oakland. Cyndy and Cathy Graham, sisters of the bride, were in charge of the guest book at the church.

Nightingale of the playroom

Less than a century and a quarter have passed since that terrible winter when Florence Nightingale ministered to suffering British soldiers. Until then there had been no place for women nurses in military hospitals, and not many women nurses anywhere.

Ever notice how often it is the occupations or professions of SERVICE TO OTHERS that excite the imagination of our children? We should learn something from that!

Boys and girls see themselves as amateur adults. Through their imagination they often show us the world they would like to live in.

Their hopes can become a reality if we support our churches with our faith and our families. After all, it was the Founder of Chrisitianity who insisted that He came not to be ministered unto, but to minister.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

NO GUARANTEE

Lesson for November 16, 1975

Background Scripture: Genesis 37
Devotional Reading: Matthew 20:20-28

Being a "favorite son" isn't always all it's cracked up to be!

Take Joseph for example.

He was born into a devout home and his mother was his father's favorite wife. He was undeniably his father's favorite son and he occupied a position of conspicuous favor in the household. Not only Joseph knew he was favored, everyone else did too. Even his dreams taught him to expect a favored role in life.

Rev. Althouse

Yet, for a "favorite son," he got off to a bad beginning: almost murdered by his brothers, he is left to die in the wilderness instead.

"Handsome and good-looking"

Then, when all seemed lost, Joseph was saved from a sure death by a caravan that carried him off into Egypt and slavery.

Joseph also had something else going for him: "Now Joseph was handsome and good-looking" (Genesis 39:6b). This time, not only Joseph thought so, but so did his master's wife. With great persistence she tried to seduce the young handsome Hebrew man.

Today, many people would say, "Why not?"

But Joseph manfully attempted to do what he believed to be the right thing. And he was motivated by two reasons.

First of all, his master had been very good to Joseph, giving him and sharing with him almost everything he had. Secondly, Joseph knew that his master placed great trust in him: "Lo, having me my master has no concern about anything in the house, and he has put everything that he has in my hand..." (39:8). Because of his master's trust and generosity, Joseph felt a responsibility that would not permit him to succumb to the wife's temptations.

Lastly, Joseph believed that to give in to his temptations would be, not just a sin against his master, but also against God himself. "How then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?" (39:9).

But the Lord was with him

Hooray for Joseph! He did the right thing!

Nevertheless the consequences of his choice must have seemed disappointing, for instead of earning the admiration of his master's wife, Joseph became the target of her vindictiveness. Was it Shakespeare who said, "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned"? The scorned woman was determined to avenge herself.

Furthermore, instead of his master rewarding Joseph's fidelity, he instead accepted the fictitious story of his wife and had Joseph thrown into prison. His fidelity brought only more misery to him.

That seems unfair doesn't it? Since Joseph resisted the temptation and did what God wanted him to do, wouldn't it seem that God should have spared him of these consequences? Yet, God never promises us that doing the "right thing" will guarantee us fair treatment. There is never any assurance that obeying God will keep us out of trouble or make people admire us. In fact, as Jesus also demonstrated in his life, doing God's will, if anything, is sometimes a guarantee that there will be a cross for us.

The writer of Genesis tells us: "But the Lord was with Joseph and showed him steadfast love..." (39:19). That is the only guarantee he gives us!

Surface Mining Permits Discussed

Surface mining permits pending in the Cherry Creek area were discussed by members of the Deep Creek Lake Board of Zoning Appeals with the County Commissioners at their regular meeting on Monday.

Aza Stanton, board chairman, informed Commissioners Wayne Hamilton, Don Bender and George Edwards that the board was concerned about the effect of many surface mines being opened simultaneously in the water shed and their effect on Deep Creek Lake.

Commissioner Hamilton recommended that the Appeals Board members meet with the Maryland Land Reclamations Committee, Secretary of Natural Resources and other concerned individuals to discuss a means of addressing these concerns.

Wednesday the commissioners met with the tri-county council to discuss amendments to the by-laws and on-going ARC funding projects. Today they are attending the official opening of the national freeway from Keyser Ridge to Morgantown.

An Event Of Cultural Importance

On Monday nights this Fall, the Ruth Enlow Library is showing an extraordinary series of film lectures called "The Ascent of Man." The series deals with the nature of scientific and technical discoveries which elevated man from the stone age to civilization. The overall concept and the narration is by Prof. Bronowski, the renowned mathematician and physicist. The technical support is by "British Broadcasting Corporation."

What makes this series of film lectures extraordinary is that while Bronowski is talking about metal-working you are shown early Chinese Bronzes, the ancient Japanese ritual by which Samurai swords are made, gold ornaments from Peru — all authentic. Architecture takes you to lost Inca cities, Greek temples, Roman aquaducts, Gothic cathedrals. In the lecture on mathematics you visit Greek Islands, the Mosques of Isfahan, the Alhambra. You are shown perspective through the eyes of Durer. Astronomy takes you to 16th Century Venice where you hear the town as well as see it. Galileo's trial takes you to the very chamber where the Inquisition took place. The discoveries of Kepler, Newton and Einstein are explained in terms of their cultural impact. The industrial Revolution is made real not only by visits to early factories, but by insights into the effect it had on the life of the factory workers. The atomic scientists are introduced as individuals, Prof. Bronowski knew most of them personally.

In short, this series is more than scientific and technical lectures, it is a mind-expanding experience culturally. The color photography by the BBC staff is superb, the sound equally so. When you enter a medieval church you hear medieval music. When a scientist is discussed you see and remember him as a personality.

What is sad is that when this series came to Oakland it did not receive the publicity it deserves. As a result attendance has been light, very light. Now almost half of the series is over, but since each lecture is a complete entity in itself it is not too late to enjoy the remainder of the remarkable series, every Monday night at 7:30 p.m., at the Ruth Enlow Library.

Try Our Want Ads They Pay

To the residents of Friendsville:

Very soon your drinking water will be switched from the mountain spring of Brown's Mountain or Gravel Hill to the Yough River.

Before the switch, you should know something about the pollutants of the Yough. First, the run-off from the four (4) bridges above the Water plant will carry Calcium Chloride, oil, grease and anti-freeze into your water.

Next source of pollution is Deep Creek Lake with its high count of P.C.B. and the many chemicals from the used steel drums used as dock floats.

Last, but not least, is the raw sewage from the towns of Oakland, Crellin, Mt. Lake Park, and Loch Lynn.

Think of that when you drink your first glass of Yough River water.

When you know how to use the new long distance rates, talk is cheap.

There are some things that take only a minute to say. Happy birthday. Hello. I miss you.

And now when you take just a minute, you also save.

Because now with the new *interstate rates, if you dial direct, you're charged for just the minute or two you actually use. Instead of the first three, like before.

What it means to you is this:

During the day you can call all the way to Los Angeles, talk for a minute, and pay just 56¢.

Talk for two minutes, and it's just 96¢.

Or save even more by calling at night or most of the weekend.

Then one minute is only 22¢. Each additional minute, only 16¢.

When everything else seems to be costing you more, you can still save.

Just keep this coupon handy, take a minute, and dial direct.

Dial-direct rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit card or collect calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an operator must assist on such calls. PTA Council To Meet Nov. 19

The county's PTA council will meet at Southern High school cafeteria on Wednesday evening, November 19, at 7:30.

Topics will include a discussion of the family life and human development curriculum which is being planned for children in county schools: adoption of a recommendation to the Milnor Task Force regarding the Rosenberg commission report; and a report of the county delegates to the Maryland State PTA convention in Baltimore November 6 and 7.

Voting delegates to the PTA council includes the principal of each local school, PTA president and two delegates from each local PTA.

All PTA members of all schools were being invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Students Travel To Kansas City

Fourteen members of the Northern FFA, seven from the North Garrett chapter, and seven from the Junior North chapter, will attend the National Future Farmer convention in Kansas City this week, due to the effort and cooperation of Maryland State Trooper Carl Skidmore and Harry Orner, of Orner and Sons Coal Company, Inc., of Grantsville.

The group will travel in a motor home furnished by the Orner company. Trooper Skidmore obtained the use of this vehicle when a local dealer failed to complete a lease to the North Garrett FFA chapters.

The group left Saturday, November 8, traveling southwest through the Blue Ridge mountains, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Oklahoma, arriving in Kansas City on November 10.

Highlights of the convention will be the opening of the American Royal Livestock show, selection of Star Farmer of America, awarding of the National Farmer degree and participation of the Mail Order band. Students are scheduled to return November 15.

The students' trip was partially financed from the sale of mulch hay grown on the property of a number of county residents. Harold Loughrie, FFA chapters advisor drove the vehicle and served as chaperon for the group.

One Is Held On Larceny, Embezzlement

One person remains lodged in the Garrett County jail under $5,000 on 12 counts each of larceny and embezzlement, according to records in District Court. Another is being held for the unauthorized use of an automobile. Cases were heard by Judge Lewis R. Jones or one of the judges from Cumberland, Judge Miller Bowen or Judge Milton Gerson.

Steven Clinton Bowen, Star Route, Oakland, is being held on $5000 bond on 12 counts of larceny after trust and 12 charges of embezzlement of monies while working at Paul's Pennzoil, Oakland. Amounts varying from $5.97 to $63.69 were taken on 12 different days in September. The total amounted to nearly $400. Bond had been originally set at $12,000 but was reduced to the $5,000 mark by Judge Miller Bowen at a hearing last Thursday. Some information is a correction of that noted in The Republican last week. No trial date is set.

John Richard Ziengenhein, Baltimore, was still lodged in the Garrett County Jail on $250 bond Monday on the charge of unauthorized use of an automobile. He was picked up at Accident Saturday. The Corvette car was apparently stolen in Anne Arundel county. No trail date has been set.

Kenneth Stalnaker, Kitzmiller, has been charged with larceny of a 1963 Chevrolet of Michael Perez valued at $600. Stalnaker took the keys and drove the car to Baltimore October 4. This case has been transferred to Circuit Court.

Jake Powles, Mt. Lake Park, had been charged with violation of a zoning ordinance and failing to obey an order of the Zoning Administration. Both counts were dismissed at a trial Monday as the violations had been rectified.

Jim Brady, Ellerslie, had been charged with false pretense by receiving payments for roof repair for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coffey in June and July. At a trial Monday the case was stetted as a confessed judgment was signed.

Two not guilty pleas were sustained.

Roger Ashby, Hutton, had been charged with larceny of a clock, lamps and canned goods of Harry J. Durst near Oakland October 23.

Joshiah J. Johnson, RD 1, Grantsville, had been charged with non-support of his wife Mary Viola Johnson at Grantsville. Johnson also pleaded guilty of assault and battery on Mary Johnson October 28. He was given a 10-day jail sentence and paid costs on this count.

Four Injured In Car Crash

Four teenagers were admitted to Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland early Sunday after a two-car collision on Negro Mountain in this county, according to state police.

Ronald Bittinger, 18, Grantsville, the most seriously injured, was reported in "guarded" condition Sunday night with a head injury.

Listed in "fair" condition were Linda Compton, 18, route 3, Meyersdale; Dwayne Wilt, 15, Grantsville; and Michael Stanton, 17, also Grantsville. Miss Compton sustained a neck injury, young Wilt a hand and head injury, and Stanton an arm injury.

State police at LaVale said the accident occurred about 12:40 a. m. on the west slope of Negro mountain, U.S. route 40, about two miles east of Keyser Ridge.

Charles Thomas Stanton, 23, Baltimore, was driving west on route 40 at the time with Miss Compton and Michael Stanton as passengers in his car.

Young Wilt, too young to be a licensed driver, was driving another car west with Bittinger as a passenger. He attempted to pass the Stanton car. As he started to swing back into the west-bound lane young Wilt struck the left front of the Stanton car, police said.

Both cars ran out of control, struck a guardrail and then rolled over on their tops. Charles Thomas Stanton did not require hospitalization. The accident was investigated by Tfc. Carl Skidmore and Tfc. E. J. Upole.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father, Ray Nicklow, who passed away 14 years ago, November 14, 1961.
Away in the land of the sunrise,
Separated by Heaven's golden door,
Our loved one is patiently waiting,
Not dead, but just gone on before.
We think of him in silence,
His name we often recall.
There is nothing left to answer,
But his picture on the wall.
God called him from among us,
To a home of eternal rest.
Sadly missed by his Sons and Daughters

Insurance FACTS

The owner of property knows the limit of direct loss. This limit is the value of the property. Thus, a building that costs about $20,000 will result in a loss to the owner of $20,000. An automobile that costs $3,000, will, if stolen and never recovered, represent a loss of no more than $3,000, plus expenses incurred in attempting to recover the loss. The problem with liability, however, is that the limit is not marked by the value of the property, and may not be fixed at all with any reasonable certainty. That is why liability claims may far exceed the capital invested in an enterprise.

Bloomington To Begin Observance of Bicentennial

The Bloomington Bicentennial community will begin its celebration of the nations' 200th anniversary on Sunday, November 16, at 2 p.m., in the school auditorium, it was announced by Mrs. Lola P. Guy, chairman.

Bloomington was designated an official American Revolution Bicentennial community on July 23 of this year. Dr. Raymond O. McCullough, Friendsville, vice chairman of the Maryland Bicentennial Commission, will present the official bicentennial flags and a framed certificate. The American flag will be presented by Frank Price of the Kelly Mansfield post, American Legion, Westernport. Delegate DeCorsey Bolden will present the Maryland flag. The Garrett County Commissioners have been invited to participate.

The program will include music and a brief history of the town. Following the ceremony at the school there will be a flag raising on the grounds of the Garrett National Bank nearby. Refreshments will be served. All are invited.

Byron Cites Welfare Reform

Citing the need to control "runaway welfare costs", Rep Goodloe Byron said last Thursday, Congress must begin to consider major welfare reform proposals.

Byron wants hearings on legislation aimed at "curbing the spiraling growth of governmental transfer payments in public assistance programs" and he plans to discuss the matter with his Democratic Research Organization colleagues.

"Each welfare program should be critically analyzed and then corrected to close loopholes, correct excessively liberal eligibility standards, tighten work requirements and reduce fraud," he said.

Byron noted a 3-year study of the Subcommittee on Fiscal Policy of the Joint Economic Committee indicating there are now 35 million people on welfare receiving $40 billion a year from over fifty separate programs.

Byron favors continued aid for those who have no potential for work and self-support — such as the aged, blind and totally disabled — but he also supports legislation to get ineligible persons off the welfare rolls.

Cooking Pork Properly

Cooking pork? Cook it thoroughly. Pork is a nutritious and tasty meat that can add variety to meals, but you must handle it properly to make sure it is safe to eat.

Remember that any product containing pork should be cooked to at least 170°F. This includes combinations beef and pork meatloaf many sausages, partially cooked hams and bacon, as well as fresh cuts such as chops and roasts.

The best way to check for doneness is to use a thermometer, especially when cooking thick pork cuts over 1 inch. Insert the thermometer into the center of the thickest part of the meat and make sure it doesn't touch either bone or fat so that you get a true temperature reading for the meat itself. If a meat thermometer is not available, cut deeply next to the bone before serving, to make sure the color has changed from pink to white.

You need not overcook your meat to make it safe. Use low to moderate temperatures for thick cuts so they can be thoroughly cooked in the center but not dry on the surface. Thin cuts can be cooked at a higher temperature, even broiling.

Planning pork for a barbecue? Thin cuts of pork can be cooked effectively on a barbecue grill providing the coals are not too hot. Excessive heat will burn the surface before the inside is thoroughly cooked. If the pork cuts are medium thickness, approximately 1 inch, it might be necessary to move the coals to the side for indirect heat. Thicker cuts of pork can be used if it is possible to cover the barbecue for a "roasting" effect. This will give a delicious barbecue flavor and the heat will have a chance to penetrate thoroughly. With a thermometer, test the center of the meat for doneness (at least 170°F.) before serving.

Thorough cooking of pork is necessary to eliminate the possibility of contracting trichinosis caused by tiny parasites called trichinae in raw pork. Though the reported cases of trichinosis in the United States are few, the disease still exists. Cases can result from improperly cured homemade sausage, beef which has been in contact with pork and eaten rare, and uncooked cuts of fresh pork.

People can get trichinosis when they eat undercooked pork that contains the trichinae but it cannot be transferred from person to person. Although there are guards against the disease and not many hogs have trichinae, it is very important that the consumer protect himself from infection by cooking pork thoroughly.

Beef does not contain trichinae but if pork and beef are packaged together as in "meatloaf combination," the beef must be cooked thoroughly just like pork. Beef which has been in contact with pork should never be used for steak tartare. (The U.S. Department of Agriculture does not recommend eating any meat raw.)

After handling raw pork wash your hands, utensils, and cutting board thoroughly before using them again for other foods or for cutting and serving the cooked pork. It is always important to prevent cross-contamination of any raw and cooked meats.

Institutions and Liberty . . .

If a person early in life was ever asked what the longest word in the English language was, the answer was and is "antidisestablishmentarianism!" The answer seemed a useless bit of information at the time with "So What?" But it may be a good time to revive the word.

This was recalled to mind recently in an interview with, of all people, Eldridge Cleaver, published recently in a magazine and reprinted in some newspapers.

This radical author and Black Panther leader, now wants to return to this country after being in enforced exile for some time.

According to the Industrial Press he has visited Russia, Cuba, Algeria, China, North Vietnam and North Korea, and learned that the personal freedom which he values most highly is available in the United States but not in these other countries.

He now wants to strengthen the most establishmentarian segment of the U. S.—the military. Apparently he can see the need for defense against people who want to destroy the United States.

So Mr. Cleaver apparently no longer is a disestablishmentarian, one who opposes an established order. While Mr. Cleaver did not give his new views on all of the establishments—the schools, factories, stores, churches, families, governmental units, press, political parties and other stabilizing factors in our society—perhaps it is time for all of us to spend less time knocking the American system and more time making it work better. It's time to become active antidisestablishmentarians!

576 Voters Removed From Election Books

The names of 576 registered voters who have failed to vote in a primary, general or special election within the five calendar years, 1970-1975, have been removed from the voter registration books by the Board of Supervisors of Elections for Garrett County, it was revealed this week. Notices were mailed to these persons on November 3.

A breakdown of the figures showed that 284 Democrats were removed, 286 Republicans removed, and 6 removed who declined to affiliate with a political party.

A list of names of the Democrats removed was sent to the Democratic State Central Committee, and to the president of the county Democrat Club. A list of Republicans removed was sent to the Republican State Central Committee, to the presidents of the National Federation of Republican Women of Northern and Southern Garrett County, and to the president of the Republican Club of the county. These political groups are planning to make an effort to contact the voters removed and encourage them to re-register. A voter whose registration has been cancelled is not eligible to vote except by registering again, election clerks pointed out.

Persons whose names were removed who desire to vote in forthcoming elections may re-register at the office of the Board of Supervisors, 12 South Third Street, Oakland. The office is open from 8:30 to 4:30, Monday through Friday.

The board said it was making an effort to obtain addresses of voters whose cancellations were returned marked "moved, not forwardable."

The Official voter total will not be announced until a complete count is made. The last official registration was on October 7, 1974 at which time there were 10,097 registered, with 4023 Democrats, 5860 Republicans, 197 declined, and 17, American party. Since that time at registration in schools, 190 Republicans, 87 Democrats, and 24 Independents were added.

Lana McLaughlin Is This Year's Young Careerist

Lana Kay McLaughlin, special education teacher at Bloomington School, was chosen as this year's Young Careerist at the meeting last Thursday evening of the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's club.

Miss McLaughlin will represent this county at the state convention and Young Careerist competition held in Ocean City next May.

Runner-up was Mrs. Kathy Hinebaugh, a nurse in the emergency room at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Other young business women in competition were Mrs. Brenda L. Harvey, secretary at the Garrett County Roads department; and Miss Pam Wakefield, employed as a secretary in the loan department at the Garrett National Bank.

The young women each gave brief talks before the group, following a dinner served in the Sitzmark Room at Will o' the Wisp. Serving as judges were Mrs. Joan Crawford, Mrs. Elizabeth Randol, and Rev. Martin Feild. Miss McLaughlin chose as her topic "Sincerity" and told the group how important she has found that trait to be in her work with special children. Prior to accepting a post at Bloomington, she worked two years with the trainable children at Green Street School in Oakland. She graduated from West Virginia University with a Bachelor's degree in 1973.

Mrs. Helen Harman was chairperson of the Young Careerist committee, assisted by Miss Mildred Wucik and Mrs. Bonnie Cowen.

Hospital Board Feels Union Is Not Needed

Following a report last week that some hospital employes were seeking union recognition and had requested the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes to represent them at the bargaining table, the administrator of Garrett County Memorial hospital, Merritt H. Feather, and Irvin Feld, chairman of the board of governors, sent a letter to all employes and families. There are some 170 employes at the hospital at present.

The complete letter follows below:

"This year we celebrated our 25th Anniversary in our community. Much progress has been made over these 25 years. This progress has been made because we have developed a good team at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

"Now, as you have read in the newspaper and heard in the community a union man has said that he represents a majority of our employees. We do not believe this claim! We want each of you to know the hospital's position toward the union:

"We do not want a union and we do not need a union at our hospital.

"It is our firm intention to oppose this union, and to prevent it from coming in here, by every proper and legal means.

"This union matter is of grave concern to our hospital. It should also be a matter of serious concern to you and your family, because it is our deepest belief that if the union were to get in our hospital, it would not work to the community's benefit, the hospital's benefit, or to your benefit.

"We want to make it very clear that it is not now necessary and it won't be necessary for any employee to belong to the union in order to work in our hospital.

"If any employee shows interest in or joins a union, he is not going to get any advantages or any preferred treatment of any type over those employees who do not join or belong to the union.

"If the union causes any employee any trouble by intimidating or coercing the employee in his rights to refrain from belonging to the union (such as telling him he will lose his job if he doesn't join) we will take all legal actions to stop this unfair labor practice on the part of the union immediately.

"We have always respected the rights, privileges and the individual dignity of all our employees. We shall continue to do so regardless of the future activities of this union or any other union.

"We are proud of our employees and the service all of us are rendering to our community. The only way we can continue to grow and render good service is to work together!"

SHA Will Use Less Chemicals To Clear Roads

As part of a state-wide economy move, Garrett County roads will not be "salted down" with chemicals this winter, according to William Goldsborough, resident engineer for the State Highway Administration.

The state plans to use more abrasives and less chemicals on the roads this winter, except during ice and freezing rain storms. Roads will be kept open and as safe as possible without the extensive use of chemicals.

Maryland's delegates to the Route 48 freeway opening and dedication last Thursday morning included Lt. Gov. Blair Lee III, left; Harry R. Hughes, secretary of the Maryland Department of Transportation; and Bernard M. Evans, State Highway Administrator. All three addressed the crowd of over 500 persons before the ribbon-cutting took place at the Maryland-West Virginia state line.

Deer Season To Begin On November 29

A good number of deer are roaming the forests and fields of Garrett County again this year which are expected to attract a large number of hunters. The firearms deer season will begin Saturday, November 29, and conclude the following Saturday, December 6, excluding Sunday, November 30.

Successful hunters are limited to one male deer each, which must be reported to one of the county checking stations within 24 hours. Checking stations again this year are Paul's Mt. Top Tire, Oakland, Johnny's Bait House, Deep Creek Lake; Walt's General Store, McHenry, Hetz's Gas station, Grantsville; and Savage River Inn, Bloomington.

Each deer is expected to be field tagged before being taken in for checking.

The bow and arrow season continues from September 15 to November 28, and then resumes December 8 and will continue until January 1. There is no antlerless deer season in Garrett County.

Only bucks with two or more points to one antler, or one antler three inches or more are lawful for taking.

Governor Arch A. Moore, Jr., of West Virginia, was impartial during the freeway opening ceremonies last Thursday, singing along with both the West Virginia and Maryland state songs. His remarks addressed to the crowd centered around the importance of West Virginia's highway growth to the economic potential of the state.

Discretion Urged In Xmas Lighting

Area residents are being urged to use discretion in planning their Christmas holiday decorations.

The Potomac Edison Company has issued its annual appeal to individuals, businesses and municipalities to eliminate or at least reduce decorative lighting for the coming holidays.

Conservation of energy and the cost of energy are two reasons cited by PE for continuing its practice of the past several years to urge such restraint.

Potomac Edison has prepared a special pamphlet for customers offering tips on holiday decorations that do not require lighting and suggestions on how to reduce lighting requirements. It was pointed out that these steps apply not only to homes, but to business and community decorations.

Jury Finds Man Guilty Intent To Murder, Robbery

An Ohio man was found guilty of assault with intent to murder and robbery by a jury at a trial Monday in Circuit Court, Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., presiding.

Warren Thomas Curry, North College Hill, Ohio, pleaded not guilty on four counts: Assault with intent to murder; attempted murder; assault with intent to rob, and robbery. He pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity which Judge Hamill denied. The fourth plea was changed to robbery and Curry also pleaded not guilty to this. The court ruled that the second count be merged with the first and the third merged with the fourth. The jury then found Curry guilty of assault with intent to murder and robbery. Judge Hamill ordered a pre-

Over 500 Attend Freeway Opening Last Thursday

A surprisingly large number of people, at least 500, turned out despite blustery winter weather last Thursday morning for the dedication and opening ceremonies of Route 48 National freeway between Keyser Ridge and Morgantown, W. Va.

The freeway is now open from Keyser Ridge to the West Virginia line, a distance of 14.8 miles in Maryland, and 22.5 miles in West Virginia to the Uffington Interchange of Interstate 79 near Morgantown. A stretch of approximately 15 miles in Garrett County between Finzel interchange to Keyser Ridge, and 4.8 miles in West Virginia in the Cheat River bridge area at Morgantown, remain to be completed.

Making brief remarks were Bernard M. Evans, State Highway administrator and Harry R. Hughes, secretary of the Maryland Department of Transportation, who noted that "it is not often we get to celebrate the completion of a project" and drew laughter from the crowd when he remarked on the half asphalt, (Maryland), half concrete (West Virginia) division of the freeway at the state line.

William S. Ritchie, Jr., commissioner of highways, West Virginia, remarked that "To tie two states together such as this gives a great feeling of pleasure and accomplishment," then introduced Gov. Arch A. Moore, Jr., who had arrived by helicopter from Morgantown airport.

Gov. Moore called the freeway "a point of meeting" and said that for West Virginia to truly share opportunities to develop the state, the highest priority must be the highway system. He feels his state must continue to seek to improve highways and to build new roads at an accelerated rate. He took the opportunity to urge maximum consideration and cooperation from his state's legislative branch to continue vital road construction.

Secretary Hughes then introduced Lt. Governor Blair Lee III, Maryland, who noted that there are more freeway links to come on the National Expressway, including the opening from Finzel to Keyser Ridge scheduled next summer.

He noted whimsically at the end of his talk that the state highway department was going to have to "jazz up" its sedate state sign, to match West Virginia's "Welcome to Wild, Wonderful West Virginia" line marker.

Invocation was given by Rev. William Carlson, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Accident. Rev. Brian Schofield, pastor of Friendsville United Methodist Church, gave the benediction immediatley before the ribbon cutting.

Musical selections were played by the Northern High School band, "The Star Spangled Banner," the Bruceton Mills High School band, "West Virginia Hills," and the Southern High School band, "Maryland, My Maryland." Gov. Moore added a light touch to the entertainment, singing along with both state anthems.

sentence investigation and that Curry be held pending the investigation.

Curry had been charged with attempted murder and robbery with a deadly weapon on James Nelson Layman in a cemetery along U.S. 40 about 6 miles west of Frostburg in Garrett County on May 27. Bail was originally set at $50,000. On June 6 the case was transferred from District Court to Circuit Court. July 16, the two charges in District Court were changed to the four counts in Circuit Court.

July 29 the plea of not guilty on all four counts was made by Curry on the plea of insanity at the time of the alleged commission of the crimes. The court ordered an examination as to Curry's competency to stand trial and an examination disclosed that he was able to stand trial. John R. Toston was appointed by the court to defend Curry.

Over 500 Attend

Other special guests were Bob Peterson, executive director of the Western Maryland Chamber of Commerce; Joseph Laird, Maryland Asphalt Association; William Hardy, Maryland Highway Contractor Association; John Thomas, Western Maryland Labor council; W. Ardell Haines, President of Allegany Community College; Capt. S. M. Conrad, Maryland State Police and Earl Robertson, president emeritus of the contractors' association, which sponsored a luncheon following the ceremonies.

Also present were representatives of the various contractors and subcontractors who were responsible for road and construction and supplies.

The one gray note during the ceremonies came when Lt. Governor Lee mentioned the freeway section between Cumberland and Hancock, currently under fire by environmentalists and property owners, who threaten a court suit. Lt. Gov. Lee remarked that the state was not worrying too much about the lawsuits, since "we've run out of money anyway." He added that the state hopes both problems will be corrected by the time the highway is scheduled to be constructed.

Secretary of Transportation Hughes announced last month a suspension on bid advertisements on all major capital transportation projects "until such time as the department's financial issues are resolved" referring to the $350 million gap between the state's five-year capital improvement programs and projected revenues.

Mr. Hughes has said that more revenues will have to be generated by the state to continue its road building projects at the desired level, and the threat of a possible tax increase is certain to be a major issue before the General Assemblyhqhen the legislature convenes in January.

It has been estimated that completion of the Cumberland-to-Hancock portion may not be until 1983.

while the judges made their decision was provided by Gilbert Bernassoli, instructor at Northern High School, and his strings class.

President Mrs. Jean Deems greeted the group and Legan introductions of various guests. Many members had invited their bosses, part of the "Bosses' Night" program. Mrs. Phyllis Trickett presented various facts about the B.P.W. organization, pointing out that this is the largest organized group of employed women in the world. The local club was chartered in 1935 with 25 members and has 28 active members today.

A presentation on "the old days" in nursing was given by Mrs. Anne Conner; on teaching by Miss Wucik, and secretarial work by Mrs. Mary Hipp. An introduction to the program was given by Mrs. Harman.

Guests included Mrs. Sally Wilson, supervisor of special education in this county; Paul DeWitt, head of the Garrett County Roads department; Harold J. Kahl, Garrett National Bank; Kenneth Bittinger, principal of Northern High School, and his wife; Al Meyer, manager of the local C & P office; Mrs. Lena DeWitt, Mrs. John Kurilla, Miss Joyce Pendergast, Mrs. Bev Trautwein, Mrs. Paul Frantz, Greg Hinebaugh, and Mrs. Martha Lewis.

W., Mrs. Trickett pointed out that the local group had been involved in many projects over the years, including landscaping the hospital grounds, sponsoring United Nations visits for children, sponsoring girls to Girls' State participating in a clothing project for the needy some years ago, assisting the Heart Association, and currently, sponsoring a Candystriper program at the local hospital.

576 Voters

Estimated figures show some 3826 Democrats, 5764 Republicans, and a total of 9822. The figures are entirely unofficial, since death and changes of address were not counted.

Those taken from the polls totaled anywhere from 57 in east Oakland, to one at Elbow, No. 11. Fifty-one were removed at Friendsville, 44 at Grantsville, 47 at Deer Park, 38 at Kitzmiller, 54 in precinct 3 of west Oakland, and 40 at Mt. Lake Park.

SHA Will Use

Although unseasonably warm weather has bathed the county in sunshine this fall, the first warning of winter has already descended and melted.

The state is prepared for future storms with 17 trucks with plows ready for operation, and has three larger diesel trucks for use. The state is planning to replace all the regular trucks with larger diesel-powered trucks through the winter.

The SHA has two large trucks with V-plows and wing plows, and is expecting to receive a new Oshkosh truck to replace one of these older models.

For the heavy snows, there are three graders with wing and V-plows, one large snowblower and two smaller snowblowers on front end loaders.

Should a storm become exceptionally severe, the Garrett SHA branch may call on Allegany county equipment for assistance.

Hired help will be used for the first time this winter on a regular basis, since the Route 48 freeway will pull several maintenance snow removal crews from their usual routes.

Private individuals have contracted to remove snow from Route 219 from the Deep Creek Lake bridge to Keyser Ridge, Maryland Route 42; Maryland 495 from Swanton to Meadow Mountain; and Route 560.

With the freeway open from Keyser Ridge to the Maryland-West Virginia line, this opens up an additional 30 miles of (dual highway) pavement to be kept cleared of snow.

Store Opening Scheduled

A new Ben Franklin store was scheduled to open this morning, November 20, at 9 o'clock, adjacent to the Grantsville Foodland, both businesses being under the same roof with a central checkout system. The building, at the intersection of routes 40 and 219, east of Grantsville, is owned by Thomas E. Schroyer, route 2.

Terrence L. McKenzie, formerly of Cumberland, recently was named manager of the Grantsville Foodland, having been an assistant manager of the Bedford Road Foodland. Leonard Dominick, Cumberland, former assistant manager of the Gee Bee store in Cumberland, will manage the new Ben Franklin store.

Bloomington Holds

Dr. McCullough expressed his compliments to the Community and explained that this was the first community in Garrett County to become a Bicentennial Community. He stated that there are less than 100 Bicentennial communities in the state, and that more communities were turned down than were accepted by the Bicentennial Administration.

The community of Bloomington is now officially designated as a Bicentennial Community and has earned the right to fly the National Bicentennial flag. In order to become a Bicentennial community, there were four steps taken: organize a special Bicentennial planning and coordinating committee which was representative of all segments of that community; plan a Bicentennial program which has at least one lasting reminder of the special effort the community undertook for the Bicentennial commemoration; obtain the approval of the chief executive officer or governing body of the community; and submit an application to the ARBA through the appropriate State Bicentennial Commission for approval.

Following Dr. McCullough's presentations Mrs. Pearl Pattison sang "God Bless America."

Commander Frank Price of the Tenth District American Legion, Department of West Virginia, presented the community with an American Flag on behalf of Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion, Piedmont. Accepting the flag was John Price. Mrs. Kitty Mills gave a reading on the American Flag.

Presenting the Maryland Bicentennial Flags was Delegate DeCorsey Bolden. Accepting on behalf of the Committee was Mrs. Phyllis Marsh.

A brief history of Bloomington was given by Miss Alice Howard followed by the introduction of guests by Mrs. Iola Guy.

The program in the school auditorium was finalized with the singing of "America" by those in attendance.

The group reassembled on the grounds of the Garrett National Bank where the ceremony of raising the American flags was conducted by Commander Frank Price, assisted by John Price. Pledge of Allegiance was led by John Ferrell and Eric Mills and Scoutmaster Jack Fazenbaker.

The ceremony concluded with a prayer by Mrs. Kitty Mills.

Other guests in attendance, included B. O. Aiken, president of the Garrett County Bicentennial Commission, and Mrs. Aiken; Commissioner and Mrs. Donald Bender and Commissioner and Mrs. George Edwards; and Richard Rinard, manager of the Bloomington branch of the Garrett National Bank, and Mrs. Rinard.

Buser-Shank Nuptials Held

Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Shank, Swanton, announce the marriage of their daughter, Brenda Kay, to William James Buser, son of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Buser, of Swanton.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized October 25 at the Bethel United Methodist Church, Mountain Lake Park, by Rev. James Remley, pastor. Mrs. Pat Steyer organist, and Miss Debbie Paigepresented a guitar-vocal solo of "Time In A Bottle".

Escorted to the altar by her brother, James Shank, and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an old-fashioned ivory gown, trimmed in beige lace with a crown of white daisies. The gown was made by the groom's mother. She carried a cascade of white daisies with ivy and baby's breath.

Miss Marsha Shank, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Merle Buser, Frostburg, Miss Debbie Sisler, Gaithersburg, and Mrs. Frank Sweitzer, Oakland, were bridesmaids. Belinda Shank, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, and Miss Greta Younkin, also niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Best man was Merle Buser, brother of the groom. Ushers were William Raines, Ellicott City, T. L. Thomas, Baltimore, Fred Tichnell, Mountain Lake Park. Brent Buser, cousin of the groom, was junior usher, Flintstone, and Mark Younkin, Accident, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Celene Trickett was in charge of the placement of flowers, while Thomas Storey, nephew of the bride, registered the guest book.

The couple resides at Route 2, Swanton.

Dr. and Mrs. William H. Buser honored the couple with a rehearsal dinner at their home.

Strip Mining Permits Given

Maryland's Land Reclamation committee provided a permit for the largest number of acres to be strip mined in the committee's history last Wednesday by granting a permit to Allegheny Mining company for a total of 186 acres in the Cherry Creek watershed in this county.

The decision was surpassed three hours later Thursday when the LRC granted a permit to Phillips Coal, Inc., for a total of 280 acres to be stripped on Dan's Rock in Allegany County.

Approval of the permit to strip in the Cherry Creek watershed, a major tributary to Deep Creek Lake, met opposition from the Deep Creek Lake Zoning Appeals board.

In a statement to the LRC, Gary Yoder, vice-chairman of the zoning appeals board, said, "the board of zoning appeals has become increasingly concerned about the potential effect of simultaneously conducting a large number of surface mines in the watershed because of the possible cumulative effect of these mines on the water quality of Deep Creek Lake.

Opposition by the appeals board gave rise to a discussion to propose legislation in the general assembly to increase membership of the LRC to accommodate a member from the Allegany County and Deep Creek Lake Zoning boards.

Mr. Yoder's statement emphasized the fact that the LRC membership had certain technical expertise to make strip mining decisions which the zoning appeals board did not have. He asked for a "greater level of cooperation between the two bodies," and assistance between the LRC and the board of zoning appeals in evaluating the effect of surface mines on Deep Creek Lake.

GOP Women Showing Concern Over Education

The Maryland Federation of Republican Women has expressed concern over the current trends in education and has called on President Ford, other elected officials, and the PTAs to investigate and halt objectionable practices in the schools.

In an unanimous resolution passed during their fall convention, the Republican women deplored the use of "psychology to shape the thinking of students" and the "teaching of concepts instead of facts." Such trends in the classroom, according to the group, have alienated children from the values of their parents and turned them against the traditions of our culture. The resolution cited the use of Federal funds t finance the training o "change agents" and th development of curriculu written by "theorists and be havioral scientists who ar attempting to resocialize ou children."

Enrollment in Marylan Colleges is said to be up.

County Projects Are Discussed With Officials

On-going projects within the county were discussed at a regular meeting of the County Commissioners on Monday, by the commissioners with Tim Dugan, county planning director, and Tom Jones, director of the Development Corporation.

Mr. Jones discussed the progress to date on the Little Youghiogheny channel clearance project, the final element of the federal plan for the watershed. He also briefed commissioners on the progress of the Tableland Milk Producers project and the American HV test products building in Accident.

Mr. Dugan said he had studied the proposed abandonment of the Kempton branch of the Western Maryland railroad. Dugan said there were no objections from property owners adjacent to the railroad. The Planning Commission recommended that the line be abandoned and the commissioners concurred.

Paul DeWitt, Clayton Smith and Herb McCrobie, of the Roads Department, briefed the commissioners on new policies for federal aid for the county roads system. The commissioners expressed concern that the county might receive a diminished amount of aid under the new funding formulas.

Robert Ford and Dale Ellis, of the Commission on Aging, discussed housing for the elderly. Mr. Ford said the Commission on Aging was investigating the possibility of locating 75 housing units in the Oakland area. Commissioners are to be kept informed on progress in this matter.

Tuesday Commissioner Don Bender went to Washington, D. C., to participate in visits with legislators of county offices from across the United States to encourage continuation of general revenue sharing for counties. Commissioners Wayne Hamilton and George Edwards met with Water Resources at Allegany Community College, Cumberland, to discuss the newly adopted reclamation laws for surface mines other than coal. Friday Mr. Hamilton and Marshall Rickert, county administrator, will meet with officials of the Department of Economic and Community Development in Annapolis.

Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Glotfelty were honored recently with a surprise 25th Wedding Anniversary celebration at their home at Route 1, Accident, given by their children.

The double-tiered anniversary cake was decorated with green variegated roses and silver leaves, topped with the bride-and-groom ornament from the couple's wedding cake. Assorted autumn-color leaf mints were made and furnished by their sister-in-law, Mrs. John Reckner, Jr. Others assisting with serving ice cream, punch, and coffee were Mrs. John Reckner, Sr., and Miss Olive Bender. Silver and white decorations were used in keeping with the Anniversary theme.

Mrs. Glotfelty is the former Donna Reckner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reckner, Sr., and Mr. Glotfelty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Glotfelty, also of Route 1, Accident. The couple was married October 13, 1950, at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Bittinger, by the Rev. Curt H. Runze. Maid of honor was Mrs. Carlton (Doris Hetrick) Knox, and best man was Carlton Knox, who attended the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Glotfelty donned their original wedding clothes for the event.

The couple has four children, Mrs. Michael (Linda) Bittinger, Grantsville; Mrs. Julius (Karmen) Carey, Frostburg; Thomas and Lisa Glotfelty, at home; and one grandchild, Sheli Lin Bittinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Glotfelty were also guests of their children at a family dinner served at Ed's Steak House, Bedford, Pa., prior to the celebration, and were presented flowers by their children.

Win Several Awards at U.S. Twirling Meet

Tammy Rowan, Sandra Stinson, Karen Eddy, Colleen Eddy, Val Herndon, Sheila Hardesty, Brenda Snyder, Teresa Thomas, Debbie Wolfe, and Lisa Dever attended a United States Twirling Association competition in Wheeling, West Virginia, on Sunday, November 16, and captured a number of places.

Tammy Rowan, nine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rowan, won her first two trophies competing against twirlers from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Ohio. The first place intermediate basic strut trophy and the second place flag twirling trophy were awarded to Tammy. She also won medals in beginner strut and military strut. She recently was named as one of the featured twirlers for the "Oakettes."

Sandra Stinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stinson, won first place trophy for beginner solo in the seven to eight year-old category. This win enabled her to compete in the beginner twirl-off. Medals went to Sandra for basic strut, military strut, and Miss Majorette of the Month. These were Sandra's first wins in competitive twirling.

Karen Eddy captured first place awards in advance solo, intermediate solo, hoop twirling, flag twirling, and duet twirl which was done with Val Herndon, head majorette of the junior high squad at Southern. Karen also placed second in military strut, and third in Miss Majorette of the Month. After competing in an advanced and an intermediate twirl-off against all first place solo winners, she took second place honors in the advanced category and was first place intermediate twirl-off winner.

Colleen Eddy, thirteen, featured acrobatic for the "Oakettes" majorette corps, took first in beginner solo division. This qualified her for the beginner twirl-off in which she placed second. She also won a first place trophy in basic strut and took second in duet twirl. Sheila Hardesty, junior leader of the "Oakettes", was her duet partner. Medals went to Colleen for hoop twirling, military strut, and Miss Majorette of the Month.

Brenda Snyder, a Sophomore from Southern, placed third in beginner solo. Lisa Dever, a five-year-old twirler, placed fifth in both basic strut and military strut. Teresa Thomas, Juvenile leader of the "Oakettes", won a medal for military strut.

The "Oakettes" senior dance-twirl, of which Brenda Snyder, Gale Bosley, and Karen and Colleen Eddy are members, captured first place in that category. This was the team's sixth consecutive win.

All of the above winners are students of Karen Eddy, teacher of the "Oakettes", which is directed by Mrs. Doris Eddy.

American Education Week . . .

Focus On Today's Marvelous Computer

By Carol Canan

Computer circuits are becoming almost as familiar to the senior electronics students at Northern High School as milk carton opening is to most Americans. Diodes, resistors, capacitors and many other electronic terms are part of their daily lives as they work on one of the most difficult projects ever undertaken in the county schools — a television-typewriter circuit with mini-computer, a system so modern it was not possible less than two years ago.

Three students have been working on the Altair 8800 project all this fall in three hour sessions in their class, under direction of instructor Harold Trickett.

When the system is ready for use soon, words and symbols typed on the keyboard will show up on a television screen. A page of 160 characters, up to 30 lines, will be visible at one time.

The computer is being programmed to accommodate 256 inputs and the same number of outputs, and has 28 basic machine instructions so that extensive detailed programs may be written. Programs are entered via switches on the front panel. By setting data and address switches, a complete program of up to 78 steps can be inserted into the processor.

The t.v. typewriter communicates with the computer through the keyboard and will allow either the keyboard or the computer to assess the terminal's memory on memory circuit boards and display data on the t.v. screen.

In addition to building memory boards for insertion in the machine, cassette tapes will also be made, so that after a tape is programmed, it may be reinserted and used at any time.

The students have done all the work themselves, and work it is. A steady hand, manual coordination, and high mathematical ability are some of the requisites for this individually-tailored advanced electronics course.

Mr. Trickett starts students in tenth grade with theory and lab work which is pertinent to the various theories. Advanced electronics is offered to eleventh graders, while seniors take on the most complicated projects of all, working in solid state electronics. Last year, a student in twelfth grade built a color television set, and also set up a radio and t.v. repair shop in his home.

Students also do repair work on electronic equipment at the school, and are called upon to care for the school's football and basketball scoreboards, audio visual equipment, and public address system.

Doug Kipp, senior electronics student at NHS, inserts a circuit board into the Altair 8800 mini-computer used with the typewriter-television system under construction by the senior electronics class. A copper wire bracelet on his right wrist enables him to attach ground wires so that static electricity will not destroy the electronic circuitry.

With the aid of Heathkits, they have constructed capacitor checkers, both an older version and a modern digital readout model, oscilloscopes, and frequency counters. They must also learn how to use schematic drawings and to follow directions, and how to ground themselves and their tools so static electricity cannot destroy the circuits.

They guess they have spent about a week preparing each of the fiberglass circuit boards, from kits, two days each on memory boards.

Mini-computers of this sophisticated type will be used in many fields soon, including teaching. Some projects used will be for banks, which may some day conduct all their business through computers and credit cards, so that patrons never carry money; hotels and conference centers, to display current messages; automated machine controller, scientific calculators, and automatic drafting machines.

This particular unit at Northern will be used to teach computer concepts, programming, construction and repair and in other ways as a teaching aid. The young men will continue to build circuit boards for the memory operations of the computer.

All three senior electronics students have expressed their plans to continue in the electronics field when they graduate, undaunted by the fact that in their field, daily study is needed to keep up with new developments.

With computers, the trend of the immediate future, it's good to know there will be trained, competent repairmen to aid the machines should the wiring go haywire.

Donations Sought For Eddie Spataro

Members of the Health Careers Club of Southern High School, are endeavoring to take up a collection for Eddie Spataro, to aid him in his fight to overcome his serious handicap in being severely burned a few weeks ago.

Eddie, 10, came in contact with a guy wire which contained 7,200 volts and was burned over 20 percent of his body. His left hand was badly burned and had to be amputated two weeks ago. He remains a patient in the Baltimore Burn Center where his father has been at his side since the accident. Eddie's mother has been dead for three years and Mr. Spataro has been out of work for some time. He learned that his family's entire life insurance has been declared null and void because of some technicality.

In order to help this family the club members are placing containers in various stores in Oakland, and they are asking individuals to contribute. Eddie's name will be on these containers, according to Debbie Gordon, and Pam Madigan, members of the Health Careers Club.

One Injured In One of Two 3-Vehicle Wrecks

One of two three-vehicle mixups occurred last Friday injuring one person. Also the first snow-related mishaps were noted for this season.

Mareva E. Teets, RD 1, Swanton, was taken to the Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, following a three-vehicle mishap last Friday afternoon on Md. 135, near Bloomington.

Richard L. Tasker, Crellin, was westbound on Rt. 135 about a mile west of Seldom Seen road about 3 p.m. and was in the process of passing the Teets car and a truck driven by George M. Raines of Flintstone. At that same time, Mareva Teets began to pull into the eastbound lane in an attempt to pass the slower moving truck, not noticing the Tasker car, and collided with it. The Teets car then went out of control. Tasker failed to stop after the collision and was charged on that count by Tfc. C. H. Hinnant.

Another three-car mixup occurred the same day about 7 a.m. at the intersection of Md. 135 and Sand Flat road. There were no apparent injuries. Philson D. Hinebaugh, Eglon, W. Va., was driving east on Rt. 135 as Barbara J. Holler was southbound on the Sand Flat road. Roy E. Noland, Rd 3, Deer Park, was stopped, headed north on Main street (Sand Flat road), at Rt. 135. Barbara Holler pulled into the path of the Hinebaugh car and was knocked into the Noland car. Tfc. E. J. Upole investigated. Snowy conditions existed at the time.

Another wreck late the evening of the same day was possibly due to the snowy conditions. James H. Weeks, Mt. Lake Park, was eastbound on Dennett road at Broad Ford road in Mt. Lake Park when he lost control of his car and slid off the left side of the road. In doing so, Weeks struck a parked car of Donald B. DeWitt, parked in this location also due to running off the left side of the road. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Weeks with driving while intoxicated.

Icy conditions about 10 a.m. caused a mishap at the intersection of Md. 495 and North Glade Road. Frank R. Mattingly, Lewis B. Naylor drive, Oakland, was driving north on Rt. 495 and in the process of turning left onto North Glade road. Daniel F. Ott, RD 2, Swanton, in a small truck, eastbound on North Glade road noted the Mattingly car turning and applied his brakes. The truck began to slide on the ice-covered road and struck the Mattingly car. Tfc. Hinnant made no charges.

One person was slightly injured in a two-car accident on U.S. 219 at the northern limits of Oakland the same day. Marily J. Metheny, Terra Alta, W. Va., was injured in a mishap as she drove north on Rt. 219 and had stopped in the lane of traffic preparing to make a left turn into a private drive. James Lee Roy, Kingwood, W. Va., following failed to reduce speed and struck the Metheny car. Tfc. Hinnant charged Roy with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

A Saturday morning accident was also apparently due to an icy road. Anna A. Friend, RD 2, Swanton, traveling west on Glendale road just east of the Glendale Bridge ran off the shoulder, skidded across the roadway, collided with an embankment and overturned. Cpl. S. M. Russell charged her with failing to reduce speed under existing conditions.

State Police criminal records. Three juveniles have been apprehended in another breaking and entering and larceny case.

One or more persons forced a lock open on the trailer of the Atlas Railroad Construction Co. The persons entered and took the following: one Motorola Base Station, model B91 RCA 3495, serial no. QA 512T, grey color, valued at $4,500; one console desk model and mike, $596; six portable hand talkies and battery chargers, model NLN 8005 A and 31TPB 311OAN, value, $4,386; one Litronit 2230 memory calculator, $40, and a half inch power drill stand. The residence of Frances Dale Knox, Zehner road, near Grantsville, was entered on October 26. The suspects entered an unlocked door of the house and removed two boxes of 22 cal. shells valued at $2. The suspects are three juveniles. Tfc. R. E. Friend investigated.

A GMC dump truck of Wm. L. Miller, Grantsville, was parked on the lot of Guy's Tire Shop the evening of November 13. When Miller returned the following morning he discovered that the oil plug had been removed and the oil spilled on the ground. The six quarts of oil were valued at $4.50. No suspects were named in the case investigated by Tpr. J. E. Foley.

The Season's First Snowfall Is 2.3 Inches

The first snow storm of the season hit the Mountain Top last Thursday and Friday dumping 2.3 inches before it stopped late Friday. Cold temperatures arrived with the storm. Since Saturday, though skies have been clear, but with still cool temperatures. State and county road crews were busy for awhile salting and sanding slick spots on the highways.

Oakland received the 2.3 inches but Table Rock and some northern parts of the county received an inch or more as did parts of neighboring West Virginia. It all started with flurries last Thursday afternoon, but the heavier fall began Friday before dawn and continued most of the day.

State Highway crews were out at 5:30 a.m. Friday and working until about 10 p.m. They were also cleaning up occasional slick spots for a few hours Saturday morning. Paul DeWitt, County Roads engineer, stated county roads were generally slick and also stated trucks were out treating road surfaces all day Friday and again Saturday morning. Not all the trucks were available as some were still equipped for summer work. Winds caused some slight drifting in places.

Temperatures during the week averaged one degree below normal. Highs averaged 52 degrees or 1.4 degrees above normal. The highest was Tuesday's 63 degrees. Last Friday the mercury went no higher than 31 degrees. Lows averaged 26.1 degrees or 2.4 degrees below normal with most daily readings 23 or 24 degrees. Sunday was the only day the mercury stayed above the freezing mark.

The .22 inches of precipitation fell as the 2.3 inches of snow. The normal snowfall for November is 7.2 inches.

Information Given, Medicare Insurance

Doctor bills for October, November, and December may in some cases count toward the $60 annual deductible for 1975 and 1976 under the "carryover" provision of Medicare medical insurance, according to James E. Robertson, Social Security District Manager in Cumberland.

Medicare medical insurance doesn't pay for the first $60 in covered medical expenses in a calendar year. "But people who haven't had $60 in covered expenses before October should be sure to send in all the bills for covered services they receive in October, November, or December," Mr. Robertson said.

"Any expenses you have during the last 3 months of the year that can be counted toward your deductible for that year can also be counted toward your deductible for the next year," he said.

The carryover rule helps people who might otherwise have to pay the $60 deductible twice in a short period of time — at the end of one year and at the beginning of the next year, Mr. Robertson explained.

D. Ringer Named To Rescue Board

At a regular meeting of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad on November 14, Don Ringer was elected to the Board of Directors, replacing retiring Allen Cutler. Mr. Cutler accepted appointment by the board of the office of Captain. His appointment was ratified by squad membership.

Additional training by members of the squad is continuing. Several are enrolled in an advanced first aid and emergency care course presented by the American Red Cross, Allegany county chapter. Others are participating in the current cardiac rescue technician course offered at Memorial hospital in Cumberland.

The CRTs who are trained are continuing to participate in the testing of the cardiac monitors in the ambulance. During the past week the participating hospital was Memorial, Cumberland. Most of the patients transported willingly participated in the training of the CRTs and in the testing program by allowing themselves to be monitored during their stay in the ambulance.

May Abolish Orphans Court

Two bills which would abolish the Orphans Court system and place it under the Circuit Court have been prefiled in the Maryland House of Delegates by Bert Booth, Baltimore county Republican. They were expected to cause controversial debate.

One delegate noted if the change would place a burden on the circuit court system, make it costlier to probate wills and cause delays in probate cases, he would oppose the abolishment.

The measures, if approved, would put the issue up to the voters in next November's general election.

The Register of Wills association is prepared to testify and lobby against the measures.

If you are skiing out in the woods with an amiable companion, you can revel in the white beauty of the snow. If, on the other hand, you are on a city street, facing an icy wind, you may feel quite differently about the matter.

Isn't that the way it is with almost everything? The way we react to a situation so often depends upon the way it affects us personally. We aren't to be blamed for this; yet we should stop to think that there are two sides to every story. We should not judge the merit of a viewpoint on whether or not it agrees with our own opinion.

The Church is used to different viewpoints, to controversy. It has lived with changing times and opinions for centuries, and it has never been more involved than it is today. The Church is changing as change is needed, ever ready to investigate and to explore the new. Have you been keeping up with it?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE CROSS IN EGYPT

Lesson for November 23, 1975

Background Scripture: Genesis 43 through 44
Devotional Reading: John 10:7-18

The word "cross" does not appear in the Old Testament (not as a noun, at least). Yet the idea behind the New Testament cross appears from time to time in the Old Testament.

Rev. Althouse

Back in the 1950's, British theologian, H. Wheeler Robinson, published a book entitled, THE CROSS IN THE OLD TESTAMENT (Westminster Press). In this remarkable book he examined the idea of the cross in the Old Testament Book of Job, in Isaiah's Suffering Servant, and in the life and ministry of the prophet Jeremiah.

Our Father's sorrow

In each of these Old Testament sources, Robinson saw a prefigurement of the cross of Christ. In each case there was a willingness to bear burdens or suffering as a response to God's grace. On the part of the Suffering Servant and Jeremiah, it is a willingness to bear suffering for the sake of the people of Israel—vicarious suffering.

Job, Isaiah, and Jeremiah are among the later Old Testament books. But one can find the cross-idea even in the beginning of the Old Testament. In Genesis 43,44, for example, we find it in the story of Joseph and his brothers.

Joseph is playing a game with his brothers. They do not recognize his identity, so he tests them, perhaps wanting to see whether time and life have brought any changes in them. Threatening to keep Benjamin, Israel's youngest, with him as a slave, Joseph tests his brothers' concern for their father.

The test brings out the best in Judah, one of Israel's twelve sons. He tries to reason with Joseph, reminding him that he had implied that young Benjamin could return to his father. When that seems to gain him no advantage, Judah makes an appeal on his father's account. He speaks of Israel's great love for Benjamin, the youngest of the brothers and his father's favorite since the departure of Joseph: "...his life is bound up in the lad's life" (44:30).

There would have been a time when Judah and his brothers could not have made that admission of favoritism without violent hostility. Now, however, many years later, they seem to accept the favored status of Benjamin without rancor and bitterness.

"I shall bear the blame"

Judah gave Israel his word that the lad would be able to return home when the governor (Joseph) had seen him. But Judah wasn't thinking of himself, he was truly concerned about his father. If Benjamin should not return to his father, Israel might easily die of a broken heart. "For how can I go back to my father if the lad is not with me? I fear to see the evil that would come upon my father" (44:33). Judah's concern is for his father's welfare. He has put him first.

Out of his concern for his father grows Judah's cross: "Now therefore, let your servant... remain instead as a slave to my lord; and let the lad go back with his brothers." Judah offers to take upon himself the fate that seems destined for his brother Benjamin. He will pay the price willingly out of love for his father.

Isn't that what Jesus did on Calvary?

Insurance FACTS

For many years when fire insurance was just beginning to become important in this country, there was no uniform form used by fire insurance companies in issuing their contracts. As you might expect, each company devised a policy form to meet its own requirements. The average policy became so long and complicated that they were very difficult to understand and interpret. What was needed, however, was some shorter document, clear and explicit, and that is what we have, and what we mean when referring to the "Standard policy."

At GONDER INSURANCE AGENCY, 203-205 South 2nd St., Oakland, 334-3343, we pride ourselves on the completeness of our service. We have been serving Garrett County for over 55 years, but our perspective is on today and tomorrow. Protection plus service is what we stand for. Call us anytime you need information on insurance — that's what we're here for!

Analysis of Action of Salt on Roads Made By Douglass

Gordon (Sandy) Douglass, Oakland councilman and retired boat builder, has often voiced his opinion on the bad effect of too much salt used on state roads to keep the roads clear of ice and snow. He has prepared two articles on the question and the first one appears here.

Sandy says: "My experiences over fifty years of driving in northern states, some of which salted their highways and some did not, lead me to the opinion that the use of salt, far from being a cure-all, very often makes conditions worse; and that instead of salting it would be better to plow off the snow and let nature do the rest, saving salt for use only as a last resource.

Although we know salt as a part of our daily lives it has many qualities which are not commonly known. The salt used on the streets for snow removal is a coarse grade of sodium chloride similar to table salt, supplemented at times by calcium chloride which is similar but more powerful in its action and also greatly more corrosive.

Salt does not "melt" snow in the usual sense, because snow and ice do not melt until heat is applied to them. Instead, the action of salt is to combine with snow to form a brine solution which has a lower melting point than snow which has a melting point of 32 degrees and, for example, will not melt if the temperature is 25 degrees. But if it is combined with brine with a melting point of 20 degrees the snow then will melt.

Salt is hygroscopic, meaning that it attracts and retains moisture and likes to stay wet. Salt also has the property of lowering the surface tension of water, acting as a wetting agent and penetrating cracks and crevices too fine for plain water.

Salt is a corrosive, greatly increasing the rate of rusting of metals such as steel, and this is accentuated by its hygroscopic action of retaining moisture. It also attacks oil and tar as well as concrete.

From the above description it is obvious that salt has a number of qualities, some of which are desirable and some undesirable when it is used for snow removal. If salt were a cure-all, if it took away all of the snow and had no ill effects in the process, there would be no reason for this article, but unfortunately this is not the case. Salt is not a cure-all, it has definite limitations, and it is harmful in a number of ways.

First of all let us consider the way in which, to use the common expression, salt melts snow. Being hygroscopic, it attracts moisture, forms a concentrated brine with a low freezing point which in turn acts on snow to melt it by taking it below its melting point and turning it into water. If the snowfall is light and the temperature is moderate, from about 25 degrees up, the snow will melt. So far so good. But as the salt melts more and more snow, and especially if snow continues to fall, the brine becomes more and more dilute until its freezing point rises to the temperature of the air. When this happens no more melting takes place, the slush remains on the pavement, and any further snowfall adds to it, making a heavy wet snow which packs readily onto the pavement. Now, when the temperature drops as it does at night, the slush freezes into solid ice.

On the other hand, on a cold day if salt is not used, the snow being light and dry will not readily pack on the road. On the contrary, wind and traffic will blow it off leaving the pavement bare. I had a classic example of this in crossing Ohio and Indiana on Route 40 during a heavy storm. In the country the highway which was not salted remained bare and dry, bu in each town it was salted and as we drove on the slush became deeper and deeper in town after town. During the night the temperature dropped, with the result that in the towns the pavement was a nightmare of solidly frozen icy ruts, some of them six inches deep, while outside each town line the highway still was bare and dry. One county in Indiana had used salt, and this county gave us some twenty miles of icy ruts.

This is typical of many experiences, and next week, in a concluding article I will go into other aspects of the results of salting.

School Board Meets With Finzel Citizens

The County Board of Education was confronted with a redistricting problem at a meeting of Avilton-Finzel residents one day last week. The residents had requested that their children be allowed to attend Schools in the Frostburg area, Allegany county.

Maryland law requires that each subdivision pay tuition for students attending schools outside their county, with some financial assistance from the state.

Dr. William H. Buser, county superintendent of schools, remarked that "I administer school district boundaries as carefully as I can on the best evidence available." The Board of Education directed its staff to study the redistricting proposals for that area and to present alternatives for public hearing at Route 40 school in January or February. Dr. Buser indicated the board would make a decision after the public hearings.

The board decided that for the remainder of the current school year, all students would complete the year where they are currently enrolled.

AURORA

The maximum display of the aurora occurs near the time of the equinoxes. Generally the best displays occur about 70 miles above the earth. The aurora is affected by the eleven year sunspot cycle. As the number of sunspots increases, zones of auroral displays grow larger and appear closer to the equator. The cause of the aurora is the interaction of charged particles with the atmosphere of the earth. Glowing Nitrogen and Oxygen provide the colors of the aurora.

Last Quarter Moon occurs at 1:52 a.m. Wednesday morning. At this time the moon will be one-fourth of a turn to the west of the sun. Moonrise occurs at 6:24 p.m. today. On Tuesday evening moonrise will be at 11:50 p.m.

Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn continue to be the planets visible to the unaided eye. Jupiter is very bright among the stars of Gemini rising about three hours after sunset. Saturn rises shortly before midnight with stars of Cancer. Venus dominates the east sky for about three hours before sunrise.

Daylight continues to decrease this week. Ten minutes of daylight are lost this week. Sunrise was at 7:06 a.m. this morning. Sunset will be at 4:59 p.m. this afternoon. Wednesday the sun will be above the horizon for nine hours forty-three minutes. Sunrise will be at 7:13 a.m.; sunset at 4:56 p.m.

The world's first skis were probably of bones from large animals. To begin with, when wood was used, the most favored woods were pine and spruce. The ski was cut from the outer curve of a tree. In the eleventh century skiers thought that their speed would greatly increase if the length of the two shoes was not the same. They made a "kicking ski," which authorities tell us was worn on the right foot. This was eventually abandoned as we all know.

Represent Area At Dairy Meet

Tammy Mason, Barry Glotfelty and Mike Simpson recently represented Garrett 4-H and FFA at the eighth Annual Maryland Dairy Conference held on November 6, 7 and 8th at the National 4-H Center at Chevy Chase.

The Dairy Conference Program included a tour of the East Coast Ice Cream Plant, discussion of the Dairy Industry, attendance at a Washington area theater, tour of the Shenandoah Pride Dairy, a round-table analysis on "The Role of Cooperatives", a conference on "Why Quality Milk is Important to You and Your Community", as well as a Dairy Marketing Clinic. The program was climaxed by a dinner and talk on "Cows, Kids and Citizenship" by Henry Shriver. Mr. Shriver is nationally known Farm Philosopher and Lecturer from Ohio.

In the future, according to Lawrence Little, extension agent for 4-H and Youth, scholarships will be available to Garrett 4-H and FFA youth who are 15 years of age and have carried the dairy project for two or more years. Candidates will also be evaluated on the basis of their willingness to assume leadership responsibility in their club, church or community, he said, on the basis of how they would benefit by their attendance at Dairy Conference; and by how they could tell others about what they learned at Dairy Conference.

Farm Survey To Measure Livestock, Wheat, Poultry Prospects in '76

The first official estimate of the size of the winter wheat crop planted this fall will be reported December 22 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Maryland-Delaware Crop and Livestock Reporting Service announced.

Acreage and production estimates will be based on a state and national survey set for late November and early December. The survey will be conducted in this county from November 21 through December 5, according to James A. McHenry, county agent.

Along with information collected from farmers about wheat, mail questionnaires and personal interviews also will seek information about cattle, hogs and chickens currently on farms, the 1975 calf crop, and expected pig crop in the coming months.

The upcoming survey will rely on the cooperation of Maryland and Delaware producers and those across the country in responding to mail inquiries and visits from USDA representatives. Holmes Baker will be the enumerator assigned to this county, according to Mr. McHenry.

Bob Guthrie, right, from Bayard, and John Cunningham, center, a Farmington, Pa. gunsmith, discuss a muzzleloader with a visitor to the Blackwater Rendezvous at Davis, W. Va. November 8 and 9. Bob Guthrie set up a tepee complete with antique artifacts during the Rendezvous, a muzzleloading championship match sponsored by the Tucker County Alpine Festival Association.

Keith Casteel Wins Blackwater Rendezvous

Keith Casteel, Oakland, placed first and won the Governor's Cup for Grand Aggregate score at the first annual Blackwater Rendezvous held near Davis, W. Va. November 8 and 9.

Larry Steyer, Oakland, took third Grand Aggregate. Mr. Casteel also won first place for the total flintlock aggregate. Larry Steyer took second in this division.

Casteel also won various matches, including the Flag Run, Yocum Run, and Seneca Run.

The Blackwater Rendezvous was held under the sponsorship of the Tucker County Alpine Festival and was hosted by the Allegheny Mountaineer Muzzle Loading Club of Bayard. Sixty-three participated in the first event, from North Carolina, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, and Virginia.

Murray Dearborn, the president of the Tucker County Alpine Festival, presented awards. The Alpine Festival group also sponsors a Governor's Cup snowmobile race, scheduled next year for February 7; a winter festival on March 4 through 7 which includes the state championship ski races, a bicycle race next summer and a four-wheel drive classic.

Media Complaint Committee Named

The Board of Education, at its regular November 13 meeting appointed a county media complaint review committee, to give parents who may have complaints about textbooks, films, library books, etc., an opportunity to be heard.

It was pointed out that textbooks, films, library books, etc., may have questionable values and this committee will have an opportunity to have their complaints reviewed by a local school review committee and a county review committee.

Special forms have been developed by the board of education and will be available through all schools, should a person want to register such a complaint.

Dr. Buser indicated that in the past three years complaints in this area had been minimal. But he said the experience in the Kanawha County schools and other school districts throughout the nation indicate that it is imperative that the school system have a procedure for permitting persons who have complaints about media materials that are used in the school program, for registering those concerns. Such complaints would be reviewed by a local school committee prior to the complaint being considered by the county review committee.

The ultimate decision would still remain with the board, Dr. Buser said. He said board members felt that an eleven member committee representative of a cross section of the community would be in a position to make a decision that would be acceptable to a majority of the county public.

Man Of The Public

You see his signature, "Samuel Chase," just below the large John Hancock at the end of the Declaration of Independence. His face has a gentleness in the portrait, and yet he is known to have lamented his public life. "Sixty-three years of service, and where am I?" Yet you visit the Chase House in Annapolis, and you know what fine taste he had, for its double stairway gives you the airy feeling that it is lifting you to the next story in this, the only three-story house that was in the town before our Revolution. And yet, Mr. Chase sold the house before it was finished.

But this Somerset Countian did finish his life in the public service he had known for years. He had become a devout Federalist and supporter of Washington, who appointed him as an associate judge on the federal Supreme Court in 1796. By this, his fifty-fifth year, he had served in Maryland's colonial legislature for 20 years after practicing law in Annapolis. From 1774 to 1779 and again in 1784-85, in the very same period as Thomas Stone, he was a delegate to the Continental Congress, and was the other member of the commission unsuccessfully seeking Canadian cooperation with America's revolt against the Crown. From 1766, when he became a member of the Sons of Liberty, he and Charles Carroll of Carrollton, both conservatives, seemed to experience similar attitudes. (The Sons of Liberty had members who opposed Parliament's assertion that royal stamps must be affixed to colonial documents.)

Chase and Carroll may not have agreed with modern terms of American rights, for they both saw little accord in assembling propertyless voters into responsible government, and the idea may have been that anyone who could not work or hold property already given to him should not be privileged to vote. So far did Chase carry out his conviction that at one meeting in Baltimore concerning the issue of voting, it was reported that a party of Baltimore mechanics was narrowly prevented from hurling Samuel Chase into a chair and thence to "carry him to the dock and abandon him." Yet his was the view that the people are the source of all political authority, and he fully supported Carroll against Dulany in their famous correspondence struggles over the selling of offices and fixing salaries of officials.

Probably the greatest divergence in his and Carroll's views was on the taxing of clergy and church, imposed at this time by the Crown. As his father had been an Anglican minister, and Anglicanism was then the official faith, we can comprehend his contention that repairs to public edifices of this denomination in Maryland were rightly done with a public tax.

Four years after a national body had emerged with a constitution, Mr. Chase became Chief Justice of Maryland. By 1796 he was on the federal bench, where his decisions reflected a belief that legislative powers over liberty and property were limited by vital prinicples of government. However, when John Marshall became chief justice in 1806, the influence of Chase began its decline, for Marshall's personality and reasoning were overwhelming to his fellow justices.

And then the greatest blow, impeachment. In 1804, this came about because Jefferson's supporters, who opposed his party, accused Chase of partisanship in his conduct during the trial of Callender and Fries. But his noted revolutionary spirit and activities, as well as his pure judicial character, were saving points, and he was acquitted, to remain in office until his death in 1811.

As we view modern scandal in government, we cannot hope that some modern jurist will be found to have such spirit and candor that their pride in their country will save them from injustice. We salute the Marylander, Samuel Chase.

It was also reported that net savings distribution would include $1 583,288 in dividends on capital stock, an addition to operating capital of $1,070,582, patronage refunds payable in cash, of $5,021,351 plus $7,227,335 as patronage refunds payable in allocations.

It was reported that construction was progressing on two new feed mills in Kentucky, and a supply distribution center near Roanoke.

Claims Made For Non-Covered Items

Medicare is a health insurance program, and thus, like private insurance policies, does not cover all medical services. When beneficiaries mail claims for non-covered services to Medicare, it slows claims services and raises program cost, according to James E. Robertson, District Social Security Manager, at Cumberland.

He reminded beneficiaries to consult pages 42-43 of "Your Medicare Handbook," mailed to all last winter, for a list of non-covered services before mailing their claims. He stated that non-covered claims most commonly received are bills for drugs and medicines which are self-administered and bills for eyeglasses and eye examinations for prescribing, fitting or changing glasses. Do not mail bills for these services to Medicare.

According to Mr. Robertson, other types of misdirected items being received by Medicare in considerable volume are the forms, "Your Record of Medical Insurance (Part B) Portion of Medical Benefits Used", which are prepared by Blue Cross and Blue Shield (Part A Intermediary) when it handles a Part B service provided in a hospital or a nursing home. These are for the beneficiary's record or for use if he has other private insurance which pays his deductible and co-insurance. It is requested that these forms not be mailed to Medicare in the future.

Southern Band Set For Gimbels Turkey Day Parade

The 56th edition of the world famous Gimbels Thanksgiving Day Parade ushers in the nation's 200th birthday with a Bicentennial version of the annual march.

Parade Director Christian T. Mattie says every band in the parade is new — none of them participated in the event last year. In addition, 15 of the floats will commemorate the Bicentennial, and there will be a contingent of antique automobiles and a group of "old-fashioned" bicyclists.

The Gimbels parade is the oldest and largest Thanksgiving Day Parade in the nation. Since its beginning in 1920, the parade has grown in size from 50 people to more than 5,000 participants.

The band was selected from among several hundred which had applied for participation.

Band Director Richard D. Clever revealed there are 96 playing members in the band; nine in the marching unit; and 24 in the color guard. They will play and march before over one million people who line the streets of Philadelphia for the traditional parade.

One of the musical pieces the Southern Highland Marching Band will play will be "March Grandioso."

The world-famous 5-member Harlem Globetrotters will act as Grand marshals of the event. Totally, the parade will have 80 units, including the floats and giant balloons that made it famous.

The 1½-hour parade starts at 10:15 a.m. at the Philadelphia Art Museum on the Benjamin Franklin Parkway. It ends nearly two miles away at the Gimbels center city store at 8th and Market Streets when Santa Claus is presented with a key to the city by the Queen of the Thanksgiving Day Parade, and then climbs a ladder to the store's toy department.

CBS-Television will carry a portion of the parade nationally, and will be hosted by the Jeffersons. Locally (Philadelphia) WPVI-TV (Channel 6) will air the entire parade.

BICENTENNIAL COSTUMES DISTINGUISH NEW LEADERS — The new leaders of the Garrett County 4-H Council for 1976 appeared in bicentennial cosutmes representing the spirit of 4-H, in assisting in the program last Friday evening at the annual Achievement Night program at Garrett Community College at McHenry. They are, left to right, Jenilee Stemple, secretary; Pam Trickett, treasurer; Kathy Nice, vice president; and Glen Kolb, president.

Know Your "FBI"

An account of the investigative arm of the Department of Justice, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has been prepared for information of the public by James A. La Rue, resident agent, at Cumberland.

The arm began in 1908 as the Bureau of Investigation. Since then the responsibilities of the FBI have grown immensely. Mr. LaRue continues: "The FBI's jurisdiction now includes a wide range of responsibilities in the criminal, civil, and security fields. The FBI had to meet its expanding challenges by continuously reviewing its organizational administrative procedures, as well as incorporating the latest crime fighting techniques and scientific equipment in its investigative operations.

"The FBI's 59 field offices and 15 foreign liaison posts are directed and coordinated by FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

"The foreign liaison posts facilitate vital exchange of information with foreign agencies regarding international crime and subversive activities.

"The field divisions are strategically located in major cities throughout the United States and San Juan, Puerto Rico in order to provide prompt investigative service and wide geographic coverage. In addition, resident agencies, or suboffices, are maintained in smaller cities in all parts of the country.

"The Cumberland Resident Agency is an integral part of the Baltimore, Field Office, which covers all of Maryland and Delaware. The Special Agent assigned in Cumberland handles the FBI's responsibilities in Garrett County. The Resident Agency is located at the Post Office Building, Room 213, Pershing Street and So. Mechanic Street, Cumberland, and has telephone number 724-1960."

VOLUME 99 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD | THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1975 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 39

Thanksgiving, 1975 . . .

As we celebrate Thanksgiving Day, November 27, we might well remember there is so very much in the United States for which to be grateful and thankful.

In the words of a Polish immigrant, "there is no one here to lead you by the hand, but also no one to order you about. Once you land in America you are left to yourself, to shape your own future, to test yourself."

The principles of human freedom, won by the sacrifices of those first settlers to reach the shores of America, are alive and intact today. Though governments may change hands and crises arise, Americans still enjoy material blessings and liberties denied to people in many other countries.

So we will gather to give thanks for the privileges, and responsibilities that are ours as American citizens. When people are accepted for what they are, when the question of ancestry, faith, political beliefs are not questioned, and mail is not censored; when what we say is not reported to secret police, the Thanksgiving traditions should take on a richer meaning.

While the day will mean time off from regular work, a dinner larger than our stomachs can hold, a Santa Claus parade and a football game for many, most of us can pause in gratitude for the abundance and beauty which surround our lives.

This particular Thanksgiving, as our economy slowly improves and our hopes and expectations rise, perhaps even more Americans will stop for a moment and give deep thanks.

GCC Lakers To Begin Basketball Season December 3

Dennis Fearnow

Garrett Community College will open its 1975-76 basketball season under new head coach Bill Camp on December 3, against La Roche College, of Pittsburgh, Pa. The Lakers have a 24 game schedule (13 home and 11 away).

Bill Camp, the new Laker coach, is a graduate of Glenville State College and West Virginia University and veteran of 11 seasons as a high school head coach. Camp has a lifetime record of 168 wins and 76 losses in addition to 11 championships in as many years. Camp will replace Dennis Fearnow who up to the present has served as the college's only head coach.

Fearnow, who will continue as the college's Athletic Director and baseball coach, has guided the athletic department since the opening of Garrett in 1971. His basketball and baseball teams have a combined 85-42 win-loss record. Since joining the Maryland JUCO Conference in 1973, his Laker teams have a record of 79 wins and 29 losses.

Coach Camp stated that he was looking forward to the beginning of the season and the challenges that lie ahead. Although Camp will floor a young team of 11 freshmen and 4 sophomores, he feels that with hard work and dedication this year's squad will be a contender in the National Division of the Maryland JUCO Conference. Last year the Lakers finished second in the National Division and had an overall record of 19-8. Only leading scorer and rebounder, 6'6" Mike Saturday and Garrett County Honorable Mention All State guard Randy DiSimone return from last year's squad. Sophomore transfer students 6'4" Jim Metzger and 5'10" guard Randy Bolinger should give the team some needed experience. Numbered among the freshmen is Garrett County's Tom Panther, a 6'3" forward who was First team all P.V.C. in 1974-75.

Again this year the college will hold its second annual

WORKING DESPERATELY to maintain the spark of life by administering cardio-pulmonary resuscitation are passers-by who came upon the Saturday night accident scene near Hawkinson Tread Service along Route 219 north of Oakland. Two area men, John H. Thayer, 34, and Rodney Pike, Jr., 28, lost their lives in the head-on crash. Identifiable in the photo are Harold White, Oakland; EMT's David Turney, Elizabeth Friend, and Hazel Stewart, of the Southern Rescue Squad, and Dr. Alvin Friend who rendered similar assistance at an accident on Mayhew Inn Road last summer.

Two Die In Head-On Crash Saturday Night

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Oakland's funeral homes for two county men who were killed in a head-on crash of their vehicles Saturday night.

The victims were identified as Rodney Pike, Jr., 28, of 3306 Route 135, Mt. Lake Park, and John Henry Thayer, 34, of Route 4, Box 355, Deer Park.

According to Tfc. C. H. Hinnant and Tfc. G. D. Broadwater, who investigated for the Maryland State Police, Pike was southbound on Route 219 about one and one-half miles north of Oakland when his car crossed the center line and struck the Thayer pickup head-on.

Both drivers were pronounced dead on the scene by Dr. James H. Feaster, deputy medical examiner. Members of the Oakland Volunteer fire company were called to the scene to wash gasoline from the roadway, which sustained deep cuts from the force of the collision.

Members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad were also called.

Mr. Thayer was born May 25, 1941 at Thayerville, son of the late Earl B. Thayer and Mrs. June Thayer Edgar. Surviving besides his mother are his wife, Mrs. Linda (Speicher) Thayer; two sons, John Jr. and Edward, both at home; a brother, Earl B. Thayer, and a sister, Mrs. Virginia Spurgeon, both of McKeesport, Pa.

He was a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church; Oakland Lodge 2481, B.P.O. Elks, and Proctor-Kildow Post 71, American Legion. He had served in the U.S. Army from 1961 to 1964 and then was in the Army reserves until 1967.

He had owned and managed Thayer's Oakland Electric and Radio Service for the past three years, and was operating a company truck when the accident occurred.

The body was taken to the John O. Durst Funeral Home in Oakland. A service was conducted at the funeral home at 2 p.m. Tuesday by Rev. Dr. Lawrence Sherwood, pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist Church. Interment was in the Thayerville cemetery.

Pallbearers were William G. Welch, George Stanya, Lonnie Shreve, Joe Germain, William Stewart and James Strawser.

Mr. Pike was born at Crellin and was a son of Rodney and Virginia D. (Thomas) Pike, Sr., Red House.

He had been employed since March 1971 as a counter salesman by Craig Motor Service Company and was a member of Post 10077, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Oakland, and Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion. He too was a member of Oakland Lodge 2481, B.P.O. Elks.

Also surviving are his widow, Catherine J. (Blaney) Pike; two sons, Rodney III and Marshall S. Pike, both at home; three sisters, Mrs. Joan Leighty and Miss Leona G. Pike, both of Red House, and Mrs. Donna J. Gregory, Route 1, Gormania; and two brothers, Frederick and Richard Pike, both at home.

The body was at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland, where services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday by Rev. John A. Grant. Burial was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens, where military honors were accorded by the VFW and American Legion.

Members of the Elks conducted a memorial service Monday at 8:30 p.m. at the funeral home. Employes of the Craig Motor Service Company served as pallbearers.

County Roads Ready To Fight Winter Storms

The Garrett County Roads Department is "as ready as we can get" for battling winter, says Paul DeWitt, county administrative engineer.

Stockpiles of cinders and sand have been built up at various points, and chemicals used to aid in ice control are also ready. The county usually mixes approximately 300 pounds of chemicals with a 10-ton load of abrasives.

The county has a fleet of 33 trucks equipped with plows, eight graders with V-plows, and five front-end loaders with V-plows. There is also one operable snowblower in the county, with the second machine so elderly parts are no longer available and it is currently unrepairable.

The usual amount of snow fence, about 150 miles has been erected, and road crews are continuing to work on construction "cleanup" in Swanton. Sidewalks remain to be completed, with work on the street and curbs finished.

Crews are also working on maintenance, repairing potholes, clearing brush and weeds, erecting signs, installing new culverts and cleaning ditches.

Depending on the severity of the storm, road crews work eight hour shifts. However, if a storm is exceptionally fierce, roadmen work twelve hour shifts.

Court House Is Now On Historic Register

Word was received Monday, November 24, that the Garrett County Court House in Oakland had been accepted on the National Registry of Historic Places.

The confirmation letter was received from the Maryland Historical Trust.

Baltimore Man Being Held On Nine Charges

A Baltimore man is being held in the Garrett County Jail on four charges of criminal counts and five motor vehicle charges. Bond is set at $4000 on the criminal charges and $250 on the motor vehicle charges. Other criminal cases were listed in the Oakland office of the Maryland State Police November 21.

John Richard Ziegenhein, Baltimore, has been charged with: assault, having a concealed weapon, larceny and receiving stolen goods, as criminal counts. Motor vehicle charges include: reckless driving, fleeing or attempting to elude a police officer, possession of a stolen auto, operating while license is refused, cancelled, suspended or revoked, and concealing the identity of a vehicle. A hearing is set for December 1.

Special guests at the ceremonies will include the Garrett County Commissioners, Del. DeCorsey Bolden, Sen. Edward Mason, members of the Garrett County Development Corporation, and members of the planning commission.

Highlander Band In Philadelphia For Gimbel's Parade

The Southern Highlander Marching Band, under direction of Richard D. Clever, departed at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, for Philadelphia where they will be a featured band in the Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

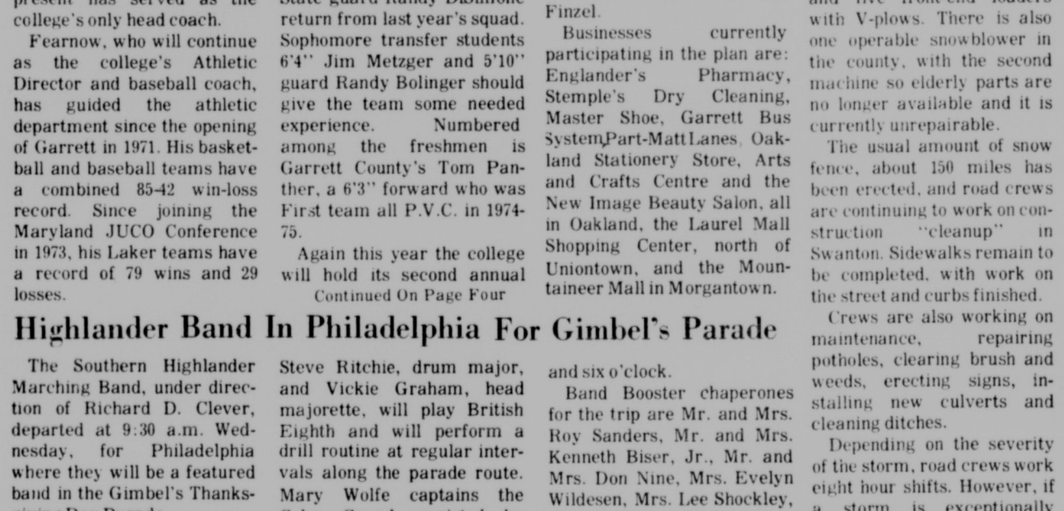
Traveling in four buses chartered by the Southern High Band Boosters organization, the one hundred twenty-nine members of the Band will be lodged at the Marriott Hotel in downtown Philadelphia. The parade, parts of which are televised nationally, begins at 10:25 Thanksgiving Day, with the world-famous Globetrotters as Grand Marshals.

The Highlanders, led by Steve Ritchie, drum major, and Vickie Graham, head majorette, will play British Eighth and will perform a drill routine at regular intervals along the parade route. Mary Wolfe captains the Color Guard, assisted by Tracy Bernard, drill flag captain, and Cindy Hayden, rifle captain.

Following the parade, the band members will have a traditional Thanksgiving Day Dinner. The evening program calls for a tour of a local TV station or a Pool Party. Friday activities include a tour of historic Philadelphia and Valley Forge. The group will return to Oakland Saturday, arriving between five and six o'clock.

Band Booster chaperones for the trip are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Biser, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Don Nine, Mrs. Evelyn Wildesen, Mrs. Lee Shockley, Mrs. Lorraine Mason, Mrs. Betty Lou Sowers, Mrs. Betty Mattingly, and Mrs. Shirley Evans.

This is the second year the Southern Highlanders have participated in a nationally-known Thanksgiving Day parade. In 1974 they were given national television coverage for a street performance at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City.



Christmas Parade Set December 1

The annual Christmas parade, sponsored by the Oakland Merchants and Businessmen's Association, will be held next Monday, December 1, at 7 p.m. in Oakland.

Santa Claus will arrive in town to officially mark the beginning of the Christmas season, and will appear in his sleigh in the parade. Parade features will include the Southern High School junior and senior bands, the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, fire trucks from Oakland, Deer Park, and Deep Creek Lake, and other units.

The parade will move south on Second Streeet, east on Alder and north on Third. The town's Christmas decorations will also be turned on that evening.

Following the parade, 1,000 popcorn balls donated by the merchants will be given away to youngsters under 12 at the Center Street School playground. Over 200 of these popcorn balls contain the names of local merchants, and anyone receiving a treat with the name of a downtown business is eligible for a prize from that store.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad members will assist in giving out the popcorn balls, according to Terry King, parade marshal.

Christmas shopping hours in Oakland will begin the following Monday, December 8, when most business places will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. six days a week.

Hunters Who Kill Tagged Deer Are Eligible For Extra

Some lucky deer hunters in Garrett, Washington and Kent counties will end up with more than a rack of horns for display and some meat for their tables.

Hunters who kill deer in these counties which have been tagged by wildlife officers are eligible for a $20 reward.

Hunters who kill tagged deer should return the tag, which will be affixed to the deer's ear, and half of the lower jaw to the Wildlife Administration's main office in Annapolis.

The tagging campaign is part of a study by the Wildlife Administration to determine what percentage of deer are killed by hunters and what percentage died from natural causes.

Man Is Held On $25,000 Full Cash Bond

A man picked up on a bench warrant is lodged in the Garrett County Jail under $25,000 full cash bond.

Glenn E. Harvey, Swanton, has been charged with burglary, receiving stolen goods and larceny, involving the property of Charles Nicodemus on Green Glade road. The alleged crimes occurred between January 23 and 30, at the summer home of Nicodemus.

Harvey had been released on bond but failed to appear for a trial date March 26. That same day a bench warrant was issued. Harvey was picked up in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. last week and returned to the Garrett County Jail last Friday. At a bond hearing Tuesday morning in District Court, Judge Miller Bowen of Cumberland placed bond at $25,000 cash.

Sermonette

Whom Do You Choose?

Psychologist have told us much about the "split personality" and the anxiety, heartbreak and tragedy which it can bring. Yet, many do not realize that they encourage and even worse division, either deliberately or by default. They have one God on Sunday and another God on Monday — God, the Father, when they worship and pray and mammon when they work and play.

As one government career man said, "We try to walk with God and the devil, and we fall in the middle. We have lost our way. We are not faced with one problem, serious as the communist menace is, we have 180 million problems — for in respect to ultimate things the United States is blind."

A divided soul is far worse than a divided personality. In fact, it is often the cause. Oh, we know the words, "one nation under God". We can even quote the scripture, "I am the Lord your God. . . You shall have no other gods," "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord", "No man can serve two masters. You cannot serve God and mammon". But, our lives, yours and mine, often speak a different language, as we serve one god after another.

The time for decision is always now. The warnings come from many directions. A nuclear scientist states, "In one direction lies the all-consuming flames of thermonuclear warfare, in the other, the full utilization of science for the benefit of all the peoples of the world." A politician puts it this way, "In one direction, a totalitarian world ruled by atheistic communism; in the other, a democratic society premised on human rights." A sociologist adds, "In one direction, a secular or sensate society sunk in the mire of relativism and subjectivism; in the other, the rediscovery of changeless truth and ethical values, a rebirth of moral earnestness and the ardent pursuit of justice."

These are awesome statements of the alternatives which face us, but they miss the real point: the choice is For God, or against Him. It may be possible for a person to serve two masters by dividing his time between them, but he cannot give his allegiance to both. We know that there are lesser loyalties in life: family, occupation, community and country. However, there can be only one God, one supreme loyalty. That is the choice each of us must continually make, and upon that choice rests our personal destiny, and that of our nation and of the world.

Joshua said it so well, "Choose you this day whom you will serve . . . as for me, and my house, we will serve the Lord." There is only one sure prescription for individual security and fulfillment, for national greatness and strength, for world brotherhood and peace. It is a living faith and trust in God.

God is not like some "santa claus", or a statue, or even a cosmic force. God is God, living and active. He alone is our Creator, Sustainer, Provider, Ruler and Saviour.

As individuals and as a nation, we make our choice, either deliberatley or by default. WHOM DO YOU CHOOSE?

repaired for a motor sales company in northwest Baltimore. After the alleged breaking and entering of the Linthicum garage, in addition to the car, he allegedly stole some 22 cal. shells, an operator's license of another person, the registration card of one vehicle and the tags of another.

After Ziegehein arrived in the Accident area of Garrett County, he was spotted by Sgt. H. W. Graham in the reddish-orange Corvette southbound on U.S. 219 exceeding the speed limit and without a license tag on Saturday, November 8 about 11 a.m. Sgt. Graham then gave chase with Ziegenhein traveling 80 to 90 m.p.h., slowing to 50 to 70 m.p.h. through Accident and attaining speeds of 100 m.p.h. plus south of Accident. He then lost control of the car, turned toward Accident and was finally subdued. Tfc. L. R. Rosage then arrived and took custody of Ziegenhein.

State Police also report the malicious destruction of property of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., a cable, near Swanton about noon November 15. The $300 damage was done by a 12 gauge shotgun with No. 8 shot. No suspects were named. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile investigated.

Week Is Dry, Cool With Little Snow

November continued dry but with mostly cloudy skies and on the cool side during the past week. A little snow fell Tuesday but no road problems developed.

The State Highway Administration had some trucks out sanding a few spots Tuesday between 4 and 8 p.m. Wednesday morning found all primary and secondary roads 95 to 100 percent bare and dry. The county roads had no difficulty.

There has been very little sunshine the past week. Some showers were noted last Thursday and early Friday morning. There was a little fine snow Saturday. Tuesday's snow amounted to less than half an inch.

Fire Marshal Checking On Fire Near Gorman

Robert H. Shimer, investigator for the state fire marshal's office, is investigating the 18th suspicious fire in less than five months in Garrett County.

The latest in the series of suspicious fires occurred at the home of Miss Ruby Louise Pennington, about one-half mile west of Gorman on Route 50. The fire was reported at 12:52 a.m. Friday.

The blaze was discovered by Miss Pennington's brother Garry Pennington, Sr., who lives about 50 feet from the house. Miss Pennington works in Washington and occupies the house only once or twice a month.

Mr. Pennington was awakened by what sounded like an explosion. When he saw fire in the windows of his sister's house he called his mother, Mrs. Lucy L. Pennington, who called the fire department.

Firemen from the Gorman Volunteer fire company extinguished the blaze about 15 minutes after arriving at the scene. Mr. Shimer said damage was moderate, with most of the furnishings suffering fire, smoke and water damage.

The investigator said his office has investigated 23 fires in the Garrett County area since July 9, and that 18 of those are of suspicious nature or undetermined cause.

Letter To The Editor

Public schools tend to reflect the society in which they function, not the opposite. Across the United States, society has looked into a mirror and does not like what it has become; so in all social upheavals schools are used as scapegoats for the moral conscience of society.

Irrational behavior by reactionaries tends to obscure the true issues of education and to retard the positive achievements that have been made in public education. Positive changes can be brought about only by rational behavior.

Several Minor Accidents Noted

Several relatively minor accidents occurred around the county the latter part of last week. One person, however, was slightly injured.

Susie M. Liston, Mt. Lake Park, was injured in a two-car mixup in Mt. Lake Park Friday afternoon. She was westbound on Md. 135, as Leonard R. Paugh, Jr., Star Route, Kitzmiller, was headed south on G Street. Paugh pulled into the path of the Liston car causing the collision. Cpl. Ronald Lewis charged Paugh for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Several unusual mishaps were noted, two involving deer.

William A. Vinck, Coal Center, Pa., was driving south on Md. 495 near the Durst road early Saturday morning when a deer ran across the road in front of him. He struck the animal but it disappeared into the woods. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant investigated.

The same thing occurred in the southern part of the county the afternoon before. Thomas K. Martin, Rowlesburg, W. Va., was traveling eastbound on the Ben DeWitt road just east of the Md./W. Va. state line, when a deer jumped into the path of his car. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater investigated.

William H. Russ, Juniata, Pa., in a large oil truck, was slowly moving westbound, up a steep grade on Md. 135 near Lee road about 10 p.m. last Wednesday. Following was David W. Lantz, Star Route 2, Oakland. Lantz was traveling too fast and struck the rear of the heavy truck. Cpl. S. M. Russell charged Lantz with failing to reduce speed.

Robert L. Shaffer, Moundsville, W. Va., was headed east on U. S. 40 near Posey road last Friday evening driving a pick-up, pulling a camper. At that time the right rear tire of the camper blew out. The vehicle then went out of control and struck the guard rail. Trp. J. E. Foley investigated.

The unoccupied car of Josephine Baker Moon, Oak Street, Oakland, was parked on the traveled portion of Second Street in Loch Lynn last Wednesday afternoon. Hazel F. Clary, Mt. Lake Park, attempted to pass the Moon car and struck it. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant placed a charge against each operator. Josephine Moon was charged with parking with a motor vehicle on the traveled portion of a roadway and Hazel Clary was charged with passing on the shoulder.

19 Killed On State Highways

Nineteen persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed, eight were drivers, three were passengers and eight were pedestrians. At least two of the deaths, in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

In four of these 19 accidents, alcohol was a contributing factor. Judging from the erratic pattern (seven crossed the center and nine failed to grant the right of way), the State Police could well suspect alcohol involvement in many more.

Terra Alta VFD Douses Fire In Dunnington Hotel

Terra Alta Volunteer firemen were called to the Dunnington Hotel, Washington street in that town about 7:10 a.m. Tuesday to douse a fire in a ground level apartment bathroom.

Terra Alta brought two trucks and 12 men to the scene and quickly extinguished the blaze. Damage was very slight. The fire is thought to have resulted from paper materials near an electrical outlet, and damage was confined to the ceiling panel adjacent to the light fixture.

Hotel manager Cecil Root reported the fire.

Terra Alta firemen were called Sunday evening to Corinth to answer what turned out to be a false alarm. Someone had phoned that the Corinth school was on fire.

Oakland Raiders Have Awards Program Sunday

Master of ceremonies was Max Messenger, coach, assisted during the program by assistant coaches Bill Deckman, Charlie Grubb, and Jack Rowan, and by business manager Luther Parrack.

The Raiders had a 5 win, one loss record this past season, losing their only game during the playoffs to the league champions, Oakland Jets. The Raiders have won the championship three out of the five years the Youth Football league has been in operation.

A spaghetti banquet prepared by "Master Cook" Charles Kern was served to the 55 parents and friends of the players who attended. There are 23 players on the team.

Westvaco Unions Vote On Contract

Westvaco local unions 675 and 676, United Paperworkers International Union, voted Wednesday on whether to accept a proposal for a new three-year contract with the company.

Local Union members attended informational meetings at Bruce High School Monday night to hear terms of the proposed contract. The action followed three weeks of negotiations between Westvaco officials and representatives of the UPIU, Local 675, Covington, Va., and Local 676, Luke.

Members of Local 676 voted on the proposal Wednesday at the Devon Club in Luke, and ballots will be counted Friday.

A previous three-year contract expired November 17, and UPIU members have been working on a day-to-day basis since.

Westvaco has offered a three-year contract with an immediate 13½ percent wage increase and additional 10 percent wage increases in each of the two succeeding years.

This would increase the beginning wage at Luke to $4.59 per hour in the first year, with the top hourly machine tender wage in the first year set at $7.41. With the annual increases, the beginning wage at Luke in the third year of the contract would be $5.56 per hour and a top machine tender wage of $8.97.

Byron's Budget Bill To Have Hearing Dec. 4

Rep. Goodloe Byron announced recently that several key Maryland legislators and government officials have been invited to appear before an ad hoc committee hearing on legislation which would mandate an annual balanced Federal budget.

Byron, a member of the Democratic Research Organization which will hold the Dec. 4 hearings, is a chief sponsor of the constitutional amendment which would require federal revenues to equal federal expenditures on a fiscal year basis unless a national emergency was declared by the President.

The ad hoc hearings will be chaired by Rep. Richard Ichord (Mo.) and twelve other Democratic members including Congressman Byron. The concept of a balanced Federal budget currently has the support of nearly 100 members of the House.

Maryland witnesses invited to appear will include Sen. James Clark, Jr., Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and State Treasurer William James. U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd, Jr. (Va.) will leadoff the 10:00 a.m. hearings.

Two From Here Attend Revenue Sharing Rally

County Commissioner Don Bender and Mt. Lake Park mayor Elmer Upole were the county delegates joining 1,100 other county officials from across the U.S. in a rally in Washington last Tuesday, November 18, urging speedy renewal of revenue sharing.

Mr. Bender pointed out that revenue sharing accounts for approximately 10 percent of the county budget, which has been set this year at $7,000,000. Most of the local money is used to promote public safety, especially on the roadways in the area. Other revenue sharing is used for public transportation, environmental protection, health and public welfare.

Senators J. Glenn Beall, Jr. and Charles McC. Mathias responded favorably to a continuance of revenue sharing, but Congressman Goodloe Byron stated his opposition to revenue sharing, adding that if local communities want the services provided by revenue sharing they should pay for it themselves.

Sen. Beall is a sponsor of the bill to renew revenue sharing and he is in favor of making it a continuing program, rather than one which has to be re-enacted every five years.

Under the new congressional budget act which goes into effect January 1, no money can be appropriated between January and May 15. Revenue sharing under the current law runs out December 31, 1976 and that is why renewal is important now.

Mr. Bender and Mayor Upole met with Byron's assistant following the rally and stressed the importance of Garrett County's needs. Revenue sharing is the only federal dollar sharing that can be budgeted for locally-determined needs. Revenue sharing is drawn up to return a portion of locally-collected federal income taxes to the people who paid them, based on a formula that considers needs.

Senators Beall and Mathias feel the decision on revenue sharing will not come before next spring.

Plan Offered To Save Historic Bloomington Home

Efforts to save the 110-year-old Borderside Mansion in Bloomington from the wrecking crane have been continuing, with some alternative suggestions recently proposed by the county commissioners and the county planning commission.

The 19-room house, built as a family residence in 1865 by William A. Brydon, coal magnate, prominent citizen, and the first school commissioner of the county in 1872, was recently purchased by Wepco Credit Union, which is located in Westernport.

Prohibitive costs to renovate and maintain the building had caused the new owners to consider possibly razing the structure. Several members of the Board had requested that the building be restored, but no definite decision had been reached by the company.

Word that the building might be razed caused concern in the town, since Borderside, with its Italiantae style and pale pink bricks fired on the grounds, was a landmark of the area. The house had been nominated for the National Register of Historic Places August 27 of this year and was quickly accepted. Confirmation of acceptance was received November 14.

Miss Alice Howard, fifth and sixth grade teacher at Bloomington Elementary, and her students and others at the school wrote letters expressing their concern about the home to the county commissioners, the National Historic Places, and to Wepco.

At a meeting of concerned citizens and organizations from Bloomington with the commissioners on Monday, an alternative plan to razing the structure was suggested. The county may apply for a grant under Housing and Urban Development's block grants. If Wepco is interested in cooperating, the Garrett Development Corporation may purchase the structure, renovate it, and lease it back to Wepco. The exterior would be restored, the interior remodeled to suit the tenants.

A meeting is being planned with Wepco officials to offer the proposal to that company.

The Mansion was formerly occupied by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers during their work at the Bloomington dam, and some office trailers are still located on the grounds. The house was the property of H. G. Muntzing, a court judge from Moorefield, W. Va., prior to being sold to the credit union. Before that, it had always been a private residence, through the third generation of Brydons and several other families.

Asks Help In Study of Quail

Quail hunters are urged to cooperate again this season in the Wildlife Administration's Quail Productivity Study.

Joshua L. Sandt, Upland Program Director, says the wing survey is an important part of Maryland's Quail Management Program. The aging of quail wings helps to determine the adult-juvenile ratio among the state's bobwhite population, an important factor in allowing biologists to assess the condition of that population.

Other information relied upon to help determine the condition of Maryland's quail population are the call counts in the spring and early summer, rainfall and temperature studies during the nesting season and brood observations throughout the summer.

The wing survey is one phase of the study where the hunter's help is vital, however. This year envelopes will be sent to all those who participated in last season's survey and anyone else who wishes to cooperate in the survey this year. If interested, write to the Wildlife Administration, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, Maryland 21401, attention Joshua L. Sandt.

Those who participate in the survey are given self-addressed, postage-paid envelopes that will hold a number of quail wings. They are asked to place all of the right wings from birds shot in one day's hunt in a single envelope and drop it in the mail.

For the dieters among your guests or those who have had their fill of rich foods for the season, serve a nutritious low calorie dip with an assortment of fresh vegetables such as carrots and celery sticks, green pepper slices, raw cauliflower chunks, radishes, broccoli.

Holiday Egg Dip

1½ cups cottage cheese, 8 hard cooked eggs, quartered; 2 teaspoons instant minced onion, 2 Tablespoons parsley flakes, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cayenne, 3 drops hot pepper sauce.

Whip cottage cheese in a blender with enough milk or skim milk to reach dipping consistency. Blend in eggs and spices. Chill until serving time. Makes approximately 3 cups.

If blender is not available, beat cottage cheese with a rotary beater, a whisk or fork. Chop eggs and mix into cottage cheese with rest of ingredients.

Deviled eggs are popular on the buffet table. Individual sized quiche can be made in muffin tins and can use a variety of fillings. The tiniest dab of cream puff dough will bake into a bite sized morsel that can be filled with seafood salad or chicken salad. Tiny silver dollar sized crepes can be filled and kept warm on a hot tray. Have some extra hard cooked eggs to slice, wedge or rice for garnishes on other foods.

Egg Substitutes

Commercial egg substitutes cost twice as much as an egg and contain about twice as much sodium - a serious consideration for salt or sodium restricted diets. For the few people who seriously need a low cholesterol diet, an inexpensive egg substitute can be made at home. Place 3 large egg whites, 2 tablespoons dry skimmed milk and 4 drops of yellow food coloring in a bowl. Blend with a fork. Wipe a pan with vegetable oil and heat. Cook egg substituted mixture as you would commercial mixture.

Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Raines, Baltimore, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, October 21, in St. Agnes Hospital in that city. They have named the child Megan Gwen.

Mrs. Raines is the former Christine Buser, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Buser, Swanton.

Western Maryland Catholic Charities Board Holds Meet

The Advisory Board of Associated Catholic Charities for Western Maryland met November 12 at Midland. Services of this agency is to extend to residents of Garrett County.

The Coordinator, Mrs. Louella McAloose, reported on services presently offered by the Western Maryland Office. Professional counseling services are available to individuals, couples and families in the community as well as information and referral services. A new program expected to begin in December is Home Aid Services to eligible persons 65 and older. In this program, aids are to provide household and minor repair services.

Mrs. McAloose has agreed to consider serving on the Garrett County Committee for Food Stamps. Mrs. McAloose said, despite weaknesses, the food stamp program remains the only current, adequate diet for many persons.

Four Injured In Recent Accident

A recent accident resulted in the injury of four persons and another was injured in a tractor-trailer mishap.

Thomas E. Compton, Smithsburg, operator of one car, was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad and then transferred to the University Medical Center, Morgantown, W. Va., apparently only over night. The driver of the other vehicle, Debra J. Jackson, and her two passengers, James, Jr., and Tabitha Jackson, of Water street, Oakland, were treated and released from the hospital. Comptom, eastbound on Jasper Riley road, failed to keep to the right side of the road and struck the Jackson pick-up. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Compton with failing to keep to the right side of the road in the evening accident of November 11.

Steven Lewis Fuller, Jarrettsville, was slightly injured when his rig went off U.S. 50 at Althouse Hill road and struck an embankment. Tfc. Broadwater made no charges in the evening accident of November 13.

Local Men Retire From Westvaco

Floyd L. Paugh, with over 36 years of service, was a paper finisher at retirement. He began his employment as a laborer in the Outside department. Mr. Paugh was born in Swanton and presently resides in Bloomington.

Eugene M. McRobie had over 34 years of service and was a fork lift truck operator at retirement. He also began his employment in the Outside department as a laborer. Residing now in Elk Garden, he was born in Swanton.

General sessions for the entire Association membership will be conducted all day Thursday, and Friday morning.

Guest speaker at Thursday's luncheon will be the Honorable John Hanson Briscoe, Speaker of the House of Delegates.

Election and installation of the 1976 officers and directors and legislative committee members will take place Friday.

Nancy Sisler Is Preston Memorial Administrator

METEORITE FALL

On March 4, 1975, a meteorite fell about eight kilometers from the town of Goroka, New Guinea. The meteorite sounded like a helicopter or aircraft with engine trouble. Eighteen centimeters (7 inches) across and weighing 7.3 kilograms (16 pounds), the object has been classified as an olivine-bronzite chondrite. It buried itself 50 centimeters in the ground less than 25 meters from a man who was picking coffee.

Last Thursday evening at 9:05 p.m., a fireball illuminated the night sky over Garrett County. It had a white tail which enclosed the orange fireball and inner orange tail. The Sky brightened as if there had been a lightning stroke even though there was a brilliant moon. A fireball is a meteor which falls close to the earth's surface before being vaporized by the heat of friction created as it passes through the atmosphere. Sometimes the fragment will impact on the earth as did the one in New Guinea.

Saturday the moon will be 365,920 kilometers (227,420 miles) from the earth. This perigee is the closest the moon will be to earth during its current revolution around the earth.

New Moon Phase occurs at 7:50 p.m. Tuesday. At this time the moon will be in the same direction from earth as the sun. The sun's brilliance and the lack of light reflected from the moon's side away from the sun will prevent the moon from being seen for several days centered on Tuesday. Moonset ranges from 1:18 this afternoon to 5:47 next Wednesday evening.

Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn remain the visible planets to the unaided eye. Venus continues to dominate the eastern sky for about four hours before sunrise. Mars, growing brighter, is among the stars of Gemini. It rises about two hours after sunset. Jupiter is high in the sky at sunset among the stars of Pisces. Saturn rises before midnight with the stars of Cancer.

Mercury is on the other side of the sun from the earth on Friday at 4:00 p.m. This is called a superior conjunction of Mercury and the sun. Tuesday finds Mercury 69.7 million kilometers (43.3 million miles) from the sun. This aphelion is the greatest distance Mercury moves from the sun. Although not visible this week, Mercury does present some interesting events.

Venus is at its closest distance from the sun on Wednesday. It is only 107.4 million kilometers (66.7 million miles) from the sun at this perihelion.

Eight minutes of daylight are lost this week. Sunrise was at 7:14 a.m. this morning. Sunset will follow nine hours, forty-two minutes later at 4:56 p.m. Wednesday the sun will rise at 7:20 a.m., and set at 4:54 p.m.

B.P.W. Planning Christmas Bazaar

A Christmas Bazaar will be the highlight of the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's meeting next Thursday, December 4, at 6:30 p.m. in the Sitzmark Room, Will o' the Wisp.

Members are to make or bake a gift to be auctioned off. Mrs. Barbara Flinn is in charge of the program for that meeting.

Whittle Will Not Address Pilots' Group

The president of the Garrett County Pilots' Association has received word that William A. Whittle, chief of the Washington Airports division, Federal Aviation Administration, will be unable to attend the pilots' meeting at the Armory Wednesday, November 26.

The regular meeting will be held as scheduled, with educational films from the FAA to be shown.

Mr. Whittle will speak to the group at a later date.

Plan Christmas Party

The Woodmen Ranger Unit No. 128 and the Rangerettes met Saturday morning to plan their annual Christmas party for Sunday, December 14, from 2 to 4 o'clock. There were 15 members and four adults present.

All Woodmen children are welcome. The Rangers and Rangerettes are planning the program for parents and friends, and will also present this program at the Goodwill Mennonite Home in December.

Births Announced

Tfc. and Mrs. Gary A. Berkebile, Grantsville, announce the birth of a daughter Friday, November 21, in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sines became the parents of a son November 4, in Meyersdale Community Hospital.

Brief Items

The Christmas program will be presented on Sunday, December 21, at the Maranatha Assembly of God Church by the children and youth. Rev. William Ferguson is the pastor.

A carry-in dinner and program were given at the Maple Grove Church on Sunday honoring the Golden Age Fellowship. Those honored were Vena Beachy, Ruth Dietle, Leafy Ohler, Alvin Shumaker, Loy and Jessie Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Folk. Mrs. Ada Bowser was unable to attend, and Mrs. Oma Beachy is living with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Shallis, in Astor, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Spessard, Annandale, Va., were weekend guests of the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Younkin. They all visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowser at Accident, and Mr. and Mrs. George Bowser near Bittinger, and later ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wable.

Mrs. Vena Beachy spent Saturday with Miss Elizabeth Yost, Somerset, Pa.

Couple Loses Bid To Halt Limestone Quarry

A Shadyside couple lost a two-year court battle to prevent the operation of a limestone quarry adjacent to their Garrett County property on Monday.

The Maryland Court of Appeals in a unanimous decision ruled that Robert and Phyllis Leatherbury, owners of the 80-acre property, had failed to seek all administrative remedies before taking court action.

The Leatherburys, in their court appeals, sought an injunction against the limestone operation on the 33-acre tract of land owned by Gaylord Fuel Corporation of Virginia, on the basis that it would constitute a nuisance.

The fuel company, operating the limestone quarry as Gaylord Stone Corporation, obtained a grading permit from the county government on November 16, 1973, to remove the soil for open-face mining.

Two weeks later the company had applied for a permit from the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's Bureau of Air Quality Control to install limestone crushing and air pollution control equipment. That was granted December 3, 1973.

On January 2, 1974, after the Leatherburys became aware of the permit, they filed suit in Garrett County Circuit Court against the fuel company and the health department to have the permit reversed.

The couple claimed that no public notice of the department's action was given and that the permit did not provide sufficient information.

In addition, the Leatherburys filed at the same time a separate suit requesting an injunction against the operation of the quarry on the basis that it was a nuisance.

Mr. Leatherbury, a deep well driller with a business in Anne Arundel county, uses his Garrett property for raising race horses. He alleged that the limestone dust would be "carried by natural air currents to their land," destroying vegetation and killing fish in the streams and ponds, mar the appearance and utility of their property, affect their health and cause excessive noise.

However, the courts said that they felt the Leatherburys' actions to be "premature," stating that the "mere anticipation or possibility of an injury is no basis for the granting of an injunction."

"The Leatherburys do not contend that the operation of a stone quarry may not, under proper circumstances, be conducted so as not to constitute a nuisance," Judge John C. Eldridge, of the Court of Appeals, wrote in his 16-page opinion.

Oakland Attorney William W. Grant represented the Leatherburys; W. Dwight Stover, Oakland, and James A. Averett, Cumberland, the Gaylord Fuel Corporation; and Martin Ferris, Assistant Attorney General, the Department of Health.

Bradley Manor Parents Group Meets Nov. 20

Present were Ramona Rhodes, secretary; Debbie Friend, Gail Crosco, Alice Chapman, Martha Lewis, Gladys Stewart, Dorothy James, Dorothee Bittinger, Richard Beeman, and Ann Beeman. Staff members present in addition to Mrs. Wright were Louise Harvey and Mabel Jones.

Mrs. Patti Wright, project director, presented a workshop on "Child Discipline." It was noted that a total of 413 hours were donated by volunteers at the Center during October.

A social hour followed, with parent discussion. The next meeting is scheduled December 11 at 6:30 at the Center. Dr. William Pope, county health officer, will conduct a workshop on health at the January 15 meeting.

AAUW Planning Discussion Of Rosenberg Report

The Garrett Branch of the American Association of University Women is presenting a panel discussion on the Rosenberg Report December 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Southern High School Library. The public is invited to attend and to ask questions following the analysis of the contents of this report released by the Governor's Commission on Education.

Participating on the panel will be one of the members of the Governor's Commission, Fred H. Spigler, Jr. He will explain how the twenty-seven member commission determined their recommendations and briefly summarize the contents of the report.

On hand to offer their official responses to the Rosenberg Report will be Dr. Alfred O'Connell, president of Garrett Community College; Dr. William H. Buser, superintendent of Garrett County Schools; William Goldsborough, member of the Maryland State Board of Education; and Mrs. Gordon W. Prang, legislative chairman of the Maryland Division of AAUW. Mrs. Herbert S. Lambert, Jr., will serve as moderator.

The Rosenberg Report proposes vast changes in the structure and governance of education in Maryland from kindergarten through higher education, and is the end result of a special commission appointed by Gov. Marvin Mandel in 1973.

The commission's findings were published in May 1975 and have come to be called the Rosenberg Report, so named after the chairman of the commission.

Mr. Spigler will explain the contents of the report. Following the explanations made by members of the panel, there will be time for a question and answer session with audience participation.

The 1976 General Assembly will act on this report, hence the series of meetings throughout the state to inform the public. The Garrett Branch of AAUW is sponsoring this panel discussion as a public service to the community so that citizens can hear the suggestions and let legislators know whether they feel that the recommendations should be enacted into law, or should be modified or changed completely.

RECEIVES 50-YEAR PIN AND CERTIFICATE — Mrs. Louise Selby, right, was presented a fifty-year membership pin and certificate at the regular meeting of Oakland Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star, recently. Making the presentation was Mrs. Emajane Marks, worthy matron of the order.

Accidents Send Several Persons To Hospital

Several persons were taken to hospitals following accidents in the northern part of the county last week.

Margaret Elaine Ross, Friendsville, was taken to the Meyersdale (Pa.) Community Hospital following a two-vehicle wreck on the Accident-Bear Creek road about 1.6 miles west of the Everly road just past noon November 15. She failed to keep to the right side of the road and struck the truck driven by Charles E. Schlieper, also of Friendsville. She was charged by Tpr. R. C. George with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

Darlene Frances Rea, operator, and James W. Rea, both of Frostburg, were taken to Sacred Heart Hospital in a one-car mishap on the Avilton-Lonaconing road just past midnight November 17. She was southbound on the Avilton-Lonaconing road about a half mile north of Swamp road when she stated she hit the brakes and pulled hard to the left. This caused her to lose control, run off the roadway, down an embankment and strike two trees. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated.

James Melvin Fike, Addison, Pa., according to police records, was intentionally trying to run the car driven by William Franck, White Plains, off the Friendsville-Addison road the afternoon of November 15, near Mill Run road. Fike attempted to pass Franck on the right and struck the right rear fender. Tpr. George charged Fike on two counts, negligent driving and passing on the shoulder of the road.

George Irvin Klink, Jr., Youngstown, Ohio, was following a car driven by Wilda Mae Hoover, RD 2, Frostburg, along U.S. 219, north, about a mile and a half north of U.S. 40 last Monday afternoon. Wilda Hoover slowed down but Klink was unable to do so and struck the rear of the Hoover car. Tpr. George charged Klink on two counts, failing to reduce speed and failing to comply with the Md. Road Fuel Tax law.

My Susan took part in the Thanksgiving pageant at church school. Of course, I made her pilgrim costume. Later, as I watched her singing, she looked just like the pictures I have seen of pilgrim children. I felt a lump in my throat and had a real sense of identity with those men, women and children who long ago withstood the hardships of life in a new and alien world.

These immigrants weren't superhuman; they were people just like you and me. They had the courage to believe in a new life — a new country. They believed their ultimate struggle would lead to the freedom they so fervently sought.

Over three and a half centuries have passed. The foundation the pilgrim fathers laid for us seems to be shaking beneath our feet, and even our faith wavers.

But, reconsider. We owe it to those pilgrims as well as to ourselves to reaffirm our belief in God and in our country. And what better way than in your church — this Thanksgiving?

Insurance FACTS

It is a harsh fact in today's world that if there is liability in an accident, and the injury is serious, the verdict of the courts can be such as to bring financial ruin to an individual or a business that does not have adequate insurance coverage. Moreover, in today's world, it even requires a substantial sum of money to prove there is no liability when a claim is made that is groundless. It turns out that courts are taking judicial notice of dollar depreciation and verdicts that would have been considered excessive settlements in the past may no longer seem sufficient to compensate an injured person. Is your coverage up to date? More than ever that would seem essential.

GONDER INSURANCE AGENCY, 203-205 South 2nd St., Oakland, 334-3343, handles every type of insurance — personal lines to commercial insurance. We will get you the most for your insurance dollar so be sure and insure — insure with GONDER INSURANCE AGENCY. BUT GOD MEANT IT FOR GOOD!

Lesson for November 30, 1975

Background Scripture: Genesis 45; 50:14-26
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 2:11-22

Who's responsible for the trouble I'm in?

That is a question people have been asking from the beginning of time. Some people answer it with an accusing finger pointed at someone else. Some—a smaller number, to be sure!—point the accusing finger at themselves. Still others see God as responsible, or "fate," or "the universe" (which certainly spreads the guilt around a bit).

Rev. Althouse

So where does the responsibility lie?

For God sent me

In Joseph's case, there is a shared responsibility. Joseph must bear at least some of it. As a youth he was arrogant and haughty to his brothers. He had flaunted his favorite status before his brothers and goaded their jealousy.

Then there was Israel, his father. Surely he must bear some responsibility, for he openly displayed his preference for Joseph and Joseph's mother. He certainly was undiplomatic and he helped to sow the seeds of bitterness among his sons.

Yet, though Joseph and Israel both contributed to this situation, the brothers must certainly bear the largest share of responsibility. Though Joseph was arrogant, though Israel was unwise, nevertheless, there was still no justification for what they did to Joseph.

So, his brothers had good reason to fear Joseph and feel conscience-stricken. In fact, so pervasive was this guilt and fear that, even though Joseph assured them that he held no malice, when Israel died they began to fear for their lives once again. They thought that Joseph may have desisted from punishing them for the sake of their father.

Seeking to use the influence of their dead father, they come to Joseph with the story that, before he died, Israel had instructed them to tell Joseph to forgive them. Yet, there is also sincerity, for they say to Joseph: "...we pray you, forgive the transgression of the servants of the God of your father" (a little name-dropping here) (50:17b).

You meant evil, but....

Joseph's response seems to indicate that they are not responsible for their evil intentions against him many years ago. "As for you, you meant evil against me; but God meant it for good, to bring it about that many people should be kept alive..." (50:20)

Is that what Joseph means: that despite their evil intentions, their violent act was sanctified by God's purpose of which they were ignorant?

I think not, for this would be utterly contrary to the normative Biblical approach to sin. What, then, does it mean?

It means, I am convinced, that although man intends evil in many of his acts, God can use even his evil acts to work out his purpose. Man alone is responsible for the evil, but God has the power to bring good out of the evil.

So the responsibility rested upon Joseph, Israel, and his brothers. God was in no way a party to this evil. Men alone must bear that responsibility.

Yet, despite their evil intentions, God was able to bring about his own purpose. So it is in our lives: though we alone are responsible for the evil we do, still God can redeem both us and our disobedient acts.

LET'S ALL GIVE THANKS

Many years ago the first settlers on this continent joined with the native Indians to give their thanks for the harvest of food which they shared. They also gave thanks for just being alive although disease and lack of medicines were common occurrences.

Today, most of the diseases that were prevalent at that time have been conquered and it would certainly be appropriate as we continue the tradition of Thanksgiving to express our gratitude for the good health we enjoy. It would also be appropriate for us to express our thanks to all of you for giving us the opportunity and responsibility of taking care of your pharmacy needs.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Accident Youth In National 4-H Photo Exhibit

A photograph by Barry W. Glotfelty, Accident, has been chosen to represent Maryland in the second annual National 4-H Photo Exhibit sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company.

Made up of no more than 4 pictures from each state, the exhibit will first be shown at the annual 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 - Dec. 4, and will later be on display at the National 4-H Center and U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington D.C.

The 16-year-old 4-H'er, in commenting on his picture, entitled, "Unfrequented Doorknob," said, "I took the photograph while studying at the Maryland Center for the Arts this summer. I saw the doorknob in one of the old buildings on campus at Emmitsburg and decided it would make a good picture. I had to open window shades in order to obtain the reflection on the doorknob. Photography is a creative outlet for me and gives me a sense of accomplishment."

Exhibit photos have been selected by the cooperative extension service in each state on the basis of county and state fair submissions. Kodak has printed and mounted photos for display, affixing a seal of recognition, and will present each 4-H'er represented with an enlarged print of his or her picture with seal.

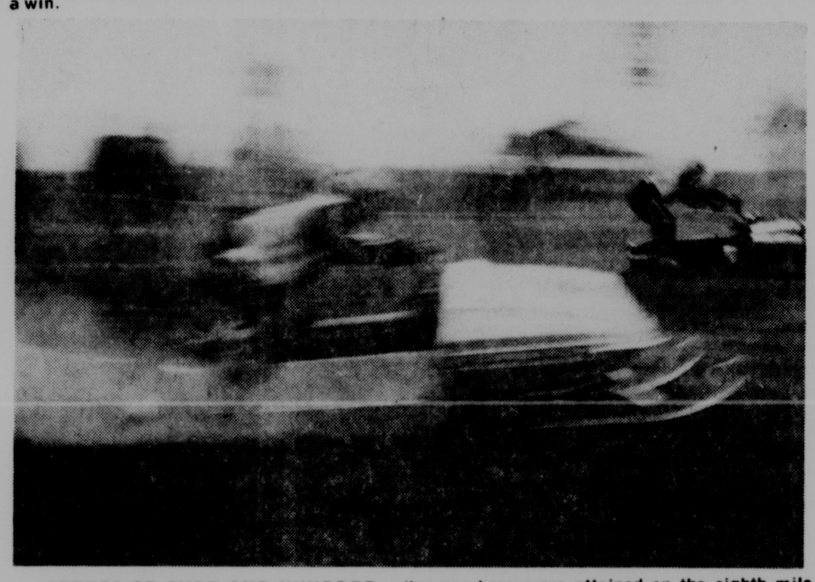
SOME SLEDS ARE AIRBORNE on takeoff, especially during the super modified and 650 cc classes at the snowmobile drag races held at McHenry Saturday by the Southern Garrett Jaycees. One machine in a previous class stood straight up on takeoff, not the best position for a win.



SPEEDS OF OVER ONE HUNDRED miles per hour were attained on the eighth mile track Saturday by the hepped-up super modified 650 cc snowmobiles in the races. The fastest sleds in the competition were nothing but an earsplitting blur on takeoff.

50 Snowmobiles Compete In Drag Races Saturday

Over 50 snowmobiles were entered in Saturday's snowmobile drag races sponsored by the Southern Garrett County Jaycees organization. The events were held at the county fairgrounds, McHenry.

Enthusiasts from the tri-state area were present as the sleds competed on the one-eighth mile course, running on frozen, snowless ground. Speeds of over 100 miles per hour were clocked on the fastest sleds in the competition, the 650 cc's.

Bill Kovatch, Fayette City, Pa., super stock 401-440; Denver Ulery, liquid cooled 296-340; Ken Sisler, Oakland, liquid cooled 341-440; Elwood Shaulis, Somerset, modified 296-340; Barry Puskar, Latrobe, Pa., modified 341-440; Elwood Shaulis, Somerset, Pa., modified 441-650.

The Jaycees also sponsored a dance that evening at the Wisp. The group is making plans to sponsor a second snowmobile drag race event this winter.

Quilt Marketing Very Successful

The recent out-of-season marketing effort for local handmade quilts held at Hutzler's in Baltimore earlier this month proved very successful, according to Ivan Rowe, coordinator of the event.

According to Mr. Rowe, approximately one-half of the 100 quilts made by local women and taken to the marketing event in Hutzler's were sold.

Mr. Rowe and his wife Ginny, who have five years' experience in marketing quilts, have compiled a list of suggestions to improve marketability of locally-made quilts.

First, they suggest, minimum measurements should be 51 by 93 inches for twin sizes; 66 by 93 inches for doubles; 72 by 98 inches for queen, and 88 by 98 inches for king sizes.

He advises that buyers seem to prefer cotton fabric with dacron filling over the polyester or rayon materials.

Designs should follow traditional patterns, especially with the Bicentennial year coming up. Patterns may be researched at the Ruth Enlow Library.

Colors used in the quilts should complement each other, and should be chosen to fit any decor.

Mr. Rowe noted that customer reaction was not nearly so favorable for polyester quilts or those with painted materials as for regular, cotton products.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe plan to send a letter to all who participated in this second out-of-season marketing effort, advising them of suggested guidelines for their handiwork. A third marketing effort is planned for Baltimore next May.

That Office Girl

Yeah, I remember her. You mean that brown-haired girl, usta sit over there most o' the day and hardly move . . . Name was Patsy. That's right, Patsy.

Wllsur, she was sort of a funny kind, if you know what I mean, usta stand by my desk each time and wait, and usually said "Pardon me" before she asked a question, as if anybody in this office has bothered with words like that for the last 15 years that I been here. But she seemed to do that with everybody, and I heard her telling one guy that she hated to take his time, if he would only "give an indication" of where to look for a paper.

And did she have trouble with the time clock! At least once a week she came puffing into this room with her time card in her hand, asking our personnel director if she could mark the card "in someone's presence" just to be honest about it, as she had forgotten to punch out yesterday. Or some days she'd have someone else's card in her hand to "honestly tell you" (the personnel director) that she had punched this card by mistake.

But this wasn't all. One morning she nearly collided with the marketing manager as she scurried up the steps, almost in a dogtrot. When they almost ran together, she explained between heavy breathing, "I always try to go up these just as fast as I can because everybody medical says that this is the best exercise for your heart." That manager never forgot her, you can bet and the other office girls learned to follow her instead of getting in ahead of her, or she'd push them up, too.

Just to show you, one of our girls remarked one day that she'd like to have a plant that would bloom and just go on growing without much care. In the next coupla days, in came Patsy with a big can and two little green plants stickin' out of it. "Here you are," she said, and grinned all over. "These are petunias, and you undoubtedly can grow them, because they flourish by themselves." Just think of that silliness, carrying the whole can into the office when you could buy a whole tray of petunias for 59 cents, right up here at that farmer's market."

But the best story is that about the end of June, Patsy came in and had in her hand a tin can wrapped in silver foil, with a bunch of what we later heard her say was a rowdodren, or a name somethin' like that. We found out later that she plopped it on the desk of one of our project men, but of course nobody saw her. He came in to tell her thank you very quickly, but you can bet he was plenty embarrassed. Funny, though, after she quit working here, he came in one day and asked why she wasn't at her desk. "She quit," somebody called out, and he said, sort of downcast, "Gosh, I think she meant well, and she worked hard. She always smiled at you when you came in this door."

But somebody like that is kinda off, you know. I never would say everbody has to be like everybody else, but that woman just sorta stuck out all around in this crowd. It was nothing to see her reading a big fat book of poems while she munched her homemade sandwich of cheese — always cheese, as she explained, because it has special value as a dairy product when you don't like lunch meat. Well, that was Patsy, that kooky office girl. We've never had another one quite like her, I'll tell ya. Course, I didn't talk to her very much, only about the news. I believe in mindin' my own business.

The first American ice skater of renown was the famous painter Benjamin West, who, on going to London, displayed there the "Philadelphia style." It was in Philadelphia also that American's first skating club was formed in 1849.

Five Juvenile cases were heard by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., last Wednesday, three males and two females.

A 16-year-old female was found to be in need of supervision by running away from home and refusing to return. She was committed to the custody of Juvenile Services Administration until released by due process of the law for the purpose of finding a suitable foster home.

A 14-year-old female and two 13-year-old males were found to be delinquent because of breaking and entering and larceny of $156. Judgment was stayed and they were placed on probation for an undetermined period and to make restitution of $20. This case was noted among the State Police reports last week.

A 16-year-old male was found to be delinquent by escaping from the Backbone Mountain Forestry camp. Judge Hamill denied a waiver of the case to Criminal Court. The youth was then committed to the Maryland Children's Center for 21 days.

AUDITOR'S STATEMENT

We have examined the statement of receipts collected and expenses disbursed and related cash accounts of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1975. We converted the accounts from a cash basis to an accrual basis for statement purposes. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits fairly present the Garrett County Board of Education's position at June 30, 1975 and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education for the year then ended on an accrual basis.

Respectfully submitted,
(SGD.) George McLaughlin
Certified Public Accountant

Road Salt Use Analyzed Further

In my article last week I analyzed the properties of road salt and some of its effects when it is used for snow removal. Here are some further observations: Gordon K. Douglass.

Ice and snow will gradually evaporate even at very low temperatures, changing from solid to vapor without first melting, by a process known as volatilization. Pure snow melts and evaporates readily, remains soft and is easlily plowed. This is not the case with salted snow to the same degree. The salt, being hygroscopic, retains moisture and keeps the snow wet, inhibiting evaporation. Wet snow packs down into ice and, being wet, is a great deal more slippery than dry snow. Even when the salted snow finally does melt the pavement tends to remain wet, slippery and hazardous because of the salt film which is left.

Here at home, North Second St. has provided an interesting comparison. The practice has been to plow the snow from the upper two blocks above Crook St. but not to salt it because most traffic goes up or down Crook. Crook St. and lower Second St. have been plowed and regularly salted. After storm after storm the upper blocks soon would be bare and dry, while the lower blocks where salt was used would sometimes become more and more deeply packed with frozen slush. Then, with the coming of a warm spell, in spots the salt would finally eat its way down to the pavement, producing the spring-breaking pot holes we all remember.

Salt is a penetrant. The brine works its way down into cracks and fissures in the pavement. Then, with a sharp drop in temperature it freezes and breaks the pavement. You will notice how, soon after our first severe snowstorm, the streets will start to break and the patches will come out producing chuck holes. Notice, too, how in so many places the black top pavement has become brittle and granulated, how even concrete pavement chips and spalls from the action of the salt. All of this requires expensive and extensive road repairs the next year.

And do I need to mention the corrosive action of salt on our automobiles and trucks with body panels sometimes rusting through in only a year or two? How much does it cost to repair the damage, how much does the dealer have to take off on a trade-in to allow for repairs? Does it cost each of us $100 per year? $200 per year? How much for the privilege?

My experience over fifty years of driving in northern states, some with salting and some without, leads me to believe that far from being a cure-all, the use of salt very often makes conditions worse; and that instead of salting it would be better to plow off the snow and let nature do the rest, saving salt for use only as a last resource.

Capitol Comment

by
Sen. Charles McC. Mathias

New evidence of abuses against the rights of the American people has been revealed in hearings of the Senate Select Committee to study Intelligence. One of the stories that has unfolded involves the late Rev. Martin Luther King.

We all remember Dr. King's career as one of the leaders of our generation in America, with his dream of a color-free society and his demonstration that there can, in fact, be change without violence.

It should be said that the F.B.I. began to fear that Dr. King's influence and his growing power to persuade people to his point of view, was related to people of whom the F.B.I. disapproved. Testimony in our hearings showed that the fear of his influence was followed by a conscious and deliberate effort to undermine Dr. King. This took place even though there was never any indication that Dr. King was engaged in criminal activities which would normally be the only excuse for any investigation at all.

It was not merely the F.B.I., but also the highest officials in the Department of Justice who, if not authorizing, were at least condoning the snooping and harassment which is now revealed, to the shock of every American who loves liberty and who believes that the Constitution is still the law of the land.

Dr. King's home was wiretapped. He was surveyed and "bugged" as he moved around the country preaching and talking to thousands of people. There was no aspect of his daily rounds that was not subject to the prying eye of government. Information gathered from these efforts was then quietly, stealthily spread around, with an eye toward undercutting his effectiveness. Then, in a still further step, false letters were concocted and sent to him.

If government is allowed to do this to a Martin Luther King, it will be allowed to do it to you or me, or anyone who happens to get on the wrong side of powerful government officials. The shocking program of vilification of a private, law-abiding citizen must be condemned by every American, including those who did not agree with his views just as much as those who did.

The revelations of the F.B.I. program against Martin Luther King show the need for clear and effective prohibition of the kind of abuse of power we now know has taken place. We must show our repugnance in terms that make it clear that the American people will not tolerate such things any more.

School Building Programs Reviewed By County Board

The Board of Education, at its regular meeting November 13, approved a second set of schematic drawings for the Dennett Road school renovation. An appeal was made by the local board to the Board of Public Works of the Interagency Committee's decision to not accept the first set of drawings approved by the local board. The board also asked the architectural firm of Bushey-Burrey, Hagerstown, to make every effort to have schematic approval and design development approval by January 1, 1976.

In other building program matters Dr. Jerome J. Ryscavage, assistant superintendent in administrative services, indicated that most of the funds available to provide for certain items in the building program not covered by State funding had been nearly depleted. Dr. William H. Buser, county superintendent, indicated that when such funds are depleted request would need to be made directly to the county commissioners for approval of such funds.

Dr. Ryscavage reported that the Friendsville elementary school project was moving nearly on schedule. He expressed concern that the town sewer system would not be ready at the time the building is completed. He also indicated that the Southern High site work was nearing completion and would be accepted by the board once all work was completed to their satisfaction.

Board members received copies of the special education five-year plan along with a verbal progress by Mrs. Sarah Wilson, coordinator of special education, and a report on the ninth grade physical education program from the physical education supervisor, Richard Travis. Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent in instruction and curriculum, discussed with the board procedures that are being used to consider improvements in high school scheduling and programming prior to the high schools running their first computer schedule.

Herbert Harman, board president, asked that the staff study carefully and report back to the board causes and remedies for apparent lower achievement on standardized tests of students in upper grades.

Exercise in Futility . . .

To change the school board from one that's appointed to one that's elected should require of the county voters a good hard look at what's gone before, what's happening today, and whether or not the change will really solve problems or create a host of new ones tomorrow.

Those who expect that with a change the millennium also will arrive simply haven't done their homework. The limits of board activity are pretty well cut and dried, circumscribed by law into a rather narrow field. These limits are precisely the same for an elected board as they are for an appointed board.

Cost is another factor. Instead of costing county taxpayers $1000 for the five members who now serve by appointment, an elected board will cost $4,200 for precisely the same service.

The non-partisan aspect is certainly commendable and good in theory, but in practicality, in a county weighed more heavily toward one party than the other, the minority affiliate invariably will have a harder row to hoe.

We can appreciate Delegate Bolden's efforts in bringing such a measure to referendum. This is precisely where it belongs, if it has to belong at all.

Lodge 40 Plans Benefit Dance For Eddie Spatero

The Lodge will hold the dance at Clarysville Inn at 9:30 p.m. A donation of $5.00 per couple is asked, and members are also requested to bring a Christmas card and $1 donation for Eddie.

Ten-year-old Eddie was severely burned October 6, the day his deceased mother would have been 33, and has been a patient in Baltimore City Hospital Intensive Care burn unit since that time.

Deer Harvest Hits High of 539

The first four days of buck season proved to be quite prosperous as some 539 bucks were slain in Garrett County by Tuesday evening. This total is well ahead of the same period the past two years. Last year 408 were slain and in 1973, 466 harvested the first four days.

As usual the heaviest kill was on Saturday, the first day of the season. As of Tuesday evening Paul's Mt. Top Tire had checked in 135, Johnny's Bait House, 80; Walt's, 87; Hetz's, 202, and Savage River Inn, 35.

Sandy McClintock, Cove, registered the largest buck in the county thus far. It was a 183-lb. eight-pointer, checked in at Hetz's. Jack Thomas, Oakland, had a 175-lb, eight-pointer and Mark Hisinski, Silver Spring, a 138-lb fourteen point. Alice Holtschneider, Deer Park, bagged a 155-lb. nine point, Timothy Yommer, Oakland, a 167-lb eight-point, and Chester Yoder, Bittinger, checked in a 165-lb, eleven-point.

The season will continue through today, Friday and Saturday.

Firemen Elect

The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department elected officers for 1976 at its regular meeting held last evening.

New line officers included Allen Murray, Chief; Milton Fike, first assistant chief; Buz Updyke, second assistant chief, and Harry Beeghly, captain.

MAGIC MOMENT — Paula Bentley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie R. Bentley, Sunnyside, cautiously met her first celebrity and came away feeling good about the whole encounter at Monday night's parade through downtown Oakland. Southern High's senior and junior bands and fire trucks from McHenry, Deer Park, and Oakland, plus Oakland Jaycees, paved the way for Santa and his sleigh.

Wayne Lewis Is Local Poster Child

Wayne Lewis, age five, has been named the Garrett County poster child for the March of Dimes campaign against birth defects. Wayne is the first poster child in the history of the local chapter. He lives with his family in Crellin.

Wayne, who was born with Spinabifida, will do his part in urging support for the March of Dimes drive against birth defects, the nation's number one child health problem, says Mrs. Verna Harvey, local March of Dimes chapter president.

The Garrett County Chapter will hold the annual Mothers March Kick-off dinner Tuesday, December 9, at 6:30 p.m. in the Allegheny Room of Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy. Jack Freeburger, March of Dimes field representative for this area, will present a program, and a movie is planned.

The Mothers' March is an annual campaign in which local women go from door to door distributing March of Dimes educational material and seeking contributions. Other events this year will include a walk-a-thon, a bike-a-thon, and a demolition derby.

Attending the dinner will be Wayne Lewis, the poster child, along with the local volunteers. Anyone interested in volunteering for the march or to help in other ways may contact Mrs. Harvey. Reservations to attend the dinner should be made with Mrs. Harvey by Friday, December 5.

Wayne, a student at Oak Park Headstart in Oakland, where ten percent of the enrollment is handicapped, represents more than 200,000 youngsters born each year with a birth defect. The March of Dimes organization hopes to reduce that number by providing improved medical care for mothers and infants, public health education for adolescents, and community service programs, in addition to supporting research projects at institutions across the country.

County Voters May Decide On Elected School Board Next May

Garrett County voters may have an opportunity to decide by referendum next May whether or not they want an elected school board.

Legislators DeCorsey E. Bolden and Edward J. Mason have apparently worked out details for a bill which will be introduced by Delegate Bolden on January 14, the first day of the 1976 General Assembly session. The new measure follows a school board bill introduced last session by Delegate Bolden. However, that bill was shelved by the delegate after he and Sen. Mason could not come to immediate agreement on its contents.

Chief provisions on the new measure will be:

—A referendum on the elected school board question in the May primary.

—If the voters approve the change, the Garrett school board will have three elected members after the 1976 general election in November, and two others in the general election of 1978.

—Each of the five elected members will serve for four-year terms and will receive $60 per meeting, or a maximum of $840 a year for 14 meetings. Members will also receive expense money.

—Each of the county's three county commissioner voting districts will have one member, while the other two members will be elected at large. All of the candidates will run in non-partisan races.

Delegate Bolden said Monday that the first three members to be elected next November would come from each of the three county commissioner districts and will replace the three members on the current five-member appointed board whose terms are due to expire first.

Following that, the remaining two appointed school board members would be replaced by two elected representatives who the voters would choose in the general election of 1978.

The delegate said that he and Sen. Mason felt that by phasing-in the board they believe the school board's continuity will continue and that the transition from an appointed to an elected board would be more smooth.

He said the measure appears to have widespread support in the county, with a substantial number of constituents voicing support for having an elected board.

One provision of the new bill is that any candidate wanting to file for the school board election must first produce a petition with signatures of at least 100 registered voters to the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

Swift passage of the new bill is expected from the legislature since the county's two legislators are in agreement on the bill. The measure will be an "emergency" bill, meaning that it will become law as soon as the governor signs it. In that fashion, the legislation will take effect in time for the May primary.

Aging Comm. Starts Drive To Buy Building

A building fund drive has been started by the Garrett County Commission on Aging, to purchase the former Orange Crush Bottling plant adjacent to the municipal parking lot in Oakland.

An account has been started at the First National Bank of Oakland for contributions from individuals and groups to pay off a $29,000 debt for the plant.

Robert C. Ford, president of the Commission on Aging, and W. Dale Ellis, director of Senior Citizens programs for the county, initiated the fund drive because currently there is no central meeting place for the elderly to discuss their problems and enjoy fellowship with others their age.

A lounge would be provided in the building as a waiting area for the Garrett Bus System which is also expected to locate its main offices in the facility.

Contributions may be mailed to the Oakland office of the bank or taken to the main office. Ford and Ellis indicated that contributions would be returned to the contributors if the 120-day option fails to materialize. Donations are tax deductible.

Other uses of the building, as told by Ford and Ellis, would be for a hot meals center, an information and referral center and a hall for recreation and social activities as well as meeting rooms for retired and aged groups.

Several fund raising activities are in the planning stage.

Support for the purchase of the building has been offered by the local chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons and the Garrett County Retired Teachers' Association.

Members of the Commission on Aging in addition to Ford are Mildred Peterson, vice president; Charles Briner, secretary-treasurer; and B. O. Aiken, Merle Frantz, Robert Shaffer, Dixie Wilson and Fran Yoder. Mae Caruthers recently resigned.

Both Ford and Ellis indicated that they are available to speak to any organization about the plans for the center.

Bids Sought For Savage River Span

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners is seeking qualified bidders for a new bridge to be built on the Savage River Road over Savage River.

The new bridge will have three spans with continuous steel beams and a composite concrete deck. It will be approximately 240 feet long with spans of 75, 90 and 75 feet.

The old Savage River Bridge was closed about a year and a half ago due to hazardous and deteriorating conditions. The Garrett County Roads Department has placed a temporary bridge with five seven-foot pipes in the stream to handle the traffic.

The Savage River Road crosses the river about one-half mile downstream from the Savage River Dam and connects Savage River and New Germany State Park area with Westernport and Luke.

Herbert McCrobie, chief of engineering for the roads department, notes that the road is used mostly by employes of the Westvaco Mill in Luke but points out that a traffic survey taken two years ago showed a substantial increase of usage in the summer months due to tourists.

W. K. Dean and Associates of Bel Air are the consulting engineers for the project and have estimated costs at slightly over $398,000.

Bids will be accepted at the office of the county commissioners in the Court House, Oakland, until December 16 at 9:30 a.m., at which time they will be opened and read.

Plan and proposal forms may be obtained from the Garrett County Roads Department and a non-refundable charge of $25 will be made.

The commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Wheelchair Hunter Claims A Trophy

Not even confinement to a wheelchair can stop a man who loves to hunt, and Ray Allen Funk's ambition to kill a buck was satisfied November 24 when his efforts were rewarded with a four point, 140-pound buck.

A Terra Alta resident who is paralyzed from the waist down, Mr. Funk sat in his wheelchair along the roadside on the Roy Whitehair farm near Cranesville hoping a deer would come along. One did, he shot it and then blew a triumphant note on the car horn nearby so his brothers could come help load the deer.

Mr. Funk was injured in a car accident August 5 1972 on the Hopemont curve, and has been confined to a wheelchair ever since. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Funk, Terra Alta, and resides with his brother on Route 2, Terra Alta.

An Army veteran with 14 months service in Vietnam, he is graduate of Terra Alta High school. Between hunting seasons, he spends his time reading, fishing, watching television, swimming, and . . . waiting for the next hunting season.

Water Plant At Broadford Is Damaged

Estimates of damage were still being made this morning at the Broadford water treatment plant after a valve failed, flooding the basement with about 12 feet of water.

Spokesman for the Oakland Water Co. said that a number of high service pumps and electronic equipment were inundated and until they dry out to see whether or not they will operate, damage could not be estimated accurately.

The treatment plant supplies water for Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Loch Lynn, and Bausch and Lomb. The spokesman state that B&L has at least a 2-day supply of water on hand for operations. The towns will probably be unaffected because of alternate sources.

Two new members were inducted into the Alpha Alpha Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at the fall meeting November 22.

Mrs. Carolyn Miller and Mrs. Jeanne Whitehair were initiated at the luncheon meeting held at Will o' the Wisp.

Mrs. Miller is an Early Childhood Resource teacher under Title I at Oak Street in Oakland. She has a B.S. degree from Frostburg State College with graduate work at West Virginia University. She was selected from the county as part of a team of three to make a presentation at state level board meeting at Lanham on Early Childhood Education.

Mrs. Miller also was a member of the state planning committee to plan a four-day workshop in Charles County on articulation of kindergarten and grade one. She gave a presentation at the workshop, and also in working on a presentation to be given at the United States Office of Education in January. Garrett County was one of the counties selected to attend the January meeting.

Mrs. Whitehair is a teacher of kindergarten and grade one at Crellin Elementary School. She has taught in several schools in the county and in West Virginia. She has her B.A. from Hood College and has done graduate work at Columbia University in addition to attending the University of Dijon in France, where she had a Fulbright Scholarship.

Mrs. Whitehair has planned, organized and supervised a summer trip to France with French students when she taught French at Southern High School. She also organized a student exchange club and sponsored a student exchange group trip to New York.

Extracurricular activities now include work as a Cub Scout leader and leader of Girl Scout troop. She is also superintendent of her Sunday School and assists senior citizens as songleader, helps to direct a Bicentennial program and is choir director.

At the business meeting, reports and recommendations were made by several committee chairmen. An auction of crafts and foodstuffs was held to raise money for projects of the society.

New Parent-School Policy Needed

Following considerable discussion by teaching staff and public in the Oakland area of an incident at Southern High School, Dr. William H. Buser has indicated he believes there is a need for additional clarification of procedures relating to (1) responsibilities of school personnel and public during visitations in the schools by members of the public, and (2) a refinement of the responsibilities of school personnel as they relate to the use of instructional materials with different age groups.

The Garrett County Board of Education has considered a part of the problem in past months in developing a Media Selection and Complaint Review Policy. At this point the superintendent believes the school system could strengthen guidelines and procedures for using the best possible materials and learning activities to support specific goals and objectives for students.

Dr. Buser said that efforts should be made to better implement and refine appropriate classroom visitation procedures to ensure a wholesome teaching-learning environment during and following visitation. A part of this general problem, he maintains, is the need for the school and parents to establish a follow-up system for maintaining communications related to conferences between parents and school personnel for purposes of jointly working to resolve problems that are discussed in conferences.

SANTA delivered a load of Christmas spirit to downtown Oakland Monday night despite the sign in the background "Do Not Enter". Several hundred people lined the streets to witness his arrival which officially opened the Yule season. Oakland merchants begin staying open until 9 p.m. beginning Monday, December 8.

Burnett Addresses Civic Club

State's Attorney Ralph Burnett was the speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Oakland Civic Club Tuesday, November 25. The meeting was held at Will o' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake.

After serving two years with the U.S. Army, he attended law school at the University of Baltimore, and then served with the State's Attorney's office in Baltimore. He came to Garrett County in 1972 and was elected State's Attorney in 1974.

During a brief business meeting of the Civic Club, it was decided that club members would again trim Christmas trees for the nursing home. The club will not meet during December.

The program and luncheon were arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. Hazel Dowling, Mrs. Foster Bittle, Mrs. J. Haig Jackson, Mrs. Betty Lawton, Mrs. Fred Beachy, Mrs. Ray Teets, Mrs. Vernie Smouse and Mrs. Oswald Vannucci. Members are also sending gifts to the nursing home.

Judge Hamill Finds Juveniles Delinquent

Two juveniles were found to be delinquent by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., in Circuit Court yesterday. Another was found not delinquent.

A 16-year-old male and 15-year-old male were found to be delinquent minors by reason of breaking and entering and larceny. One accepted occupancy in a known stolen vehicle and the other charged with unauthorized use of the vehicle.

They were sentenced to the Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene but placed on probation under the jurisdiction of the Garrett County Juvenile Administration and to abide by the rules and regulations of that Administration for an undetermined period.

A 17-year-old male had been charged with being delinquent by reason of assault and battery but was found to be not delinquent.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Joseph Ray Shahan who went to his heavenly home December 4, 1972.

Today is a day of remembrance,
And a day of sad regrets.
A day we will always remember
When the rest of the world forgets.
Somewhere above this troubled world,
Safe beyond all grief and care,
Our loved one plays in heavenly peace.
God grant someday we'll meet him there.

Mountain Top Gets Skiffs Of Snow This Week

Skiffs of snow were noted on the Mountain Top the last few days, in contrast, if you remember, to the 30-inch snow storm of a year ago. Temperatures were below normal by 5.3 degrees.

State and county roads were slick in spots during the light snows of late Sunday and early yesterday. No difficulties were encountered. Skies were mostly clear last Thursday and Friday. Variable cloudiness occurred Saturday with some rain in the afternoon. Sunday was about the same with some light snow at night. A clearing trend, then, lasted through Tuesday with more snow early yesterday morning. About .2 inch of snow fell each time. Skies were clear later this morning. Moderate to fresh breezes were blowing last Thursday and on Sunday.

High temperatures averaged 47.6 degrees or 3 degrees below normal with highest being 65 degrees Sunday. Lows averaged 20.9 degrees or 7.6 degrees below normal. The mercury dropped below freezing every morning with this morning's 15 degrees being the lowest. It was 17 Saturday.

Frostburg State College Uses Planetarium To Tell Christmas Story

The Frostburg State College planetarium will present its new program entitled "The Star of Bethlehem" during the month of December on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays at 2:30 p.m.

The first half of the program will be a retelling of the Christmas story by use of the planetarium sound system, special visuals and a number of special effects projectors. This portion of the program will include Christian music from classical to contemporary, in addition to nativity art that spans the Christian era. Special effects will include a gas laser and color organ. Part two of the program will consider the questions "When was Christ born?" and "What was the star seen by the Wise Men?"

This program is especially recommended for family viewing. Depending on the demand, a second showing may be given one hour after the listed times. It is still possible for church groups and other organizations to request special showing of this program.

A nominal admission fee will be charged for the general public.

Continuing to argue about the natural gas shortage while our nation teeters on the brink of deep economic problems is inviting disaster. This critical shortage will touch everyone's life. Natural gas supplies one-third of the nation's energy. Over half of the energy American industry needs is natural gas. And, for the next several years, there will not be enough domestic supply of anything else to replace it.

Even with dramatic conservation efforts, many industries already have been slowed down by cutbacks in their supplies of natural gas. Unless supplies are increased, there will be less gas for industry this year and even more drastic curtailments over the next five years. This could create massive unemployment

Yet, the amount of natural gas still to be discovered here at home is estimated to be up to fifty times the quantity of gas used last year. It's not being discovered because government price controls make it uneconomical to search for it. A more rational price policy – an orderly decontrol of producers' prices – would encourage discovery and production of new gas that's waiting to be found.

For the sake of our nation's economy, natural gas is worth whatever it takes to get it. And we must get it, now.

A Pencil

Webster gives the definition of a pencil as a strip of graphite, chalk, or the like encased in wood, metal, etc., used for drawing or writing. The tern "lead pencil" is misleadirg in that the cylinder is never real lead, but graphite encased in a clay to bind it. (From Bavaria comes choice clay.) These two substances have been mixed and baked at 2,000 °F.

The outside casing of a pencil must be strong. Very often it is made of cedar, coming from California and Oregon, which is a wood free of knot and with a straight grain which prevents its breaking. One tree will yield over 17,000 pencils and each ordinary pencil would draw a line 35 miles long.

The manufacture of pencils is no simple process. Two lengthwise slats are grooved by machine, the "lead" is inserted, and the slats are glued and pressed together to produce the pencil.

The Latin word penicillum, meaning "a little tail," gives us the word pencil. It comes from the older writing instruments, which were fine brushes made from animal bristles or hair.

Most Americans use the expedient ballpoint pen in these days, but putting it in pencil means that you can erase and delete material without sacrificing neatness. Consider what your lowly, non-mechanical pencil can do.

It can write your grocery list and a long tabulation of neglected tasks that you want to do.

It will enable you to balance your budget before getting too deeply involved in "I wants."

It will make doodles for you as you listen to a boring speech or work out a diagram for building a birdhouse.

It will make marks on Mother's walls or scribble on furniture if you are a child who is wielding it.

It can mean re-doing an entire writing, if blue pencilled, as in newspaper work. A red pencil treatment on written work may mean discouragement in correcting wrong thinking or really learning if correcting errors in the right spirit.

It can scratch a telephone number quickly for fast communication.

It can draw the line for a carpenter to saw or for a surgeon to make an incision.

It can draw a map to show someone his way to a hospital or place of beauty.

It can underline important parts of reading material if you need to review them for a speech or want to commit them to memory.

It can write a note making someone feel loved: "Don't forget your galoshes" or "Meet me at Ritchie's for dinner, about 7."

It can create a literary masterpiece if your are Abraham Lincoln composing on a used envelope.

Whole life policies sometimes are known as straight life or ordinary life policies, and some insurance companies apply their own trade names to whole life policies. Mr., Mrs. Gregg Honored On Fortieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest T. Gregg, Sr., Masontown, W. Va., were honored at a reception Sunday, June 22, at St. Zita's Catholic Church Social room in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary given by their sons and their families.

Mrs. Gregg, the former Belinda Sunday, is the daughter of the late John and Julia Sunday of Masontown. They were married June 22, 1935, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Fairmont, West Virginia.

They are the parents of four sons: Ernest John, Jr., Oakland; James Anthony, Terra Alta, W. Va.,; Theodore Joseph and Philip Lee, both of Masontown, W. Va. They have seven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg attended Mass earlier in the day with members of their families. They participated in the liturgy of the Mass and received the special blessing from Msgr. John L. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Zita's.

In keeping with the ruby tradition, a three-tiered cake, topped with red roses, baby's breath and greenery centered the reception table surrounded by silver lighted tapers, accented with red roses. Floral arrangements were placed throughout the hall, complementing the gift and refreshment tables, with the four daughters-in-law serving as aides. Many relatives and friends attended the afternoon reception.

Joins Air Force

Bruce G. Heginbotham, Mountain Lake Park, enlisted in the U.S. Air Force Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP) last week, according to Sergeant Marcel Jeanfreau, USAF Representative at 111 S. George Street, Cumberland.

Bruce is scheduled to begin the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) six-week Basic Orientation Course on March 3, 1976. Upon graduation, he will receive the first four hours of college credit on his CCAF Transcript. Airman Heginbotham will receive additional college credits upon graduation from technical training in the Medical Services Specialist Course.

Bowman's Offers Discounts For Senior Citizens

Don Bowman, owner of Bowman's Equipment on Gravelly Run Road on Deep Creek Lake, has joined the Garrett County Senior Citizens Discount Plan.

Bowman indicated that holders of the pink cards will be allowed a ten percent discount on repairs and service and five percent on the purchases of all equipment including those for lawn and garden, chain saws and snowmobiles except during special sales and other promotions.

W. Dale Ellis, director of Senior Citizens Programs for Community Action and the Commission on Aging, said he was extremely pleased to add Bowman's company to the growing list of participating businesses.

Cash-Flow Basis Clouds Picture of County Finances

The cost of Garrett County government services may appear to have been more than anticipated according to a statement of receipts and disbursements in this week's Republican, but such is not the case, according to County Commissioner Wayne Hamilton.

Figures indicate an excess of spending over receipts in every major fund category but Commissioner Hamilton pointed out that because the county does its bookkeeping on a cash flow basis, outstanding bills and obligations or lagging payments by federal and state agencies may not be reflected in a statement on a given date. The system, by law, must operate this way.

The healthy general fund balance of $1,290,962 of July 1, 1974, was trimmed to $1,048,862 by June 30, 1975, the excess of disbursements totaling $242,100. Excess spending also shows up in the general revenue sharing fund by $328,224, $27,554 in the roads department fund, and $50,779 in solid waste management fund. Again Commissioner Hamilton pointed out that in many cases, the county must expend the funds before it can be reimbursed by state and federal agencies.

A bright note of the statement is featured in the comparative statement of indebtedness, showing that long-term obligations have been reduced to $745,228, a drop of $150,000 over the previous year. This comparatively low figure of indebtedness weighs heavily in earning a favorable low rate of interest should the county try to sell bonds for some future capital improvement.

Mr. Hamilton explained that should the county ever shift to an accural accounting system from the cash flow basis, it would probably share the same fate as New York City by spending anticipated receipts instead of paying as-you-go. He pointed out that the auditors were well satisfied with the management of county monies and so informed the state by letter, along with detailed financial statements.

Mt. Zion M.Y.F. Group Organized, Off To Good Start

The Mt. Zion Church, which had not had a Methodist Youth Fellowship group for several years, has organized an M.Y.F. group with Mrs. Connie Burdock as counselor and six other adults as volunteer helpers.

The group received $163 from a bake sale October at LaVale plaza, and donated the proceeds to the Burlington Children's Home. Several of the children from the Home were brought by Rev. Andy Agnew to the Mt. Zion Church November 17 for a Thanksgiving and Christmas festival.

Other churches participating were State Line, Jennings, Grantsville, and Emmanuel Churches. Eighty attended. Donations from those present totaled $409 in cash and $239 in supplies for the Home. Mrs. Lois Rowe, president of the U. M. Women and Superintendent of Sunday School Roy Broadwater collected $3.00 for each of 40 children for Christmas shopping.

Crimes by women rose during 1974.

Body of Missing Ginseng Hunter Found Saturday

The body of John W. Leptic, 61, Route 1, Frostburg, who had been missing since September 28 when he left home to go ginseng hunting, was discovered Saturday afternoon by two deer hunters about six miles from where he had entered the woods.

Ronald E. Ritchie, Midlothian, and his brother John W. Ritchie, Frostburg, found the body about three miles west of Midlothian in Garrett County, and notified authorities.

Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, Allegany County medical examiner, stated that Mr. Leptic had died of natural causes.

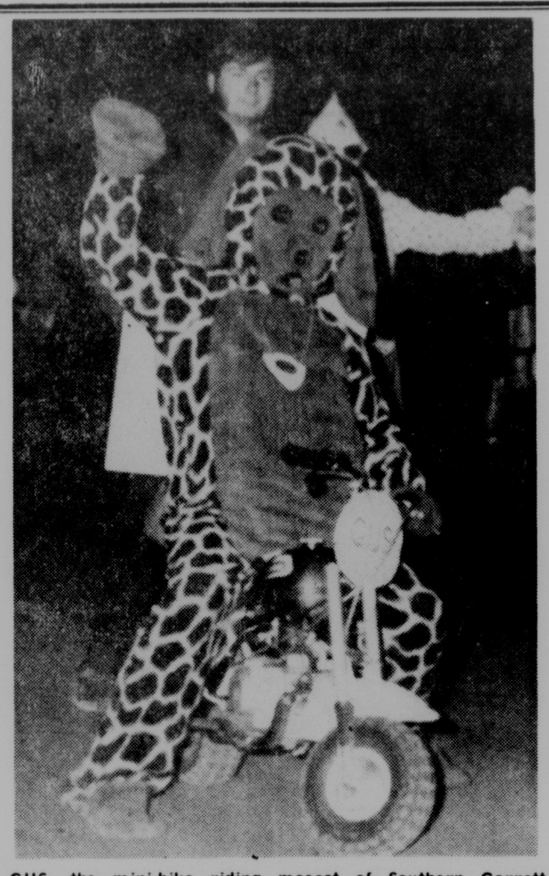
A party of about 50 persons had begun searching for Mr. Leptic on the 28th when he did not return home, with the number swelling to more than 200 the following day. Searchers in addition to the Maryland State Police who directed the operation included volunteer firemen, CB radio operators, youths from the Forestry Camp for Boys, a State Police helicopter and bloodhounds. After several days of searching the rugged mountains, the search was abandoned by most, except for members of the family.

Mr. Leptic was an employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Born in Klondike, he was the son of the late Thomas and Katherine (Conrad) Leptic. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Midland. He was a veteran of World War II, a member of Farrady Post 24, American Legion at Frostburg, Fraternal Order of Eagles Aerie 1273 at Frostburg and Local 26, United Rubber Workers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary (Seggie) Leptic; one son, John Leptic, Jr., Midlothian; one daughter, Mrs. Linda Samson, Knoxville, Tenn.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Baer and Miss Anna Leptic, both of National; one brother, Samuel Leptic, Baltimore, and eight grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Durst Funeral Home, Frostburg. Mass of Christian Burial was held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in St. Joseph's Church, Midland. Interment followed in Frostburg Memorial Park.



GUS, the mini-bike riding mascot of Southern Garrett Jaycees, spreads his particular brand of cheer among parade watchers Monday night in Oakland. Gus is becoming something of a celebrity, having been on TV while visiting the Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown. He checks in periodically at Garrett Memorial, and is especially interested in the children's ward where he is warmly received. He will soon start on a poison prevention program featuring "Mr. Yuk". One of Ali Ghan Shrine clowns appears over Gus' left shoulder.

GCC Drops Opener To LaRoche College

After falling behind 39-32 at halftime, Garrett Community never managed to make up the deficit and the Lakers fell to La Roche College 81-71 last night at McHenry.

In the season opener under new coach Bill Camp, the host Lakers jumped ahead 10-6.

Mike Saturday led the Lakers effort by hitting on eight field goals and two freethrows for 18 points and also hauling in 13 rebounds.

Saturday ran into foul shot problems as only a pair of his 11 attempts were good.

Bob Scheer had six fielders for Garrett to hit for 12 points, and Bob Ford and Mike Grove both notched 11 for the losers.

Members of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad held a drill for the rescue truck crew and other interested squad members on Sunday, November 23, at the home of C. Bud Deal, Accident.

Proficiency in the use of the specialized rescue equipment was stressed, and techniques in car stabilization, patient removal and entering vehicles quickly and safely were practiced.

DNR Seeking 12 Cent Per Ton Coal Surcharge

The Department of Natural Resources is preparing to have legislation introduced to levy a 12-cents-per-ton surcharge on Allegany and Garrett County strip-mined coal.

The legislation will be ready when the General Assembly opens its 1976 session in January. If approved, it could give the state about $240,000 a year to use to reclaim old strip mine areas in the counties.

Lee Zeni, director of the state Coastal and Energy Administration, has confirmed that the surcharge bill is being drafted, and said his department wants the legislation because the state does not have enough funds generated from the Bituminous Open Pit Mining Fund.

The coal surcharge will most likely meet opposition from consumers, who will probably end up paying the extra 12 cents per ton through higher market prices, and from the Western Maryland Coal Operators Association.

The surcharge would come in the form of an amendment to the Maryland Strip Mine law, as a departmental bill handled through the governor's office.

The Bituminous Open Pit Mining Fund is currently a 50-50 proposition with the coal operators paying $30 for every acre they are permitted to strip for coal and the state paying $30 for the same acre.

Mr. Zeni said that presently when old strip mines are reopened for surface mining usually only the part that is reopened is reclaimed, leaving the remainder of the mine scarred and in a deteriorated condition.

He said the state believes it will be economical to have enough money to be able to pay a contractor to reclaim the entire mine, rather than just the portion reopened for surface work.

The additional revenue from the proposal could be used to correct abandoned minewater and sedimentation problems in sties which have been untouched by coal operators for years.

Robert C. Harvey, an official of the coal operators association, has said that if the state insists on levying an additional tax on coal, many operators believe it would be better to have the charge handled by the counties, which could then use some of the funds for repairing roads which are heavily traveled by coal trucks. However, under the state's surcharge proposal the revenue could go only towards reclamation.

A tax on coal for Garrett County was unsuccessfully offered last year by Del. DeCorsey Bolden, whose proposal would have allowed the county to tax each ton of coal mined in the county.

Several Hurt in Auto Mishaps

Several persons received relatively minor injuries in motor vehicle accidents last week around the county. A double accident occurred in Grantsville early Thanksgiving morning.

Kenneth Randal Martin, Mt. Lake Park, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two car mishap about 4 p.m. last Friday on Md. 135 near Browning's Foodland. Martin was traveling west on Rt. 135 with Richard L. Coddington, Mt. Lake Park, following. Martin attempted to make a left turn into Weber Road with signals flashing. Coddington, failing to note the flashing signals, ran into the rear of the Martin car. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated.

Charles Edward Grimm, Keyser, W. Va., was injured when he was thrown from his pick-up in a mishap on Savage River road about 3.3 miles west of Md. 135 last Thursday afternoon. He was traveling east when he lost his car steering, ran off the road to the right and struck a tree. Tfc. L. R. Rosage investigated.

Deborah Raye Simms, Deer Park, received apparent slight injuries in a two-car mixup at the intersection of Sand Flat road and Pysell Crosscut road late last Friday night. She was eastbound on Sand Flat road. Robert Lee Dixon, RD 1, Swanton, traveling south on Pysell Crosscut road, pulled onto Sand Flat road and into the path of the Simms car. Dixon then stuck a stop sign. Tfc. Williams charged Dixon with failing to stop at a stop sign. Southern Rescue transported Miss Simms to Garrett Memorial Hospital for treatment.

A passenger, Donald R. Leslie, Riverdale, in a car driven by Leon S. Leslie, Jr., Edgewater, received slight injuries in a mishap last Wednesday evening at Keysers Ridge. Leslie had stopped westbound on U.S. 40 to make a left turn into U.S. 219. Francis C. Workman, Addison, Pa., following, failed to stop and struck the Leslie car in the rear. Tfc. Williams charged Workman with failing to reduce speed under existing conditions.

Ronnie E. Ball, Mt. Lake Park, was slightly injured in a mishap on the Crellin road near the Old Crellin road shortly before midnight last Friday. Joan Lee Raynovich, Rd 1, Oakland, was eastbound on Md. 39 as was Ball. Ball started to pass the Raynovich car on a solid line and in doing so struck the left rear of it. Ball losing control, continued on striking several mail boxes and came to rest in several pine trees, destroying them. Tfc. Williams charged Ball with passing against roadway markings.

A double accident occurred in Grantsville about 3:30 a.m. last Thursday.

David M. Webb, Chanute, Kansas, fell asleep and his car struck a utility pole along the road edge of the curb. Shortly afterward John J. Yoho, Grandville, Ohio, sideswipped the Webb car parked along the curb. Tpr. Ronald George investigated both mishaps.

Irvin E. Bray, Hanover, was northbound on Md. 135 late last Friday evening near the Steiding Church road when a deer darted into his path. The driver stated it happened so fast he was unable to avoid the animal. Tfc. Williams made no charges.

Gary W. Finzel, RD 2, Grantsville, in a pick-up, was traveling eastbound on U.S. 40 just east of the town limits of Grantsville November 24. Finzel started to overtake a car driven by Edward L. Crowe, Lonaconing. At that time Crowe pulled into the left lane to overtake a vehicle ahead of him and was struck by the Finzel pick-up. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Crowe with passing on the left when unsafe.

18 Die On Maryland Highways Last Week

Eighteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed nine were drivers, three were passengers and six were pedestrians. At least five of the deaths, in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Something should be mentioned with regard to the high number of pedestrians killed in Maryland. The pedestrian who wears dark clothing at night can be almost invisible to a motorist. Headlights make the car easy to see, but the pedestrian needs something to make him visible. Then, there is that "cup of cheer" which can be as dangerous for the pedestrian as it is for the motorist. This year, of the pedestrian fatalities examined, 26% had been drinking. It is further suggested by the National Safety Council that well over half the drivers who die in crashes have measurable amounts of alcohol in their blood.

Persons killed through November 30 totaled 630 as compared to 649 for the same period last year.

IT'S FOR you

When someone says, "It's for you," our minds begin to buzz with questions. Who is it? What do they want? Good News? Bad News? Work? Pleasure?

It's for you! Commanding words that summon our immediate attention. And those words apply as well to the Church as they do to a telephone call.

The Church is for you! Its services of worship, its program of religious education, its comforting ministration in time of spiritual crisis . . . all for you!

And the Church has a vital message — good news for a discouraged world. It has a glorious work before it — a happy fellowship for men, women and children of noble purpose.

The Church deserves your support. It's for you!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

Lesson for December 7, 1975

Background Scripture: Matthew 1:1-1:17 4:23-25, 9:9-13
Devotional Reading: Psalms 9:1-8

Have you ever wondered why there are four gospels in the New Testament instead of just one?

One of the reasons that there are four is that there were four different writers or editors who wanted to portray Jesus from four different perspectives. Each of the gospels portrays the same man, yet each has a somewhat different flavor or point of view.

Rev. Althouse

The writer of the Gospel According to Matthew paints a portrait of Jesus in which certain features stand out boldly.

For one thing, the writer of Matthew makes it clear that the "Good News" is particularly intended for the outcasts of society. If the writer of this gospel is the Matthew who became an apostle, then his own case is an example.

Not for the righteous

The Matthew we find in Matthew 9 is very definitely an outcast. His profession is that of tax collector, an office despised by all respectable Jews. For one thing, many of the tax collectors were corrupt and the whole profession had a bad name among the populace. Secondly, since the money collected was for the support of the hated Romans, respectable Jews regarded the Jewish tax collector as a traitor.

So despised is the tax collector that he is often lumped together with all other sinners: "tax collectors and sinners" (9:10). Yet, though these people as hated by the respectable Jew, Matthew makes it very clear that much of Jesus's ministry was spent with these people. Jesus himself was castigated for associating with these people, but his reply left no doubt as to his own sense of rightness: "Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. Go and learn what this means, 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.' For I have come not to call the righteous, but sinners" (9:12,13).

A troubling thought: How much does the church today have to do with outcasts?

Behind the genealogy

The writer of Matthew also wants to demonstrate that the coming of Jesus was all part of a great plan. Thus he begins this gospel with a genalogy of Jesus, a family tree. The purpose of it is to show that Jesus is the culmination of God's plan that began far back in Israel's history.

So, he is saying that "God has a purpose!" and that purpose we see fulfilled in the coming of Jesus. In fact, we are still working out that purpose today as Christ is born anew within us.

Finally, the writer of Matthew wants to emphasize what he considered to be Jesus' central message: the kingdom of heaven is at hand! The healing he does is a kind of evidence of the breaking in of that kingdom. These bursts of divine power are intended to call our attention to the kingdom and its meaning: to heal men's brokenness.

The Gospel of Matthew is basically a gospel of healing —healing understood in its widest context. Wherever there is brokenness in men's lives—broken bodies, broken minds, broken spirits, broken lives, broken families, broken communities, a broken world—that is where the power of Christ's kingdom is intended to heal the brokenness.....according to Matthew!

State Releases Nutrient Study of Deep Creek Lake

The Maryland Water Resources Admin. and the Environmental Protection Agency have recently released four studies on eutrophication, (dissolved nutrients) in freshwater reservoirs and lakes in the State including Loch Raven Reservoir, Liberty Reservoir, Deep Creek Lake and Johnson Pond.

These studies investigated the sources and nutrient (phosphorus and nitrogen) limiting factors in these Maryland freshwater areas. Data was collected by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, Water Resources Administration, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the Maryland National Guard and the Environmental Protection Agency. The report was compiled and published by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

The purpose of these studies, initiated in 1972, is to develop adequate information on the nutrient sources, the concentrations and the impacts on freshwater lakes and reservoirs. This data is to be used to formulate State management practices relating to point source discharge reductions and nonpoint source discharge abatement.

The data gathered in Maryland will be used to evaluate the relationships between land use, nutrient export and trophic conditions.

The four studies one each for Loch Raven Reservoir, Liberty Reservoir, Deep Creek Lake and Johnson Pond will be on loan at each of the DNR Regional Service Centers in Laurel, Bel Air, Salisbury, Centreville and Cumberland. Copies are also available for study in the Department of Natural Resources, Library, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis.

A few copies are still available for public distribution, write the WRA Information Office, D-2, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis.

Beall Urges Ford To Ask About POWs, MIAs

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., has co-sponsored a Senate resolution urging President Ford to solicit the help of the People's Republic of China in obtaining a full accounting of the 1,300 men still missing in Indochina.

The resolution, adopted by the Senate last week, encourages the President to take advantage of his China trip to request Chinese officials to obtain a full and complete accounting of members of the U.S. Armed Forces missing in action and confined as prisoners of war in Southeast Asia.

Earlier this year, Sen. Beall wrote Vo Van Sung, North Vietnamese ambassador to Paris, and expressed concern about the slow implementation of the Paris agreement for the return of all prisoners and missing men, including 14 Maryland listed as missing.

Also, Sen. Beall, a member of the Commerce Committee and its subcommittee on Surface Transportation, has released the statement that commuter lines between Baltimore and Washington, D.C., and freight lines on Maryland's Eastern Shore will be continued and preserved under the provisions of a new bill.

The bill, "Rail Services Act of 1975" provides for the continuation of vital Maryland lines as well as upgrading the entire Northeast rail corridor. The legislation will be considered by the full Senate immediately following the Congressional Thanksgiving recess.

Miss Durst Becomes Bride Of Gary Layman

St. Stephen Catholic Church, Grantsville, was the setting October 25 for the wedding of Miss Kay Ellen Durst and Gary Lee Layman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Durst, Grantsville, are the parents of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Layman, Grantsville, are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a long gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned with mandarin neckline and full sleeves. The bodice was adorned with iridescents. The demi-bell skirt, bordered with a wide flounce, terminated in a chapel-length train. A fingertip length veil of bridal illusion was attached to a Camelot headpiece of Chantilly lace and pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of phalaenoposis orchids and stephanotis, accented with baby's breath and streamers.

Mrs. Robert Stuck, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Patricia Blocher was bridesmaid and Heather Martin was flower girl.

William Kamp was best man. Ushers were Robert Stuck, brother-in-law of the bride, John Hughes, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and Kenneth Jenkins. Heath Martin was ring bearer.

A reception followed in the Grantsville American Legion Home. Mrs. Susan Hughes, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Clara Layman, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Pamela Brasky, cousin of the bride, assisted.

The bride is a graduate of Northern High School and is employed by Garrett County Board of Education in Grantsville Elementary School.

Also a graduate of Northern High School, Mr. Layman is a Vietnam veteran and is employed by Guy's Tire Shop in Grantsville.

Miscellaneous showers were given by Miss Patricia Blocher and Mrs. John Blocher and by the faculty of Grantsville Elementary School.

According to authorities, the Frisbee reportedly got its first start at Yale after World War II. Throwing empty pie plates back and forth was a campus fad, and the tin plates the Yale under graduates threw happened to come from a pie making company in nearby Bridgeport that was called the Frisbie Bakery. When somebody stepped into the path of a spinning pie tin, he was warned to duck with the shout: "Frisbee!"

Judge Hamill Hears Appeal, Violation Cases

One case of violation of probation and one appeal case was heard in Circuit Court by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., this week.

Anthony Craig Corby, Hutton, was found guilty of violation of probation at a trial Tuesday and sentenced to serve remainder of a 16-month sentence to the Commissioner of Correction. A 15-month suspended sentence was reinstated at the same time.

Corby was originally found guilty on three counts by a jury at a trial January 24 and Judge Hamill ordered a presentence investigation. March 6, Corby was sentenced to 18 months in the Garrett County Jail with 15 months suspended and he was placed on probation for two years. He was cited for violation of probation by the State's Attorney's office August 26 and a bench warrant issued. September 2 he was lodged in the Garrett County Jail but released two days later on $500 cash bond. The 15-month suspended sentence from the March sentencing was reinstated as of Tuesday.

Corby was also found guilty of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's permission at a trial in District Court November 18 and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Harold Gregory RD 1, Thomas, W. Va., had pleaded guilty of possession of illegal deer at a trial in District Court January 13, 1975. He was apprehended January 31, 1974, on Kempton road. He was charged with 10 different offenses involving 10 deer. Judge Lewis R. Jones fined him $1500 and costs and an appeal was made. At the appeal hearing Monday, he pleaded not guilty but Judge Hamill found him guilty and ordered him to pay $600 fine which was paid.

Submits Low Bid For Park Buildings

Vic's Construction Company, Cumberland, was the apparent low bidder for the construction of shower buildings at Deep Creek Lake State Park. The firm presented a bid of $127,456.

Another Cumberland firm, Wilson Construction Co., submitted a proposal of $129,880, while the Jackard Construction Company, Bedford, Pa., submitted a bid of $152,700.

Pork Checkoff Program To Begin

A November 14 referendum on a new statewide checkoff program which aims to promote and strengthen Maryland's pork industry has been approved.

The program, which becomes effective January 1, 1976, requires a checkoff of five cents on every hog sold for slaughter in this state. The automatic checkoff will be handled by all auction barns, buying stations, dealers and slaughter houses. It is estimated that the checkoff will produce about $12,500 from the sale of about 250,000 swine for slaughter each year.

Funds collected will be remitted to the Maryland Pork Producers Association, the organization officially recognized by the Maryland Department of Agriculture as representing that sector of agriculture. Some 60 percent of the funds are to be used by the association to support consumer education and promotional activities, and 40 percent will go to the National Pork Producers council and the National Livestock and Meat Board for supportive programs in scientific research.

Producers who do not wish to participate may obtain a refund from MPPA, with request submitted in writing within 30 days of each sale.

The referendum was conducted under Maryland law, with pork producers casting their ballots at County Extension Agent offices. Votes were counted at the Maryland Department of Agriculture.

"It's like getting a big, fat letter from home"

Capitol Comment

by
Sen. Charles McC. Mathias

No Free Rides On Texas

The State of Maryland, and its cities and counties, provide remarkable public services for our citizens. There may be times when we grumble if the garbage pickup is later or if the water pressure is low, but we must admit that we are a lucky people. We have public services that are superior to those in almost every other part of the world.

These services cost money, and we all share in paying for them. We bear a large part of the burden through income taxes, which go to the State and to the local subdivisions.

One of the most important elements of taxation is that it be equitable — shared by everyone, with each citizen bearing part of the load. No one likes paying taxes, but it is some consolation to know that all our neighbors are paying just as we are for the services that we all enjoy.

There is a bill in Congress, however, which runs counter to the fair share principle. It would, in effect, excuse out-of-state Congressmen who live in Maryland from paying Maryland income taxes.

Up to 150 members of both houses of Congress are believed to live in Maryland, mostly in Montgomery and Prince George's county suburbs of Washington. We are pleased to have them in our State, but I see no reason that they should get a free ride on taxes.

As they send their children to Maryland schools and as they accept the other public services of state and local government in Maryland, they should pay along with the rest of us.

If members of Congress want to vote themselves something that would be, in effect, a salary increase, let them do it directly, and not through the device of immunity from state and local income taxes.

At a time when state and local governments already are enduring a degree of budgetary stress unprecedented since the Great Depression, it ill behooves members of Congress to set themselves apart from the hundreds of thousands of other public servants and government employes who live near our national capital — or from any of the other tax-paying citizens of Maryland.

There are no free rides in this world. If the Congressional families living in Maryland are allowed to get a free ride in terms of state and local taxation, it simply means that the other residents of Maryland will have to bear the burden.

That is neither fair nor right. That is the reason that I am opposing this legislation that now is pending in the Senate.

AUDITOR'S STATEMENT

We have examined the statement of receipts collected and expenses disbursed and related cash accounts of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1975. We converted the accounts from a cash basis to an accrual basis for statement purposes. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits fairly present the Garrett County Board of Education's position at June 30, 1975 and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education for the year then ended on an accrual basis.

Respectfully submitted,
(SGD.) George McLaughlin
Certified Public Accountant

PROBLEM IN EXTRICATION faced Southern Rescue Squad members last Wednesday evening after a tractor-trailer rig upset on Route 39, just west of Oakland. Driver Roger K. Sisler, Horse Shoe Run, was pinned in the cab for over an hour before being extricated. He had sustained a fractured leg and pelvic injuries. Identifiable in the picture are EMT-As Roy Hinkle, Sr. (on ground), Richard Cropp and Celene Trickett.

Rig Driver Hospitalized Last Wednesday

The driver of a rig remains hospitalized at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a wreck last Wednesday evening on the Crellin road, Md. 39, just west of the Oakland town limits. The driver of the car involved was treated and released from the hospital.

Roger Keith Sisler, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., sustained a broken leg and pelvic injuries. It took an hour to extricate Sisler from the wreckage of his tractor. He and the driver of the car, George Albert Seymore, III, Baltimore, were transported to the hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad. Seymore was treated and released.

Seymore was driving west as Sisler was driving east on the Crellin road about 6:05 p.m. Sisler failed to keep to the right of center of the road and struck the Seymore car. The rig overturned and Seymore continued on and struck a tree. Tfc. L. R. Rosage charged Sisler with failing to keep to the right of the center of the road.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my thanks and appreciation to my friends and relatives for the many cards, flowers, gifts and visits I received while I was a patient at the Meyersdale Community Hospital and at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. A special thanks to Rev. William Carlson and to Rev. and Mrs. Fred Illick.

Westvaco Offer Rejected By Union

Union employes of Westvaco's Luke and Covington plants overwhelmingly rejected the company's offer of a $15.4 million pay increase package over the next three years.

Voting results indicated the offer was rejected 1,588 to 603.

Talks were to resume between the union and company this week in Richmond. A federal mediator will sit in at the meetings.

Meanwhile, employes of the Luke mill are working on a day-to-day basis. The three-year contract expired November 17.

Members of the two locals voted last week on whether to accept the contract, with members of the election committees dispatching the votes to Harrisonburg, where they were tabulated.

Although the company has said the proposed three-year pact amounted to a 37.5 percent pay increase, Ernest Jones, president of Local 675, said the company did not include in that figure certain proposed cuts in fringe benefits.

Red Cross, Ski Patrol Cooperation Statement Signed

The American Red Cross and the 25,000 member National Ski Patrol System recently signed a statement of understanding itemizing areas of cooperation between the organizations.

The agreement calls upon the volunteers and staff from both the Red Cross and the Ski Patrol to work together in developing first aid and safety materials as well as other related projects of joint concern.

The Ski Patrol may utilize the help of local Red Cross volunteers and staff to assist in first aid and other assignments when applicable.

The statement was drawn up to provide more effective assistance to the nation's growing skiing population with accident prevention and emergency care receiving major attention.

Since its formation in 1938, the National Ski Patrol System has required all members to receive Red Cross first aid training.

Sen. Mathias Is Co-sponsoring Bill

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., has joined with Sen. Edward F. Kennedy of Massachusetts in introducing a bill to authorize a broader opening for the public into the federal bureaucracy.

"Federal agencies every day are issuing regulations which have a dollars and cents impact on large numbers of people," says Sen. Mathias, "But only those with large financial interest at stake have been able to afford to play an active role in hearings or appeals on which agency actions are based."

The bill would authorize full payment of legal fees and other costs to qualified public intervenors. It would apply to proceedings before federal administrative agencies and in efforts to gain court review of agency decisions.

It would permit citizens or nonprofit public interest groups to recover attorney fees and other reasonable costs if the agency determines that either efforts have promoted full and fair considerations by agencies or have served an important public interest in court actions to review agency decisions.

VA Has Info On Home Loans, School, And Insurance

The Veterans' Administration is reminding local veterans of new home loan policies; to check their government life insurance programs to make certain that beneficiaries on their GI insurance are current, and that veterans are protected from possible fraud by some operators of correspondence courses.

Veterans who served during World War II and after are eligible for a second entitlement to a VA-guaranteed home loan if they have paid off their first GI loan and sold that property.

Anyone wishing further information about any topics concerning the VA should contact the nearest regional office, Federal Building, 31 Hopkins Plaza, Baltimore, 21201, or the VA representative when he makes his monthly visit to this county at the National Guard Armory.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 99 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD | THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1975 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 41

Have A Good Day! . . .

The parting salutation of most every clerk, gasoline station attendant, hospital nurse or ordinary citizen, on my Florida vacation would be "Have a good day!" and it gave a very satisfying and comfortable feeling. I felt that bringing that custom back to Oakland and Garrett County would be great. Since returning to Oakland and even before I had an opportunity to suggest to people that this would be a good practice to follow, I have heard the same expression in Oakland two or three times.

Perhaps it has been the practice of a number of persons in this area but I had never been aware of it before.

It is still a wonderful idea, in case you have not been aware of it either. So let's make it a practice to spread cheer not only at this Christmas season but throughout the entire year. A parting sentence at any time could be, "Have a good day!" Or "Have a good evening." Try it. You might like it.

19 Arrested By Sheriff, Deputies In November

John Evans, Jr., sheriff of Garrett County, reports that 104 civil and criminal papers were served during November. Over 175 complaints were answered and 19 were arrested on numerous charges, ranging from breaking and entering and grand larceny to embezzlement.

Trips were made to various states, including Pennsylvania, Florida and Ohio, and to Baltimore transporting and returning prisoners.

Departmental vehicles traveled 22,000 miles during the month, transporting prisoners and performing other duties.

There was an average of 10 prisoners incarcerated daily in the jail, with a total of 315 prisoner days for the month.

Sheriff Evans expressed his appreciation for the cooperation given him and his department by the citizens of the area.

ASC Committee Members Elected

Darrell O. Martin, Oakland, was elected a member of the Garrett County ASC Committee for a three-year term in the recently held mail election. Mr. Martin was eligible for election and was re-elected.

Also elected were Cecil E. Bittinger, Oakland, who was named first alternate to the committee and Harry W. Hummell, Grantsville, who was named second alternate. Alternates are elected for one-year terms.

The committee held an organizational meeting on December 3, and elected J. Walter Margroff chairman. Leslie G. Guard was elected Vice-chairman for the coming year. Mr. Martin will serve as regular member of the committee.

Garrett Bank Announces Stock Cash Dividend

James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D., Chairman of the Board and President of The Garrett National Bank in Oakland, announced that the Board of Directors at a recent meeting set the last semi-annual cash dividend for this year at 50 cents per share, payable on December 31st, to all stockholders of record on December 8, 1975.

This dividend reflects a 25 percent increase over the previous semi-annual cash dividend and 20 cents per share increase over that paid in 1974.

Registration Totals Given

The official registration for the county as of November 3, totals 9,772 voters, according to information from the Board of Supervisors of Elections, a decrease of some 335 over the figures released on October 7, of 1974. Some 576 names were removed from the election books in November for not having voted within five years.

The figures showed 3,828 Democrats, 5,713 Republicans, 220 Others, and 11 in the American party.

Republicans have a majority of 1,885, compared to 1,835 in 1974. Republicans maintain majorities in seventeen of the twenty voting precincts with the Democrats keeping three, Finzel, Kitzmiller and Bloomington. Two of those precincts have narrow margins, 194 to 186 at Bloomington and 209 to 192 at Finzel. Kitzmiller, however, remains a strong Democratic area with 271 to 154.

District 16, Mt. Lake Park, has the largest registration with 437 Democrats and 704 Republicans, 34 others and 1 American, for total of 1176. East Oakland has 942. The two other Oakland precincts, precinct 1, has 726 and precinct 3, 739. Friendsville has 656 and Grantsville 762.

Bittinger, No. 12, has a four to one majority of Republicans, 103 to 27. The Elbow and Ryan's Glade are almost 3 to 1 Republican, with Sang Run, district 6, over two to one, and Grantsville and Jennings, two to one.

Oakland Dept. To Use Less Salt on Streets

The Town Council of Oakland voted to rely on plowing and abrasives for snow removal and to use salt only if needed for ice and freezing rain, at a regular meeting of the council on December 1.

In common with the recently announced change in policy by the state for snow removal, this is an economy move as well as an attempt to improve driving conditions and to make Oakland a more pleasant place to live.

Jim Werdebaugh, superintendent of the street department, said a supply of sand has been ordered to be used in place of cinders, sand apparently being more effective as an abrasive for traction as well as being cleaner and less obnoxious under foot.

The street department has added another plow-equipped truck to its fleet, and every effort will be made to keep the streets as safe as possible, according to Gordon Douglass, council member. Mr. Douglass said the council would remind drivers, however, that it is their responsibility to see to it that their vehicles are equipped with good snow tires.

Dr. Alta Schrock Featured In Sun Magazine Section

A lengthy article complete with photographs told the story of Dr. Alta Schrock, innovator of Penn Alps, Inc., the Springs Historical Society and Museum, the Springs Folk Festival, and now the Highland Association, in Sunday's Magazine section of the "Baltimore Sun."

Dr. Schrock told of her youth, with relatives interested in nature and capable in crafts, and her struggle for an education. She was the first Mennonite to achieve a Ph.D. in the U.S.

Her dreams for the Highland Association, which call for renovation of an old pea cannery into a woodworking complex to help alleviate high unemployment in the area, are the last of four visions she has had.

The Highland Association, formed in 1966, so far has a full-time social worker in West Virginia and employs field workers during the summer in the Grantsville area. It also has established community centers in Jennings and in Dry Fork, W. Va. and owns and operates two one-room mountain school buildings used for year-round group work and for summer Bible classes.

Penn Alps is an outlet for the crafts of more than 1,200 producers, many of whom are widowed, handicapped or unemployed. Penn Alps, located on Route 40, is sales oriented, "the show window on Route 40," part tourist attraction and part educational.

Although Dr. Schrock will be 65 next spring, she plans no leisurely "retirement" of her efforts toward a better life for local people.

Six Students Are Added To Europe Tour

Lois Filemyr, Yvonne Frazee, Warren Steger, Gene Flinn, Lenora Snyder, and Mildred Durr are new travelers who have joined the student group going to France and Switzerland this coming April. Craig Hutson is also considering traveling with the group. The total number of students included in the European tour sponsored by Duey Snyder is now 17. Students and their parents will have a French Christmas Get-together December 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Miss Snyder's home to discuss plans for the April trip.

Students are now receiving their passports and taking part in group meetings to learn about travel procedures and the French culture.

Pre-trip orientation is very important for students going into another culture, it was pointed out. Often, the success of such a trip for a student is determined by how well prepared he is before he visits in the new culture, Miss Snyder said.

First National Sets Dividend

The Board of Directors of The First National Bank of Oakland declared a second-half of the year dividend to common stockholders of $1.30 per share at a regular meeting held Wednesday, December 3. The divident was declared payable January 1, 1976 out of 1975 earnings to stockholders of record as of December 1, 1975.

The $1.30 per share declaration raises to $2.50 per share the total dividends paid from 1975 earnings. This compares to $2.30 per share paid out of 1974 earnings.

The bank has 94.550 shares of stock issued and outstanding. The total dollar amount of the latest dividend is $122,915.00 bringing the total to $236,375.00 paid for the year.

The tentative total kill for the firearm deer season in this county which ended Saturday, December 6, was 671, according to Edward J. Golden, district manager for the Maryland Wildlife Administration.

The kill by checking stations was as follows: Walt's General Store, McHenry, 127; Hetz's store, Grantsville, 240; Paul's Mt. Top Tire, Oakland, 164; Savage River Inn, Bloomington, 34; Johnny's Bait House, Deep Creek Lake, 105; and Deep Creek State Park, 1.

The total is higher than the 1973 kill which was 581; and the 1974 kill of 567. The kill is still short of the all-time record of some 804 during a nine-day season in the late 50s or early 60s.

Ages of the deer killed compared with past years, Mr. Golden pointed out. One and one-half year old deer consisted of 82.4 percent of the kill; two and one-half year old deer, 14.7 percent, and three and one-half year old deer, 2.8 percent; four and one-half year old deer consisted of less than 1 percent of the total buck kill.

Mr. Golden said a kill of one and one-half year old buck deer indicated a relatively good reproduction of fawns and was comparable with other counties in the state. Largest one and one-half year old buck checked by Wildlife Administration personnel was a 9-pointer weighing 140 pounds. Average weight of the yearling buck was 104.6 pounds.

He said hunting pressure was slightly higher the first day on a county-wide basis this year. Savage River State forest had a 20 percent increase, highest on state lands. Hunters appeared in greater numbers the second and third days than in past years. Golden said there was very little hunting pressure on the final day of the season.

Christmas Treat Set December 20

Not all of the popcorn balls were available for distribution on Monday, so the remainder were given out at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Garrett National Bank parking lot.

No Estimate Yet Of Damages To Treatment Plant

No estimate of damages to the water treatment plant at Broad Ford has been tallied up yet, but the plant is now operating at two-thirds of its usual capacity.

A pressure valve failed in the plant last Wednesday, shorting out a motor which in turn allowed another valve to open and flood the basement of the plant with about 12 feet of water.

According to Ross Johnson, foreman at the plant, new valves have been installed so flooding of this type cannot

Friendsville Citizens Plan Town Meeting

Citizens of Friendsville have organized a meeting for Friday evening, December 12, at 7 o'clock, at the Friendsville fire hall to discuss their concern over the excessive charges for water and sewerage that will be assessed against them in the near future, when the federal project is completed.

According to some of the concerned citizens, letters received by them indicate that an average cost for the service will be $20 or more monthly, with $9.75 monthly for sewerage, and over $11 for water.

The water and sewer system project is a federal one under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and is not yet complete.

Citizens are endeavoring to obtain a speaker from the engineering concern which developed the project, and county and state officials.

One citizen remarked that many Friendsville residents were on fixed incomes and that they would be unable to pay such charges when they go into effect.

A large attendance is anticipated.

Garrett Bank Adds DelSignore As New Director

It was announced by James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D., Chairman of the Board and President of The Garrett National Bank in Oakland that the Board of Directors recently voted to increase the number of Directors to thirteen, effective last Thursday, December 4.

Carl DelSignore who was educated in the Grant County schools of West Virginia and having spent most of his adult life in the production of coal and lumber, was elected to fill this addition.

At the present time, with headquarters in Bayard, West Virginia, he is president of the Buffalo Coal Company who for the past several years has been the largest producer of bituminous coal in the state of Maryland.

Vice president and cashier, Maurice Brookhart, said the board felt that Mr. DelSignore, with his wide range of experience in the fields of coal mining, timbering and heavy equipment, that he would be a great asset as a director in the bank.

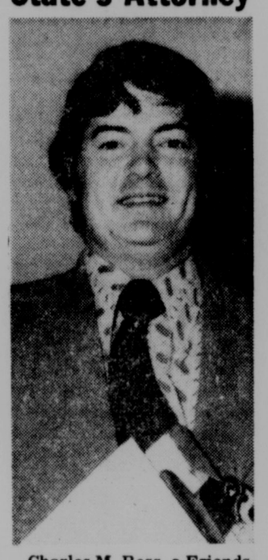
Charles M. Ross Named Assistant State's Attorney



Charles M. Ross, a Friendsville attorney, has been named assistant state's attorney to Ralph Burnett and will be working full time on paternity and child support cases.

Mr. Ross' program, established as a Title IV-D cooperative reimbursement program, is a federal project administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The project is coordinated at the state level by the Social Services administration of the Department of Human Resources.

An assistant will be employed to work under Mr. Ross with the cooperation of the Department of Social Services local office.

The program is designed to locate absent parents, usually fathers, and to arrange through a consent order, contempt order, or other court enforcement order, for child support payments, and is to collect the monies. Mr. Ross and his assistant will coordinate their activities with other counties, states, and the federal government to see that support payments are made.

The program is designed to make money for the county by eliminating some payments from the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program. There is also a 25 percent incentive payment which can revert to the county commissioners under the program rules. The program may also help shrink the list of welfare recipients if deserting fathers pay up.

Mr. Ross will be working in Ralph Burnett's office north of Oakland two days a week, interviewing clients.

A native of Friendsville, Mr. Ross moved his practice of law here during the last week of July. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Ross, Jr., a 1966 graduate of Northern High School, and a 1970 graduate of Johns Hopkins University with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

After obtaining his J.D. degree from the University of

Washington Report

by
Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Seeks to Ease Paperwork Burden

Saying that the Federal paperwork burden on small businesses has reached "monumental proportions", Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R.-Md.) is calling on Congress to force overzealous agencies to cut down on the reporting requirements with which small businesses must contend.

In remarks prepared for delivery at a field hearing of the Senate's Select Committee on Small Business held in Baltimore County, Senator Beall says that the high volumn of paperwork appears to be having a detrimental effect on the health of American small businesses. Beall points to complaints of many small businessmen that "the only alternative to meeting expanding Federal reporting requirements is either to go out of business or merge with larger firms which have the staff capacity for coping with mandatory requirements."

The Maryland Senator reports that an average one-man business needs to spend more than two weeks of work time each year to comply with Fedral reporting rules. A "mom and pop" store with an annual gross income of less than $30,000 is required to file 52 tax forms in just one year. Due to the length and complexity of the forms, the small firm is often forced to seek outside assistanee in filing. One estimate says that it costs the government nearly $20 billion yearly to print, distribute and store all the small business forms, and that it costs the small businessman about the same to complete the forms . . . cost which are ultimately passed on to the consumer.

"The worst part of this increase in paperwork," Beall adds, "is that much of it is unrelated to the actual business being conducted. I contend that this is unfair to the small business, and unhealthy for our economy, the foundation of which is small businesses."

CHICAGO—Although America's land and water supplies seem assured until at least the year 2000, the nation no longer can afford to take its resources for granted, say U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists.

Increasingly, Americans have come to realize that farm, range and woodlands, soil, water, wildlife and air are not inexhaustible. Among those concerned about resources for the future are more than a half million young people 9-19 in the national 4-H conservation of natural resources program sponsored by John Deere.

Looking ahead

Under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service, 4-H members learn how to use resources intelligently today in order to meet tomorrow's needs.

4-H'ers initiate and provide leadership in community conservation campaigns. They develop nature trails to stimulate public awareness and appreciation of woodlands, wildlife and streams. Or get involved in helping control soil erosion and air pollution.

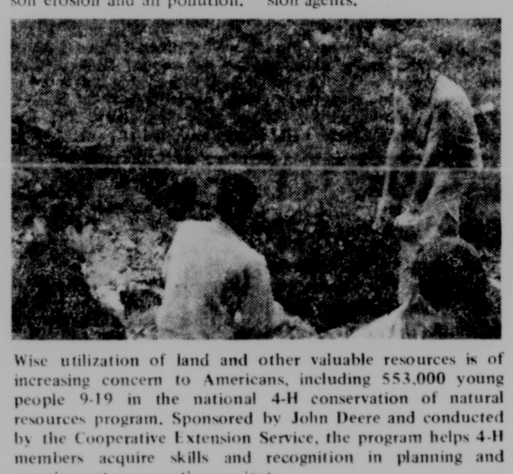
Individually and in clubs, 4-H'ers are eligible for awards donated by John Deere and arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee. Award winners are chosen by the Extension Service on the basis of their accomplishments in conservation projects and activities.

Awards for excellence

In each county conducting a 4-H conservation program, John Deere offers up to four medals of honor to members and as many as four certificates to local clubs. On the state level, a maximum of 10 clubs can win certificates and one county is eligible for a $50 award for the best conservation program.

One 4-H'er from each state receives an expense-paid trip to the 54th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago. During the Congress, six national winners are awarded college scholarships of $1,000.

More information on the national 4-H conservation of natural resources program is available from county extension agents.



Wise utilization of land and other valuable resources is of increasing concern to Americans, including 553,000 young people 9-19 in the national 4-H conservation of natural resources program. Sponsored by John Deere and conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, the program helps 4-H members acquire skills and recognition in planning and carrying out conservation projects.

Slated December 21 Annual Bird Count

The annual Christmas bird count for the National Audubon Society will be held Sunday, December 21, from midnight to midnight, according to Mrs. William Pope, county coordinator.

The count circle remains the same, centering at McHenry and stretching out to encompass Cranesville Swamp, Bittinger, Bear Creek, Swallow Falls, and Mt. Nebo within its 15-mile diameter.

Interested persons who wish to aid in counting species and numbers of birds are asked to contact Mrs. Pope. A charge of $1 is asked, to help defray the costs of printing the count results in the Audubon Society publication.

No Freedom in U.S.S.R.

Former Ambassador to Vietnam Elbridge Durbrow reports that he is shocked to learn that large numbers of people in the United States, including prosperous and successful businessmen, apparently do not believe or are unaware of the fact that there is no freedom whatsoever, or of any kind, behind the Iron Curtain.

Ambassador Durbrow, who serves as a professional in State Department and foreign service fields for many years, including three tours of duty in Moscow, is well equipped with first-hand knowledge of what it means to live under Communism. He has had personal contact with countless members and leaders in the Communist apparatus, as well as non-communist victims of the Soviet system. Hence, his information about the nature of life under Communism is built upon fact and personal observation, and not theory.

As a popular speaker at business and professional functions, however, Ambassador Durbrow reports that he has found an attitude of skepticism, and sometimes outright disbelief, that his descriptions of Soviet life are accurate. "Things can't be that bad," is often heard from people who should know better.

Most Americans, apparently, have not notieced that many of the so-called "dissidents" jailed in the USSR are convicted under "Article 70" of the Criminal Code of the USSR for the "crime" of criticizing Communism. Article 70 makes it illegal to "circulate, prepare or keep literature" which "defames the Soviet State and social system." The same law makes it illegal for any person to have in his possession such "propaganda." Thus, if a copy of the Wall Street Journal should be found in a person's apartment or on his person, and if that issue of the Journal has anything in it which might be construed by the Secret Police as "critical" of the Marxist government, that person "shall be punished by deprivation of freedom for a term of six months to 7 years, with or without additional exile for a term of two to five years."

It is specifically because of Article 70 of the Criminal Code of the USSR, and other similar laws, that there is absolutely no freedom of any kind for the people living under Communism; no freedom of speech, no freedom of the press, no freedom to vote for a candidate of one's choice, no freedom to choose one's profession or occupation, and what is more, no freedom even so much as to work for any change in the Soviet system of totalitarian oppression.

Only when the American people understand what it really means to live under a Communist system will be able to deal realistically with the USSR. — U.S. Press Association.

Total amount of damages will not be figured up until Peter Armbruster, a representative from BIF Industries in Pittsburgh, arrives on December 19 with parts and can investigate damages to motors and circuit boards.

Most of the 50 h.p. motors in the basement were salvaged, but one dehumidifier was a total loss. Losses in the circuit boards and to other pumps cannot be estimated, as most are working but not to full capacity.

With workmen from the water plant and electricians from Bausch and Lomb providing assistance, the plant was back in partial operation in two days.

Bausch and Lomb, which is totally dependent on the Broad Ford plant for water for operations, was almost out of water before the treatment plant machinery was dried out and put back into operation, but no working hours were lost. B & L has an emergency tank with two days' water supply.

Oakland switched to the former plant near the golf course temporarily but now is receiving most of its water from Broad Ford. Oakland had been using its town treatment plant for some water at least every other day to keep the plant in operable condition.

Fluoride is added to the water from the Broad Ford plant, in amounts specified by the health department. There is not as much fluoride, however, as in water from the Oakland treatment facility.

Women Robbed Twice In One Night Last Friday

Three thieves wearing ski masks and armed with knives entered the home of two women on Herrington Manor Road last Friday two separate times, making off with a total of approximately $232.

The three had come to the home of Mrs. Marie Campbell and her mother, Mrs. Goldie Hardesty, 91, about 6 p.m. Friday evening, entering through a basement door. They demanded money and accepted Mrs. Hardesty's wallet containing approximately $8. Before leaving they tore the telephone wires from the wall and threatened to harm the women if they told the police.

The two did not hear the young men leave, and were afraid to venture out of the house to go to a neighbor's some distance away to get help.

About 3 a.m. the thieves, still wearing masks, returned and entered by battering down the front door. They demanded "lots of money" and took the cash obtained from the women's Social Security checks amounting to $224.30. Before leaving they pushed Mrs. Hardesty, who is only able to be about in a walker since fracturing her hip some years ago, to the floor and again threatened the women, saying if they told police they would "burn the house down."

Mrs. Campbell waited until daylight before attempting a trip to Don Johnson's to get help. The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad was called, and Mrs. Hardesty was taken to Garrett county Memorial Hospital where she was examined and released.

Differences In Dennett Road Plans Are Aired

The Board of Education officials and the state Interagency on Public School Construction have been told by the Maryland Board of Public Works to try to iron out differences involving modernizing the Dennett Road elementary school.

A delegation of county representatives attended a meeting in Annapolis recently to argue for approval of a modernization plan which the IAC had turned down.

Dr. William H. Buser, county superintendent of schools, said the plan would better support and complement the county school system's educational plans and objectives than the less costly schematic suggested by the IAC.

However Leo Ritter, executive director of the IAC said that the more complex, modernization plan would require air conditioning and a fire prevention sprinkling system as well as major structural work because of the local board's proposal to enclose the current open court in the center of the school building.

Commissioner Wayne B. Hamilton offered to work with Dr. Buser and Mr. Ritter in an attempt to negotiate a solution acceptable to both the state and county.

Governor Marvin Mandel, who presides over the Board of Public Works, asked that the negotiations be started and deferred a state decision on the school plan.

Besides Mr. Hamilton and Dr. Buser, other county officials attending the meeting were State Senator Edward J. Mason, Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden and Herbert G. Harman, president of the board of education.

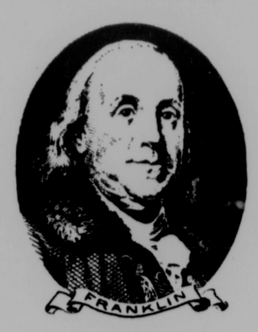
Early American Leaders Saw Cotton As Route To Economic Independence

A number of early American leaders recognized that cotton could be an important factor in achieving the economic independence so essential to supporting this country's political freedom.

In 1776 when the British House of Commons was considering repeal of the Stamp Act and questioned whether American colonists could clothe themselves without aid from England, Benjamin Franklin said Virginians could "very well clothe themselves with linen and cotton of their own raising for the rest of the year."

The National Cotton Council points out that, largely due to Franklin's influence, a calico printworks was established near Philadelphia in 1772. It was under the direction of John Hewson, who later fought in the Revolution.

Martha Washington personally visited the factory and ordered some special prints to which her husband George later pointed with pride. Washington had established a weaving house at Mount Vernon as early as 1767 and the cloth made there for about 25 neighboring families included 300 yards of cotton.



Alexander Hamilton, who was born on a West Indies cotton plantation and became the nation's first treasury secretary, believed cotton could be a profitable commercial crop for America and worked to promote its introduction.

In 1774, he predicted that several of the Southern colonies might one day clothe the whole continent. And by the following year, the crop's production was sufficent to lead Hamilton to suggest that cotton factories be placed alongside the cottonfields.

Thomas Jefferson wrote in 1786 that the four southernmost states were making a great deal of homespun cotton which he described as being "as well manufactured as the calicoes of Europe." And that same year, James Madison declared there was "no reason to doubt that the United States will one day become a great cotton-producing country."

Tench Coxe, a Philadelphian who was a delegate to the Continental Congress and later Assistant Secretary of the U.S. Treasury, did much to encourage cotton's cultivation and its manufacture. In 1786 he interested planters of five southern states in cotton cultivation.

Coxe also operated the nation's first spinning jenny at a plant in Philadelphia which employed 400 women in the spinning and weaving of cotton. He is said to have "emptied his pockets" to import English textile machinery and laborers to run the equipment. Largely at Coxe's urging, Congress imposed a duty of three cents a pound on cotton imports in 1789.

Savage Bridge Bid Deadline Now December 23

The deadline for tractors to submit bids for the three-span bridge on the Savage River Road over the Savage River has been changed to December 23 at 2 p.m., says the Garrett County Roads Department.

The original deadline was December 16, but a delay in getting the proposal forms has necessitated the revision in dates, according to Herbert McCrobie, chief of engineering of the Roads department.

The new bridge will be 240 feet long with three spans of continuous steel and composite concrete deck.

Plans and proposal forms may be obtained from the Garrett County Roads Department and bids will be accepted at the office of the Garrett County Commissioners in the Oakland Court House until December 23.

Sen. Beall Urges Passage Of Bill For Older Americans

After hearings across Maryland dealing with the elderly and the problems they face, Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., (R-Md.), ranking minority member on the Subcommittee on Aging, has written to President Ford urging him to sign the 1975 Amendments to the Older Americans Act into law.

The 1975 Amendments would extend the Older Americans Comprehensive Act of 1973 for another three years and also expand the social, nutritional and employment services provided by the act.

The new amendments, according to Beall, "would provide more services for the nation's 20 million elderly citizens, including legal and counseling services, transportation services, home repair and renovating services, home services, and a physical fitness program.

The bill would also authorize a study of unreasonable age discrimination in Federal programs.

Attend Meeting

They included Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Guard, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Glotfelty, George Shawley, Miss Kendra Fratz, this year's farm queen, and Mrs. George Bishoff.

A detailed account of the meeting will be provided next week.

The U.S. House accepted the Senate ban on forced bussing.

Education Hearing Slated December 22 For Transportation

Due to the insistence of two Delegates of the House of Representatives, the Maryland State Department of Education task force has scheduled a public hearing at Cresaptown December 22 on public school transportation.

The original schedule of hearings listed the nearest site as Frederick before intervention by Delegates Casper R. Taylor, Jr. (D-Allegany, Washington) and Thomas B. Cumiskey (D-Allegany).

The Cresaptown hearing will be from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Allegany Regional Resource Center.

The task force report, presented to the state board at its October meeting, made 13 recommendations, including full state funding of transportaiton costs, computerized bus scheduling, a simplified reimbursement formula for local school systems, staggered school opening times, and exclusion for state funded transportation of all students who attend schools housing the seventh grade or higher, and who live less than a mile and a half from school.

The proposals also recommend appointment of a special task force to study pupil transportation in Baltimore City.

William Perkins, task force chairman, has asked citizens or organizations who wish to testify to telephone their local school system transportation office in advance to be on the speakers' schedule. Perkins also asked that ten copies of written remarks be submitted at the hearing.

Copies of the report are available from local boards of education transportation offices. Eugene Flinn is the Garrett County transportation department head.

Generally, however, in insurance, casualty means accident, or a mishap which occured as a result of an unknown or unexpected cause. The major kinds of casualty insurance today are automobile insurance, workmen's compensation, health insurance, and the various other kinds of liability insurance besides automobile liability. Among minor, special kinds of insurance may also be found, theft, glass breakage, steam boiler explosion, credit, title, water damage, aircraft, and animal life insurance.

Inside Business

Incentives are Needed to Hike Energy Reserves

By Ross Wilhelm

In 1974, the nation's oil and gas reserves declined. On December 31, 1974, our reserves of oil were one billion barrels less than in 1973, despite a doubling of oil discoveries in 1974. Our reserves of natural gas in 1974 fell by 5 percent from the level at the end of 1973.

Our reserves of oil and gas have been declining because we have been consuming these fuels at a higher rate than we have been replacing them. If we continue as we have been, we will have no reserves.

Obviously, to remedy the problem we can either reduce consumption or increase the exploration, discovery and development of new fields. Generally, the public has been slow to reduce consumption, although some reduction has occurred due to higher fuel prices.

If we intend to increase our domestic reserves we must encourage more exploration. One way to do this is by providing more financial incentives for exploration, and removing the barriers which prevent it.

Recently, Congress eliminated the oil depletion allowance for the major oil companies. The principal impact of this action has been to reduce oil company profits and incentive for exploration. First quarter earning reports for 1975 indicate that the profits of the major oil companies have dropped sharply from the high levels of 1974. Higher 1974 profits came from the rise in values of inventories occurring as a result of the price increase by the oil producing nations' monopoly. As these inventories have been replaced by high-priced oil and as retail gasoline prices have declined since the end of the oil embargo, profits of the oil companies have declined. Thus, in recent times, events have weakened the incentives for exploration.

Through our efforts to protect the environment, we have also erected barriers to exploration for new oil fields. Our reluctance to permit exploration in the oceans off our coasts has been a barrier to added output of petroleum. If we wish to add to our reserves, we must reduce these barriers.

A major push for more exploration and production would occur if we were to decontrol the prices of natural gas and old oil. The federal government is holding the prices of natural gas and of old oil at low levels. This encourages consumption and discourages exploration and production.

Decontrolling the price of old oil would encourage the use of secondary and tertiary methods of recovering oil in our existing fields. This could increase our reserves. Further, the decontrolling of old oil probably would not raise gasoline prices, since the price of gasoline has been falling recently because of weak demand.

The decontrolling of natural gas prices would raise these prices in the short-run but would reduce them over time. Natural gas prices are rising now because we are importing very high-priced gas. By decontrolling gas prices we will increase output, and added supplies will slow down future price increases.

Listen Americans!

... by Dr. George S. Benson
PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

United States Day

Two conflicting celebrations have taken place this fall in the United States. U.N. Day, sponsored by the various regional, state and local U.N. citizen organizations, to emphasize what the United Nations stand for, and United States Day to emphasize what America stands for. If both these days are celebrated in 1975, it will be a good time for all Americans to stop and give serious study to the irreconcilable conflicts which exist between the U.N. Charter and the U.S. Constitution.

The Dream of World Peace

The United Nations was born in a world which was tired of war, killing and hardship. World War II had left the entire world in a shambles and as the human race began picking up the pieces they also began to dream of a world without conflict . . . a peaceful world. That was the label under which the United Nations came into being. It is a dream which decent people have always dreamed. It is a dream which all free people pray will someday, somehow come true.

But before the U.N. had been in existence more than a few months, the serious student of human history began to seriously study the Charter which was then being advertised as the "world's best hope for peace." It was loaded in favor of Communism. Not a document for peaceful, free nations, but rather a document to force the human family into a mold made by planners who wanted to rule the entire world under one government of their own making. The peace dream turned into a nightmare of efforts trying against hope to prevent the U.N. from becoming a world government dictatorship dominated by the Communist bloc.

Constitution Contrasted with Charter

The Constitution of the United States is a concisely worded document, proposing to guarantee rights which it recognizes as unalienable to man as a gift from his Creator. The U.N. Charter proposes to grant to man whatever rights the U.N. decides he should have, with no recognition or mention of such a Being as Creator. (God and religion are anathama to Communists.)

The right to a trial by jury, won by our ancestors in 1215 A.D., is not granted or guaranteed by the Charter of the U.N. Freedom of the press, "may be withdrawn if necessary for the protection of national security, public order, safety, health, morals or rights of others." Freedom of religion, to many Amerians, the most vital right guaranteed by our Constitution with these words, "Congress shall make no law with respect to the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," is treated by the U.N. Charter with this language: "Freedom to manifest one's religion shall be subject only to such limitations as are necessary to protect public safety, order, health, morals or the fundamental rights and freedoms of others." Who is to make such a decision and on what basis?

If you have the opportunity to celebrate United States Day . . . make it a celebration of renewal of dedication to the freedoms which are your inalienable right from your Creator and guaranteed by your government. Also make it a day in which you declare your independence from any and all efforts to take them away as your right and cause them to become your grant from the United Nations World Government.

Two Charged With Assault On Police Officer

Two Swanton men have been released on $1,000 property bond each after they were charged with assault and battery on deputy Donald W. Tucker.

Jimmy Ray Beckman, 22, and Roy G. Beckman, 25, were charged with assault and battery on a police officer following an incident Friday, December 5, at about 6 p.m on O'Brien Road in the Swanton vicinity.

Deputy Tucker had been called to assist Natural Resource Police in investigating a complaint of trespass and possession of a spotlight when the incident occurred.

God's Wrath Against Mankind

(18) The wrath of God is being revealed from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of men who suppress the truth by their wickedness, (19) since what may be known about God is plain to them, because God has made it plain to them. (20) For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities — his eternal power and divine nature — have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse:

(21) For although they knew God, they neither glorified him as God nor gave thanks to him, but their thinking became futile and their foolish hearts were darkened. (22) Although they claimed to be wise, they became fools (23) and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images made to look like mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles.

(24) Therefore God gave them over in the sinful desires of their hearts to sexual impurity for the degrading of their bodies with one another. (25) They exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshiped and served created things rather than the Creator — who is forever praised. Amen.

(26) Because of this, God gave them over to shameful lusts. Even their women exchanged natural relations for unnatural ones. (27) In the same way the men also abandoned natural relations with women and were inflamed with lust for one another. Men committed indecent acts with other men, and received in themselves the due penalty for their perversion.

(28) Furthermore, since they did not think it worthwhile to retain the knowledge of God, he gave them over to a depraved mind, to do what ought not to be done. (29) They have become filled with every kind of wickedness, evil, greed and depravity. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit and malice. They are gossips, (30) slanderers, God-haters, insolent, arrogant and boastful; they invent ways of doing evil; they disobey their parents; (31) they are senseless, faithless, heartless, ruthless. (32) Although they know God's righteous decree that those who do such things deserve death, they not only continue to do these very things, but also approve of those who practice them. — The Bible — Romans 1:18-32.

Unless there is an awakening here in this county, judgment is sure to come. The only hope for this county is the people to have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. This only comes about when people turn from their sins, asking Jesus Christ to forgive them of their sins and inviting him into their heart. It is time that Christians cried out against the sin of homosexuality, drunkeness, drug abuse, abortion and etc. Won't you join the fight against these evils.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our loved one, Wilbur A. Hinebaugh, who died March 1, 1975.
Husband, Father, Grandfather and Brother.
He left a beautiful memory.
A sorrow too great to be told—
And to us who loved him and lost him,
His memory will never grow old.
He did not fail to do his best;
His heart was true and tender.
He worked so hard for those he loved.
There is so much to remember—
Please God, forgive the secret tears,
The constant wish that he was here.
You took him home, it was your Will.
But in our hearts he liveth still.
Sadly missed by
Wife, Leona,
Sons and Daughters,
Grandchildren,
Brother and Sisters

From Tiny Seed

Western hemlock is a highly versatile wood. Besides its use as structural lumber and decorative paneling, it's prized for pulp and paper. The seed of this forest giant is so tiny it takes 300,000 to weigh a pound.

More than 50,000 nails of a dozen or more types are used in building the average frame house, including the "benders."

Ruth Enlow Library Marks 25th Year

Today marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Dedication ceremonies and cutting of the ribbon took place December 11, 1950.

The dedication ceremonies took place at a public meeting in the Sunday School room of the Lutheran Church, presided over by Bernard I. Gonder, president of the Board of Trustees of the library. Following the meeting, Miss Edith Brock, Librarian, officially cut the ribbon at the front of the new building. Members of the Lions Club acted as guides taking visitors through the new building.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Bittle were members of the Board of Trustees which planned the original building. Both have served continuously on the Board since that time. Mrs. Bittle served as Secretary for a number of years. Mrs. Jones served as Treasurer for a number of years also, and subsequently as President of the Board for several years.

At the time of the opening the circulation of books and related material was 38,109. Circulation today is 133,351, provided by the main library in Oakland, five branches and the Bookmobile. The five branches are in Grantsville, Friendsville, Kitzmiller, Crellin, and Finzel.

The enlarged library building in Oakland was opened in February 1969, tripling the size of the original building.

Forerunner of the Ruth Enlow Library was set up as the Garrett County Library Advisory Board on July 1, 1946. The local library was started by the Oakland Civic Club in 1915.

One Is Injured Near Grantsville

A Springs, Pa., man was slightly injured in a one-car mishap last Friday morning on the Springs road about two miles north of Grantsville.

Richard A. Folk was injured when his car overturned just before 11 o'clock last Friday morning. He stated he fell asleep at the wheel. The car went to the right, striking an embankment, back across the road, overturned and came to rest in the northbound lane. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated.

Harry F. Messer, Jr., Morningside, struck a parked truck of the W. H. Fratz Co. on the eastern edge of Accident last Thursday afternoon. The truck was parked eastbound, on the westbound shoulder of the Accident-Bittinger road. Messer, westbound, lost control of his car on a sharp turn above the Fratz store, skidded about a hundred feet and came to rest against the truck. Tfc. Williams charged Messer with operating at excess speed for conditions.

Four Juveniles Heard Yesterday

Four juvenile cases were heard by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., in Circuit Court yesterday, two forestry camp boys and two girls.

The two 17-year-old boys were found by Judge Hamill to be delinquent minors by reason of assault and battery, one on two persons and the other on one person. They were both sentenced to the Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene until released by due process of the law.

A 15-year-old female was found to be in need of supervision at a hearing October 15 because of illegal absence from school. Yesterday she was committed to the custody of Juvenile Services Administration. She was placed on probation under the supervision of the administration, to abide by their rules and regulations, remain at home, accept tutoring and not run away. The probation is for an undetermined period until released by due process of the law.

A 14-year-old female was found to be delinquent by reason of shoplifting. She was placed on probation without entry of judgment under supervision of Juvenile Services Administration for an undetermined period.

Income Received From Park Fees

A check for $6,639.34, 15 percent of income received at Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls State Parks from user fees, was presented to Garrett County by the State Comptroller's office on behalf of the Maryland Park Service.

More Is Received

An additional amount was received from three other state parks also, it was announced by Ward Ashby, manager at Deep Creek, and Parry Edmiston, from the New Germany and Big Run parks.

The check for $3,606.32, fifteen percent of income from Deep Creek Lake Park was received by the county, and a check for $3,283.52 was received from the New Germany and Big Run state parks.

This makes a total of $13,529.18 from the state park areas in the county.

The Park Service is required by law to make this payment to the county in lieu of taxes on park lands in the subdivision.

Last year, over seven million visitors visited and utilized the state parks and their facilities, allowing over one million dollars to be collected in park fees. The Maryland General Assembly then provided the remainder of the five-million-dollar Park Service operational budget.

Such a budget supports the administration, supply, and maintenance of each of the 45 park areas (32 being operational) and enables well-staffed interpretive, historical, archaeological, and environmental research aimed at improving service to the public.

Citing the benefits for both the state and county because of increased park visitation, Supervisor of Program Development Ralph Peace summed up, "as more people enjoy the state parks, more income is generated and both the county government and the public is better served."

He was a retired editor and a wise one. But he was a realist — as a newspaperman must be. One of his sayings became legendary in that busy pressroom:

When the front page makes you happy — it's been a great day!

I'm one who has noticed that the great days seem farther apart. Nor can I blame on my ulcer the headlines that don't make anyone happy. Someone else said: men make the news; reporters only write it.

It's time to give thought to the roots of happiness. After all, what happens every day is simply the fruit of a million vines. Down at the roots is where the fateful choices are made which inevitably bring forth their fruit.

This is a mighty fine newspaper whose service to the community is to tell us what news men have made today. We also have some mighty fine churches. Their service to the community is to mold the faith and character of the men who will make the news tomorrow.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

HUMBLE SOVEREIGNTY

Lesson for December 14, 1975

Background Scripture:
Matthew 12:15-21; 13:34,35; 21:1-5.
Devotional Reading:
Isaiah 42:1-9.

Just a little less than a year ago I walked the road upon which it is believed that Jesus rode on the first Palm Sunday, from Bethphage where he mounted the ass, to the so-called "Golden Gate" by which he entered the walls of Jerusalem.

Rev. Althouse

As I hurried down that road (Americans in the Holy Land hurry so that they may "chalk-up" more holy places during their visit!), I paid little attention to the gravel street beneath me. Suddenly I felt myself lurching forward and hitting the ground with a terrible thud.

For a few moments I lay stunned in the dirt. Then, painfully I picked myself up and did my best to brush the dirt from my bleeding hands. Palestinian children on their way home from school glanced indulgently at me as they went by. I was embarassed, for it was evident that I had stepped into a deep pot-hole in the road.

The humble king

As I sheepishly resumed my walk, hobbling on my swollen ankle, I felt chastized by my fall and into my mind there came the words: "Behold, your king is coming to you, humble and mounted on an ass" (Zechariah 9:9). Jesus did not stride down this road in a hurry, he proceded as a humble sovereign! It was with far greater respect and reverence that I walked the Palm Sunday road that day—because of a pothole!

Christians often bear their discipleship with a kind of benevolent arrogance. Their rationale seems to be: If you have the truth, act like it! Church people often "turn-off" others because they are simply overbearing.

Isaiah's "servant" Messiah

For example, there is the image of the Servant-Messiah portrayed by the prophet Isaiah. In a day when many people looked for a bold and mighty warrior king, Isaiah prophecied a different kind of Messiah. He would be not so much the mighty conqueror, but a servant: "Behold, my servant whom I have chosen, my beloved with whom my soul is well pleased..." (Matthew 12:18).

Humility, not arrogance, seems to be the key to the Lord's annointed one who is to come as God's Messiah:

He will not wrangle or cry aloud, nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets; he will not break a bruised reed or quench a smouldering wick. (Matthew 12:19,20)

Matthew sees this image fulfilled in Jesus's own conduct. Even his entrance into Jerusalem is accomplished with humble dignity: "Behold, your king is coming to you, humble..." said Zechariah the prophet, and Jesus was the perfect portrayal of that picture.

Yet, the portrait has two dimensions: humility and sovereignty! Jesus' ministry combined both these elements. Through his humility there shown a sovereignty, an authority that could not be mustered by even the most arrogant and powerful of men. There was power in Jesus, but it was a quiet, humble power that persuaded rather than coerced.

It is to that same humble sovereignty that you and I are called.

Senior Citizen Building Fund Being Sought

Robert Ford, president of the Garrett County Commission on Aging, said checks can be mailed directly to the First National Bank in Oakland, his home at 310 Bradley Manor in Oakland, or to the Senior Citizens Program, Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., Box 149, Oakland.

Ford said that all contributions will be used toward the purchase of the former Orange Crush bottling plant, adjacent to the municipal parking lot in Oakland.

The Commission holds an option on the facility and seeks to raise much of the purchase price through contributions.

Ford pointed out that the building will just not be for Oakland area residents but for all of Garrett County's elderly.

He explained that donations in memory of a loved one will be noted by letters of recognition.

"All contributions will be acknowledged, Ford continued. "We are undertaking this project on faith in Garrett countians who want to see the elderly have a place to fellowship and get the needed service."

"We can increase the programs we have already established by having a central point to provide them," Ford concluded.

Rails, Union agreed to avert a strike Dec. 5.

CAN SANTA MAKE IT THIS YEAR?

With air pollution at an all-time high, there is some doubt whether Santa Claus will be able to make his annual trip this year.

Upper respiratory diseases attack older folks much more frequently and as you know, Mr. Claus is getting on in years. It has also been said that Santa has a touch of asthma which can easily be triggered when flying over some of those smog-ridden larger cities.

Let's all become pollution fighters this year. It will help all of us to stay healthier and will also keep those reindeer flying.

Commissioners Review Pending Legislation, Personal Property Tax

At their regular Monday meeting Commissioners Hamilton, Bender, and Edwards met with Delegate DeCorsey Bolden and Senator Ed Mason to discuss pending legislation which will be considered in this year's session of the Maryland General Assembly. The Commissioners discussed proposals with the legislators to amend Maryland laws to allow more effecient timber harvesting from State Forest Lands, to change the program Open Space guidelines, and the need to increase the money funds to Maryland counties for tourism and promotion. There was general agreement that these measures should be supported.

In other commissioner business Commissioners Hamilton, Bender, and Edwards, Marshall Rickert, county administrator; Tim Dugan, county planning director; and Jack R. Turney, county attorney, will attend the Maryland Association of Counties annual winter meeting in Baltimore. The purpose of these meetings is to enable Garrett County officials to learn of various state proposals which can be of benefit to Garrett County and to discuss pending legislation with other county officials to determine the possible beneficial or adverse effects on the various political subdivisions.

In response to numerous questions from constituents, the County Commissioners wish to clarify the terms of the personal property tax inventory exemption which has been phased-in during the last two fiscal years. Reproduced here is the body of the letter authorizing the tax assessors office to eliminate this portion of the personal property tax: "By appropriate and unanimous action on Monday, June 1, 1974, the Board of Commissioners of Garrett County authorized increase of Personal Property Tax Exemptions for Commercial Inventory and Manufacturing Inventory from 50% to 60 and 10% each succeeding year until the tax exemption is phased out. This is to become effective from July 1, 1974." Commissioner Edwards pointed out that this is not an exemption on all personal property taxes, but only on the inventory portion of the personal property tax and that equipment and machinery is still subject to personal property taxation.

Injured Youth May Get Home

David McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McKenzie, Finzel, was expected to be able to return to his home this week after being injured in a corn-picking machine some four weeks ago.

The youth was throwing some corn into the machine when his shirt became entangled and it dragged him into the machine. He sustained fractured legs, and other injuries. He was cut loose and taken to the hospital, where he underwent a six-hour operation.

His other injuries included a torn ear and a cut requiring stitches under his arm.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I just want to tell you all that what you said about that meteorite (in Events Above the Mountain Top) just wasn't the way I saw it. I called the sheriff's office. It was 8:45 p.m. Nov. 20. I was outside my mother's house (Thomas) when all at once everything was so bright. At the same time a humming noise was getting closer. I looked up and my eyes hurt. The ball of fire, all white, was so bright and the tail was white and orange, and it was so long waving and acting as if it was mad, up and down, straight back again in waves.

It was coming out of the north and heading south. It was above the field below Barefoots, on across the field below Mrs. Thomas' just above the trees and heading for Junior Fike's house, when all at once it went black. All at once, tail and all. The moon, though bright, seemed dim. Then I called Junior up and asked them if they saw it, but they said no.

I can't see how and where it went for as low as it was it would never have gotten up over Elder Hill or even Humberson Hill. So where did it go? My daughter told me where it was on t.v.

The next morning Roy W. Umbel died. The other time I saw one like that was the night Pauline VanSickle died.

I've seen different things like crosses and ball of fire, flying saucers, but I just never told anyone but our family and our pastor.

Recent Accidents Injure Several

Several were injured in recent accidents and apparently none taken to hospital, both in the northern part of the county. Several others involved a deer.

The driver and three of four passengers were injured in a three-vehicle mixup on November 24 on the Avilton-Lonaconing Road. The car was driven by John A. Muir, Jr., LaVale, and the injured passengers were Kim Weir, Kevin Weir, and John Wilson, all of Lonaconing. Muir was driving north and after cresting a hill noted two pick-ups belonging to Lafe L. McKenzie, RD 2, Frostburg, and Ellis C. Crowe, RD 1, Lonaconing. Both trucks were parked partially on the roadway, one on each side. Muir applied his brakes, skidded out of control, stuck the McKenzie truck and then hit the Crowe truck. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile placed a charge against all three drivers: Muir for excess speed; McKenzie for permitting a motor vehicle to be operated contrary to law, and Crowe for parking on the traveled portion of the roadway.

A passenger in a car driven by Hagar W. Thomas, Star Route, Accident, November 26 at 6 p.m. Sandra Louise Thomas was injured. Two other passengers apparently escaped injury.

Thomas and Jesse L. Elkins, Grantsville, were eastbound on U.S. 40 just east of Green Lantern road when Thomas stopped to make a left turn. Elkins failed to stop and struck the rear of the Thomas car. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore charged Elkins with failing to reduce speed.

Four accidents involved a deer.

Rita Joan Bittinger, Star Route, Grantsville, was traveling west on U.S. 40 just east of the Green Lantern road the evening of November 21. A deer jumped onto the roadway and into the car. Tfc. Berkebile made no charges.

David P. Thayer, Star Route, Oakland, was driving along Sand Flat road near the Pergin Farm road about 1:30 a.m. November 23, when a deer jumped in front of his car. He was unable to avoid striking it.

George R. Fogel, Connellsville, Pa., was traveling north on the Addison-Friendsville road the early morning of November 28, when a deer came from the left shoulder and into his path. Although he struck the animal, Tfc. Broadwater made no charges.

William T. Parks, Baltimore, was driving west on U.S. 40 at 3:40 a.m. November 22, about a mile and a half east of Grantsville. A deer attempted to cross the highway and ran into the rear fender of his car. Tpr. Ronald Georg investigated.

A one-car accident occurred on the newly opened section of the National Freeway just west of Keyser Ridge about 8:30 last Monday morning, this being apparently the first. David I. Unger, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., was traveling west when he lost control. The car skidded off the right side of the road, turned over and struck an embankment.

Mark R. Hafner, Baltimore, had been involved in a verbal altercation with some persons on the parking lot of Windy Knolls about two o'clock the morning of December 4. Hafner attempted to leave in a hurry and in doing so backed into the parked car of Peter J. Nichols, RD 1, Oakland. Tfc. Berkebile investigated.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks:

How do I apply for a Health Professions Student Loan?

The Health Professions Student Loan program provides long-term, low-interest loans to assist students undertaking the course of study required to become a physician, dentist, osteopath, optometrist, pharmacist, podiatrist, or veterinarian. Interested individuals should consult the Director of Student Financial Aid at the school where they intend to apply. An information booklet is also available from my office in Washington.

What percent of State land is devoted to farming?

According to the Maryland Department of Agriculture, nearly 50 percent of the States' total 6.3 million surface acres are in the hands and care of agriculturists.

Why did you oppose the Land Use bill?

I believe the way to better land use planning lies in localities and states making the land use decision rather than the federal government. Experience as former Chairman of the Maryland Planning and Zoning Law Study Commission has shown me that community growth requirements and questions on how an owner can use his land are often sensitive and complex matters that are best settled at the local level. I also feel we must cut federal spending and that the half a billion dollar price tax on the land use proposal will only add to the federal deficit and resulting inflationary pressures.

Do Congressmen have individually assigned seats on the floor of the House?

No. They did until the 63rd Congress (about 1913), but now any member may sit where he chooses.

My mother applied for black lung widow benefits in December. Can you please check on the status of her claim since we have heard nothing?

The Social Security Administration in Baltimore was contacted upon receipt of your letter. As you are now aware, your mother's black lung claim was approved based on the additional material you provided your local social security office. Citizens experiencing similar difficulty obtaining government benefits justly due them should feel free to contact my office in Washington.

I suggest you contact John N. Ruth, Assistant Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, Office of Attorney General, One South Calvert Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202.

Do you have any booklets available that provide a non-technical outline of the steps involved from origination of legislation to the point it becomes law?

Copies of "How Our Laws Are Made" are ideal for classroom or personal study and may be ordered through my office in Washington.

Have you received any citizen reaction to off-shore drilling proposals?

Tabulation of my February survey showed that 84 percent of all respondents support development of off-shore drilling facilities, even with the realization that this could include drilling off the coast of Maryland.

How did you vote on the bill which extends a $2.3-billion loan to New York City?

I voted against the billion dollar aid bill to New York City. I have felt from the beginning that Congress should persuade New York to balance its budget rather than finance it in the red with federal loan guarantees. I cannot help but feel that this $2.3-billion will turn into a permanent subsidy, and worse, that it will relieve the pressure on New York to put its finances in order.

I have a question on the Employee Retirement Income Security Act. When is an employee eligible to participate in a pension plan?

Generally, a pension plan must allow an employee to participate when he is age 25 and has completed one year of service. There are exceptions and plans providing full and immediate vesting may require an employee to put in 3 years of service.

In light of our energy problems, do you think environmental restrictions should be eased?

In some cases, yes, and I can give you a good local example of just why it is important to ease some restrictions. The Kelly-Springfield Tire company in Western Maryland has submitted a request to burn at its local plant and has been awaiting approval on its request for some time. I fully support the burning of coal at this plant and have urged favorable and expeditious action on this matter by the Environmental Protection Agency. With the economic situation in Allegany County very serious and with the possibility of further industrial closings, I feel that it is imperative to allow maximum use of local energy resources.

Do you have any literature on ways to reduce home heating bills?

The Department of Housing & Urban Development has published an illustrated booklet discussing the entire range of home heating and this brochure will help you to determine the most affordable improvements to net the best return on your investment. Copies of "In the Bank or Up the Chimney: A Dollar and Cents Guide to Energy Saving Home Improvements" is available for $1.70 from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C.

How does a miner file a claim for federal Black Lung benefits?

To file a Black Lung claim, visit, write or call your local Social Security Office. They are supplied with all U.S. Department of Labor forms and are authorized to make appointments for necessary medical examinations. It is best to visit the office in person because the program can seem complicated.

Three Youths Are Charged In Larceny

An 18-year-old youth and two juveniles have been charged with larceny and a drug case was listed among the criminal cases in the office of the Maryland State Police in Oakland.

Donald Wayne Winebrenner, 18, of Star Route, Frostburg, (Garrett Co.), and two juveniles are allegedgly involved in breaking and entering and larceny of Harold's TV in Grantsville last Friday. Sgt. John F. McGowan, criminal investigator for the State Police made the arrest. The same ones are allegedly involved in the larceny of radiator caps, batteries and jacks from five 1976 Ford trucks belonging to Grantsville Ford, with a total value of $302. The items were taken from a lot of the motor company in a remote area not easily seen. This occurred November 22. Winebrenner has been released to the custody of his parents. Merchandise taken from Harold's TV was recovered about an hour after the alleged theft which occurred about 3:30 a.m. Tfc. D. E. Tharp, criminal investigator for the State Police in Garrett County investigated the auto parts theft.

About 45 gallons of gasoline were taken from three of four fire trucks of Eastern Garrett County Fire Department on the Finzel road sometime between 5 p.m. November 25 and the following morning. Entrance was gained by prying off some weather-stripping from the door. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile investigated.

John David Marker, Berlin, Pa., has been charged with possession of marijuana which was allegedly found in the vehicle following an accident on U.S. 40 about .8 mile east of Grantsville November 22, about 4:30 a.m. It was found after the accused had been removed from the vehicle and transported to Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted. Marker has since been released on a $100 bond. Trooper Ronald Georg investigated.

Rams Defeat Bruce 64-62

Kevin Liller dropped in a basket with five seconds remaining to give Southern High of Oakland a stunning 64 to 62 upset victory over the WMIL defending champion Bruce Bulldogs of Westernport last Friday night at Oakland.

Liller scored 30 points to provide the Ram offensive punch and Alan Lewis hurt Bruce by doing a good job against 6-8 Bulldog center Terry Fahey.

With 20 seconds left in the ball game Bill Ahern scored for Bruce to give the Bulldogs a 62-60 lead. But with 16 seconds remaining Ed Panther tied the contest with a 17-foot shot. Bruce then turned the ball over to Southern on an intercepted inbounds pass. Southern's Mark Proudfoot was fouled and he went to the line for a one and one. Proudfoot missed the opening free throw, but managed to grab the rebound and went up with a hook shot. The shot failed but Steve Liller pulled down the rebound for Southern and passed to his brother Kevin who sank the deciding bucket.

Bruce called time and managed to set up a final shot but the long desperation attempt by Tom Warnick failed.

Bruce led 18 to 16 at the end of the first period but the Rams managed to get a 31-30 edge at intermission. Bruce broke out during the third period and worked to a 51-43 edge at the end of the third period.

Kevin Liller then brought the Rams back into the game with six free throws and three field goals.

Little Yough Clean-Up Begins

Work was scheduled to begin Wednesday of this week on a Litte Youghiogheny clean-up project which has been discussed for nearly 20 years.

James Matthews, Crellin, has been chosen supervisor of a 10-man crew which will spend the next six months clearing debris and general refuse from the Little Yough channel and clearing brush and vegetation (including larger trees) from the normal flood bank of the river so that during high water river flow will not be obstructed and water can recede faster.

The project will follow the river from the Third Street Extended bridge downstream past the Kildow Mill, the Railroad Station, and the Carnation plant to approximately 300 yards beyond the Sterling Processing Plant.

The work is being made possible by a $50,494 grant acquired through a transfer from the Department of Commerce through the Appalachian Regional Commission to the county ASCS.

The County Commissioners are acting as sponsors of the project following an agreement signed between the Commissioners and the county ASCS committee November 3 of this year. The Commissioners will furnish payment in kind, including the work of Tom Jones, County Economic Development department director, who has been acting as one of the coordinators of the project. The commissioners will also furnish equipment and space rental, for a total amount of $12,623.

Others helping coordinate the project included ASCS director Granville Halterman; the Soil Conservation Service's John Reckner; the Garrett County Soil Conservation district manager, William Nace; Erosion and Sediment Control officer, Sean Sanders; Marshall Rickert, county administrator, former county planner; Col. J. Haig Jackson, chairman of the Garrett County Development Corporation; Earl Savage, director of Garrett County Public Service Employment, and Albert Whitmer, Public Service assistant.

The project will employ men who currently are unemployed, taking them off unemployment rolls. The men will be paid on an hourly basis.

They will work through May clearing out debris, cutting larger trees for firewood for adjoining landowners as necessary. Man-made refuse will be hauled away in a truck provided by the county commissioners. Some brush will be carted above the flood plain to higher ground and left to decompose.

The project was originally conceived about 1958 aspart of the Soil Conservation Service Wilson Run-Little Youghiogheny Watershed project. Seven flood control impoundments were scheduled to be constructed, along with clean-up of the river.

The clean-up segment of the project was dropped in 1965 due to a lack of funds. One of the dams also was never constructed.

Former Husband, Wife Couples Issued Permits

Two former husband and wife couples were among the 16 issued a license to wed during the week ending December 8. One of the couples was of the two not to be published. November licenses showed a decided drop from October and also from last November.

During November, 25 of 36 percent of the 77 licenses issued were civil ceremonies. There were 16 less licenses issued this year than in November 1974, and a drop of 30 from October.

Information is from records in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court. Where a person is under 18 years old, parent's consent was given.

Miss Eddy Gets Gymnast Trophy

Colleen Eddy, 13-year-old student at Southern High School, captured the fourth place All-Around Gymnast trophy in competition this past weekend at Frostburg.

Although she has won gymnastic awards in the past, this was the first time she entered all events. She also took second place against all contestants in vaulting and sixth place in floor routine.

Colleen is currently a student of Chip Boyer, past coach for the Frostburg State College Women's Gymnastic team, who now has his own gymnasium and team in Mt. Savage. In addition to competing with other clubs, Mr. Boyer's team puts on exhibitions and will be performing half-time shows at several Allegany Community College basketball games.

In the past Colleen has studied with Bud Gianini, Pennsylvania Hall of Fame gymnast; Dan Warbutton, past U.S. Men's Olympic Team member, and Bernie Michels, Montgomery county gymnastic director. During the Thanksgiving holiday Colleen and four other western Maryland girls traveled to Philadelphia to work out under Bill Coco, U.S. Women's Olympic Team coach, and two members of the team, Ann Carr and Roxanne Pierce.

Miss Eddy, who assists her mother in teaching acrobatics at the Doris Eddy School of Dance in Oakland, plans to become an accredited coach.

Garrett College Trips Beaver

Garrett Community College moved out to an early nine-point lead and held on to beat a tough Community College of Beaver County, Pa., team last Saturday night in a battle at McHenry. Four players fouled out.

The lakers evened their record at 1-1 after dropping their opener to LaRoche. The Lakers took a 19-10 lead in the first six minutes and began holding the ball on the four-corner offense against Beaver's zone defense. The Lakers stayed on top 37-29 at halftime.

With 11 minutes to go Tom Panther, Jim Metzger and Mike Saturday got into foul trouble with four personals each and all three eventually fouled out. Bobby Scheer made four key foul shots and Mike Grove converted free throws in the final two minutes to keep Garrett on top.

Outshot from the floor 26 to 22 the Lakers won the game at the foul line, converting 29 of 40 free throws, while Beaver made only 18 of 32. Lakers hit 22 of 46 shots from the field for 46 percent.

Saturday, 6-6 sophomore and the only returning starter had 17 points and dominated the boards with 15 rebounds. Grove and Scheer had 12 points each. Panther had 5, Metzger 5, and Comiskey 2.

Ken Clark had 25 points and McMillan 12 for Beaver.

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias

A Salute to A Neighbor

Although there was some squabbling over that line about 200 years ago, Marylanders and Pennsylvanians have been good friends and neighbors most of the time, able to work together on common projects to achieve common aspirations and goals.

This has certainly been true in recent years with the kind of cooperation that has existed between the Maryland delegation in Congress and the Pennsylvania delegation, led by Sen. Hugh Scott, who has been not only the senior Senator from Pennsylvania, but also the Minority Leader of the United States Senate.

So it is a matter of particular interest to us and particular sadness for us that Sen. Scott has announced his intention to retire from the Senate.

I'm not sure that everyone who studies the American political scene fully understands what a versatile and unusual man Sen. Scott is.

His public image is of an astute, professional politician, who has made his way in politics for many years and has occupied that most professional of all political jobs, the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee.

But that is far from being the whole of Hugh Scott.

He is a literate and compassionate man. These are qualities that sometimes are obscured by the necessity for political action. He has been so successful that I think sometimes his very success has hidden some of those human qualities that are important in his total makeup.

I, for one, would reject the idea that the United States Senate is a council of elders. But I do think there are some important qualities that go into the Senate — into the character of the institution as well as the personalities of its members — that give it such a unique standing among the political institutions of the world. Hugh Scott emboides many of those special characteristics.

Although seniority in the sense of old-age is not a prerequisite for service in the Senate, experience is, and Hugh Scott has had unique experience in life.

He was born in Virginia but was reared in Pennsylvania. He served in the Navy and practiced law in Philadelphia. He is fluent in Spanish and German, he speaks and reads French, he quotes Latin, and he is a scholar of Chinese culture and an expert on Chinese art.

While many people think perhaps that these are superfluous to serve in a political institution and to public service, I think they help round out the man and give him a perspective of history — a perspective of human concern, human folly, of what is wise and what is foolish.

All these qualities have contributed to making Hugh Scott one of the unusual members of the United States Senate. They are qualities which will be very much missed when he reaches the end of this term and retires to Pennsylvania.

First Contributor To Building Fund

A retired Oakland barber Ray "Simon" Cogley, was the first Garrett countian to contribute to the Senior Citizen building fund.

Cogley handed a $100 check to Robert Ford, President of the Commission on Aging, at a brief ceremony at the Garrett County Community Action office, 360 W. Liberty Street in Oakland, Tuesday morning.

The 75-year-old Cogley praised the efforts of the Commission on Aging and Community Action for their concern about the aged and their desires to do something. Cogley promised that he would increase his donation to a thousand dollars if nine other persons would do the same.

Cogley indicated he was going to actively support the center by working throughout the county with his senior citizen friends.

Column For Homemakers

The Apple of Your Eye

It's downright un-American to challenge the supremacy of Apple Pie as America's number 1 dessert favorite. But that position could be toppled. Apple recipes are coming to market by the numbers at the same time as apples are coming to market in the millions.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports the commercial apple crop this year to be the largest on record. According to marketing specialist with USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, the total apple crop is expected to reach 172 million bushels.

Different apples do different things. Each variety has its own distinctive taste, texture and color. The names most frequently seen and most generally available on the market include Red and Golden Delicious, Rome Beauty, Jonathan, McIntosh, Winesap, Northern Spy, York Imperial, Cortland, Stayman, Newtown and Gravenstein.

Usually the firmer fleshed apples are preferred for baking, while tart or slightly acid varieties are used for pies and sauces. It's a matter of individual taste.

Whatever the variety or color, all apples adapt to just about any cooking method — bake, boil, broil, fry, or simmer. They're versatile for any meal and all the snack times in between. They can zip up a salad, pretty up a meat dish, add zest to a breakfast, and put a smile on your face.

Elegant endings for elegant meals...

Apple Ricotta Refrigerator Cake

One frozen pound cake, 1 pound ricotta (Italian cottage cheese), ½ cup sugar, 2 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate, grated, 1 cup freshly grated raw apple, few drops almond extract, 1 cup whipping cream, ½ cup broken walnuts.

Thaw pound cake; cut crosswise in thin slices. Combine ricotta and sugar; mix well. Stir in chocolate, apple and almond extract. Spread generously between cake slices, putting together in loaf shape. Chill several hours or overnight. Just before serving, whip cream; frost top and sides of cake. Sprinkle walnuts over top. To serve, slice on the diagonal. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

The "suit of lights" is every matador's costume. The earliest fighters wore ordinary clothes. At an early stage they sometimes wound a long sash around their body. Today a narrow ribbon is worn to signify that early "armor". The matador's suit retains a style suggested by the conspicuous dress of eighteenth-century dandies. The colete (pigtail) is considered the matador's emblem. It goes back to the time when he grew his hair shoulder length and during combat held it back with a net.

Shepherd Frosh Defeat Lakers

Shepherd's freshmen rebounded from a 50 to 44 deficit at halftime to hand Garrett Community College Lakers an 85 to 77 defeat on the Laker court Monday evening.

The Little Rams didn't take the lead until a basket moved them in front at 60 to 58. They stayed on top for the remainder of the contest.

The closest the Lakers came for the remainder of the battle was 70 to 68.

The winners displayed a balanced attack with five cagers scoring in double figures led by Don Stinnette and Butch Bryant with 14 each. Dadi Gray, former Frederick standout, and Lee Cook shared 20 points and Brooks had ten. The Little Rams outgoaled the Lakers by a 38 to 25 margin but Garrett sank 27 of 34 fouls to nine of 11 by the winners.

Bob Ford and Mike Saturday shared 32 points to spark the Lakers. Mike Grove finished with 15. Jim Metzger had 12, Panther 8, Scheer 8, and DiSimone 2.

The loss dropped the Lakers to 1-2 on the campaign. The Lakers' next outing will meet Allegany Community college Saturday evening in a Maryland JUCO A clash at Cumberland.

Winter Traction Of Various Tire Types Is Noted

Traction of various types of tires in winter driving has been noted in a summary of test findings by the National Safety council on Winter Driving Hazards.

The tests were conducted with the vehicle traveling at 20 m.p.h. on glare ice at 25 degrees. They say the conventional snow tire (without studs) offers no advantage over regular tires in stopping on ice. In fact they say they are slightly inferior to regular tires. Studded snow tires on the rear wheels reduce brakeing distance on ice by 19 percent. Reinforced tire chains on rear wheels reduce braking distance on ice by 50 percent.

In pulling ability, the conventional snow tire is 28 percent better than the regular tire. Studded tires develop three times the pulling ability over the regular tire. Reinforced tire chains provide seven times the pulling ability of regular tires on glare ice and four times the ability on loosely packed snow.

The summary also states that there is no advantage of radial or bias-belted tires when driving on glare ice.

There was no mention of the locally popular "sawdust" snow treads.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

Why did you vote against the creation of a new consumer protection agency?

I feel we already have plenty of government agencies to protect consumers, and its just a matter of making them work better. Numerous federal agencies now conduct a multitude of programs related to consumer protection and there are countless federal, state and local laws aimed at curbing false and deceptive or misleading practices. A new agency would increase federal costs, create another layer of bureaucracy and cause undue interference with other agencies. Incidentally, a recent random sampling of citizens in Central and Western Maryland showed a 3-to-1 opposition to a new consumer protection agency.

What is the current level of the national debt?

This past June Congress raised the U.S. public debt limit to a staggering $577 billion. Last week an attempt was made to increase it by another $20 billion, to $597 billion. For your information, I voted against both increases in the national debt.

Can a miner drawing State Workmen's Compensation draw Federal Black Lung benefits as well?

Yes. State Workmen's Compensation for injuries unrelated to Black Lung will not be subtracted from a Federal Black Lung Award. For example, if a miner draws State Workmen's Compensation for a broken leg, this would not be subtracted from his Federal Black Lung benefits. State Workmen's Compensation for his Black Lung, however, would be subtracted from the Federal Black Lung benefits. In order to get all that he is entitled to, the miner should apply for State Workmen's Compensation.

Congress will soon vote on a $4.7 billion foreign aid bill. Can you tell me how much of it is proposed for the Middle East?

For Israel — $1.5 billion in military aid, $740 million in security support aid; For Egypt — $750 million in economic aid, for Jordan — $175 million in military aid, $78 million in economic aid; for Syria — $90 million in economic aid; also, $50 million is being proposed to fund the cost of stationing U.S. civilians technicians in the Sinai.

I have been following the pension reform legislation passed by Congress and keep hearing about "vesting". What is "vesting" in relation to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act?

When you become eligible for participation in a pension plan, you start to earn credits towards your pension. After you have worked a specified period of time with an employer under a pension plan, the Act requires that you be given the right to certain pension benefits you have earned, which you will receive on retirement — even though you leave that job before retirement. This right is called "vesting".

Is a miner ineligible for Black Lung benefits if an x-ray shows no signs of Black Lung?

An x-ray is only one of a number of examinations which may be used to decide total disability due to Black Lung. A negative x-ray by itself does not make a miner ineligible.

How much does the new York City government spend compared to other large cities like Chicago or Los Angeles?

Per Capita expenditure figures from the Congressional Budget office indicate that New York spends $1,224 per person compared to Chicago's $267 per person and Los Angeles' $242 per person.

Those who oppose federal aid to New York City cite, among other things, the salaries and pensions of municipal employees. As a case in point, how do New York public employees salaries stack up to those paid Baltimore City employees?

The Census Bureau informs me that the average salary of a New York City teacher is $17,440; a Baltimore City teacher averages $12,727. New York City police average $14,666; Baltimore police $10,098; New York City firemen average $16,965; Baltimore firemen $10,980. And New York sanitation workers average $15,924 compared to Baltimore sanitation workers who average $8,126.

Congress is currently debating legislation related to the development of synthetic fuels. Can you please tell me what synthetic fuels include?

Synthetic fuels are liquid or gaseous fuels created by treating or processing other natural resources. Most synthetic fuels can be used as substitutes for natural gas, oil or other petroleum products. These include oil extracted from shale, coal gasification, oil produced from coal and gas or liquid fuel produced from waste products.

Do you really feel that citizens want the government to forge new programs to cut back on federal spending?

Yes I do. Based on letters, phone calls and face-to-face meetings in Central and Western Maryland I sense a heightened feeling among our citizenry that Congress must reduce federal spending and seek to balance its budget. In fact, a solid majority of 6th District citizens have voiced this very viewpoint on every questionnaire sent them over the past five years. In short, I believe families want Congress to stop voting for expensive new programs and to tighten their fiscal belts.

For A Firm Grip On Winter Without Studs

This is The Ice Radial Goodyear advertises on network TV. The Ice Radial that handles snow and slush, sleet and ice — without metal studs. One reason is a tread compound so flexible it keeps right on working when the weather hits zero. Another reason is Flexten cord — pound for pound, five times stronger than steel. Double Flexten cord belts and radial construction help keep the tread in firm, shoulder-to-shoulder contact on winter roads. Price reduction on entire line.

Use F-32 Radials on front wheels too for the best performance in all kinds of winter driving conditions.

Orion Nubula Firsts

The discoverer of the Orion Nebula, the bright white "cloud" in the middle of Orion's sword, was Nicolas Peiresc, a Frenchman who observed it in 1611. Observing through a 2½ inch refactor, Christiaan Huygens made the first drawing of this bright nebula. The first successful photograph of the object was taken by Henry Draper in September, 1880 with an 11-inch Clark refracting telescope. John Herschel began the scientific study of this unusual object. These first have been followed by closer studies which have revealed many of the secrets of this cloud.

Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn are the visible planets this week. Venus is very bright in the east sky, rising about four hours before the sun. Mars will be in the opposite direction from the sun as seen from the earth on Monday at 9:00 a.m. This is called an opposition of Mars. The Red Planet is among the stars of Taurus. Jupiter is among the stars of Pisces, setting about an hour after midnight. Saturn rises about four hours after sunset. It is among the stars of Cancer.

No phase of the moon will be experienced this week. The earth's nearest neighbor in space presents a waxing gibbous shape to the observer. It will be 404,450 kilometers (251,300 miles) from earth at 2:00 p.m. this afternoon. This apogee is the greatest separation of earth and moon during the month.

Sunday is the maximum of the Geminid Meteor shower. One meteor may be seen each minutes during the shower. Slow moving fireballs have been a feature of past Geminid Meteor Showers. These meteors coiiide with the earth at a velocity of 35 kilometers per second (56 miles per second).

Four minutes of daylight are lost during this week. Sunrise was at 7:27 a.m. this morning. Sunset follows 9 hours twenty-seven minutes later at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday the sun rises five minutes later and sets one minute later than it does today.

Sex Education Not Being Taught In Five Counties

Five years after the State mandated sex education programs at all levels of public schools, five Maryland counties lack such instruction in their high schools, including Garrett county.

The other counties, according to the State Department of Education, are Anne Arundel, Talbot, Dorchester and Calvert. The high school courses represent one of three so-called focus areas for sex education courses.

Focus area 1 deals with interpersonal relationships and is supposed to be part of the regular curriculum for grades kindergarten through 12. The second area is designed to provide instruction on physiological and personality changes for pupils between 10 and 12.

Area 3, which is causing problems around the state, is a high school subject emphasizing "maturation, the reproductive process, sex deviations, contraception, premarital intercourse, marriage and family responsibilities, family planning and venereal diseases."

Edward J. Anderson, school superintendent of Anne Arundel, says he doesn't think it is the function of high schools to teach some of the material covered in Focus area 3.

In Garrett county, which lacks a fully implemented plan of instruction for all three areas, school officials are wary of publicity over the situation.

"This is so extremely sensitive that anything published would be derogatory to the school system," according to Albert Ringer, director of curriculum and instruction. Dick Travis, county supervisor of physical education, athletics and health, says a vocal group of citizens is opposing sex education in the classrooms.

"This group is part religious and part political," he said. They are making themselves heard and are causing a lot of concern because they have misinformed people as to what the curriculum contains. A few people can really stir up things when they give out bad information," Travis said.

Norman J. Moore, school superintendent of Talbot county, said that although his county instituted a sex education program in the ninth grade last year no progress had been made on instituting a comprehensive course as dictated by Focus Area 3.

Charles F. Hurley, director of education programs for Dorchester county, said sex is integrated with other subjects and is taught at the discretion of teachers and principals.

"I have some reservation about instituting special courses," Hurley said. "Personally I think it's my responsibility as a parent to teach this."

"The sooner we get back to teaching reading, writing, and arithmetic in the schools and leave other things to parents, the better off we will be," he said.

In Calvert county, assistant superintendent Douglas M. Bivens, Jr., recalled that there was considerable public reaction six years ago when the sex education guidelines were drafted.

"We have been proceeding carefully as a result of that furor," he said. "This is a conservative area here and we need careful community preparation. Out plans call for a citizen's advisory committee this year to approve an elective course for senior highs for the next school year, but it could be snafued along the way," Bivens said.

Dr. William Buser, county superintendent here, said the Board of Education had been working on Focus I problems for some time and had contacted Parent-Teacher organizations to bring the subject to the attention of PTA members at their regular meetings.

He added that areas of Focus 2 and 3, would be explored after the area 1 had been disposed of satisfactorily.

SOUTHERN SKI CLUB

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I would like to call to the attention of this community a matter concerning the 1975 graduating class of Southern High School.

Like many members of the 1975 graduating class I purchased our school's yearbook as a prepaid arrangement. Mr. Buckley stated at that time that our yearbooks would be mailed to our homes as soon as they came, usually during the last part of August or the early days of September. I did not receive mine and when the last of October came I checked on what happened. Mr. Buckley said he was sorry but they were short on yearbooks and the majority of seniors didn't get there to receive their yearbook. Therefore, we would have to take a refund.

As seniors the yearbook meant a great deal to us. If any member of the 1975 graduating class would like to join me in trying to find a different answer to the problem please contact me.

Sincerely,
Sidney R. Nazelrod

DEAR SANTA CLAUS, My name is Shirley Jones and I am 7 years old. Santa, I have been real good all year cause I want to ask something real special of you for Xmas. And Santa, it's not for me, but for my mommie. You see, I love her very much and it makes me feel very bad to see her get up every morning with the back-ache from sleeping on that old lumpy mattress she has on her bed. And then she doesn't feel good all day. Santa, you don't need to bring me any presents at all, but would you please stop at Showalter's Village in Salisbury and get one of those famous Restonic Mattresses for my mommie? It would make my very best Xmas ever. And Santa you won't have to worry about delivering it, cause that nice Dr. Dick Showalter, M.D. (mattress doctor) will deliver it free. And he will know just what type to bring my mommie, cause Showalter's Village is a direct factory outlet for Restonic bedding and Doc Showalter is real proud of their bedding department. He knows good bedding when he sees it. So please Santa, make it a merry Xmas for me and my mommie, Thanks Santa, Shirley. —Adv. 41-3t.

Oakland Youth Sentenced For Eluding Officer

Russell L. Welch, 17, of Route 1, Oakland, was sentenced to five months and 29 days in the Allegany County jail last Friday after being found guilty of eluding a police officer in that county during a high-speed chase.

District Court Judge Miller Bowen levied fines totaling $500 on charges of driving without an operator's license, exceeding the speed limit, failure to stop after a property damage accident, and three reckless driving charges.

Judge Bowen said the fines were primarily for the future since if Welch ever wants to obtain a Maryland driver's license he would have to pay the fines.

The incident leading to Welch's arrest occurred about 6 p.m. October 9 when Cpl. R. W. Maiers, Cumberland City Police, was notified to be on the lookout for a pickup truck reported to have been stolen in Garrett County.

Cpl. Maiers testified Friday that he spotted the vehicle on Baltimore Avenue and began pursuing it east on Route 40. The officer said he had his siren and flashing lights working and it appeared that the truck was going to pull over and stop beyond Mason's Barn.

The officer told the court that just as he slowed his cruiser down the truck speeded away at a high rate of speed. Cpl. Maiers gave chase and radioed headquarters that the vehicle did not intend to stop. He also requested assistance from State Police.

State Trooper Gary D. Rush, who was returning to duty at the Rockville Barracks, said he spotted the two vehicles but did not know at first that the city car was a police car.

He told the court that he thought it was an ambulance trying to get past the truck but unable to pass because Welch was driving from lane to lane to prevent Cpl. Maiers from getting alongside or in front of the truck.

Tpr. Rush said he joined the chase after seeing that the car was a police vehicle and receiving word from LaVale that State Police assistance had been requested.

The chase continued until Tpr. Rush managed to pull ahead of the truck and tried to slow it down. Cpl. Maiers was directly behind the vehicle.

Both officers testified that Welch pulled into the passing lane and as Tpr. Rush attempted to pull over in front, his cruiser was stuck in the rear by the truck, which again pulled in front of the pursuing vehicles.

Cpl. Maiers testified that at one point during the chase he was driving about 120 miles per hour. The chase ended on the east side of Martin's Mountain when Welch lost control of the truck and rammed into an embankment on the westbound side of the roadway.

There were two other teenagers in the truck with Welch, who was identified as the driver by Cpl. Maiers. The defendant testified in his own behalf and told the court that he started to stop when Cpl. Maiers came up behind him, but that one of the others with him urged him to keep going.

Judge Bowen said the sentence, which was one day short of six months, meant the youth would not have to be sent to prison. However, Judge Bowen said Welch faces possible stolen vehicle charges in Garrett County and West Virginia.

The state's case was presented by Michael Burkey, deputy state's attorney. and Allan M. Gerson represented Welch.

Christmas Spirit '75 . . .

In city squares and parks and shopping centers throughout the U. S. A. decorated community trees will glow with the Christmas spirit between now and the Twelfth Night or Epiphany, January 6, marking the end of the Christmas Holiday Season.

Lighting tree ceremonies have begun. One of the outstanding events will take place on the evening of December 18 in Washington, D. C., when President Ford pushes the button to light the living National Community Christmas Tree on the Ellipse, near the White House.

The 1975 Christmas Pageant of Peace program at the Ellipse will have a Bicentennial theme with music and pageantry depicting some of the activities of the colonies during the Revolutionary period. Christmas in 1775 bore few resemblances to Christmas as it will be celebrated 200 years later, points out John W. Dixon, Texas industrialist and President of the Christmas Pageant of Peace Committee.

Christmas was controversial in that year of mounting tensions. The City of Boston was under British siege. Colonial Christmas celebrations were outlawed for a time in Massachusette. Ordinances urged that Christmas be kept with "more solemn humility" and the rugged climate and hardships sapped much time and energy of those early settlers. In Virginia, communities were few and scattered, and the threat of Indian attack made holiday travel hazardous or impossible.

All of these factors kept Christmas a much simpler celebration than its counterpart in 1975. Yet, Christmas then appealed to all the senses just as it will this three volunteer fire companies arrived.

Mr. Clark apparently lit the trailer's furnace, then went across from the mobile home to his mother's house and when he returned the trailer was burning. The home was located some six miles from Elk Garden.

December—200 years later.

Although some may embellish the quiet colonial history of the celebration, isn't it timely to ask ourselves: Is the Christmas spirit alive and well at the deeper level of caring and sharing among neighbors?

Our troubled world is in dire need of more men and women of goodwill. As night follows day, there will be an outpouring of sentiment and concern for the needy, the lonely, the sick and despondent. And, as recently editorialized by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, "Lest it fade into forgetfulness, this heightened awareness of people—young and old—needs to be reinforced and sustained throughout 1976, the Nation's Bicentennial year."

This is the time to move the Christmas spirit into a spirit of mutual cooperation by national leaders, politicians, business, labor, community and religious leaders. Gifts of time and involvement on behalf of people who are in need is really what the season is all about.

What better way to express the spirit of the season than by giving gifts in much larger packages than could ever be tied with ribbons and bows? Prepared by the Christmas Pageant of Peace, Inc.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, assistant superintendent in administrative services, indicated that the Friendsville Elementary school was 89 percent complete, the Broad Ford elementary school, some 78 percent complete; and the Southern Middle School approximately 66 percent complete. He said at the current time no problems were anticipated in opening the Southern Middle and Broad Ford schools at the beginning of the 1976-77 school year. He said however, at the present time the Friendsville elementary school was experiencing difficulty in having appropriate sanitary service at the site for the opening of the school during this school year.

The board asked that Dr. Ryscavage investigate and make alternate suggestions to cope with this problem.

In other action at the December 11 meeting the Board approved a one hour earlier or approximately 2:30 p.m. dismissal for the Christmas holiday on Tuesday, December 23, and discussed a request from the County PTA council through their secretary, Mrs. Ruth Glotfelty, relative to making available copies of the agenda for board meetings as well as minutes of those meetings.

Col. Jackson and Mr. Jones discussed details of completion of the industrial park in Accident. They said the Development Corporation had completed most of the construction of the building which is housing the newly established American H.V. Test Systems, Inc. The Central industrial park will have the potential to accommodate additional, small, non-polluting industries.

In other business this week Dr. William Pope and James Stanton, from the county health department, met with the commissioners to review Health Department business. One discussion concerned procedural arrangements for the organization of the four county health services area, mandated by federal law. Looking like little cherubs, two members of Miss Jan Cozad's class prepared to sing a Christmas carol with other members of their class at Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home on Tuesday. The entire class of 26 pupils from Oak Street sang several Christmas songs they have learned. They decided to go caroling after learning about Christmas customs of long ago. At right is Mrs. Eugene Straub, one of the volunteers who provides social activities for the patients at the Home.

False Pretense And Drug Cases Heard

One person pleaded guilty of two charges of false pretense and the cases of three charged on drug counts were stetted. Another was placed on probation before judgment by Judge Miller Bowen in District Court for the week ending December 16. A number of cases were dismissed and one prayed a jury trial.

Ray J. Mayhew, RD 1, Swanton, pleaded guilty of two charges of false pretense in reference to some checks. A pre-sentence investigation has been ordered. A case of assault and battery on his wife was dismissed as they are living together again.

Charges of possession of marijuana against Joseph DelSignore, RD 1, Gormania, Joyce DelSignore, RD 1, Oakland, and Donald J. Baker, Oak Street, Oakland, were stetted at a Monday hearing. A case of possession of 'speed' pills against Joseph DelSignore was also stetted as the chemical report showed negative.

Harold Haddix, Kitzmiller, pleaded not guilty of disorderly conduct at the home of Donald Hart in Kitzmiller May 5. At a trial last week, he was placed on probation before judgment for six months. Haddix is being held in the Garrett County Jail under $500 full cash bond on four motor vehicle charges.

Woodrow W. Bowen, Oakland, has prayed a jury trial on the charge of a worthless check.

Donald R. Crowe, Ridgeley, W. Va., was released on his own recognizance at a hearing Monday on three charges: disorderly conduct, assault and battery on Donald R. Kemp and malicious destruction of property, all at the Avilton Inn the evening of October 18. Trial is set for January 5.

Four other cases were dismissed:

John R. Lee, Swanton, had been charged with assault and battery on his wife, Cheryl, at her home but she refused to testify at the trial. The same applies to George Dever, Baltimore, against his wife Nellie Dever.

Two had been charged with passing worthless checks but restitution had been made, Gilroy Bowser, Accident, and E. C. Wood, Star Route, Oakland.

The IRS said rebates are non-income items.

Holiday Program At Friendsville

The annual Christmas program of the United Pentecostal church of Friendsville, will be presented on Sunday evening, December 21, at 7 o'clock. A three-act play, "The Shining Star," will be the adult feature. All departments of the Sunday School will be represented.

Winter Solstice

Monday at 6:46 a.m. the sun will be directly overhead on the Tropic of Capricorn. This is the furtherst south the sun can be directly overhead. After that instant sun will appear to move northward. This will cause the daylight to increase a little each day until the summer solstice in June.

The moon passed through the Full Moon Phase at 9:40 a.m. this morning. Moonrise varies from 5:22 p.m. today to 11:57 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

The visible planets remain Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter. Venus rises about four hours before the sun. It is among the stars of Virgo. Mars is among the stars of Taurus. It rises near the time of sunset. Jupiter sets shortly after midnight with the stars of Pisces. Saturn rises about four hours after sunset among the stars of Cancer.

The length of daylight at the end of the week equals the length of daylight today. Sunrise was at 7:32 a.m. Sunset will be at 4:55 p.m. this evening. Wednesday the sun will rise three minutes later and set three minutes later than it does today. There will be nine hours twenty-three minutes of daylight on Wednesday.

World food prices rose in the year ending Sept. 30.

Activities Center Participants Are Aiding Santa Claus With Toy Preparation

MANY HANDS make light work, especially when such work is accomplished to the strains of Christmas carols and in the Christmas spirit. Staff and participants at the center for the adult handicapped in the county have spent the past two weeks cleaning, repairing and sprucing up toys to be distributed to needy children, and also making Christmas decorations for the Volunteer Service Center on Route 219, and for their headquarters.

There could be little more activity in Santa's own North Pole workshop than has been seen during the past two weeks at the Activities Center for the adult handicapped in the county center in Oakland, sponsored by Community Action.

There, 23 persons and the staff have been making dolls, Christmas decorations and various presents to be distributed to needy families by the Volunteer Service Center, a church-oriented distribution center for clothing and other articles donated for use by families who cannot afford everything they need.

Toys and other articles were donated by various individuals, merchants and a local industry in the community. Mrs. Alice Frederick, a member of the board of directors of the Volunteer Service Center, had approached the Activities Center two months ago about the possibility of the participants making Christmas decorations.

The work of the past two weeks will be highlighted with a Christmas party this Friday, December 19, from 1 to 2:15 p.m. at the center. In preparation, center participants have been making cookies and other refreshments.

Also this week, they traveled to a local farm to choose and cut a tree for their center. The tree will be decorated Friday morning with handmade decorations.

The center will be closed December 19 through January 5, reopening at the usual time January 6.

Homemakers Meet

Christmas activities were stressed at the regular meeting of the Oakland Homemakers last Thursday.

Participating were Barbara Swiger, Betty Wolford and Edna Lewis. Christmas carol singing was led by Alice Mae Cropp. Mrs. Lois Martin, retiring president, presented fellow officers with tokens of appreciation.

Food baskets were prepared for two area families. Mrs. Wolford led the group in games. Prizes were won by Mabel Friend, Mary Ellen Lichty and Edna Lewis. A relay game, won by Nancy Beachy's team. Door prizes were given to Anna Gruebler and Faye Bittinger. Santa delivered Christmas jingle gifts. A cookie exchange was in charge of Arveta Savage, Faye Bittinger, Lois Friend and Janice Hanline. Hostesses were Bessie Ashby, Alice Mae Cropp, Lucy Fike and Nora Wicklegren, and they prepared refreshments.

Gorman Lady Observes 95th

Mrs. Martha (Mattie) Riding observed her 95th birthday on Thursday, December 11. She was presented with a cake by her nieces Mrs. Sophronia (Ridings) Sisler and Mrs. Louise Weimer.

Mrs. Ridings resides with Mrs. Theresa Wilkins in Gorman. She was born in 1880 in Franklin, W. Va., in Pendleton County. The late James Ridings died in a mining accident in October of 1944 in Gorman. Mrs. Ridings is in fine health and enjoys telling stories of the past. Others attending the observance were Mrs. Alma Weimer, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foley, Mrs. Florence Gilbert, Mrs. Elva Mae Butts, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Evans, and Michelle Weimer.

Southern High Junior Chorus Plans Program

Members of the Junior Chorus of Southern High school will present their annual Christmas concert on Friday evening, December 19, in the school cafetorium, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Featured guest soloist this year is Marcette K. Danner. Instrumentalists will be Tim DeWitt, trumpet, and Lottie Shirer, flute.

Selections will include contemporary carols as well as novelty numbers with choreography will be presented.

The chorus is under direction of Patti McLaughlin. There is no admission fee. The public is invited.

So. Boston High School was put under Federal control.

In the warm spirit of good fellowship and this Christmas season, we offer our gratitude to our many friends.

State Revenue Estimates Given Fiscal '76, '77

The Board of Revenue Estimates has reported to Governor Marvin Mandel that its estimates of State revenues for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1976 and June 30, 1977 reflect the national economic conditions and depend on increased consumer buying and industrial expansion in order to pick up the recent sluggish growth of retail sales and use tax revenue.

The Board, consisting of Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, Chairman, State Treasurer William S. James, and R. Kenneth Barnes, Secretary of the Department of Budget and Fiscal Planning, released the figures at a public meeting in the Governor's Annapolis office.

"The uncertain national economic picture, caused by recession, unemployment and inflation, also clouds the State economic horizon somewhat, and requires prudent spending by government at all levels," Mr. Goldstein said. "However, Maryland's unemployment rate is consistently lower than the national average. In addition to revenue from the income, sales, franchise and excise taxes, these estimates also include Federal revenue sharing funds allocated to Maryland and the General Fund revenue from the Maryland State Lottery. We continue to operate the State of Maryland in the black."

Cut In Road Funds Averted

Maryland Senators J. Glenn Beall, Jr., and Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., have succeeded in amending a proposed federal highway spending formula that would have cut Maryland's share by $54.3 million.

The Senate amendments which must still win House approval, would reduce the threatened loss by half and might eliminate it altogether.

The amendments backed by Maryland's two Republican senators, involved a Department of Transportation proposal for highway spending in 1978. As originally drawn the new formula would have reduced Maryland's share from $134 million to $79.7 million, one of the sharpest cuts in the country.

According to Senate staff members, the funding cuts would have applied most directly to the East-West expressway and I-95 in the Baltimore area.

Junior Rifle Club Offering Firearm Course

The Garrett County Junior Rifle Club is offering a basic firearms familiarization course to any youth aged 8 through 19. The course will be under the guidance of Lawrence Little, Garrett County Extension agent, 4-H and Youth; Arlie Breedlove, chairman; Doug Oxford, Chief Instructor; and Chris Donley, Classroom Education Officer. Classes begin Monday, January 5, and are offered at two times, 6:00 - 7:00 p.m. and 7:15 - 8:15 p.m. Instruction periods will be held at the Armory in Oakland.

According to Mr. Donley, the course will cover such areas as history and development of firearms and hunting, hunting ethics, and safety, all following the guidelines of the NRA Hunter Safety Program. After classes the students will adjourn to the 50-foot indoor range for practical training.

The Basic Firearms Familiarization Course is open to all Garrett County youth, and parents are also encouraged to attend. Anyone wishing further details may call the Garrett County Extension Service.

The Garrett County Junior Rifle Club now has over 50 active members, including girls as well as boys. In the past 10 years, the program has proved to be a great asset to the young sportsmen of Garrett County by teaching them fundamentals and improving their marksmanship, according to Mr. Little.

Currently the Club is sponsored by the 4-H, Optimist, and VFW Post 10077. Financial support has been given by Fraternal Order of Police Western Lodge No. 99, Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club and the Knights of Pythias. The course is given free of charge through the support of these organizations.

Tim Filemyr takes careful aim in firing his three volleys of five rounds each during the firearms familiarization course held at the Armory each Monday. Lawrence Little, county extension agent for 4-H and Youth, Arlie Breedlove, of the Optimist Club, Mr. Donley and Doug Oxford, instructor, are the adults coordinating in program. The Garrett County Junior Rifle Club now has over 50 active members, including girls as well as boys. Patches are given to participants as they complete requirements.

Allegany CC Defeats Lakers

Allegany Community College cagers defeated Garrett Community college Lakers Saturday evening on the Trojan court at Cumberland in a 96 to 66 encounter.

Jim Wills poured in seven straight baskets from some 20 feet and picket off several steals and had six assists in blasting the Laker team that had just beaten one of the top teams in the NJCAA's region XX in its last JUCO outing of Beaver, Pa.

With the Trojans trailing 8 to 6 after the first six minutes of play, the lanky Wills began a four-basket barrage to pull ACC into a 14-8 lead, it never relinquished. By intermission the Trojans dominating play at both ends of the court, had pushed the margin out to 41 to 19, and improved upon that in the second half.

NOTICE

People of Friendsville, don't waste your meager income on water and sewer treatment while the well-to-do and wealthy people of Oakland save their money to swell their bank account and use the Yough river as their own private open sewer.

Let's open our sewer plant the same day Oakland opens theirs. Let's take Yough river water for drinking the day that Oakland sewers stop carrying human filth into the beautiful Yough.

Winter Weather Takes Over Area

Winter weather took over on the Mountain Top during the early hours this morning and about an inch of snow has fallen thus far. State and County roads crews are out sanding and cindering roadways. The storm is four days ahead of official winter which begins Monday.

The snow began about 3 o'clock this morning and the State Highways put out 12 trucks sanding the roads. There has been some blowing but no difficulties have been encountered. County roads crews have been cindering and again, with no difficulties.

Last Thursday was mostly clear but skies were overcast all day Friday with some rain at night. Skies cleared about noon Saturday. Sunday was variably cloudy with light breeze until Monday morning. About mid-morning showers began with light to fresh breezes. Tuesday was variably cloudy most of the day and remaining so through most of yesterday. Clouds began to gather later in the day with the snow beginning about 3 a.m. Snow showers were continuing up to press time today. Precipitation totaled .99 inch, just above normal.

Temperatures averaged slightly below normal, 1.6 degrees, with this morning being the coldest so far this season with a 9-degree reading. Lows averaged 25.7 degrees or 2.8 below normal. Yesterday morning's reading was 17 degrees. The mercury dropped to near freezing or below every morning except Monday when it was only 44 degrees. Highs averaged 51 degrees or .4 above normal. The mildest was Sunday's 63 degrees with 59 degrees on each the day before and after.

Winter begins Monday, December 22, at 6:46 a.m. This is the shortest day of the year and days will begin to get longer by a few minutes each day.

A DINNER IS a good part of Christmas, and a good dinner was served to all youngsters from Green Street School on Tuesday at Matthew's Coffee Shop in Oakland, compliments of Eugene Matthews and staff. Turkey and all the trimmings were placed before each of the 41 students and staff members present.

Accident Area Combed For Young Woman, Child

Searchers combed the Bear Creek area near Accident in 18-degree weather Tuesday night, looking for a young woman and her three-year-old son who had been reported missing.

Anna Marie Spiker and son were reported missing around 6 p.m., and searchers from the Accident and Grantsville areas were called about 9 p.m. Members of the Northern Rescue Squad and the Accident Fire Company were also called to assist in the search, coordinated by Tfc. Carl Skidmore of the Maryland State Police.

Searchers began combing the woods, but the effort was called off about 3:30 a.m., when it was learned that the young woman and child were safe with a relative in Pennsylvania. Mrs. Spiker had evidently traveled to her aunt's with a brother, and failed to notify local relatives before she left.

The last persons to have seen the young woman said they saw her carrying the child to the woods near their home.

Byron Introduces Budget Measures

Rep. Goodloe Byron announced that he has introduced legislation which would give the public and Congress a "Meaningful and simplified summary" of just how the Federal government stands financially.

The "Truth in Government Accounting Act" is the third budget-related bill Congressman Byron introduced in the House this year. Two weeks ago the first of a series of ad hoc hearings were held on a constitutional amendment he sponsored requiring an annual balanced Federal Budget.

"In additon to publishing the amount of money the government is taking in and paying out, this measure will require an indication of the liabilities for which the Federal government has committed itself that may not be funded out of current revenues," he said.

"There is an increasing awareness of the nation's financial problems, and I am hopeful that with the advance warning offered by this accounting system, it will be possible to halt the current trend toward ever-increasing government expenditures without adequate financial backing, and restore a sound fiscal footing for our national economy," Byron said.

The bill requires the publishing of consolidated results of virtually all federal operations, including those of off-budget agencies and trust funds, and also requires these reports be prepared on an accrual basis, as are most corporate financtal reports, rather than on a cash basis, as the government now does.

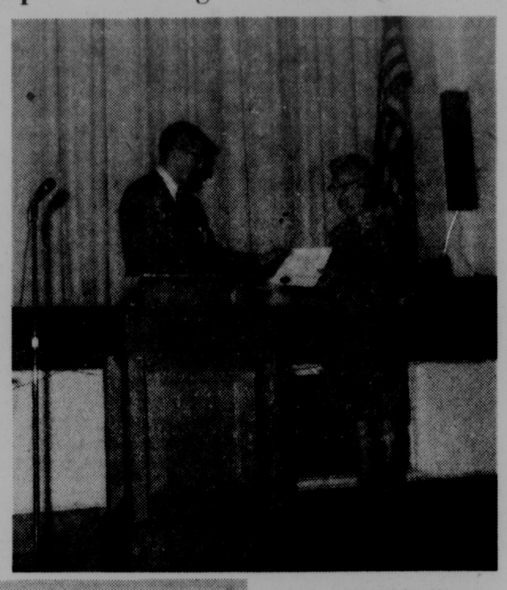
Mrs. Mary Strauss Honored Upon Teaching Retirement



On Monday, October 13, the Accident Elementary P.T.A honored Mrs. Mary Miller Strauss with a special surprise program upon her retirement. Mrs. Strauss retired during the summer after having taught at the Accident School for 25 years.

Mrs. Strauss was presented with a corsage and surprised by many of her relatives. She was further surprised with a "This is Your Life" type of program beginning with her high school days to the present. As a final gesture of appreciation, her last class presented her with a gift and cake.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, representing the Garrett County Board of Education, presented Mrs. Strauss with a pin and certificate for outstanding service and life membership into the National P.T.A. on behalf of the Accident P.T.A.

A social hour followed. Special guests were B. O. Aiken, Rev. William E. Carlson, Mrs. Walter Margroff, Rodger Bond, Mrs. Thelma Hanlin, Earl Savage, Mrs. Leona Hardesty and James Wilburn.

Members of the Board of trustees also presented her with a gift. Luncheon was prepared and served to the group after the gift presentations were made.

Springfield Bid For Ambulance Is Accepted

A bid of $16,359.40 by the Springfield Ambulance Company for a modular-type vehicle for use by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad has been approved by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the Garrett Emergency Medical Services program.

Five firms submitted bids to the Allegany commissioners for ambulances for use in the Cumberland area as well as one for Garrett.

David Ramsey, Region I coordinator for EMS, said the modular vehicle was considered best for the Oakland area as there would be more long-distance runs than those made by a conventional ambulance.

However, the president of the Springfield Company has written a letter to the Commissioners, saying there was a $4,000 error in their bid, making the proposal $4,000 lower than they intended. Attorneys have been consulted in the matter to determine the legality of the $16,000 bid.

Charles Dickens' Christmas Thoughts

"I have always thought of Christmas time, when it has come around . . . as a good time: a kind of forgiving time, charitable and pleasant: the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely, and to think of people below them as if they were really fellow passengers to the grave, and not another race of creatures bound on other journeys. And therefore . . . though it has never put a scrap of gold or silver in my pocket, I believe that it has done me good; and I say, God bless it!"

RUSH & CRUSH . . . No matter how we plan, some of us always never get Christmas shopping done until the final business hours of the Christmas season—when everyone is in a hurry, crowds are heavy, and selections not the very best. Oh well, next year . . . . . .

Capitol Comment

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias

Natural Gas For Maryland

I'm sure that we all had a shiver when we heard that Maryland was one of five states that would suffer a severe natural gas shortage this winter.

The shiver that went up my spine was caused not only by the thought that many Marylanders might be cold this winter, but also by the fear that many Marylanders might lose their jobs. Over the past several winters, the natural gas shortages have caused industries in Maryland to cut back working hours and lay off employees. A further cut in natural gas supplies could only aggravate this situation.

The Senate has acted in a way that would prevent this type of situation from developing. It is not a perfect solution, but I think it will encourage more natural gas for Maryland.

Meanwhile, I think it is important to understand the nature of this problem, because we will face a similar situation soon in relation to oil.

Natural gas comes largely from states in the South and Southwest. It is produced there and put into pipelines that carry it to the East Coast and other parts of the country.

The pipelines cross a number of states and therefore are a part of interstate commerce. As such, they are regulated by the Federal Power Commission.

Federal regulation also covers prices. But in the states where it is produced, the gas is not in interstate commerce, and the price controls do not apply.

Natural gas is such a good fuel that industries are anxious to get it. They are willing to pay twice as much for it as the price that is allowed in interstate commerce. So vast quantities of the fuel are used close to the areas where it is produced — and used, I think, in an uneconomical manner.

If we want to increase the supplies of natural gas to Maryland and other parts of the country, we must break this pattern and practice of wasteful use of the gas in the states where it is produced.

The only way that I think we can do that is to decontrol the interstate gas that is sent from the Southwest to Maryland.

If we decontrol overnight, however, there might be an astounding rise in prices that would cause its own economic shock waves.

So the Senate has devised a compromise plan that will decontrol over a five-year period. Within that period, the price of domestic gas — the fuel used for heating homes— will be held at present levels. Only industrial users will feel the impact of slowly rising prices.

It is going to cost more. We have to face that squarely. All energy is going to cost more. But we will get the fuel, and that is the important thing.

Carols and Candles

Carols and candles bring added spirit and luster to Christmas.

The word "carol" comes from the middle English carolen, meaning "to sing joyously." The majority of our most familiar carols date from the nineteenth century. Some researchers believe that carol singing could be a carryover from the Roman songs of the Saturnalia. Francis Scott Key, noted lawyer and author of The Star Spangled Banner, also wrote carols. It is little known that the comedian Harpo Marx, of the famous Marx Brothers, also authored a popular Christmas carol.

Caroling on Christmas Eve is a tradition brought to America by our English forbears, that delights us all at holiday time.

CANDLES — Special lighting effects as we now know them, elaborate and colorful at Christmas, started with the romantic glow of holiday candles. Placing lighted candles in the window on Christmas eve is believed to have started in Boston. There are elaborate electric light shows in almost all large American cities, but candles still sell in the millions, showing that Americans enjoy their soft glow and associations.

Lavish Feast

At Christmas, in the year 1492, when Columbus was spending his day in the New World, King Henry VII gave one of his most sumptuous feasts. The King (1485-1509), the Queen and members of the court dined on no less than 120 different dishes . . . with peacock as its climax! He observed holiday customs lavishly, to say the least, serving among the many delicacies a popular dish called "frumenty," made by adding sugar and spices to boiling hulled wheat.

ABM Folly

The 52-47 Senate vote last month to close down our one and only anti-missile defense site at Grand Forks, North Dakota, is one of those particular acts of folly that stand out and require specific comment.

It is a particularly dangerous action because it signals to the enemy and the world that the U.S. is now formally abandoning all efforts to protect its ICBM bases from a nuclear first-strike by the Soviet Union.

In the 1972 Strategic Arms Limitation agreement the U.S. and the Soviet Union agreed to a mutual limitation on ABM systems. Each side was to have the right to protect its capital with one set of ABMs and a portion of its missile bases with a second such installation. In 1974 this was reduced by Nixon and Brezhnev to just one ABM site. The Soviets already had in operation a missile defense complex around Moscow. The U.S. elected the Grand Forks site for its missiles.

But now there is strong evidence that the Soviets have cheated on this understanding and that they have conducted sufficient tests to upgrade more than 1000 SAM-5 anti-aircraft missiles into a nationwide ABM capability. While the Senate action closing down Grand Forks precludes even the testing of an ABM system that cost nearly $6 billion to develop, the Soviets may have a missile defense for nearly all of their important political, industrial, and military targets.

In the complex military-political rivalry which Soviet ambition and ideology have forced upon the United States, perceived power can be almost as important as its actuality in the eyes of the world's fence sitters. One of these days the Soviet Union is likely to claim before the world to have an effective missile defense which, in combination with its huge superiority in offensive missiles, will create the impression of an invincible military superiority over the United States. The entire world situation could then turn quickly and catastrophically against us.

The Grand Forks close down is exceedingly damaging to the United States and should be reversed. — U.S. Press Association.

Mistletoe for Luck

Today, mistletoe is hung in doorways at holiday time. Kissing beneath it brings good luck to those fortunate enough to meet there.

In ancient times, it was believed that mistletoe had more control over luck, good and bad. A bit of mistletoe hung over a doorway was said to ward off evil.

A later belief held that mistletoe boughs hung for Christmas had to be removed by Candlemas Eve (February 1), or each leaf would bring forth a goblin to harass the household for the rest of the year.

Senator Scott (Pa.), is retiring after 34 years in service.

ROUND TABLE

King Arthur's Round Table is traditionally believed to have been the site of the first Christmas feast. References to the famous king have been traced back to as early as 600 A.D.

The Legend of Befana

Families of Italian origin are familiar with Befana. In these days of woman's lib, it is interesting to hear about this legendary lady.

When the Three Kings were on their search for the Holy Child, they passed the house of Befana as she was sweeping and cleaning her house. In answer to her inquiry, they told her of their search. She asked to go with them, but they continued on their way without waiting for her to finish her chores. When Befana tried to overtake them she failed, and so was unable to worship the Holy Babe with them.

Since then, the woman Befana wanders the earth seeking her lost opportunity. Italian children believe Befana rides through the air on a broomstick, on the eve of January 6, which marks the Feast of Kings, still seeking the Christ Child. She goes down chimneys, leaving presents for the girls and boys, as the Wise Men brought gifts to the Holy Child.

In Russia, the same custom was once familiar, though the lady there was known as Baboushka.

Maryland—Sixth District

Last week Congress approved a $375-billion spending ceiling, with a deficit of $73-billion. What are your feelings about this ceiling on outlays?

I was opposed to this high spending ceiling and such deficit spending. The time has come to balance our Federal budget and you will be interested in knowing that an ad hoc committee hearing on just this proposal will be held by the Democratic Research Organization in early December. Citizens are continually telling me to curb government spending and to put a tight lid on outlays. I feel the $375-billion budget figure does not accurately reflect the wishes of our citizens.

How much of the Federal budget is earmarked for interest payments?

Due to our Nation's huge Federal public debt, over $35 billion will be required in Fiscal 1976 to cover interest payments.

Can you tell me how many nuclear power plants are now in operation in the United States?

In 1975, there were 56 such plants in operation and 63 under construction. Planning is underway for 182 more.

Since the end of World War II, what amount of loans and grants have been made by the U.S. to foreign countries?

Since 1946, the people of the United States have loaned or given over $172 billion in aid to other countries of the world. The top 10 benefactors include Vietnam ($22.4 billion), Korea ($11.4 billion), India ($9 billion), England ($8.7 billion), France ($8.3 billion), Turkey ($6.6 billion), Republic of China ($5.7 billion), Italy ($5.7 billion), Israel ($5.2 billion) and Pakistan, Greece and Germany ($5 billion).

Who may file a claim for Black Lung benefits?

Four groups of people may apply for such benefits: (1) Any individual who has worked as a coal miner, (2) the widow or divorced wife of the miner who died, (3) the surviving children, and (4) the surviving dependent parents, brothers and sisters of a miner.

Holly-Day Hum

Sprigs of holly should be placed in beehives at Christmas. So says an old English Christmas tradition. This custom stems from the legend that, at the Manger, bees gathered to hum a hymn of joy.

Christmas in New Mexico

New Mexico, Land of Enchantment, is so called because of the beauty of the land and the history of its people. The Spanish conquerors who came to the area from Mexico, in 1540, to search for legendary gold, found only six small villages where Indians lived. The conquerors named the Indians Pueblo, a Spanish word for village.

At 2 A.M. Christmas day it starts. After midnight mass, the Indians gather inside the church, wearing colorful costumes decorated with everything from evergreen branches to fox tails.

The dancers carry on their ceremonials until dawn, when they move to their sacred plaza, where they continue dancing through the day.

The children dance on the second day, and on the third, the older members of the tribe take over.

The entire pueblo joins in day-long ceremonies on the last day, so ending this special celebration.

Early History Is Studied By Fifth Graders

For the past few months Mrs. Betty Kolb's fifth grade class at Grantsville elementary has been studying the early history of the United States to prepare to celebrate the bicentennial. They concluded this study with a dress-up day and antique show.

On November 19 most of the children came to school dressed as pioneers. Girls wore dresses, bonnets, aprons, or other items typical of a pioneer's style of dress. Boys wore vests, suspenders and straw hats. The teacher, too, had a long dress, apron, cap and knee-high shoes.

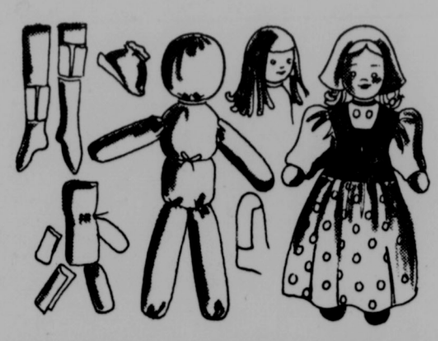
In the afternoon the children showed or demonstrated the antiques they had brought. Among these was a horse's harness brought by Eric Bittinger; corn sheller by Pam Broom; washboard by Gary Oester; one piece iron and elastic arm bands by Lori Wiley; and a musket ball by John Swauger. Mrs. Kolb brought in a pieced quilt and set it up to show children how quilting was done. She also brought a butter churn and old school books which had belonged to her grandmother, about 100 years old.

Among the highlights was a collection of antiques brought in by Mrs. Barbara Grim for her shop in Grantsville. Of particular interest was the model of a musket and an old iron toy fire engine.

Prior to returning home Mrs. Kolb gave a centennial quarter to each child who dressed as pioneers and took pictures.

Make a Stocking Doll for Someone You Love

There must be at least one or two little girls on your Christmas list who would love to own a stocking doll! Since it will be an unusual and original gift, it will be treasured twice as much. Simple directions here provide a basic doll that you can dress in any way you wish.



Using a stocking or long sock, cut the pieces as shown. Sew the bottom of the body and stuff with clean rags, kapok or cotton and then tie the neck. Take the head in at the back if it looks too large for the body. Sew arms and legs and attach. Tie body in middle to make a waistline. Use bright red thread to stitch mouth and nose and make button eyes. Attach wig piece and fringe at bottom or braid. Yarn can be used for the hair also. Dress doll in any way you choose. Story book characters like Heidi or Cinderella make charming dolls . . . costumes can be copied from a favorite book.

CHRISTMAS BIRD FEEDER

Those of you who are kind to our fine, feathered friends all year 'round will want to add some extra holiday fare to your bird feeder. Cranberries and popcorn make a special treat as do small boxes of suet and seed.

Decorating a small tree near your house will provide color for you, and nourishment for the birds. Here are a few suggestions for decorating your bird tree:

CRANBERRIES — Using wire, string cranberries and shape into a circle, leaving a length of wire at the end, to attach to the tree.

ORANGE HALVES — Cut oranges in half. Make three holes, equidistant, around the edge of each half, about ½" down from edge. Push ends of pipe cleaners through each hole, securing firmly at lower end. At top of pipe cleaners, twist all three ends together tightly. Using another pipe cleaner as a loop, attach to tree.

Dr. George Eaton Dies Wednesday

Dr. George O. Eaton, medical director of Children's hospital in Baltimore, and who for more than thirty-eight years had been a visiting clinician for Garrett County orthopedic clinics, died last Wednesday, December 10, of a heart attack.

Dr. Eaton was on a hunting trip on the Eastern Shore when he was stricken and taken to Kent and Queen Anne's hospital. He is survived by his wife, a brother and two sons.

Dr. Eaton, 74, also was associate professor emeritus of Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.

R. Eaton, who lived in Guilford, was born in Truro, Nova Scotia. He was educated at Acadia University in Nova Scotia and graduated from McGill University School of Medicine in Montreal.

He interned at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal and did his residency training in surgery at Bon Secours hospital and Union Memorial hospital in Baltimore.

He served as a lieutenant colonel in the Army Medical Corps and later was an orthopedic consultant for the Southern Pacific area. Dr. Eaton was on the visiting staffs of Children's Hospital, Union Memorial hospital, Greater Baltimore medical center and Johns Hopkins Hospital.

He conducted clinics for the Maryland Department of Health in both Garrett and Allegany counties. When he left his post as medical director of Childrens' Hospital in 1973, he remained an active member of the staff and a lifetime member of the hospital's board of trustees.

ANIMAL FEASTS

Ancient tradition has it that animals helped spread the joyous tidings of the Birth of Christ. Because of this, barnyard animals in many countries are served a special supper on Christmas eve.

Cattle kneel in their stalls at midnight, on Christmas eve, and for a moment have the power of speech. This belief, an old German legend, has been broadened to include all animals.

Sermonette

In the Book of Acts are these words: "And it shall be that whoever calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved." (Acts 2:21)

The police call parents to come to the station and get their son: one of the younger children is in the hospital, desperately ill; a close friend has been taken to the hospital and in critical condition; Mom and Dad are considering a divorce.

At times like these we fall to our knees and beg for God's help. We say to our pastor and our friends, Please pray for us!" We're troubled and in despair and scared stiff, and we turn to God. Of course!

But are these the only times we turn to him? When the good times roll in, do we clasp hands and smile and say, "Oh thank you, God"? Do we fall to our knees in grateful love?

When please reigns, do we stop and say, "Wow! Life is great! Thanks, Lord"? We should. When we exercise our faith and love every day and rejoice in his love and thank him, it's easier to bear the dark times that will certainly come our way. If we stay aware of his love, every day, in every little blessing that comes our way, we stay truly close to him. Then, when the inevitable sorrow or hurt or tragedy invades our lives, there he is! And we can turn to him and say, "Get me through this. Stay with Me? and it will be so much easier."

If we go through our sunny, happy days as though he didn't exist, and then darkness enters our lives, we'll waste a lot of time cursing that darkness, and feeling sorry for ourselves, and maybe even blaming God and trying to find him. God is right there — loving you and wanting to help you.

Lord, when things are going great it is so easy to say, "Look what I've done." And when life is hard, to say, "Oh God, how could You!" Help us to know that you are the Lord of all our life. Amen. Let us thank God for his many blessings.

Washington Report

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Polls Local Leaders

A letter to Mayors, County Executives, County Commissioners and Baltimore City Council members, Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R.-Md.) is asking elected officials throughout Maryland for suggestions on cutting government red tape in order to better assist local governments in meeting their responsibilities. Beall has asked all of the officials for any recommendations they might have on how to reduce delays and unnecessary paperwork.

"It appears to me that the Federal Government has not done as well as it could have in delivering this assistance to local governments," writes Beall. "I have long believed that local governments are in the best possible position to respond to the needs and desires of our citizens. As such, the federal government must make every effort to assist localities in meeting their responsibilities in the most efficient manner possible. Unfortunately, red tape and bureaucratic delay have, in many cases, become an integral part of our governmental process."

Beall says he is particularly interested in hearing from local officials on the efforts they must make to comply with federal requirements. The Maryland Senator is also polling local leaders for any comments on the success or failure of particular agencies or programs designed to help local government deal with their problems.

The Maryland Senator is also asking the officials for their views on Revenue Sharing. The Congress will shortly be considering an extension of the current Revenue Sharing bill co-sponsored by Beall. Beall says that any thought on this program by local officials would be helpful. He is specifically asking for examples of how revenue sharing is used in local communities, as well as any changes believed needed by local administrators. Beall says the advice will aid in developing the best possible measure to aid local governments.

JESUS, the son of God was born in Bethlehem, in the simple surroundings of a crude stable. He was to spend 33 years upon earth, living a life of humility, faith, obedience and highest example. He offered friendship and love to every man and lay down a foundation upon which every man could build eternal happiness.

Graduate Student Shows Interest In Rug Making

A University of Maryland graduate student is spending her weekends in Garrett County interviewing local people who are still actively making rugs.

Mrs. Gerri Johnson developed an interest in hand made rugs while working for the Maryland Arts Council in Baltimore for a year. Now she drives her Dodge van throughout the state looking for craftsmen who hook, weave, crochet, or braid rugs.

"This craft is an important part of Garrett County history and culture. Nowhere else in the state are so many people actively involved in making rugs," says Mrs. Johnson.

"I'm interested in explaining the craft to people in other parts of the country," she stated, "I also want to put rug making into its proper historical perspective. Where did it come from, and why is it so well preserved in Garrett county. What contributions have Garrett County women made to its development?"

"I'm interested in the lifestyles of the men and women who make the rugs. They shouldn't be unknown, nameless craftsmen. Their creations should be recognized as the work of unique, individual personalities," she added.

Mrs. Johnson has received help from craft shop owners Ivan and Ginny Rowe and Dr. Alta Schrock; Oakland librarians Edith Brock and Margaret Mance; and Extension Agent Freda Denison. So far she has interviewed some two dozen local women.

Mrs. Johnson is also interested in other aspects of the community's cultural heritage. She's interested in traditional foods of the county and some of the older structures still standing in the county — the houses, barns, and other buildings of historical interest. Persons having any suggestions as to people or places she ought to visit, she may be contacted at Box 243, Mountain Lake Park.

103 Bus Drivers Attend Safety Training Meetings

One hundred three county school bus drivers attended a safety training meeting December 9 or 11 at the local high schools. Conducting the meetings were Eugene Flinn, supervisor of transportation, and Ronald O'Brien.

Northern area bus drivers met Tuesday, December 9, in the Northern High School cafeteria from 9 to 11 a.m. or from 7 to 9 p.m.

Bus drivers in the southern area met Thursday, December 11, at the Southern High cafeteria, either from 9 to 10:45 a.m. or from 7 to 9 p.m.

The meetings centered on safety and the resultant responsibilities of all persons involved in school transportation.

The state of Maryland requires all drivers to attend two hours of driver training each year, or face a pay rate reduction.

Senate action brought U.S. closer to the metric system.

Not much is written about the wise men. We know they came from the east to Jerusalem, following a star. They came bearing gifts, and when the star stopped at Bethlehem, they went in and knelt before a tiny child and offered him their treasure.

Why? Certainly not because it was "the thing to do." Rather, because there burned in them an ancient thirst to find the Christ and worship Him.

Today, as all over the world men foment turbulence and strife, let us seek the Prince of Peace. If each of us, as we celebrate the season, would radiate His presence, His star could light the world with peace!

Your church is the cornerstone of faith. Worship there, and satisfy the longing all men have — to know their God.

THE RECEPTION COMMITTEE

Lesson for December 21, 1975

Background Scripture: Matthew 1:18 through 2:23
Devotional Reading: Psalms 72:1-11

We really don't know who the wise men were. We know only that they were from the East and that they were probably astrologers of some kind.

Despite popular tradition that there were three, we don't know how many there were—Matthew doesn't specify a number. We don't know whether they rode camels, as usually portrayed, or walked. We don't even know whether they arrived on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day, only that it was sometime around the time "when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king" (Matthew 2:1).

Rev. Althouse

Herod the un-wise

Obviously, Herod was not a "wise man," not in any sense of the term. He should have been a wise man, but he wasn't. Although he had great power, although he had fine resources and access to much wisdom and learning, Herod was not very wise. To be sure, there were times when he was cunning or crafty, but never wise.

He was the head of state, the government and, in a sense, he represents all those who possess temporal power. He who governs, whether as governor, legislator, judge, or mayor, may use the resources at his disposal with great wisdom or with equally great folly. To possess temporal power is no guarantee of wisdom.

Strangely enough, Herod knew that the child Messiah was sent by God, yet he obviously believed he could outsmart God. Man's greatest troubles and tragedies always occur when he assumes he can outwit his Creator.

Neither were the "chief priests and scribes" the wise men. Their foolishness is perhaps even greater than that of Herod. Herod had to come to them for their expertise in the scriptures. When, in response to his question about the birth-place of the Messiah, he said: "And you, O Bethlehem... from you shall come a ruler who will govern my people Israel...", they demonstrated that intellectually, at least, they knew the right answers!

Right answers, wrong reaction

Yet, for all their knowledge, they were not wise men either. They had the right answer, but they didn't know what to do with it. Or, better still, they knew what to do, but they didn't do it. So, instead of scribes and pharisees coming to the Christchild, instead of the religious elite discovering the newly-arrived Messiah, it was, rather, some strangers from the East who followed the star to the place where Jesus lay.

Luke tells us, instead of wise men from the East, of shepherds who came to worship the newborn King. Yet, in both Gospels, the welcoming committee is hardly the one we might have expected: shepherds and strangers rushed in where rulers and clergy feared to tread!

There is a relevance in Matthew's story even today.

Today, as then, one would expect the pious and the powerful to be the ones to recognize and worship God's Messiah. Yet, for the most part, it is an image they honor, while the real Christ comes unnoticed into their presence. The powerful still think they can outwit their God and the pious still have the right answers but the wrong reactions.

So, sometimes the true Reception Committee is composed of people who like those ancient astrologers from the East, would not fit comfortably in the pews of your local church.

Western Maryland Health Service Committee Named

A steering committee to develop the by-laws for operation of the newly-formed Health Service Area for Western Maryland was announced last week.

The committee is made up of one commissioner from each of the four Western Maryland counties. They are Garrett County Commissioner Wayne Hamilton, Allegany County Commissioner John J. Coyle, Washington county Commissioner William Dwyer and Frederick County Commissioner Sterling Bellinger.

In addition, one member from each county will represent the health planning councils. They are Col. J. Haig Jackson, John A. Moberly and John Schaffer, selected by the Health Planning Council to be appointed by respective boards of county commissioners.

Frederick county has its own Health Planning Council and that council has recommended that Robert Barrick be their representative.

W.O.W. COURT DONATES EQUIPMENT — Members of Woodmen of the World Court 110, Oakland, recently donated $500 for a gym center for Dennett Road School. Making the official presentation was Mrs. Leota Peck, left,president of Court 110. Accepting a simulated check on behalf of the school is Clark Sharpless, principal, while Mrs. Bobbie Genco, co-chairman of the playground committee for the Dennett Road P.T.A. looks on. Court 110 has approximately 350 members, the largest unit in the Maryland, New Jersey, Delaware and Washington, D. C. area. The gym center is now the most popular play equipment in use at the school, and can accommodate up to 20 youngsters. The equipment was installed at the end of September and a plaque noting the W.O.W. gift will be placed on the equipment soon.

Mr. Hamilton, chairman of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, was asked by the commissioner bodies representing the four counties to chair the steering committee. Mr. Hamilton pointed out that the Health Planning Council of Western Maryland has been asked to help with the preparation of by-laws, guidelines and application which must be prepared in order for the new Health Service area to be organized.

The Health Planning Council of Western Maryland agreed at a meeting last Monday to provide professional staff assistance. Mr. Hamilton noted that the Frederick County Comprehensive Health Planning Council has a much smaller staff but anticipated that both councils would contribute staff assistance to the effort.

The 12 persons making up the steering committee are charged with organizing a public body organization, one of three options allowed in public law 93-641, which mandates the creation of the regional Health Service Agencies.

The end result of the steering committee's efforts will be the formal recognition of Frederick, Washington, Garrett and Allegany counties as this area's Region 1 Health Service Agency.

Once the application is prepared, public hearings will be held in each of the member counties. The first review deadline is January 19, but because of the complexity of the organizational effort the first deadline may not be met by the steering committee. Mr. Hamilton said this should cause no serious problems.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

How did you vote last week on the tax revision amendment which strengthened the minimum tax requirements on individuals who pay little or no taxes because of various tax loopholes?

I supported this amendment to strengthen the minimum tax. The amendment passed 314-107.

What is the status of your constitutional amendment which would require an annual Federal budget?

Two weeks ago the Democratic Research Organization held the first of a series of public hearings on legislation which would mandate an annual balanced Federal budget. It was my pleasure to welcome Maryland State Senator James Clark, Jr. and State Treasurer William James as witnesses for this initial hearing. I will keep you posted on futher actions taken on this measure as they occur.

What is your voting attendance record?

As of December 12, my voting attendance was 95½ percent. In this regard, it is interesting to note that the House of Representatives already has taken over 565 votes this year. The previous high for an entire session was 541 votes in 1973.

When will you be visiting our area next?

Next month I will be visiting Middletown, Boonsboro, Williamsport, Eckhart Mines, Friendsville, Oakland, Swanton, Kitzmiller, Westernport, Rawlings, Cresaptown, Flintstone, Hancock, Clear Spring and Maugansville. In February, visits are scheduled for Frederick, Carroll, Howard and Baltimore Counties. An exact schedule of dates and times will be published in my next newsletter.

Several Injured In Recent Mishaps

Morris Lee Boxley, Galveston, Tex., was taken to the Potomac Valley Hospital after he jumped from his runaway rig on Bloomington hill last Tuesday afternoon. He was traveling downgrade on Md. 135 when he said the vehicle jumped out of lower gear and he lost air pressure. The rig started running away and Boxley jumped clear. The vehicle then struck the third truck stop and lights, ran over an embankment, through some trees and over a cliff, coming to rest overturned. The tractor-trailer belonged to Allied Movers of Galveston. Cpl. Ronald Lewis investigated.

The operators of two cars were taken to the Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, and the passenger of one car was also injured in a mishap on Md. 495 about a mile south of the Shade Hollow road December 3. Karen Lee Hutzel, RD 1, Grantsville, was driving north on Rt. 495 about 4:35 p.m. Garland Okey Durst, Jr., Star Route, Grantsville, driving south, fell asleep, crossed the center of the road and struck the Hutzel car in the northbound lane. Karen Hutzel had attempted to stop and pull off on the shoulder. The injured passenger in the Durst car was Randall Davy Durst. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant charged Durst with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

The operator of a car in a two vehicle mixup received minor injuries in an accident at the intersection of U. S. 219 and a ramp from eastbound U. S. 48. Charles E. Gambrill, Jr., Weston, W. Va., driver of the car, received minor injuries. David J. Kelly, Cheswick, Pa., was headed south on Rt. 219 in a heavy truck. Gambrill came off the ramp of Rt. 48 to go south on Rt. 219. Kelly was unable to stop and struck the Gambrill car. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile charged Gambrill with failing to yield the right-of-way.

A two-car collision in Mt. Lake Park last Tuesday morning caused injury to the operator of one car.

Juanita Hope Lewis, Mt. Lake Park, received minor injuries. She was traveling east on Oak Street near O'Brian Street,and trying to avoid an oncoming vehicle collided with a parked vehicle of Edward J. Davis of Trevose, Pa., parked off the roadway. Cpl. S. M. Russell made no charges.

James E. Kent, Mt. Lake Park, was driving west on Md. 135, just west of the Leon White road the night of December 5, at apparently a speed too great for existing conditions. The car went off the road to the right then across the roadway striking a mailbox on the eastbound shoulder. He then struck a guard rail and came to rest on the opposite side of the road. Tfc. Hinnant charged him with operating at a speed greater than reasonable and prudent.

Curtis R. Cleary, Mt. Lake Park, was driving westbound on Frick's Crossing road just east of Haines road the night of December 4, when a deer ran in front of his vehicle. Cleary swerved to avoid the animal and struck a drainage ditch at the right side of the roadway. Tfc. Hinnant investigated.

Amendments Are Made By Wildlife Mgmt.

Amendments to regulations governing wildlife conservation and management have been adopted by the Department of Natural Resources.

Included among the amendments, proposed by DNR's Wildlife Administration is the establishment of a trapping season for opposum and raccoon from December 15 through February 15. Box or live traps may be used in any area but leg hold traps may be used only in marsh or other lands covered by water.

The section of the regulations previously titled "Type of Firearms and Devices for Hunting" has been divided into three categories; Devices for hunting wild waterfowl, devices for hunting upland game and forest game and devices for hunting deer. The current format clarifies which weapons are permissible for hunting the different species.

Another amendment requires that one must have written permission to hunt on those portions of land so posted on the C & D Canal lands which are leased to the Administration.

The final amendment concerns possession of protected species of birds. The regulation does not apply to a bird on the threatened or endangered species list.

It requires that any properly accredited person wishing to possess a protected bird or parts of such a bird, for educational or scientific purposes, or propagation purposes, may apply to the department for a permit. The application must explain the reason for wanting the permit. The permit is non-transferable and expires December 31 of each year.

In addition, every permittee must submit a yearly report including the disposition by species, the number, the age, the sex, the sources of any protected birds, as well as any other information the department may require. Should the permittee fail to comply with the terms of the permit the Department may suspend or revoke it.

SPORTS Go-Round

by Larrie Weaver

"Tripping" is the essence of the English game of wrestling. In the Cornwall and Devon style, the wrestler is required to throw his opponent flat on his back before a decision can be won. In order to secure the throw, two shoulders and one hip must be on the ground, or two hips and one shoulder. This is called three points down. The various devices used in this style of wrestling are called trips or chips.

Program on Drug Abuse Features Guard Meeting

A program on drug abuse, alcohol abuse and driver safety featured the monthly meeting of members of Company C, 121st Engineer battalion, Maryland National Guard, at the guard armory over the past weekend.

The program covered laws and punishments connected with crimes in these areas as well as the effects of these problem causers.

A reorganization of the battalion was announced with several openings in the local unit for interested individuals. Guard officers said the organization would pay and train individuals in several job areas including equipment operators, cooks, demolition specialists, vehicle drivers,supply, and others.

Officers pointed out that Company C had been recognized as one of the outstanding units in the state, providing a vital role in the nation's defense. Interested persons are being urged to contact the state armory or the one at Frostburg.

Tree trimming is twice as much fun when everyone pitches in! When the last star is in place and it's time to relax and admire your lovely tree, a cup of cheer and a slice of holiday bread will be welcome.

- 1½ cups orange juice
- 2 large bottles chilled ginger ale (28 oz. bottles)

Larceny And Destruction Of Property Noted

Larceny and destruction of property were noted in the criminal reports of the Maryland State Police records in Oakland recently.

The door of a storage shed of the Imbt Construction Co. at Keyser Ridge was pried open sometime between November 21 and 24. A complete list of the goods stolen could not be immediately determined. Tfc. D. E. Tharp, criminal investigator, made the report.

About $150 in dimes, were taken from boxes of automatic dryers of the Highlander Laundramat and Car Wash in Accident November 29. Coins of eight boxes were discovered taken the following morning. There seemed to be no signs of forceful entry into the building. The boxes were apparently emptied during regular business hours.

A window, a door and padlock, on the door, were damaged by shotgun shells on a hunting lodge on Durst road sometime December 4. The lodge is the property of Walter Willoughby of Wheaton. Total damage is estimated at $12.

"Keep It Clean"

Velour is Laundry-Loving

Velour fabric is a cotton blend, so that it can be washed the same as corduroy. Turn garments inside out to launder. Use the warm water setting on a washer. As much of velour is in dark colors, warm water prevents excess bleeding. Add detergent or soap to the wash water and set for a regular cycle, 6-8 minutes. Dry in a dryer to fluff the nap. If hand washing, don't wring out the garment; this will cause wrinkles.

Cleaning A Crystal Chandelier

Before washing a crystal chandelier, remove the light bulbs. Then, lay a folded towel at the bottom of a sink or dishpan and fill it half way with warm water and detergent or soap. Prepare another basin for rinsing; add a little ammonia to the rinse water. Ammonia gives extra sparkle to crystal; the towel keeps glass from breaking. Remove a few of the crystal pieces at a time; soak in the suds. Rinse, dry and replace right away to make sure they go back in the same places. Continue washing and rehanging in sections until the entire chandelier is clean. Wipe the arms of the fixture, with a sudsy sponge while crystal pieces are soaking. Finally, sponge off the bulbs before returning them to the sockets.

Treat Wine and Soft Drink Stains on tablecloths and washable clothing before regular laundering. Soak the item in an enzyme pre-soak product or oxygen bleach, with the hottest water safe for the fabric. Then launder as usual. If the stain remains after washing, launder again, using chloringe bleach, if safe for the fabric.

Cpl. D. A. Tucker Receives Retirement Badge From Maryland State Police

A very brief but peaceful retirement was enjoyed by Donald A. Tucker, center, formerly a Corporal with the Maryland State Police. Cpl. Tucker officially retired from over 26 years of state police duty September 30 at midnight, only to begin his new job as Court Commissioner for District Court October 1 at 8:45 a.m.

Cpl. Tucker, whose last assignment was criminal investigator for the Oakland detachment, began his career with the police force in April 1949. Capt. Conrad, then a corporal assigned to Oakland, conducted the original interview for the job. Lt. Hart was assigned to the Oakland detachment just before Capt. Conrad.

Prior to his acceptance into the state police, Cpl. Tucker served as a special investigator for the Army Ground Forces in Europe, until August 1948.

He was first assigned to Barrack B, Frederick, and later to Barrack C. Cumberland, before assignment to the Oakland detachment.

A Steyer native, he is a son of Mrs. Jane E. Tucker and the late Milton E. Tucker. He and his wife Nina and son James reside at their home in Loch Lynn. Another son, Donald W., is a deputy with the Garrett County sheriff's department.

Baraques of Paris Offer Yule Items

A feature of Paris at Christmastime are the baraques. These are small stalls or booths erected along the boulevards — at which all kinds of knickknacks are sold. They sell sweets, toys, and all the latest novelties. It is quite like a fair, and the booths remain open till after New Year's Day. There are street vendors, and the barrows that sell holly and mistletoe. In France one sees mistletoe in perfection, for it is the country of mistletoe and everyone buys it. A branch hung above the doorway at this season is said to bring luck to a house during the entire year.

The U.S. agreed to aid building of Philippine industry.

The Child In Us

Everyone knows how valuable children are — to parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts, and even some cousins. Children possess the truest element of vivacity in this world; their little eyes sparkle so with innocence, and in their gaze we often see the aura of what causes us to wish that we had not lifted the shield of adult indifference and wiliness. We are reduced to the bare essentials of being clear-minded and clean-hearted when we associate with children. Rachel Carson defines the frail essential in a book, The Sense of Wonder. She writes, "A child's world is fresh and new and beautiful, full of wonder and excitement. It is our misfortune that for most of us that clear-eyed vision, that true instinct for what is beautiful and awe-inspiring, is dimmed." She continues with a wish from the good fairy, "I should ask that her gift to each child in the world be a sense of wonder so indestructible that it would last throughout life . . ."

Perhaps it is something of this delight that makes American parents almost worship their children, in many cases honestly fearing their disapproval and admitting it. David Reissman, author of The Lonely Crowd, defines our present sociological structure as an other-directed society, one in which the isolated family and its authority are nearly lost. As the father goes away to work, not returning even for lunch, home is not the solidly private area that it once was, especially on the farm, where members produced solely in a responsible realm, each contributing to the whole family welfare. Children learn anxiety from their parents and outside influences, and they consequently develop a great awareness of self. Parents who lack self-assurance do not feel superior to their children and constantly seek help in rearing them from other sources outside their own integrity. Such an uninterrupted flow of affection which comes from some parents, who do not deny the children anything, will actually do little to bolster a child's sense of his own place in a part of society where he will later be expected to function as a married partner or a parent. Reissman reminds us, "It may be that children today do not gain the strength that adults — no longer inner-directed — have lost.

Nevertheless, we all experience the transfer of a wondering feeling which emanates from a child. Charles Wesley uses the metaphor in his simple hymn for Christmas, "Gentle Jesus, meek and mild, look upon a little child. Pity my simplicity, suffer me to come to Thee."

So it is with a child-like simplicity that we approach the Hannukah and Nativity season each year, with a true sense of awe at the supernatural powers, making us both proud and humble that Providence cares for all of us. As an old Spanish carol expresses this emotion, we once again experience adoration and exaltation that life is ours, with a fresh beginning and a hope for inner peace and progress. The carol begins, "Shall I tell you who will come to Bethlehem on Christmas morn?" It then mentions the animals from several habitats, and ends with "And many children, God give them grace, bringing tall candles to light Mary's face."

Beall Upends Southern 55-52

Three players sparked Beall High of Frostburg to its first win of the season with a 55 to 52 surprise verdict over Southern High Rams last Friday night in Frostburg.

Dave Blank got 16 points, Paul Kahl 14, and Mike Minnick 13 at the Mountaineers down by three points at halftime, 26 to 23, rallied to tie the score after three quarters and went ahead by as many as seven points during the final quarter.

Southern High, after opening the season with 2 big victories over Bruce and Valley, outgunned Beall from the floor by a 26 to 20 margin, but failed to convert any of their foul shots. The Mountaineers hit on 15 of 30 foul tries.

Kevin Liller emerged the game's high scorer for southern with 22 points. Steve Liller had 14 and Allen Lewis 12. Kevin Liller's total was the result of eleven field goals. Niner also had 2, Wotring 2, while E. Panther, Proudfoot and Raynovich did not score.

For Beall Ross had 3, Wright 7 and Arnone 2 to complete the scoring.

Local 676 At Luke Approves New Contract

Employes of Luke Local 676, United Paperworkers International Union, ratified a new three-year contract during voting Wednesday, according to Harold Bradley, president of Local 676.

Employes of the Luke and Covington, Va. mills had initially rejected a company offer approximately two weeks ago and several days of additional negotiations followed at Richmond.

The three-year contract retains an immediate 13½ percent wage increase, and additional 10 percent increases in each of the next two years. The contract also included increases in pension benefits and an additional paid holiday, along with other improvements.

The agreement went into effect Wednesday, December 10. No date has been set for a formal contract signing.

Other revisions include movement of an increase in Sunday premium time to the second year of the contract from the third year where it was initially scheduled. Also Blue Cross/Blue Shield contributions will be held at their present level through the second year of the agreement. The company will pay 70 percent of any premium increase in the third year. There will be no change in present meal allowance provisions, as had been earlier proposed.

Know Your FBI

The Child Molester

How safe is my child from attack? Now that our youngsters are back in school, it is a good time to take a hard look at this question.

The role of the FBI in child molester crimes is usually one of educating the general public to the danger. Generally speaking, the child molester does not become the subject of an FBI investigation unless the crime occurs on a government reservation or the criminal is identified, flees the state, and becomes a fugitive under the Unlawful Interstate Flight Statutes.

The protection of children against this terrible menace is not only the responsibility of parents but also of law enforcement and the public. Realizing that the first step in thwarting would-be child molesters had to be a program of educating young children, several years ago the FBI began distributing coloring sketches for elementary school children. These posters are simple and contain a drawing of a man about to offer candy to small school children. There are also listed on the poster the following four rules for children to memorize: (1) Turn down gifts from strangers; (2) Refuse rides offered by strangers; (3) Avoid dark and lonely streets; (4) Know your local policeman.

Millions of these posters have been distributed and are sent, free of charge, in answer to requests of school authorities, law enforcement officers, news media representatives, and other responsible groups or individuals interested in safeguarding the lives of our children. Should you be interested in obtaining copies, please write the FBI office at 7142 Ambassador Road, Baltimore, Maryland, 21207.

Island Creek Has Christmas Party

Island Creek Coal Company, North Branch and Alpine divisions, held its second annual Christmas party for children of employes in the two mines Sunday, December 14, at Bayard Grade School.

Approximately 1,000 parents and children were present during the open house party from 1 to 4 p.m. Santa Claus and "Gus" the Dog were hosts, assisted by union officers from Local 2478, North Branch, and 1444, Alpine.

Each of the nearly 300 children present received a box of candy and a gift appropriate to his age and sex. Basketballs, dolls, western gun sets, and stuffed animals were given out by volunteers, the cheerleaders from Mountaineer High School in Davis, W. Va.

Members of the Gorman Volunteer fire department auxiliary prepared and served homemade doughnuts, as well as other refreshments.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Walter O. Harvey, who passed away December 20, 1974.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed his loving eyes
And whispered: "Peace be thine."
His weary hours, his days of pain,
His weary nights are past;
His ever-patient, worn-out frame

Telephone Tips at Christmas Are Supplied

Tips on making telephone calls during the Christmas holiday period were provided this week by the Oakland office of the C. and P. Telephone company, in order to avoid some of the holiday rush.

Fewer people usually make Christmas Day calls in the afternoon so calls should go through more quickly then, between 1 and 5 o'clock. Reduced rates will be in effect all day. Christmas Eve is another time when long distance circuits should be less busy.

This year for the first time customers can take advantage of the dial direct one-minute rate wherever dial-direct calls can be made.

Other tips about Christmas calling:

If placing a call through an operator, allow a little extra time for an answer. Check the personal number list ahead of time to be sure of the out of town numbers desired.

The pattern of calls is different on Christmas, it was pointed out. Ordinarily long distance calling is heaviest between metropolitan business centers. But at Christmas people talk from their homes in suburbs, small towns and rural areas as well as cities.

To meet the needs of callers at Christmas time a full staff of operators will be on duty and special circuits will be added, it was stated.

Friendsville Citizens Plan Second Meeting

A gathering of over 100 citizens of Friendsville voted on December 12th to have a follow-up meeting on Tuesday, December 23rd, to determine the need for action regarding projected water and sewage charges. The meeting will be at 7:00 p.m. at the Friendsville Fire Hall. Questions will be put to the Mayor and Town Council this week at meetings previously scheduled. Those citizens not satisfied with the answers obtained are encouraged to attend the meeting of the 23rd.

Projected figures for water and sewage charges beginning January 1st of next year were mailed to citizens of the town on the 8th and 9th of December. Concerned property owners called their own meeeting for Friday, December 12th, and invited the Mayor and Town Council, the County Commissioners, County Administrator, County Planner, Tom Lash, consulting engineer for Rummel, Klepper and Kahl, and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden. Only Delegate Bolden was in attendance.

The meeting was moderated by Charles M. Ross, who at the request of a group of property owners, made inquiries of a variety of sources concerning the charges. Issues raised centered about the decision-making process used for establishing the method of assessing the property owners for the new facilities. Concerns were especially noted with regard to the financial implications for people on fixed incomes and the apparent lack of distinction between commercial and residential rates.

Many alternatives of action were suggested, but the need for more facts appeared obvious. Further presentations of information and recommended actions are the topics of the December 23rd meeting to which the same parties will be invited.

Sheet metal work is accomplished in this work area at the center rear of the building. Sheet metal boxes must be specially constructed to enclose transformers built for testing equipment. Both aluminum and metal welding is done at American HV System as part of the construction process. Transformers are placed in tanks filled with a special transformer oil, then a vacuum is applied to remove all moisture from the transformer before the unit is sealed. A high ceiling is a feature of the shop, so that as equipment gets larger no changes to the building will be necessary. A five-ton capacity fork lift truck was recently purchased and will be used to lift some of the larger equipment as it is constructed. Special tanks will be fitted outside the building to hold supplies of the special transformer oil required.

Thirteen Killed On State Roads

Thirteen persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed nine were drivers, and four were passengers. At least four of the deaths, in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Persons killed through December 14 totaled 648 compared to 685 for the same period last year.

IN MEMORIAM

Today is a day of remembrance
And a day of tears, and sad regrets.
He did not fail to do his best
He tried so hard for those he loved.
Each one was treated special,
Some will remember, while others may forget.
His heart was true and kind.
Please God, forgive the constant wish
That he was here with us.
We know that he is resting in peace,
Safe beyond all grief and care,
We know he waits for us there.

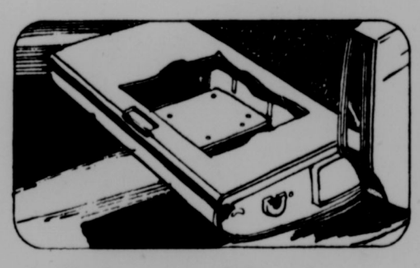
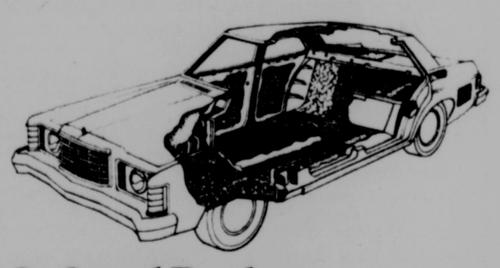
The 1976 Ford cars. The most rust-resistant Ford has ever built.

Five improvements in the past two years to Ford's ongoing corrosion protection program.



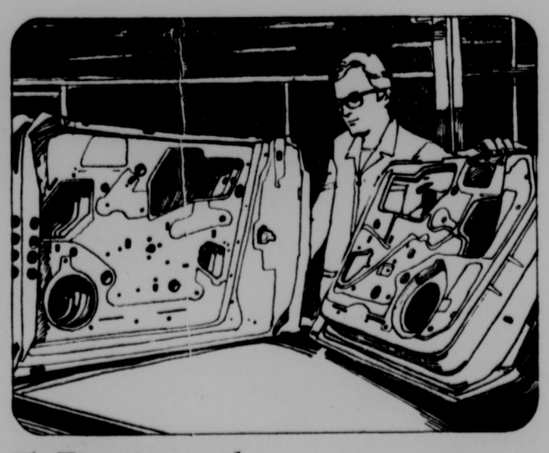
1. Galvanized Steel. Has a well-known reputation for its resistance to rust. When ordinary steel is galvanized, it is treated with a zinc coating, a proven rust inhibitor. Ford has increased the use of galvanized steel in certain rust-prone areas.

2. Vinyl Sealer. Tough vinyl sealer is sprayed into hidden areas like wheel housings and fenders forming a protective barrier. In addition it's used extensively along seams where metal meets metal—areas where rust can occur.



3. Sound Deadener. We design a quiet ride into all our cars. Much of the quiet is due to the extensive use and skillful placement of sound deadening materials. Ford engineers have added a rust inhibitor to the spray-on deadener which is applied to corrosion-prone areas.

4. Aluminized Wax. Another new rust fighter. It's gun-sprayed into hard-to-reach areas—especially the inside surfaces of doors and rear quarter panels which are frequently exposed to water. As the wax cures, it forms a tough protective coating. The spraying is done by trained operators with specially developed spray gun equipment.



5. Zincrometal. One of the newer processes used by Ford to prevent rust. Zincrometal is steel which has had two layers of a strong protective coating bonded to it. Where the Electrocoat dipping process is not used, this pre-coated metal is used on inner door panels, station wagon tailgates and other areas where rust often starts. Think of its invisible protection next time you drive on a winter road covered with salt.

More of Ford's corrosion protection program.

ELECTROCOATING: This Ford innovation involves dipping the whole car body and other parts into a tank of primer. The car body is charged with electricity and the primer is literally drawn like a magnet to body surfaces, plating the body with protection against rust. The Electrocoat process is used at many Ford plants.

PHOSPHATE BATH: A chemical bath that strips sheet metal of grease, oil and grime and chemically etches the metal for a better bond with the base primer.

ZINC-RICH PRIMER: Before two coats of paint primer are applied, a special zinc-rich material is sprayed liberally on key areas such as the inner side of outer door panels and fenders. Zinc is a very effective corrosion fighter. This special application to areas where moisture and corrosive materials can build up helps provide a barrier against rust.

ACRYLIC ENAMEL PAINT: The outside of your car takes a tougher beating than the inside. At least three coats of Ford's tough, durable enamel resist scratches, dings and stonepecking that could cause rust to begin. And specially designed instruments are used to insure proper standards of thickness are maintained.

School Board Plans To Comply With Title IX

The Garrett County Board of Education, as one of the steps in ensuing federal funding continuance, passed a compliance position at the regular Board meeting on Thursday, December 11. The position states:

"The Garrett County board of Education will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of sex, race, creed, color, or national origin. The Board will take affirmative action to ensure that applicants are employed, and that employees are treated during employment, without regard to their sex, race, creed, color, or national origin. Such action shall include but not be limited to the following: employment, upgrading, demotion, or transfer; recruitment advertising; layoff or termination; rates of pay or other forms of compensation; and selection for training, including apprenticeship. The Board agrees to post in conspicuous places, available to employees and applicants for employment, notices to be provided by the Board, setting forth the provisions of this nondiscrimination policy."

In other personnel matters, the Board adopted a policy which limits the number of years of teaching experience which certificated personnel may transfer into Garrett County for the purpose of placement on the salary schedule. Under the policy certificated personnel would be placed no higher than the fifth step on the appropriate salary schedule.

Also in other personnel matters, Dr. William H. Buser, county superintendent, announced that Wayne R. Johnson would serve as the principal of the Broad Ford Elementary School and that Clark A. Sharpless would remain the principal of the newly districted Dennett Road Elementay School for the 1976-77 school year.

Nursing Major In Local Hospital

Miss Pamela Riffle, of Friendsville, a nursing major at Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, W. Va., is employed this winter at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland. Miss Riffle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Riffle, of Friendsville, is working at the hospital in partial fulfillment of her off-campus education requirements at Alderson-Broaddus.

All students who are graduated from Alderson-Broaddus College are required to have two terms of off-campus education. Usually one is in the junior year and one is in the senior year, but the student has the option of engaging in activities in the freshman and sophomore years.

Wildlife Mothers Leave Babysitting To Dad

Liberated mothers who think fathers should play a larger role in the task of raising their children may find support for their position in the December issue of Ranger Rick's Nature magazine.

The National Wildlife Federation publication for children names five species of living creatures — birds, fish, insects, and amphibians — where, as the magazine puts it, "Papa get the job of babysitter."

The first example is the red phalarope, a seagoing bird that rarely ventures on land except to fee and nest, usually in the arctic. Unlike most birds, the phalarope is smaller than his mate, and it is the female who does the courting. The male then dutifully incubates the eggs and cares for the young after they hatch.

Another baby-sitting male, the three-spined stickleback fish builds an underwater nest and lures a female into it by changing his colors and zigzagging around her. After she lays her eggs, the male chases her from the nest, then hovers over it, fanning the water with his fins (to assure a good supply of oxygen) until the eggs hatch. If a baby stickleback swims too far away, papa retrieves it by sucking the youngster into his mouth and then spitting it out in the nest, the Ranger Rick article reports.

The two other aquatic males cited by the children's nature magazine for performing motherly chores are giant water bugs, found in American ponds and creeks, and arrow-poison frogs, native to Central and South America. Both carry eggs on their backs while the eggs are incubating. The piggyback ride ends for the the frog's tadpoles when he goes in the water and they "wiggle off in all directions," according to Ranger Rick.

One male creature cited by the magazine not only carries the young about, but is equipped by nature with a special pouch to do the job. The male sea horse (classified as a fish despite its equine appearance and prehensile tail) carries up to 600 eggs in his pouch for about 55 days after mating, then squeezes young sea horses out to fend for themselves.

One of the first perils they encounter is papa. Hungry from his labor, the male sea horse is "quite likely to eat some of his babies," says the Ranger Rick article. Remarkably, those that get away are able to care for themselves immediately by feeding on microscopic sea creatures and plants.

Where is the mother? She swam off after planting her eggs in the male pouch, Ranger Rick reports — without making any moral judgments — and has nothing to do with the care and feeding of the youngsters.

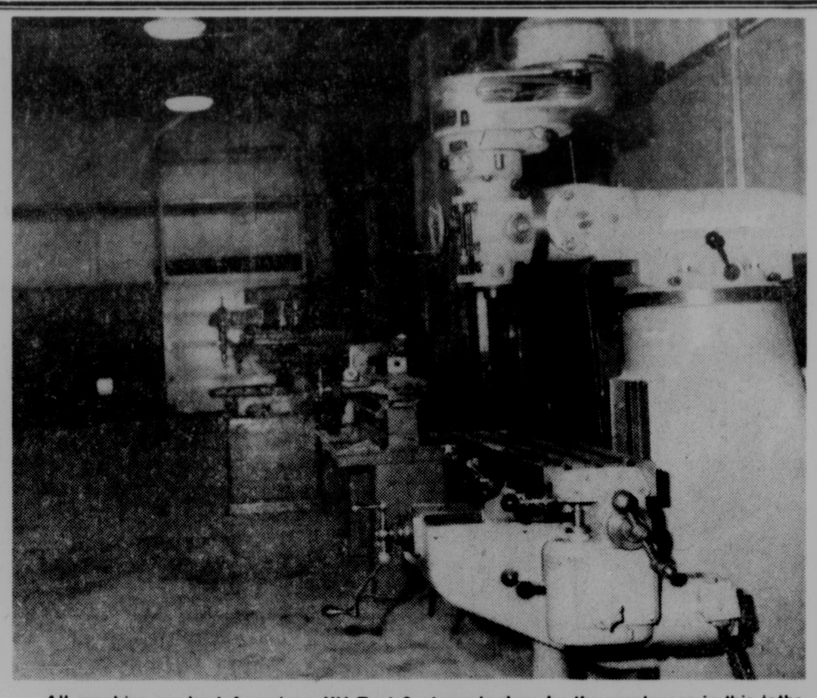
Farmer's Tax Guide Available

The "1976 Farmer's Tax Guide" is being distributed this year through the banks in Garrett County, according to James A. McHenry Extension Agent, Agriculture.

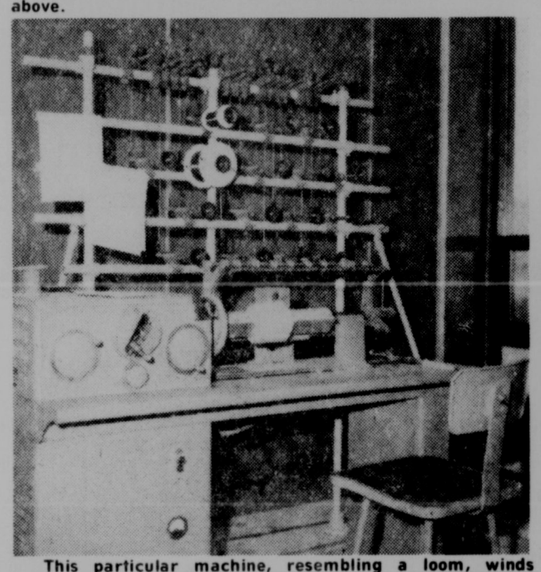
Copies of the 1976 Farmers' Tax Guide will be available at the First National, Garrett National and Liberty Trust Banks, and their branch banks in the county this week. Copies are also available at the County Extension Office, in the basement of the post office, Oakland.

Due to a change in mailing regulations and a cost savings, the book will be distributed this way, according to Mr. McHenry.

The Tax Guide is designed in a workbook fashion that should be of valuable assistance to farmers in filling out their tax returns, he said.



All machine work at American HV Test Systems in done by the employees in this lathe, mill and drill press center. A special eight-feet tall shipping door, specially insulated so that building heat is not lost while finished products are loaded, is directly behind the machinery above.



This particular machine, resembling a loom, winds enamel copper wire for transformers to be used in HV (high voltage) test equipment manufactured at the Accident plant. A larger machine has also been installed in the facility to make larger transformers. All wire is coiled on the lower section, in the center of the picture, layered with heavy wrapping material.

go back to the budget he and other aides are preparing and make reductions in areas where the level of spending is not mandated by law.

The board told Mandel that general fund revenues will bring in almost $1.7 billion in fiscal 1977 and that special fund revenues would total about $1.6 billion for a total of about $3.3 billion.

Under current law, lottery funds are not spent during the year in which they are collected, but are held until the next year. Changing the law would give him two years' collections for fiscal 1977.

State Facing Serious Crisis Over Budget

Gov. Marvin Mandel is faced with what he describes as the worst budget situation of his seven years as governor, but he still says he will balance the budget without a tax increase.

Mandel was told by the Board of Revenue Estimates last week that we can expect a growth of only about 6 percent in general fund revenues during the 12 month fiscal year which begins next July 1.

He said official estimates were even lower than he had expected and that they would make his task more difficult than he had anticipated.

The governor was told that he would have about $100 million more to spend on general fund programs next year than was available for this year's budget.

Mandel said that this wouldn't even cover the $110 million in additional spending that is automatically built into the budget and that he must, by law, include in his spending program. He said it also leaves nothing to keep up with inflation or to start new programs.

In order to balance the budget Mandel said he would

Mt. Savage Wins Over Northern Huskies 54 to 52

Dale Lease hit three straight foul shots in the last 10 seconds to lift the Mt. Savage Indians to a 54 to 52 victory over the Northern High Huskies Tuesday night at Mt. Savage.

The victory was the first for Mt. Savage. The Indians trailed at 52 to 51 when Lease went to the foul line and converted two attempts. Northern got the ball back in play and managed to get down the floor but after working by the Indian defenders, called a time out. There were three seconds to play but the Huskies had no time outs remaining and Lease went back to the foul line on the technical penalty to make the winning margin two points.

Tony Doerr led the Huskies with 14 points. Bender had 13, Skidmore 4, O'Brien 9, Paugh 2, Youmans 8, Friend 2. The Huskies are now 1-3 on the season.

PAINTING, REPAIRING and general clean-up of toys and other items for Christmas for local needy families is going on this week at the Activities Center for Adult Handicapped sponsored by Community Action. The week's activities will culminate in a party Friday for participants and their parents.

Valley Girls Trim Southern

Karen Metz tallied 23 points to give Valley High School girls' basketball team an easy 65 to 22 victory over Southern High last Friday afternoon at Lonaconing.

Jeannie Schockey had 16 points for the Black Knights and Brenda Mills had 10. Peg Watson was high scorer for Southern with 11 points. Sue Eberly had seven.

Resolutions Are Approved By Farm Bureau

The sixtieth annual convention of the Maryland Farm Bureau was concluded on December 6 with some fifty-five resolutions having been discussed and acted upon. The meeting was held in Pikesville with nine local persons attending.

At a meeting of the Women's committee Mrs. George Bishoff was elected second vice-chairman, the first time any county woman has held a state office since Mrs. Orval Glotfelty was first vice-chairman in the late 1950s.

Highlight of the women's program was a feature, "Remembering Our Heritage". The state board of directors participated in a pantomime during the commentary wearing Bicentennial costumes and portraying colonial skills such as quilting, weaving, spinning, etc. Mrs. Pat Ensor, Carroll county, was named chairman; Mrs. Winnie Dixon, St. Mary's county, first vice-chairman.

Attending from the county were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Glotfelty, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Guard, George Shawley, Miss Kendra Fratz and Mrs. Bishoff.

Among the resolutions passed which affect this county were the following:

A litter law urging all to show concern for all peoples' property and urging more strict enforcement of littering laws; continued control of Japanese beetles; urging a program for control of multiflora rose; more support for vocational agriculture programs; opposed recommendations of the Rosenberg study and recommended that the county educational system be controlled at the local level; expressed opposition to forced busing of students to other areas; urged state highway administration to consider preservation of productive agricultural land in the construction or relocation of all state highways.

The group also urged no additional gun control legislation and urged strict enforcement of present laws with severe penalties for violations; commended Earl Butz for speaking out for farmers; favored a limit on campaign spending; urged that the Maryland Farmland assessment law be maintained; urged strong support of President Ford's recommendations to reduce taxes and government spending, feeling continued deficit spending contributes to the inflationary spiral and should be abolished; recommended that Congress pass a constitutional amendment requiring a balanced budget; opposed legalization of marijuana; opposed welfare payments, food stamps, or surplus foods for anyone on strike; favored better screening of welfare recipients and supported program to provide job training; urged welfare rolls to be examined constantly for overpayments; and urged a new class for farm trucks with three axles with a gross limit of 55,000 pounds, in order to conserve fuel and labor.

DEAR SANTA CLAUS, My name is Shirley Jones and I am 7 years old. Santa, I have been real good all year cause I want to ask something real special of you for Xmas. And Santa, it's not for me, but for my mommie. You see, I love her very much and it makes me feel very bad to see her get up every morning with the back-ache from sleeping on that old lumpy mattress she has on her bed. And then she doesn't feel good all day. Santa, you don't need to bring me any presents at all, but would you please stop at Showalter's Village in Salisbury and get one of those famous Restonic Mattresses for my mommie? It would make my very best Xmas ever. And Santa you won't have to worry about delivering it, cause that nice Dr. Dick Showalter, M.D. (mattress doctor) will deliver it free. And he will know just what type to bring my mommie, cause Showalter's Village is a direct factory outlet for Restonic bedding and Doc Showalter is real proud of their bedding department. He knows good bedding when he sees it. So please Santa, make it a merry Xmas for me and my mommie, Thanks Santa, Shirley. —Adv. 41-3t.

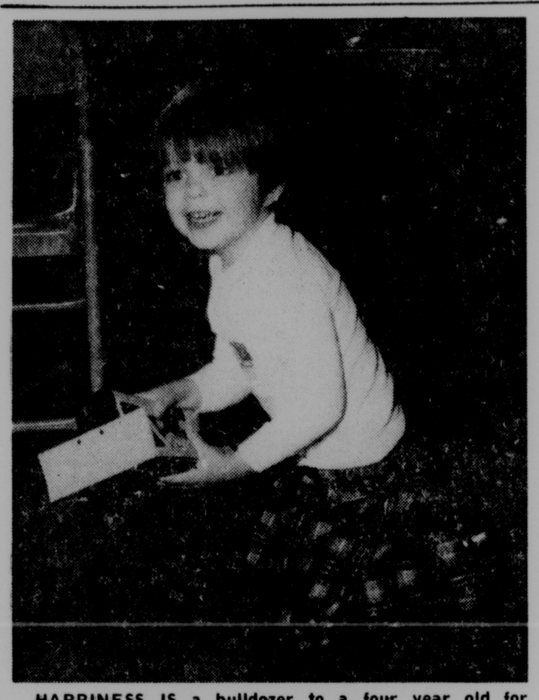
Season's Greetings . . .

These be your gifts this Christmastime — light from the wondrous Star . . . jeweled words of hope and faith . . . a glimpse of Paradise . . . joy that surpasses, exalts the soul . . . a shining, hallowed hour . . . the sweet perfume that fills all earth . . . from the Heart of the Christmas Flower . . . contentment that comes from remembering those who walk in the dark and the cold . . . peace and trust and abiding love . . . more precious than earthly gold . . . a hearth fire bright to dream beside . . . laughter, a song to sing . . . these be your gifts this golden time . . . as the bells of Christmas ring . . . This was on a Christmas card received.



HAPPINESS IS a bulldozer to a four year old for Christmas. The joyous day came a little early for the 19 pupils at the Oak Park Head Start class, when Santa Claus came jingling in and delivered over four bags full of presents to the youngsters. Each boy received a Johnny West figure and bulldozer, each girl a doll and cash register. All children also got coloring books and crayons. The gifts were purchased with money raised by the parents through sale of craft kits.

Sewage Treatment Plant Operating Despite Problems

Despite problems from the start, the Mt. Lake Park-Loch Lynn sewage treatment plant began operating December 1. The plant, which is now able to begin to pay its way, also has the capability of treating sewage from the Broad Ford area, including the two new schools.

The latest problem to evolve from the years of red tape encircling the project resulted from a recent audit of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission books, which revealed that approximately $40,000 worth of funds from the Environmental Protection Agency and State Health Department for the Mt. Lake-Loch Lynn sewage treatment system had been mis-directed.

The check revealed that monies appropriated for the system had been used to pay preliminary engineering costs of feasibility studies for other towns which had petitioned such studies, including Crellin and Kitzmiller.

Rather than ask the County Commissioners to come up with money for the preliminary studies, which are required before the EPA and the State Health Department will reimburse such a project, the Sanitary Commission used monies on hand which were earmarked by the federal and state governments to pay contracting costs for the Mt. Lake plant.

The monies used to make the engineering studies for other communities could have been re-couped with no problem if the federal government had not, at former President Nixon's order, suddenly put a freeze on the flow of such funds.

Both the EPA and the state auditors stated that there was no dishonesty by the parties involved.

According to Wayne Hamilton, county commissioner and liaison officer to the Sanitary Commission, the County Commissioners have advanced some money and satisfied certain engineering claims and part of the contractor's claims for the Mt. Lake Plant, filed by Peters and Associates.

The Commissioners have also provided operating monies for the Sanitary Commission for some time, as the treatment plant was not operable and able to generate revenue.

The project could have been in operation a year ago if the freeze on funds had not been effected. However, the EPA now says that when an engineering survey on work assignments has been completed by representatives of the contractor's engineers, Col. J. Haig Jackson, appointed professional engineering advisor by the Commissioners; and a disinterested third party from Allegany County, the project will be closed out and the construction costs paid.

A further hitch could be developing, in that monies offered by the EPA and state are some $50,000 short of meeting the original contractor's bid price.

Oakland, too, continues to suffer from the freeze on sewage treatment funding and resulting slowdown of construction since the government has ordered a $100,000 re-study of the area. Until then, construction work within the town is at a standstill since the present system is already at capacity.

The Sanitary Commission could let a contract to treat the Oakland sewage at the Mt. Lake Plant, through an interceptor line. The Department of Health has had engineering surveys made for the line, but now the department has come up with a plan to do further study on the area.

OH, BOY! A cash register really delighted this young lady as she opened one of her gifts from Santa last Friday morning at Oak Street Head Start sponsored by Community Action Committee in the basement of the Oak Park Church. Parents had sold craft kits to provide money for a really special Christmas party for the children, some of whom are handicapped. There are two teachers, six aides and a bus driver employed at the center, which is open to four and five year olds. Santa's "ho, ho, ho" had a sincere ring as he, and parents, watched the delight on children's faces.

Two Fire Companies Called To Flue Fires

Two local fire departments were called out over the past few days to douse fires caused by overheated flues.

Seventeen members of the Gorman Volunteer Fire Company responded to a call about 10:15 p.m. Saturday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Young along Route 50 near the Church of God.

An overheated flue in the living room of an addition to a trailer had caused a fire resulting in extensive damage to the outside of the home.

The home is the property of John Agroso, Akron, Ohio.

The Deer Park Volunteer fire department was called out Monday about 9 p.m. to the home of Mrs. Beulah Lee, off Route 135 in Altamont.

An overheated flue caused minor heat damage to an upstairs room. Deer Park responded with 15 men and two pieces of equipment.

Dave Stuck Now Is Satisfactory

He was first listed in serious condition in the intensive care unit of the Medical Center.

Snow Keeps Road Crews, Ski Area Busy on Mt.

Snow flurries falling on the Mountain Top Saturday have kept the roads departments busy clearing and sanding highways and the ski slope at the Wisp busy piling it up.

As of Tuesday all operations at the Wisp Ski area were going except the Chair Lift which was planned for Wednesday. In addition to the natural fall, snow making is continuing around the clock with the air temperature well below the freezing mark.

State and County roads departments have been out treating the roads off and on since last Friday with a slight break early Saturday. They have been back on the job since Saturday evening. Tuesday all the force was out treating the roads which were snow covered. There have been no particular difficulties other than the slick roads.

About 3½ inches of snow have accumulated since the fall began last Thursday. About the only break in the flurries and snow showers was Saturday morning.

Temperatures for the week have averaged 8.6 degrees below normal. Highs have averaged 9.5 degrees below normal with the highest being 39, Saturday. Friday's high was only 18 degrees. Lows averaged 12.5 degrees or 7.7 below normal. The coldest

Phoenix Low Bidder on Bridge

The Phoenix Construction company, Cumberland, was low bidder along with five other firms for a contract to construct a new Savage River bridge in this county.

The bids which still await official tabulation, were opened by the County Commissioners Monday.

The Phoenix bid was $380,940. Other bids were Carl Belt, Inc., Cumberland, $398,398; Hazelwood Construction, $458,172.50; Dickerson Construction Company, Youngwood, Pa., $525,997.50; S. J. Groves and Son, Camp Hill, Pa., and Empire Construction company, Baltimore, $746,605.

The board will act officially next Monday. Construction is expected to begin in early spring. A temporary span has been used over the river ever since the old bridge was condemned.

The state agreed to share in the cost as much traffic is generated by the Savage River state forest. A state bond issue to cover the state's share, $350,000, was authorized.

The commissioners indicated they were pleased with the new bids. The bridge will be approximately 240 feet long and will be a two-lane steel structure with a poured concrete floor.

Recreation Plan For Lake Area Under Discussion

The Federal Power Commission approval of the Exhibit R recreation plan for Deeep Creek Lake was under discussion at the regular meeting of the County Commissioners by Wayne Hamilton, Don Bender and George Edwards.

The commissioners agree that the proposal as originally prepared by many citizen groups, the county Planning Commission and the Deep Creek Lake commission, and coordinated by the County Commissioners should be supported in any rehearing before the Federal Power Commission. The commissioners pointed out that a great deal of citizen effort went into drafting the proposal and that circumstances had not changed since that time which would merit changing the proposal.

Petitions Commissioners

William Planter, Finzel area, presented a petition to the commissioners with over 300 signatures supporting the county effort to encourage the State Highway administration to redesign the Finzel interchange to provide better access from route 48 to route 40.

Funding Formula

Dr. William Buser, county superintendent of schools, discussed the new proposed transportation funding formula for reimbursing the county for shcool bus transportation costs. He said the state was considering a new proposal which might result in less state assistance to this county. The commissioners have adopted a position on this issue which would make the number one priority legislation mandating that transportation is clearly a state responsibility for full funding, and second legislation clarifying the transportation formula to assure that Garrett County receives sufficient funds to continue operating an adequate school bus program.

The commissioners received notification from the State Highway administration that a new stop light would be erected at the intersection of route 135 and old route 219. Several months ago the commissioners requested that the state consider a stop light at

Districting Plan for Oakland Area Schools Will Be Aired at Meeting

A public hearing on the school districting plan for elementary schools in the Oakland area, has been arranged by Dr. William H. Buser, county superintendent of schools, for Thursday evening, January 8, at 1:30 p.m.

Dr. Buser explained the hearing would be held to provide parents an opportunity to express their point of view concerning the districting plan prior to final action by the Board of Education.

During the past several months the Board staff has visited various elementary schools and presented three alternative plans to PTA groups. He said parents attending the meetings had made several recommendations for modification to the plans and in addition some preference for the plan was being recommended for board approval was made at the meetings.

He said that as a result of these meetings the districting committee has modified the plan as described by the map which is found on another page of The Republican today, and has recommended to Dr. Buser the plan be approved by the Board of Education.

Parents desiring to secure additional information concerning the districting plan may contact E. Lloyd Robertson, supervisor of Pupil Services for the board.

Fires Destroy Mobile, Trailer Homes, Cottage

Fires last Thursday evening and early Friday morning destroyed mobile and trailer homes, a cottage and an automobile at three different locations. Deer Park and McHenry fire companies were involved.

Last Thursday afternoon the mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Moon, located on Schell road, near Tasker's Corner, in the Bethlehem section was completely destroyed by fire, apparently started by a heat tape around a water line. The Deer Park firemen answered the alarm but the flames were too far advanced when they arrived to save anything. The Gorman fire department was also called but was turned back before it reached the scene. The home was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Moon and their children.

Robert H. Shimer, Westernport, fire investigator for Allegany and Garrett Counties, said Mr. and Mrs. Moon and three young children were left homeless. He said the family was in the trailer. Mr. Moon had just returned from hunting, walked to the bathroom in rear of the trailer and discovered smoke. The family was unable to save any possessions and fled from the trailer with only the clothes they were wearing.

An investigation revealed that the fire originated under the trailer. The family was left in need of household items and clothing. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Then at 1:30 Friday morning the Deer Park firemen were called to the summer home of James Riggleman, of Kitzmiller, located at Green Glade, on Deep Creek Lake where flames of undetermined origin destroyed a cottage, a motor home, a mobile home and a 1973 Pinto automobile, all clustered together. The homes were not occupied at the time of the in a cemetery 6 miles west of Frostburg in Garrett County on May 27.

Last Friday, Curry was sentenced to the Commissioner of Correction for 15 years for attempted murder and five years for robbery following a pre-sentence investigation. The two sentences are to run consecutively giving him a total of 20 years. He was still being held in the Garrett County jail pending transportation to Baltimore.

Fires Destroy

The firemen were recalled to the scene again at 7:30 Friday morning. Deputy state fire marshal Robert Shimer investigated this blaze.

Mr. Shimer said there was evidence of arson in the fire at Green Glade. Damage was estimated at $60,000. The property which had been owned by James W. Riggleman, had sold it to his son, Zane Riggleman, who was in Louisiana at the time of the fire. Mr. Shimer said the apartment units were insured.

Deep Creek firemen responded to the alarm reported by Mrs. Nora Boniece, who was returning home from work.

A trailer belonging to Mr. Riggleman was burned March 10 of this year and his camper was stolen. Mr. Shimer said the number of fires in the county totaled 28 with 19 listed as suspicious.

The trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wachter, Jr., of McHenry, located on the Rock Lodge road, about a mile from U.S. route 219, was also destroyed by fire of undetermined origin which occurred about 7:30 last Thursday evening. The home had been rented by Baltimore skiers who had spent the previous weekend there and were planning to return this past weekend. The owners were in Cumberland and did not learn of the fire until they returned last Thursday evening. The McHenry fire department answered the call but was unable to save the building or the contents. There was no insurance.

The Wachter fire was discovered by a passerby along route 219 who notified Mrs. Nancy Barnard, who called the McHenry firemen. Mr. Wachter had been in the trailer earlier in the day making repairs. The blaze apparently originated in the area of the furnace and it was believed the fire was caused by a malfunction of the furnace.

SANTA ARRIVED right on schedule via helicopter Saturday morning at Browning's Foodland in Oakland, while a crowd of nearly 100 watched. The helicopter was courtesy of Buffalo Coal Company. Santa greeted youngsters in the crowd and stayed at Foodland for some time, to be sure he talked with each child who wanted to tell Santa Claus his Christmas wishes.

"Blue" Law Causes

that any effort to control Sunday sales was being made at all.

State and county police invaded Manor Builders Supply, Mt. Lake Park, Sunday morning, announcing that it was their intention to close the store because the items being sold were outside the statute covering Sunday sales of essentials. Manor Builders, normally closed on Sunday, was having a one-day Christmas sale.

State's Attorney Ralph Burnett had alerted persistent violators of his intention to abide by the present statute until such time as it is changed by legislative process. Manor Builders was not among them.

Consultation with the State's Attorney and Manor Builders, however, resolved misunderstandings and the police withdrew from the store.

Merchants of the county have long been covered by the following statute, extracted from the Maryland Annotated Code:

"No person in this State shall sell, dispose of, barter, or deal in, or give away any articles of merchandise on Sunday, except retailers, who may sell and deliver on said day tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, candy, sodas and soft drinks, ice, ice cream, ices and other confectionery, milk, bread, fruits, vegetables, gasoline, oils and grease.

"This section is not to apply to apothecaries and such apothecaries may sell on Sunday drugs, medicines, and patent medicines as on weekdays; and this section shall not apply to the sale of newspapers and periodicals."

Condensed State Financial Report Now Available

"Copies of Maryland's Condensed Annual Report for Fiscal Year 1975 are now available to the public and are being distributed to banks, bond and brokerage houses throughout the nation," State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced. The eight page report is a condensed statement of Maryland's financial condition as of June 30, 1975, and relates where the State's revenues came from and how they were spent, items of interest to every citizen.

"We distribute these reports across America in order to keep banks and bond houses aware of Maryland's excellent financial condition. The dividends we receive from these efforts include lower interest rates when Maryland sells 15 year general obligation full faith and credit bonds," Mr. Goldstein said.

Citizens interested in obtaining a copy of the 1975 Condensed Annual Report free of charge may write the Public Information Office, State Treasury Building, at Annapolis.

Roy Weston Sweitzer, Rt. 135, Mt. Lake Park, has been charged with malicious destruction of property at Windy Knolls Restaurant on Rt. 135 east of Mt. Lake Park the evening of December 16. He allegedly ripped off two sets of shutters valued at $50. He has been released on a $500 recognizance bond pending trial January 5.

Harry Francis Fitzpatrick, Berling, Pa., has been charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest on the parking lot of Rustic Inn shortly before midnight December 11. Letter To The Editor

Editor:

I am trying to learn of descendants—some of the family of WILLIAM BONNEL CRANE and his wife, RACHEL ELLIOTT of Preston Co., W. Va. Their son, MARSHALL WELLINGTON CRANE (born 1858) married in Oakland Methodist Church, 1 Dec. 1886, KATE TOWNSEND (daughter of SINGLETON L. and ELIZABETH TOWNSEND, a merchant in Oakland—1880 Census). Marshall Wellington Crane was mayor of Terra Alta, W. Va., at the time of his death, 1887, four days after the birth of their son, MARSHALL WELLINGTON, JUNIOR. Did Kate return to her parents home? re-marry? Did the son remain in the area? marry? any children or descendants?

I am great granddaughter of Samuel Elliott Crane, the brother of William Bonnel Crane. I am compiling a history of our CRANE FAMILY and this branch is lost to me. Will someone who is related to, or knows of, any of this family please write me.

Governor Moore Is Indicted

Gov. Arch A. Moore, Jr., of West Virginia, and his former aide were indicted last Thursday on charges they extorted $25,000 from a savings and loan firm seeking a bank charter.

The U.S. District Court jury returned the single one-count indictment against Moore and William H. Loy, now a Romney attorney.

The indictment charges the two with conspiring between May 1, 1972, and March, 1973, to obtain $25,000 from Theodore R. Price, who was president of Diversified Mountaineer Corp.

The money was given, the indictment charged, "by the wrongful use of fear of economic harm and under color of official right in that said money was paid by Theodore H. Price to Gov. Arch A. Moore, Jr., in order to obtain the approval of a pending application for a state bank charter".

Also named and indicted co-conspirators were George B. Jordan, Jr., state banking commissioner, and Nolan B. Hamrick, president of the Bank of Gassaway.

Gov. Moore accused federal prosecutors of "trying to destroy me as a human being and hand-pick the next governor." He also said he would seek 3rd term in office and said he would plead innocent to the charge.

Moore, a Republican, is the second sitting governor to be indicted on federal charges in the last month. Gov. Marvin Mandel, Democrat, of Maryland, was indicted Nov. 24 on charges of conducting state business under a pattern of criminal conduct.

State Police Issue Holiday Driving Tips

In the midst of this holiday season, the Maryland State Police are concerned about the number of highway accidents caused by intoxicated drivers.

State Troopers are aware that most motorists do not know that even one drink of an alcoholic beverage can impair the ability to drive. Be sensible. If you plan to drink, don't drive; or allow ample time for your body to burn up the alcohol consumed. It takes about one hour for the body to burn up the alcohol contained in one ounce of liquor or a glass of beer.

According to Colonel Thomas S. Smith, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, "If we are to reduce the tragic loss of life incurred from drivers impaired by drinking, we must all work together."

Toys Collected

Appreciation was expressed this week by Dick Evans, president of the Oakland Optimist club for the donation of toys for the "Toys for Tots" program for needy children at Christmas. Toys were collected by Paul Merrill at Foodland, and Clarence Cogley at his barber shop. Toys were also picked up and sorted by Ben Thorn, and were wrapped by Geneva Rentschler, home economics teacher at Southern, and her classes. Wrapping paper for the toys was contributed by Bob Proudfoot, local pharmacist.

Over one hundred toys were donated and wrapped and have been delivered to Community Action agency in Oakland, for distribution as needed.

Matmen of Fort Hill Trim Rams

Winning ten matches out of 12 and six of those by pins, the Fort Hill Wrestling team defeated Southern High of Oakland 51 to 12 Monday night at Fort Hill in Cumberland.

The victory was the fourth in a row for Fort Hill and kept the Rams winless in four starts.

Weather Is Factor In Several Wrecks

Ralph M. Hoard, Aurora, W. Va., was traveling south on U.S. 219 in the Gortner area late last Friday. Donald C. Landis, Main Street, Kitzmiller, was entering Rt. 219 from a parking lot and failed to grant the right-of-way to the Hoard car. Tfc. L. R. Rosage charged Landis on that count.

Snow covering the center line caused two cars to collide on U.S. 40 near the New Germany road last Thursday evening. Nancy Jean Turner, RD 1, Lonaconing, was eastbound on Rt. 40 as Robert A. Hickman, Rayland, Ohio, was headed west. The cars struck on the left front of each. The road was snow-covered and Tpr. J. E. Foley made no charges.

Four accidents were noted Sunday.

The first was just past midnight on U.S. 219 near Kings Run road. Arthur J. Hanline, RD 4, Deer Park, and Elmer V. Redinger, Jr., High Street, Oakland, were headed south. Hanline was in the process of making a left turn into a private drive (signals said to be flashing). Redinger hit his brakes but was unable to miss striking the Hanline car. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated.

Later in the morning a pickup and car collided at Third and Roanoke avenues in Loch Lynn. Sandra K. McCrobie, RD 1, Swanton, was northbound on Third Avenue as Debora Jean DeWitt, N. Third street, Oakland, was headed west on Roanoke Avenue. Sandra McCrobie attempted to turn into eastbound Roanoke avenue and slid into the DeWitt car. Tfc. Rosage investigated.

Two cars collided in Gorman about 2:30 p.m. Arlie E. Hauser, RD 2, Oakland, was eastbound on U.S. 50 as Paul D. Lucas, Morgantown, W. Va., was driving east. Hauser attempted to make a left turn into Md. 560 and pulled into the path of the Lucas car. Tfc. Rosage charged Hauser with failing to yield the right-of-way.

Christopher P. Riley, Wheeling, W. Va., was headed south on U.S. 219 just south of Lake Forest Camp, Deep Creek and lost control of the vehicle. The car went off the left and struck the fence at the information booth. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater made no charge, the road being icy and snowing.

14 Are Killed On State Roads

Fourteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed ten were drivers, three were passengers and one was a pedestrian. At least three of the deaths, in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Speed — What has happened to our Maryland 55 MPH speed limit? Of the fourteen deaths last week, speed was a prime factor. It is evident, fourteen of the drivers lost control, five crossed the center of the roadway, eight left the roadway and two had positive alcohol involvement. The question must be asked — how many more?

Couple Wed December 13th

A wedding of local interest was performed on Saturday, December 13, at the United Presbyterian Church in Penn's Grove, New Jersey, when Patricia Jean Shaw, daughter of Dr. Jean Shaw, Oakland; and Dr. Luther Shaw, founding president of Garrett Community College, was married to Donald J. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Green, of Penn's Grove.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Warren Light, long-time friend of the bride's family and included a candle-lighting ceremony. A reception at the church followed.

Miss Shaw's gown was of heavy silk crepe with a front panel of lace, lace yoke and full sleeves caught into lace cuffs. The train was covered by a three-tiered veil edged in lace. Her attendants were Mrs. Gregory Counlain, Mrs. L. Gardner Shaw, Jr., and Mrs. John D. Shaw, the latter two her sisters-in-law. Maid of honor was Miss Eileen Mathieson. Their gowns were of soft blue crepe with the maid of honor's having an overall pattern of marguerites. Mr. Green's father served as best man. Ushers were Gregory Counlain, Richard Cline and Donald Dailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Green are both music majors at Glassboro State College and will be living at Nob Hill apartments, Blackwood, N.J., while completing their education. They plan to greet local friends at a reception in the near future.

$11,000 Donated To Eddie Spatero

The fund drive initiated by members of Mountain Lodge 40, Fraternal Order of Police, for 10-year-old Eddie Spatero has netted $11,000 so far.

The total was announced Saturday night during a benefit dance sponsored by the organization. Art Spatero, a cousin, also accepted thousands of Christmas cards and a portable color television set for Eddie, who was severely burned after accidentally grabbing a live high-voltage wire on October 6 near his home in the Frostburg area.

Cumberland businessmen and the members of the police lodge submitted contributions and paid the expenses of the Blue Ridge Quartet's performance at Allegany High School during this month. Donations collected there amounted to over $1,600.

Political leaders had joined the effort by proclaiming December 20 as Eddie Spatero Day in Garrett and Allegany counties.

$855,848 Funded

The federal government has awarded Maryland a $855,848 grant to expand the nation's only statewide system of emergency medical services, the office of Gov. Marvin Mandel announced.

A statement last Thursday said the bulk of the funds would be used to purchase equipment for the program, help develop a statewide medical emergency communication system and train personnel for the program.

The governor's office said the principal beneficiaries of the grant would be the emergency medical systems in the Baltimore and Washington areas and the Eastern Shore, Western Maryland and Southern Maryland also would share in the funds distribution.

The emergency medical services program was started by the Mandel administration in 1973 to permit the critically ill and injured to be transported quickly to Baltimore for treatment as the shock-trauma unit of the University of Maryland hospital.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

What was your vote on the bill that would have allowed the federal government to guarantee up to $6 billion in loans for the commercialization of synthetic fuels?

I was against this $6 billion loan guarantee and voted to eliminate the loan provision from the Energy Research and Development Administration authorization. This amendment passed the House 263 to 140.

What is meant by total disability due to Black Lung and is it possible to receive benefits for partial disability due to Black Lung?

According to the U.S. Department of Labor "total disability" has several technical definitions under the law. In its simplest form, however, it means the inability of the coal miner to do his regular work in the coal mine due to Black Lung. The law restricts benefits to miners who are totally disabled from Black Lung.

Have the gas mileage figures for 1976 cars been published yet?

Citizens interested in receiving the 1976 "Gas Mileage Guide for New Car Buyers" should write Fuel Economy, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

I read recently that Congress had passed a bill concerning metric conversion. Could you please tell me what this legislation entails?

The bill would establish a national board to coordinate voluntary conversion to the metric system of measurement in the United States. Specifically, it would help coordinate voluntary metric plans developed by industry and other groups and it would undertake education programs to aid public understanding of metric units of measurement. The board would not have the power to compel conversion to the metric system nor would the bill set any target period for completion of the conversion process.

I understand that retired persons do not have to pay entrance fees to our National Parks. Is this true?

You are probably referring to a Golden Age Passport which provides a free lifetime entrance permit to national parks and recreation areas. The Passport is issued free to citizens who are 62 years or older and admits the permit holder and a carload of accompanying people. You may obtain your Golden Age Passport at most Federal recreation areas or by visiting the National Park Service Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Last week Congress approved a nuclear insurance program. What amount of protection is provided under the bill?

The program protects the public against loss and damages up to $560 million resulting from a nuclear power accident and limits, to that amount, the liability of the industry for damages from such an incident.

When are you going to send out another questionnaire?

A questionnaire will be mailed to all 6th District citizens in early January and the survey will ask your views on major issues before the 94th Congress.

What are your views on welfare reform?

Today there are 35 million people on welfare receiving $40-billion a year from over fifty separate programs. It is time Congress began to consider major welfare reform proposals and in this regard I have requested hearings on legislation aimed at controlling runaway welfare costs. Each welfare program should be critically analyzed and then corrected to close loopholes, correct excessively liberal eligibility standards, tighten work requirements and reduce fraud. I favor continued aid for those who have no potential for work and self-support but I also support legislation to get legally ineligible persons off the welfare rolls.

Please explain your "Truth in Government Accounting Act."

The purpose of this proposed legislation is to give the public and Congress a unified, meaningful and simplified summary of just how the Federal Government stands financially. In addition to publishing the amount of money the government is taking in and paying out, the bill would require an indication of the liabilities for which the federal government has committed itself that may not be funded out of current revenues.

GRANTSVILLE

Hold Christmas Party

Approximately 100 members and guests of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department, the Ladies Auxiliary and their families attended the annual covered dish dinner and Christmas party at the decorated fire hall Sunday evening.

Harry C. Edwards gave the invocation. Following the meal, Raymond J. Yoder, president, was in charge of the program and welcomed the members and guests. Mrs. Cleda Baker, president of the auxiliary, also welcomed the members and guests and gave a report on the year's work. Mrs. Robert Diehl gave a treasurer's report.

On behalf of the auxiliary, Mrs. Baker presented the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department with a check for $3,000 which was received by Raymond Yoder, president.

The singing of Christmas carols was led by John R. Hershberger, with Miss Karen Durst at the piano. Other musical entertainment was furnished by the "Maple Valley Band."

Services Held

Richard Durst, 94, who suffered a massive stroke on Monday, December 15, and was in the Meyersdale Community Hospital, has died and was buried on December 21. He made his home with a son, Raymond Durst.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wable and children were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Margroff, Accident.

Mrs. Cleda Baker spent the weekend with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bowman and Terra Lee and Billy, Boonsboro.

A TEASING SANTA appeared to be holding out on the children at Oak Park Head Start last Friday, but in reality he was just prolonging the suspense a minute or two before diving into his pack for the toys he brought, thanks to efforts of the children's parents. The orderliness of the group shown above soon disintegrated into squeals and laughter as gifts were brought forth, opened, and enjoyed.

Southern Rams Rip Elk Garden

Kevin Liller paced the Rams' onslaught with 18 points while Allen Lewis scored 14 and Steve Liller ten. Also scoring for Southern were Niner with 8, Panther 4, Proudfoot 5, Griffith 2, Miller 3, and Steger 3.

Southern outgunned the Stags from the floor by a 31 to 9 margin although Elk Garden converted 16 of 28 attempts from the foul line compared to a five for 22 effort by Southern.

Charles Shillingburg and Jim Lyons shared high point honors for Elk Garden with eight each. Seaman had 2, Pennington 5, Kelly 7, Reel 2, Moreland 1, and K. Moreland 1.

Petersburg Wins Over Ram Matmen

Unbeaten Petersburg moved to a 3-0 season by scoring a 39 to 23 wrestling victory over Southern High Rams last Thursday night at Oakland.

Providing the Vikings with the victory over the Rams was a series of five pins.

98, Doug Swick, (P), decisioned John Hayhurst.

Garrett Is Again Headquarters For Winter Sports

Garrett County once again became headquarters for winter sports enthusiasts this week, with the official arrival of winter and snow.

The center of skiing activites in the state is The Wisp, at McHenry, with over 12 miles of slopes and trails and a vertical drop of 610 feet.

Beginners or advanced skiers are offered a full range of facilities, from modern grooming and snowmaking equipment for the slopes to ski rentals.

Newest winter activity is cross-country or Nordic skiing. New Germany State Park near Grantsville is the center for this sport, with several clearly marked trails which are several miles long. Cross-country ski races are in the planning stage for this winter.

Also in Garrett County are a number of marked snowmobile trails in the various state parks. Highlights of the season are the eighth annual Governor's Cup Snowmobile Championship races on January 18 at the McHenry fairgrounds and the eighth annual Maryland State Snowmobile Championships on January 4 at Deep Creek Lake.

Coming up is the third annual Winterfest February 27-29, with a wide range of activities planned by the Deep Creek Lions Club.

Ice fishing and skating and other winter pastimes are also featured during the winter months in Maryland's most mountainous county.

Building Designer To Have Part In Circuit Assembly

Atlee Snyder, presiding overseer of the Markleysburg congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, will present a part at the upcoming circuit assembly in Morgantown, W. Va., January 3 and 4.

Mr. Snyder, building designer and builder, will speak "Choose to Continue Serving Jehovah — through Difficulites." His talk will be at 2:55 p.m. Saturday.

Eleven area congregations from the tri-state area will attend, including the Oakland congregation. Meetings will be held at the National Guard armory on the Mileground, near Morgantown.

RECEIVES TROPHY — Randy DiSimone one of the Garrett Community College tournament players last weekend, received an individual trophy from Cheston (Sonny) Browning, president of the Oakland Rotary Club, last Saturday evening following the championship game which was won by the Garrett Lakers. Also in the Photo is Stuart Jackson, president of the Grantsville Rotary Club. The two clubs were sponsors of the Christmas tournament held at McHenry. All team members received trophies. DiSimone is a former player for the Southern Rams.

Reduction Set On Phone Excise Tax on Bills

Maryland telephone customers can expect another one percentage point reduction in the federal excise tax on their phone bills in 1976.

The tax will drop to six percent January 1, down from 10 percent since 1972.

The cut is the fourth in the 10-year scheduled elimination of the tax, provided for by the Excise, Estate, and Gift Tax Adjustment Act of 1970.

At a reduction rate of one percentage point a year, the tax will be eliminated totally in 1982.

Some form of federal excise tax has been imposed on communications service for most years since 1914.

From 1943 through 1954, the Revenue Act of 1943 imposed war tax rates of 25 percent on toll and 15 percent on local service.

During peacetime, the tax was levied for general government revenues.

During World War II it was used for additional defense funds and to discourage unnecessary calls so that lines could be kept clear for military emergencies.

Several proposals for reduction and final elimination of the tax were attempted from the late 1950s through the late 1960s, but it was 1973 before the current schedule began reducing the tax rate.

Nostalgia is "in" these days . . . especially at the beginning of a New Year.

Everywhere you turn there are reminders of the Roaring Twenties or the Fabulous Fifties. Old-car buffs abound, and fashions reflect the fads of long-ago decades. Music from World War II is played, and television plots center around the depression days of the Thirties. It's all a lot of fun — if you don't take it seriously.

Trouble is, we can't live in the past . . . not this past year, or any other. Bills have to be paid, chores completed, obligations met, and each person has to contribute something to his world or he is wasting his time.

A Christian is able to face life like it is — today! He can meet his obligations to himself and to society with confidence and faith — and he can strengthen that faith each Sunday, by going to church . . . knowing always that the Lord is waiting for him there.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

UNTIL THE ANGELS COME

Lesson for December 28, 1975

Background Scripture: Matthew 3 through 4.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 18:1-6.

A movie fan once asked John Wayne whether he hadn't been scared in one of his films when it appeared the wagon train was about to be wiped out by Indians. "Naw," replied the star, "I'd read the script and I knew how it came out!"

Rev. Althouse

Christians are sometimes encouraged to "hold on" in times of trial and temptation because, as it was demonstrated in Jesus' own life, if we persevere, we need not fear the outcome. When Jesus had successfully resisted the temptations of the devil, Matthew tells us that "angels came and ministered to him" (Matthew 4:11).

That's comforting, of course, but some of us would like to know what to do until the angels come? While the devil is tempting us with his whole arsenal of lures, what do we do even if we have read the script and know how it will come out?

Know who you are!

First of all, he knew who he was. And that was important because that was the first place the temptor made his assault. Many people miss the subtlety with which the devil approached Jesus: "If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become loaves of bread" (4:3). Thus, he begins by calling into question Jesus' identity: "If you are the Son of God..." There is a faintly-veiled challenge to Jesus to prove that he is the Messiah.

The devil still uses this tactic. He comes to us calling into question our identity, saying, "If you're really the Christian you think you are, then..." There is nothing he delights in more than causing us to doubt our own identity as Christ's disciples. As soon as we say to ourselves, "Maybe I'm not good enough a disciple of Jesus?", he's got his foot in the door.

We are not of much use to God if we are not sure who we are. Unless we know that we are disciples of Jesus Christ, not because we are worthy but because of God's grace, the devil can very easily lead us down the garden path....and out of the garden!

Know who God is

Jesus was also able to hold out until the angels came because he knew Who or What God is. So, when the devil tries to tempt Jesus to using the power of God to change stones into bread, Jesus remembers that it is God upon whom he is dependent, not himself. "Man shall not live by bread alone," he repeats from scripture, "but by every word that procedeth from the mouth of God" (4:4). He is in God's hands, not his own.

Once again the devil challenges him: "...throw yourself down..." (4:5). But again, Jesus remembers who God is: the One who is in charge. If Jesus were to "throw" himself down, he would be challenging God to help him, rather than waiting for God to work out his own purposes.

Finally, when all else has failed, the devil makes an appeal to Jesus' sense of mission: if Jesus will worship him, the devil will give him all the power he needs to accomplish his purpose. But, once again, Jesus remembers that there can be but one master.

Then the angels came and "ministered to him."

And so they will come to us, if until they come we, like Jesus, persevere.

HEALTHY NEW YEAR EVERYBODY!

Okay, so it is sort of a corny take-off on Happy New Year. But the fact of the matter is if you are not healthy it is very hard to be happy. And with that thought in mind let's all make just one important, easy to keep New Year's resolution.

That is — Resolve to get an early physical check-up from your physician and then to see him at the first sign of illness without waiting until it gets serious. Futher resolve to follow his advice faithfully and to promptly get the medicine he prescribes for you from the pharmacy of your choice.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Citizens Abroad May Now Vote In Federal Elections

A federal measure giving voting rights in federal elections to more than 750,000 American citizens living abroad, including some 30,000 to 45,000 Marylanders, has been passed by the Congress.

The measure allows them to vote in federal elections in states in which they last voted or in which they last maintained a home before going abroad. They would have to meet the usual voting qualifications and absentee ballot requirements of the states.

Jupiter's New Moon

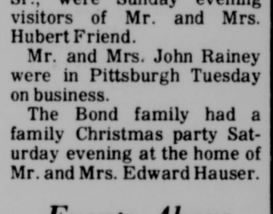
On September 30th, Charles Kowal used the 48-inch Schmidt telescope at Mt. Palomar to photograph the area of the sky around Jupiter. Examination of the photographs taken that night and on following nights showed an extremely faint object moving through the star field. This object may be the fourteenth satellite to be discovered orbiting Jupiter. Mr. Kowal discovered the thirteenth satellite of Jupiter just a year earlier. Observations by other astronomers tend to confirm the notion that Mr. Kowal's discovery is indeed a new satellite of Jupiter.

Today, Christmas Day, the moon will pass through its last Quarter Phase at 9:52 a.m. At 11:00 p.m. the moon will be 270,290 km (230,100 miles) from earth. This is the closest the moon comes to earth this month. During the week moonrise ranges from 1:06 a.m. tomorrow to 6:31 a.m. on New Years Eve.

Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn are the visible planets to the casual observer. Venus may be seen in the morning sky. It is very bright rising about three and one-half hours before the sun. Mars is among the stars of Taurus. It is brighter than any nearby stars. Mars sets about an hour and one-half before sunrise. Jupiter sets shortly after midnight. It is among the stars of Pisces. Saturn rises about two hours after sunset with the stars of Cancer.

Sunrise was at 7:36 a.m. this morning. Sunset follows nine hours twenty-three minutes later at 4:59 p.m. On New Years Eve the sun will be above the horizon two minutes more than today. Sunrise will be at 7:38 a.m., and sunset will be at 5:03 p.m. on New Years Eve.

Happy New Year.



SPORTS Go-Round

by Larrie Weaver

The first of the Great Pedestrians was Edward Payson Weston, who popularized the international sports craze for distance walking. He walked from Portland, Maine to Chicago in 1867 for a prize of $10,000. To win he had to cover the distance of more than 1,200 miles within a month, not including Sundays, which were eliminated to prevent public outcry against sporting on the Sabbath. He covered the distance in 26 walking days.

Our staff at DEL BORING TIRE SERVICE, INC., 258 N. 3rd St., 334-8178 would like to wish our friends a Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year. We look forward to serving all your tire needs during 1976. "DEL BORING tires are for every need." Hours: Mon. - Thurs. 8 am - 5 pm, Fri. 8 am - 9 pm, Sat. 8 am - noon.

DEAR SANTA CLAUS, My name is Shirley Jones and I am 7 years old. Santa, I have been real good all year cause I want to ask something real special of you for Xmas. And Santa, it's not for me, but for my mommie. You see, I love her very much and it makes me feel very bad to see her get up every morning with the back-ache from sleeping on that old lumpy mattress she has on her bed. And then she doesn't feel good all day. Santa, you don't need to bring me any presents at all, but would you please stop at Showalter's Village in Salisbury and get one of those famous Restonic Mattresses for my mommie? It would make my very best Xmas ever. And Santa you won't have to worry about delivering it, cause that nice Dr. Dick Showalter, M.D. (mattress doctor) will deliver it free. And he will know just what type to bring my mommie, cause Showalter's Village is a direct factory outlet for Restonic bedding and Doc Showalter is real proud of their bedding department. He knows good bedding when he sees it. So please Santa, make it a merry Xmas for me and my mommie, Thanks Santa, Shirley. —Adv. 41-3t.
